TELEGRAPH NEWS.

Four men while out hunting near New Orleans got in a snow drift and froze to death.

A fire destroying twenty-eight buildings occurred at Hot Springs Ark. Three women lost their lives.

The Norfolk & Western depot, four freight cars and three storage houses destroyed by fire at South Boston, Va.

The death of the father of Rev. Sam Jones is reported from his home at Cartersville, Ga. He was 90 years old.

Saturday the President nominated Senator Matt W. Ransom to be Minister to Mexico. The Senate confirmed the nomination immediately.

A wreck on the Louisville & Nashville railroad near Montgomery, Ala., wounded thirty people. Only one was killed but others may die.

STATE NEWS.

Deputy Sheriff H. C. Owen, of Rowan county, was shot and instantly killed by a desperate negro whom he and other officers were attempting to arrest.

John King, near Pollocksville, cut his wife's throat because she left him after an altercation and refused to return home with him when he went to carry her back.

WHEN THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY WILL DIE.

BY A TEXAN.

When the lion eats grass like an ox,
And the fishing worm swallows the whale;
When the terapin knits woolen socks,
And the hare is outrun by the snail.
When the serpents walk upright like men
And doodlebugs travel like frogs,
When the grasshopper feeds on the hen,
And feathers are found on hogs
When Thomas cats swim in the air,
And elephants roost upon trees,
When insects in Summer are rare,
And snuff never makes people sneeze;
When fishes creep over dry land,
And mules on velocipetes ride;
When foxes lay eggs in the sand,
And women in dress take no pride;
When Dutchmen no longer beer drink,
And girls get to preaching on time,
When billy goats butt from the rear,
And treason is no longer a crime;
When humming birds bray like a ass,
And lumberger smells like cologne;
When plowshares are made out of glass,
And the hearts of Carolinians of stone;
When ideas grow on populists heads,
And wool on the hydraulic ram—
Then the Democratic party will be dead,
And this country won't be worth a d—n

Lots of Them.

There are men living in every locality whose children never see a book unless in a neighbor's home, and yet these men spend from $50 to $100 a year for tobacco, cigars and whiskey. These same men will tell you they are not able to buy books for their children to read, nor subscribe for their local paper. Such men will have a difficult time getting into the pearly gates. They stand before every thinking person as miserable apologies for men; and yet such things as these walk up and vote "his sentiments"—Chehalis Bee.

FOLKS AND FACES.

Some Go This Way and Some That,
but we Catch a Glimpse as they Pass.

Maj. L. C. Latham is attending court at Snow Hill.

Dr. J. N. Bynum, of Farmville, has been in town to-day.

Mrs. B. H. Sugg has been very sick the last few days.

Mr. J. J. Stokes, a merchant of Ayden, spent to-day here.

Mr. George Cherry, of Jamesville, was in town to day.

Mr. Sylvester Fleming, of Washington, is here to-day.

Mayor Fleming went to Cone-tow this morning on business.

Mrs. Murray was very sick Saturday but is now reported better.

Mr. E. H. Shelburn and little son John, left to day for Richmond.

Ex-Senator and Mrs. T. J. Jarvis reached home this morning from Raleigh.

Mrs. L. Heilbronner and little son Irvin, of Tarboro, are visiting Mrs. M. R. Lang.

Misses Lillie Moore and Sadie Short returned this morning from a visit to Kinston.

Mrs. Allen Warren returned this morning from a visit to Washington. She was accompanied home by little Linda Moore.

Rev. B. W. Spilman, of Kinston, passed through this morning for Weldon to visit relatives. He is just up from an attack of pneumonia.

We see from the Salisbury Herald that the firm of Littmann & Lichtenstein, in that city, has dissolved copartnership. Mr. Lichtenstein will continue the mercantile business and Mr. Littmann will engage in the lumber business.

The six per cent interest law is now in force. We state this that people may take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

That was great honor paid to the memory of Washington by the House of Representatives on last Friday. They refused on Thursday to adjourn over Friday. That same day the House did adjourn in honor of Fred Douglas. All over the State a spontaneous expression of disgust and condemnation arose. This was published by the daily papers. They saw what they had done. On Friday Mr. Lusk had the effrontery to offer a resolution that when the House adjourn it do so in honor of the birthday of Washington, the same honor paid to Fred Douglas. Mr. Smith, of Gates, a Democrat, said he thought that they ought to honor Washington a little more than Douglas and offered a substitute that this House do now adjourn, etc. But in keeping with the previous day's proceedings they voted down the substitute and passed Mr. Lusk's resolution. They could not afford to honor the father of this country more than they did their lovable Fred Douglas. We pity the white men that hereafter has any respect for the men who have thus disgraced the great State of North Carolina.

The New Loan.

Alexander the Great wept because he had no more worlds to conquer. Uncle Sam might weep because he has no more loans to negotiate.

What a wonderful country we have to be sure—we people of the United States. In vain are our fears attempted to be aroused. We heed no financial Cassandras. The credit of the government is not even lowered by the negotiation of a loan of millions. On the contrary, the price of the bonds ran up above their selling price.

And this unbounded confidence in the credit of the United States is as strong in Europe as at home. The financiers there evidently look upon the vote in the House of Representatives last week on the administration scheme as a vote in favor of maintaining the credit of the government at its highest point.

We congratulate Uncle Sam upon his untarnished credit. May he never need another loan.—Richmond Dispatch.

NEWS NOTES.

Rev. W. A. Wilson, formerly of N. C., is Presiding Elder of the Hiroshima District, Japan.

The Sultan of Turkey is sending out Mohammedan missionaries to Africa at his own expense for the avowed purpose of checking the Christian advance in that continent. Evidently he does not think Christian missions to Africa have been failures.

Japan is a member of the Red Cross League of Nations. Wounded Chinese prisoners, non-combatant foreigners who minister to the wounded, and the Japanese hospital and ambulance service are under the protection of the Red Cross. So much has the teachings of Christianity already done for Japan.

We have spent nearly $470,000,000 in building churches in this land, and $500,000,000 in building jails. It costs $50,000,000 a year to run the churches, and $400,000,000 to run the jails. We pay eight times as much for running our fellow men down and jailing them as we do in trying to make them better so that they will not need the jail.

Stanly's Log Jail.

Speaking of the recent burning of Stanly county jail, the Concord Standard says:

This jail, while a very homely building, is said to have been the safest jail in the State, so far as escapes are concerned.

It was built of logs, a log wall within a log wall, with chunks of wood, knots and pieces of timber filled in between the two walls. A man with an axe could not cut his way out in a month. Whenever he cut a hole through the inside log wall and removed one of these chunks, another would slip down in its place. He could never reach the outside wall to ply his axe. It is the first and only jail Stanly county ever had.

The Japs Are Fighters.

An English naval officer writing home says, alluding to the remarkable prowess shown by the Japanese in the capture of Port Arthur: "They would make very bad enemies. We could smash them at sea, probably, but we could do nothing against Japan on land. We can teach them nothing in military science. They are masters of modern scientific warfare. The capture of Port Arthur was a perfect revelation."
