Threatening with rain Thursday, colder over the entire State Friday.

NEARER HOME.

What is Happening Over the State.

Four "moonshiners" have been arrested in Ouslow county.

Miss Lula Moore, of Raleigh, was married Saturday to Mr. A. I. Kaplan, a young Hebrew of that city.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, has been selected as the commencement orator by Davidson College this year.

A schooner taking a load of phosphate from Charleston to Newbern, sunk at Ocracoke inlet. Vessel and cargo a total loss. Crew saved by the Portsmouth Life Saving Station.

Judge Graham fined two witnesses in Charlotte $40 each for not being on hand, and one jurymen $20. The $40 dues were finally reduced to $10, but the $20 fine remained uncut.

Two boys about 14 years of age, named Richard Smith and Walter Williams, living in the section known as Fork Swamp, Contentnea township, packed up their belongings and run away from home on Sunday. Their fathers have heard nothing from them since.

NEWS OFF THE WIRE.

Served by our "Leased" Underground Cable—(Limited).

A big Loan and Trust Company at Russell, Kas., has gone under with liabilities placed at $250,000.

An exodus fever has broken out among the negroes of Alabama and several hundred of them have emigrated to Mexico.

Charles F. Worth, the celebrated Paris dressmaker, is dead. His reputation extended all over the world where dresses are worn.

Rev. Thos. Dixon, of New York, has gone off on another tangent, resigning his pastorate and announcing a new creed which for want of a better name has been termed "Union Evangelicalism."

A disease has appeared in Floyd county, Kentucky, that is worse than small pox, and even physicians are afraid to attend people afflicted with it. The disease resembles cholera, except that it chokes the victim to death, beginning in the stomach and rising to the throat. Nearly every case has been fatal.

Lookout For Him.

About this time the "old man" of the Salisbury Herald will be reading with distended eyes and mouth a-watering the items in the REFLECTOR about the shad in Tar river. And when he learns that Joe Evans has "hung" his net and got everything in readiness for a "skim" we'll not be surprised to see it stated that he has slipped off to Greenville, leaving Joe Rouche to wrestle with the Herald and cuss us for enticing the "old man" off with fish stories. If he will take the hint—shad are "biting," and spring don't come but once a year.

THE LEGISLATURE.

MONDAY.

Bills passed final reading applying the balance of the direct-tax fund in the Treasury to the public-school fund; paying all expenses of election contests at this session, aggregating over three thousand dollars; appropriating $95,000 for two years for the Eastern Hospital, of Goldsboro'.

Senator Dula and Representative Huffman were elected trustees of the Deaf-Mute School, at Morganton.

A bill to allow divorce in cases where there has been two years' desertion failed to pass.

The bill to create a Code commission was tabled. This caused a great sensation, as the Republicans had in caucus to-day demanded that the bill pass. Some Republicans and quite a number of Populists joined with the Democrats in voting against it.

Bills passed final reading making the total appropriation to the State Guard $6,000 instead of $16,000 and appropriating $14,000 to pay the penitentiary's debts, and $35,000 for its maintenance this year and next year.

The Senate passed a bill introduced to day to abolish county superintendents of public instruction and county boards of education.

An exchange makes this suggestion for business men: "In towns where a newspaper is published, every business man ought to advertise in it; even if it is only a card stating his name and the business he is engaged in. It helps sustain a paper—lets people at a distance know that the town is a business town. The paper finds its way into thousands of places where hand-bills cannot reach. A card in the paper is a traveling sign board and can be seen by every reader. Think of these things and let your light shine."

The State Guard has literally been abolished. The legislature has reduced the appropriation to one hundred dollars for each company, and in many instances this will not pay armory rent.

The bill to establish a Code Commission has been defeated and Guthrie, Russell and Blackburn will be allowed to attend to their business at home. The State has no need of their services.

The most contemptible piece of legislation, when we take in consideration the time it was introduced, that has been attempted by the Legislature is the bill that was introduced Monday to abolish the Board of Education and Superintendents of Public Instruction. Two bills of this kind have been tabled, and now after the constitutional limit for the session of the Legislature a bill is introduced and is to be rushed through to abolish about four hundred offices in the State. In fact to change entire the whole management of the Public Schools. The bill has not even been before a committee. No time can possibly be given anybody to discuss the matter. It is evident that this has been understood all the time that this bill was to be put through just as is now being done. The Legislature knew that such complaint would come before them if they attempted any thing of this kind that they have purposely waited for this hour. Even the negroes are outspoken in condemnation of the matter. There never assembled a more contemptible set of men and what sooner look for an honest man within the walls of our prisons that among the average men of this Legislature. They have sunk to such depths of infamy that we think Satan himself must flush and shudder at many of their actions. A time of reckoning will come in 1896, and the worse they can do now will only make it the easier to correct it then.

Marriage Rules.

Let her meet him with a kiss—not a frown.

Let each realize the fact that they are one.

Let the husband frequent his home—not the club.

Let him assist her in beautifying the home.

Let her not narrate Mrs. Next Door's gossip.

Let her not worry him with petty troubles.

Let him speak to his wife—not yell "say" at her.

Let her make her home more pleasant than the club.

Let her sympathize with him in business cares.

Let him be as courteous after marriage as before.

Let his latchkey gather unto itself rust from disuse.

Let her dress as tastefully for him as for strangers.

Let him confide in his wife, their interests are equal.

Let her not fret because Mrs. Neighbor has a rich dress.

Let her home mean love and rest—not strife and noise.

Mr. J. N. Maxwell was in the Herald office this afternoon with the most remarkable story we ever heard. He said, upon the authority of Mr. H. V. Ritchie, who saw the wonder, that a cow belonging to Mr. White Menius gave birth last week to twenty-six calves. One calf was of normal size and living, the others were about the size of large rats and dead. The cow also died. This cow gave birth to three calves about two years ago. This yarn is hard to believe.—Salisbury Herald.

Don't Take It.

The Confederate Monument Association cannot afford to degrade itself or the heroes whose memories it proposes to honor by accepting anything from the hands of the mongrel crew composing the present Legislature. That gang has disgraced the State; spat upon the honored Confederate dead and insulted every white man and woman in the State, and if it does appropriate any sum to the Confederate monument it will be done to cover up the infamy of its action in adjourning in honor of Fred Douglass.

If the Association be true to itself, true to the manhood and womanhood of North Carolina, and to those who died in defense of the Confederate States of America, it will flatly and absolutely refuse to accept anything at the hands of the present Legislature. Any other course would be an insult to every dead Confederate soldier and dishonorable to the Association.—Ruth Dem.

A SAD MISTAKE, INDEED.

Miss Fernleaf (showing visitor through conservatory)—Yes; these are our cacti. Papa is so fond of them he spends most of his time among them.

Nearsighted Visitor—Beautiful! And what a peculiarly formed one this is! Do you mind me pulling one of those stickers out?

WIND SHAKES.

Little Items Caught as They Blow By.

This has been a disagreeable day.

It will hardly pay to ship eggs now.

It is time Moses was touching off his street lamps.

Fresh Hominy and Grits just received at D. S. Smith's.

See S. E. Pender & Co's new advertisement.

Prayer meeting in the Methodist church to-night.

The cotton market went up another sixteenth yesterday.

Sunday was a beautiful day and all the churches had large congregations.

Locals all washed away in the rain to-day, and its too wet to hunt for them.

Buy Cotton Seed Meal at the Old Brick Store.

For the best Special Truck Guano call on R. A. Tyson or Henry Sheppard.

Cream Walnut Candy, Apples, Pears, and Oranges, cheaper than ever, at Morris Meyer's.

For Cotton Seed Meal and Hulls and Shingles call on Henry Sheppard. Prices low down.

Laces, Ribbons, Baby Caps, all new and cheaper than ever at Mrs. L. Griffin.

Some of our shippers have lost money on eggs by the bottom falling out of the market.

The Tribune, with J. B. Johnson, Jr., editor, made its appearance yesterday as successor to the Penny Press.

Thursday of last week Rev. R. P. Hill, a Free Will Baptist minister of Greene county, committed suicide by shooting himself with a pistol. At the time of committing the act he was under arrest for complicity in a scandal. He was 65 years old and a man of a family.

COME INTO COURT.

Some of These Have Business Before His Honor, Some Do Not.

Mayor D. C. Moore, of Bethel, returned home this morning.

Rev. D. B. Clayton will preach in the Court House again to-night.

Mr. T. W. Hawkins, an attorney of Littleton, is attending Court.

Mr. John Quinerly and Mrs. Robert Quinerly, of Centerville, came up on this morning's train.

We were glad to have a call Tuesday evening from friend P. O. Eavis, of the State Agricultural Department.

Mr. J. R. Moye, of the firm of J. B. Cherry & Co., went north this morning to purchase spring and summer goods.

Mr. R. P. Andrews, an "old friend" of the editor and representative of Addison's paper house, Washington, D. C., has been shaking bargain at the REFLECTOR to day.

Not Yet Exhausted.

But few words rhyme with "advertiser."

The advertiser,

Than the Kaiser,

about exhausts the panel—Des Moines Free Press.

Then perhaps you never heard that: There was once a miser who lived by a geyser and fast rolling Iser, and married Eliza, and tried to advise her that no early riser would ever despise her, but highly would prize her, if early she hies her to the kitchen and fries her old man's appetizer in the shape of a good breakfast before he gets up in the morning. And the panel is not yet exhausted.—Philadelphia Bulletin.
