TWO BROTHERS FIGHT.

One of Them Dead and the Other Badly Hurt.

Ben Frank Hardee and Peter Hardee were two brothers who lived together with their sisters in Swift Creek township. Saturday the boys went to Ayden, and on the way back home began quarrelling as they rode together. There were no eye witnesses to what occurred along the way, but a man passing the same road later in the evening found Ben Hardee up to his neck in water in the swamp. The man pulled Ben out of the water and found that he had a very dangerous cut in the abdomen. Ben told that his brother Peter stabbed him and when he fell out of the cart drove off and left him. The man carried Ben on home. Peter had been there and left his horse but immediately disappeared. Nothing was seen of him Saturday night, but he put in an appearance at the house Sunday and said he wanted a private talk with Ben. They had the talk and after that Ben told a different tale about how the cutting occurred, saying that he fell on his knife. Peter's head was badly beaten up and he says that Ben done it with a cart round. Ben died this morning and Peter is reported in a critical condition from the wounds on his head.

These are particulars gathered from people in town to-day from the neighborhood in which the brothers lived and who were at the house yesterday. Dr. Laughinghouse, Coroner, is down there investigating the affair.

Rev. C. M. Billings, who was announced to preach in the Baptist church Sunday, missed connection at Belfield and could not get here. He is expected to reach Greenville to-night.

THE LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY.

The most important new bills introduced in the Legislature to-day were to allow the penitentiary to purchase the Caledonia farm, on the Roanoke river; to punish bribery in political conventions; to require all railway trains to stop one minute at all towns of 600 inhabitants; to define and punish train robbing.

The contract and bond of Stewart Brothers, of Winston, as State printers, were presented, with a majority report, stating that their bid was the lowest, and a minority report, stating that the bid of Edwards & Broughton of Raleigh, was $600 lower. It was also said that the chairman of the committee had said before any bids were filed that he would award the contract to Stewart Brothers. The majority report was adopted.

The election-law bill passed by a strict party vote of 28 to 5.

The bill passed providing for the election of justices of the peace by this Legislature and for their election in future by the people. Not only are the vacancies filled, but a large number of additional magistrates are to be appointed at once.

The bill to appropriate $10,000 for the Confederate monument passed third reading by one majority.

The House considered the revenue bill in Committee of the Whole, and adopted the more important sections. The poll tax is $1.24; State tax, 21 2/3c.; pension tax, 3 2/3c.; school tax 16c.

Bishop C. C. Petty A. M. D. D. of the sixth Episcopal District, will preach at York Temple A. M. E. Zion church Friday night, March 8th at 8 P. M. The public is invited to attend.

We dare say that no one ever saw such a ridiculous spectacle of legislation as was exhibited in the Legislature Friday on the bill in reference to Magistrates. The bill provided for increasing the number in each township by appointing six additional ones and not to furnish them any laws by which they might be able to know how to decide cases. Those who voted for the bill actually got up immediately and said havn't we played the fool? And everybody said yes. They reconsidered the bill, reduced the number to three and gave them books.

We are sure that the report that the Populists in the Legislature have called a halt is not in correct because their actions for the past few days has shown this. They helped the Democrats kill the bill to change the charter of the city of Raleigh which would have turned the Capitol over to the control of the negroes. They also voted some amendments to the County Government bill which makes it less objectionable than it was in its original shape. It is said that they will also demand some amendment of the election law. They should look well to this. The Republicans want this bill passed so that they can control the election in this State. The bill as it is will give them this power and it behooves any man who loves North Carolina to do what he can to save the States from the clutches of a party that has been tried and always found wanting.

How it is in Life.

A rooster flies up on the fence,
Hear him crow.
His satisfaction is immense,
His self-possession is intense,
His lusty lungs give evidence
That this is so.

Another rooster sees him there
And hears him crow
With flapping wings he cleaves the air.
The fence top is too small to share,
And so they fight and scratch and tear,
Till down they go.

So 'tis in life. When any man
Gets eminent,
Some jealous rival tries to plan
Some way to down him if he can,
And if he just upsets the plan
He feels content.

It Does Not Pay.

As an exchange says, merchants have been known to take advantage of customers in weights, measures or by putting in an inferior article at the price of a good one but it does not pay.

Farmers have been known to adulterate what they had to sell by mixing lard with butter, dirt and chips with turpentine or by putting water or rocks into bales of cotton, but it does not pay.

Some young men starting in life for themselves get in debt at several places and think they have that much money, but it does not pay.

All these things are wrong and besides they do not pay.

"The homely virtues of industry, fidelity, piety, are surest pledges of success. Though scouted sometimes as sentimental and goody goody, and scorned by those who think to win their way by conscienceless dash, effrontery, selfishness, a careful survey of the lives of men will discover in the long run there is nothing so sure as thorough-going all-round honesty to secure solid success."

"Honesty is the best policy."

When the 6 per cent interest bill passed the legislature it was said that it would go in effect at once, but this was a mistake. The bill failed to state that it should go into effect from the date of ratification, in consequence of which omission it will not be in force until thirty days after the legislature adjourns.

John Hatton Stabs a Man.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., March 1.—M. J. Eastman, a prominent contractor of this city, was seriously stabbed here to-day in a difficulty with John A. Hatton. The affair occurred on Twenty-seventh street, opposite Hotel Ivy, and was the result of a quarrel that arose between the two men over a baby carriage belonging to Hatton, which was kept in the hallway of Eastman's house and obstructed the passage. Eastman told his agent to request Hatton to vacate, as the other occupants of his building complained very much of the obstruction. Hatton came into the real estate agent's office while Eastman was there, and renewed the quarrel, saying that he would skin him alive if he touched his carriage again.

Eastman invited him out, and Hatton followed him, going to a butcher-shop near by and borrowing a knife, Hatton returned to the street, calling Eastman a Yankee—, and began to slash him with the knife. Before the two men could be separated Hatton had stabbed his victim ten times, three on the head and face, two on the left shoulder, and five in the left side. Hatton immediately gave himself up, and is now in jail, having been sent on to the grand jury this evening at the preliminary examination. The physicians that attended the wounded man state that he will likely pull through all right, although one of the cuts in the left side may prove fatal. Hatton is a married man about 30 years old, and is employed in the furniture store of Barclay & Williams. He came here from North Carolina about two years ago.—Richmond Dispatch.

A Human Wonder.

There is now on exhibiton here
one of the most wonderful human curiosities that ever visited Greenville. It is Mr. W. T. Sapp, better known as "the Ossified Man."
He is about 40 years old and weighs only 40 pounds. The head is the only portion of the man
that has reached a normal size,
his body being very small and flat
and his limbs no larger than those of a small child. The man has no use of his limbs except the left shoulder and fingers, and aside from these can not move in the slightest. Notwithstanding being so deformed he is bright and cheerful, and converses as intelligently as any man you meet. The peculiar deformity of body and limbs came upon him when he was seven years old, without pain or apparent cause, and within three years he was reduced to the strange condition with which he is still afflicted. The body and limbs are as immovable as if he was a solid stone.

Wherever Mr. Sapp goes he attracts much attention and is seen by hundreds of people. The press and public officials of th towns he visits speak in the highest terms of him.

He will be in Greenville two days at the store formerly occupied by Mrs. Cowell.

In the Interest of Our People.

Editor Reflector.

For fear the Legislature may adjourn for lack of work, would it not be proper to suggest some things that they have overlooked
in their enactments, and while everything is in working order;
and so prevent the calling of an extra session.

1st. To pass a law to the effect
that, while eggs are twenty cents per dozen, that every hen shall furnish her owner with at least one egg per day.

2nd. That it shall be a misdemeanor for any citizens of our State during cropping season to be hunting, killing, or crippling elephants.

3rd. To prevent mosquitoes
entering dwelling houses, especially during winter, and ticks running at large at any time.

A CITIZEN OF ORIENTAL.

Mr. James L. Little tendered his official bond as Treasurer to the Board of County Commissioners. They found it gilt-edged and administered the oath of office to him.

A drunken shoemaker, named
John M. Herres, at Holsington
Kan., killed his wife and daughter and then committed suicide.
