Referred to the Colonel.

A story is told of one disappointed farmer who had allowed himself to be deluded into the belief that the result of the November election would increase the price of cotton. A prominent Statesville Republican it seems had "talked it" just after the election that the price of cotton would go up, probably to 10 cents a pound. The farmer heard of this talk and having much confidence in the aforesaid Republican's foresight he believed it. So when he brought his cotton to town a few days ago and was offered 4½ cents by a regular dealer he jeered him. He knew where he could do better; Blank (calling the prominent Republican by name) would give him more for his cotton. Thereupon he proceeded to hunt up Blank (who doesn't deal in cotton at all) and when he found him Blank wouldn't talk to him. Rather shame faced the farmer came back and sold his cotton to the buyer who had offered him 4½ cents.—Statesville Landmark.

Let it Alone.

The Fusionists are trying hard to break up the present good management of the A. & N. C. R. R. It is said their plan for its president is to put in Grant, of Goldsboro, or Duncan of Beaufort.—Newbern Journal.

Better keep Mr. Chadwick for president, if they want to do what is best for the road.

Marriage Licenses.

During this week the Register of Deeds issued licenses to five couples, three white and two colored. They were Jordan Elks and Susan Arnold, R. J. W. Carson and Lissie M. James, Ashley Dudley and Victoria Lathinghouse, Green Clemons and Francis Hardy, J. R. Respass, Jr., and Mary E. Spruill.

Ayden Items.

Ayden N. C. Mar. 9.—A. L. Harrington has been appointed a Notary Public for this place.

A. G. Cox and wife spent yesterday here.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed here, both by people of the town and surrounding country, over the contemplated changing of the name of Ayden to Harrington.

THE LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY.

In the Legislature to-day an unfavorable report was made on the bills to punish boycotting by railways it being found that the railway commission has ample power as to that matter.

A favorable report was made in the House on the Senate bill to establish a reformatory for youthful criminals.

Bills passed to prevent preferences by insolvents and require pro rata settlement of debt; to amend the charter of Wilmington and continue its present administration until 1897.

A bill to amend Raleigh's charter passed the Senate—27 to 15—eight Populists and one Republican voting nay with the Democrats.

Bills passed the House appropriating $100,000 annually for the Western Hospital for the Insane at Morganton, and $70,000 annually for the insane asylum at Raleigh.

There was intense interest in the debate in the House on the Senate bill appropriating $10,000 to complete Confederate Monument. It passed second reading—60 to 38.

NEARER HOME.

What is Happening Over the State.

A team of six oxen pulling a large engine was seen on the street to-day.

The sixty days of the Legislature expire to-day. Adjournment will take place early in the coming week, as the Douglassites will hardly remain there at their own expense.

The Wilmington and Weldon railroad offers to contribute twenty five per cent on all freights on material sent to rebuild the burnt district in Kinston.

It looks now as if the women are going to win in the fight for the monument to the Confederate dead. The bill appropriating ten thousand dollars for this purpose has already passed the Senate, two readings in the House and will undoubtedly become a law. We notice that Cox of Pitt did all he could against it. After Wednesday night's proceedings Phillips seems not to have been present Thursday. He is not recorded as having voted at all that day. We don't blame him. He has probably left for his home. This is certainly what he ought to have done.

The Fusionists think by this bill to amend for some other things they have done. For our part we don't believe that they are entitled to one particle of credit for passing it. They voted it down once. They would never have passed it had it not been for the criticism that was lavished upon them.

Below we publish a short extract from the Legislative proceedings of the night of March th sixth. Read and judge for your selves. We are sure you will feel that Pitt County is not very much honored.

Ray broke into the speech of Phillips perfectly coolly—his demeanor having been one of perfect serenity throughout the semi drama, asking, now, had not Phillips said to Hoffman in the presence of Young and Burnham (Burnham sits by Hoffman and Young behind Burnham), that the minority report members had been bought up. "No, sir," shouted Phillips, Ray appealed to Young and Burnham. Young arose Phillips glaring at him. Young said emphatically that Phillips had said in his and Burnham's presence that the minority had been bought up and he called upon the gentlemen from Burncombe to say whether or not it was true. There was a pause—Ray standing, Phillips awaiting Burnham's reply. "Mr. Speaker," said Mr. Burnham, "the gentleman from Pitt stood right there a little while ago in the middle of the aisle and said to Mr. Huffman just by me, that the minority members of the committee had been bought up, and I call upon Mr. Huffman to say whether he did or not." Mr. Huffman arose slowly and every one listened intently, the House having dropped into stillness. Huffman was about to speak, when he was rapped down by the Speaker, who declared him out of order. Mr. Phillips asking in the midst of the ruling that he be allowed to make his statement, but he sat down without having uttered a sound.

A Pretty Good Steal.

That little amendment hitched on to the civil appropriations bill allowing employes of the two Houses of Congress a month's extra pay will cost about $150,000. As some of the Congress men have no clerks, or employ members of their family, this looks like a pretty little steal which in the aggregate amounts to a pretty big steal. Liberality is all right but liberality at the expense of the people, in the interest of dependents or favorites is not all right.—Wilmington Star.

Glass in His Foot 15 Years

Some 15 years ago M. A. Jenkins stepped on a piece of lamp chimney. Five years later his foot pained him and upon investigation a piece of glass was found just under the skin on top of the foot. For several days the same foot has been giving him some trouble. Yesterday afternoon he called upon a physician to see what the trouble was. Another piece of glass, as large as the end of his little finger, was removed from between the large toe and the one adjoining it.

A SHORT WAY OUT OF IT.

Papa—But why do you sign it: "Your loving son, Amy?"

Amy—Why, of course mamma will know, and I couldn't spell daughter.

RUSTIC SYMPATHY.

Uncle Hiram—Say, Mirandy, the darned fool won't have a drop left when he gets home. Look at it leak!—WHEN LOVELY WOMEN VOTE.

Miss Mawbanks—Vote for that horrid man! Why, how can you, when he has such a big, ugly red beard?—Judge.

WIND SHAKES.

Little Items Caught as They Blow By.

This is spring weather proper. The public school opens Monday.

A moderate cold wave struck us this morning.

High west winds have prevailed to-day.

Fresh Hominy and Grits just received at D. S. Smith's.

"Top" Cigaretts are the best in the market—20 for 5 cents.

J. L. STARKEY & Co.

The cotton market has made another slight advance.

Cream Walnut Candy, Apples, Pears, and Oranges, cheaper than ever, at Morris Meyer's.

The Indian rubber man doubtless began life as a bouncing boy.

For Cotton Seed Meal and Hulls and Shingles call on Henry Sheppard. Prices low down.

Fresh hot Fancy Cakes and Crackers at J. L. Starkey & Co's.

The jury for the first week of Court were discharged this morning. The only trial they had to pass upon was the Cory divorce case to-day.

NEWS OFF THE WIRE.

Served by our "Leased" Underground Cable—(Limited).

A Philadelphia syndicate has purchased the Ocean View property, near Norfolk, including the railroad.

Two steamers collided in the bar near Baltimore, causing consternation among passengers. One of the steamers badly damaged.

At Seattle, Wash., the dead bodies of two infants and a Chinaman were found in the reservoir from which the city gets its supply of drinking water. The bodies had been in the water so long that most of the flesh had dropped off.

COME INTO COURT.

Some of These Have Business Before His Honor, Some Do Not.

Capt. E. M. Pace, of Wilson, is in town.

Mr. C. W. Priddy returned to Baltimore to-day.

Hon. J. E. Moore left for Williamston this morning.

Mrs. C. D. Rountree returned from Grifton this morning.

Mrs. Fannie Highsmith left this morning for Conetoe.

W. C. Hines has moved into his new house on Second street.

Miss Dora James returned to her home at Grindool to-day.

Mr. W. S. Bernard is here from Chocowinity visiting his mother.

We regret that the condition of Mrs. B. H. Sugg is reported worse to-day.

The average young woman does not object to a young man stealing something from under her very nose.

Did you ever know a merchant to advertise old fashioned, shop worn goods? Guess not—merchants that advertise always sell out their stock before the styles change.
