AYDEN IN A STIR.

Two Letters Explain the Situation.

LETTER No 1.

Here's a Go! Some smart Alex has discovered that Ayden is not the legitimate name of this town, and now some of our citizens are stirring up things at a lively rate so the name can be changed before the Legislature adjourns. The true and proper name begins with an "H" and ends with an "e" and don't you forget it.

When the old ass brays the young ones follow. All hands aboard; off for Raleigh. Whew!

LETTER No 2.

A sensation sprang up among the citizens of Ayden Tuesday, especially the merchants and business men. A petition was going around to ask the Legislature to change the name of this place to Harriston. The petition was started Monday night and a good many names were signed to it; but Tuesday the matter leaked out and spread like wild fire. Immediately an opposition petition was started and the tide turned—many who had signed the first taking off their names and signing the one against the change. The new name suggested is in honor of Mr. W. H. Harris. When the town was first started this name was suggested, and Mr. Harris then objected to its being named for him. Now after people have come here and built up a town, Mr. Harris comes forward to change the name and demoralize things. It is too late now to make a change. All the business men have stationery with Ayden printed on it, the place is already down in the railroad schedule and rate cards, and the commercial agencies have already made up their ratings for Ayden, so that a change at this late day would cause loss to many, would give the business of the town a general set-back, and greatly displease all who have any business dealings here. The name should remain as it is.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Resolution was introduced that the Legislature adjourn March 8.

The people were so much aroused at the failure of the Legislature to lend the Ladies Memorial Association ten thousand dollars to complete the monument to the Confederate dead that two or three plans have already been put on foot to raise the money at once and show to this Fred Douglas Legislature that they cannot prevent North Carolina honoring her distinguished dead. If there was such a thing as a capacity to feel shame in the hearts of the Fusionists in the present Legislature they would feel that the one congenial place for them henceforth would be either Africa or Liberia.

Everybody thought the Legislature had reached the lowest depths of infamy when they voted to adjourn in honor of Fred Douglas. The disgrace was such that all over the South this body was held up in ridicule. But it is possible for them to further disgrace themselves and the State they represent and this they did Monday. They kept silent until the Boss spoke. In Sunday's Caucasian Mr. Boss said he did not approve of the action of the Legislature and pronounced it an "unfortunate blunder." Therefore on Monday Mr. Lusk was up with a resolution to try and get the poor fellows out of the difficulty. His resolution was a lie from beginning to end and was so shown by Mr. Ray. If anybody can sink lower than to deliberately endeavor to make its records speak lies we are unable to conceive of it. Mr. Lusk's resolution really denies that they adjourned for the beloved Fred, and was so false that many of the Fusionists asked to be excused from voting. Think of a Legislature knowingly and wilfully spreading lies upon its records! Poor, pitiful men, they merit and are receiving the contempt and scorn of all decent men regardless of party.

To Reach New England Investors In Cotton Mills.

It is not to be expected that the cotton mills of New England will be moved to the South. Many of the leading cotton-mill companies must inevitably build large mills in the South in order to hold their foreign trade, just as the Dwight and the Massachusetts and a few others are preparing to do. The cotton-mill investors of New England, however, may be expected to make large investments in Southern cotton manufacturing. In some cases this will be done by the organization of distinctively New England companies to operate in the South; in other cases it will be by New England people joining Southern men in the building of mills. In order to present the advantages of the South to leading people of New England who are already investors in cotton mills, the Manufactures' Record proposes to shortly issue a Special Cotton-Mill Supplement. The advantages of the South in general and of particular localities in detail will be carefully covered in this issue. It is intended to send a copy to each director of every cotton mill in New England. Thus for the first time the cotton mill situation of the South will be fully and comprehensively put before the leading people of New England interested in cotton mills. It is a very simple matter to present the advantages of the South to the New England mills, but it is a much more comprehensive and striking to present it to every director of New England mills and also to leading investors. This the Manufactures' Record proposes to do.

Any information desired in regard to this issue can be had by addressing the Manufactures' Record.

Lays Down Its Hand.

The Caucasian is making a desperate effort to break the force of the Fred Douglas incident by denying that the Legislature had refused to adjourn in honor of the birthdays of Lee and Washington. The News & Observer however, gets down its file of the Caucasian itself and shows from it that the House voted to adjourn on Lee's birthday but the Senate refused to concur and thereupon the House tabled its own resolution and both bodies remained in session. The House also voted to adjourn on Washington's birthday in order that the members might attend the Newbern fair—that was the ground upon which the proposition was put—and again the Senate refused to concur and again both branches remained in session. These are the facts as they were stated in the Caucasian's columns at the time. Pinned down upon the main point, that paper throws up the sponge, abandons its role as cuckoo, and says in its issue of Sunday: "The Caucasian has nothing to offer in defense of the Legislature for adjourning in honor of Fred Douglas. It thinks that the action was an unfortunate blunder." No denial upon the main point; no defense. Even the Caucasian's strong stomach revolts at that dose.—Charlotte Observer.

A CASE OF NECESSITY.

He—Don't you think we could manage to live within your income?
She—I guess we would have to, for I don't see how we could live without it.

There are lots of men who will get trusted for five or ten cents' worth of merchandise at a store, and then never go there again. A merchant does not mind losing a dime, but he does dislike to be boycotted.

TELEGRAPH NEWS.

China is again reported to be very anxious for peace.

A distinct earthquake shock was felt Monday morning at Kirkwood, Mo.

Another Lynchburg bank cashier has gone wrong and his accounts show a shortage of $25,000.

W. B. Jones, a prominent tobacco merchant of Petersburg, attempted suicide by shooting himself.

About 1,500 employees of the Carnegie Steel Works, at Homestead, Pa., have been thrown out of employment by the shutting down of several departments of the plant. Scarcity of orders is the cause.

The New Warehouse.

Greenville continues to go forward in the line of improvements. Messrs. C. D. Rountree, McG. Ernul and Wiley Brown have formed a copartnership to build and operate another tobacco warehouse. They have just purchased from Mr Alfred Forbes the vacant two acre lot on the north side of Ninth street, just in the rear of the premises occupied by Maj Harding. Work will begin on the house about the first of April and it will be 80 x 140 feet in size, and it will be completed in readiness for the next tobacco season. The warehouse will under the management of Messrs Rountree and Brown, who are both excellent business men. The location for their warehouse is a most desirable one and they have ample room for prize houses, stables and all other necessary buildings. Connecting streets will be opened from Dickerson avenue and Evans street so as to make their lot accessible on all sides.

For March.

Prophet Hicks says March is to give us three severe storms accompanied by very cold weather. One will fall between the 3rd and 6th, one about the 12th to 14th, and one about the 26th. It will be well enough to keep on the lookout for bad weather, this we are having now is too pretty to last long.
