The Bonnet Party.

The "Bonnet Party" last night, held by the ladies of the Baptist church, was a success in every respect. The refreshments were delicious and in abundance. The most interesting feature of the party was the bonnet and cake contest. Miss Annie Perkins having received the largest number of votes was declared the prettiest girl present and was awarded the bouret. Rev. C. M. Billings won the cake for being the ugliest man. The proceeds amounted to about $35. The ladies deserve much credit for their untiring efforts in getting up the party and for its success.

KILLED ON THE RAIL.

(Special to Reflector.)

✓ PARMELE, N. C., Mar. 30, 1895.
A colored man, named Ben Stephens, was killed by the train between Bethel and Parmele Friday evening. He was at all ga ride between the tender and a box car and in some way slipped and fell under the wheels. His body was cut entirely in twain. He lived nearly half an hour in this condition.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

The excuse given by every Fusionist in reference to the passage of the mortgage bill which destroys the credit of the poor man is that they did not know that they passed such a bill. Just think of a Legislature letting a bill pass that is as far reaching in its consequences as this is and not even know that it passed. Such men are great reformers indeed, and deserve to be held responsible for all damages. It may be that they wanted to be called together again and thought by the passage of such a bill it would be necessary that the Governor call them together to repeal this act. God forbid though that this body should ever assemble again in this State. Nobody knows what they would do.

Tobacco Warehouse Charges.

The act to fix a maximum charges for selling leaf tobacco by North Carolina warehouses, as it finally passed the Legislature, provides that the charges and expenses for handling, etc., of tobacco shall be as follows, viz: for auction fees fifteen cents on all piles of one hundred pounds or less, and twenty five cents on all piles over one hundred pounds; for weighing and handling, ten cents per pile for all piles less than one hundred pounds, and at the rate of ten cents per per hundred on piles weighing over one hundred pounds; for commissions on the gross sales of leaf tobacco not to exceed two and one half per cent; that tobacco shall be weighed by a person having taken the oath prescribed in the act; and that sellers shall be furnished with a statement showing such charges. This act goes into effect October 1st, 1895.

Things the People Want to Know.

What Marion Butler thinks of the new mortgage law?

Why the Big Five don't explain how it was passed?

What it costs a foreign board of trade to get through such a bill?

Whether the recent Legislature was really a cross between the penitentiary and the insane asylum?

If all reforms consist in exchanging old abuse for new and worse ones?

Why Fusionists benignly do everything that they denounce in the wicked Democrats?

Why the Populists and Republicans of North Carolina have agreed to commit suicide in each others arms?

What will be the next obnoxious "sneak" bill to be discovered among the acts of the Douglass Legislature?

Whether the farmers propose to stand meekly by and see all their credit ruined without a murmur?—Raleigh News and Observer.

Ingratitude is a common failing of our humanity. We are prone to forget our benefactors. By the favors of others we are helped forward in the struggle of life, and perhaps we attain a good measure of success. In our day of prosperity do we not sometimes forget the faithful friends who have rendered essential help? We may have been in trouble, called upon to pass through an experience of difficulty, at which time sympathy and aid were shown to us by some one to whom we made appeal—do we forget the helping hand when no longer we need its support?

Is life worth living, with all its disappointed hopes, harassing care, wear and tear? What a foolish question. Of course it is. Look out on that group of happy children, with faces dimpling in its merry rays. Hear that rippling laugh, as refreshing as the fall of water on a summer day. Get out into the fields, look up into the mellow blue of the sky, watch the drifting fleece-clouds—forget the rest and be happy that you live.—Durham Sun.

The Lights Bothered Them.

Several men, who do not live in Durham, were here not many nights since, and were stopping at a house where electric lights were used. When they got ready to retire no one knew how to put out the light so they held a consultation meeting to see what was the best thing to be done. Finally, one of them suggested that he tie his overcoat around the "blamed thing," as he expressed it, which was agreed to. This did not shut off all the light, and neither of the party could sleep. About 11 o'clock the light went out—having been turned off from that part of the building.—when one of them remarked, "Thank goodness, I hope I will never have to sleep in another room where there is a blamed perpetual motion light." This is a fact, and the conversation was heard by a gentlemen in the next room.—Durham Sun.

Mr. W. A. Smith, of Concord, who was agent for a number of parties who have mining property for sale in Stanly county, on Big Bear creek, has in his possession a letter from Northern capitalists with whom he had about consummated a deal, denouncing North Carolina, stating as a reason that they could not migrate to a State and invest money where its representatives cut such capers as did our recent Legislature.—Charlotte Observer.

NOT MANY OF THEM.

But Every Item Worth Reading.

Violets are plentiful.

Two weeks to Easter.

To-morrow is Palm Sunday.

This month goes out to-morrow.

The prevailing spring color is green.

Spring opening—fruit tree blooms.

April criminal Court convenes Monday.

County Commissioners next Monday.

One more day and March will march away.

Look out for the April fool Monday morning.

Look at the pretty Shoes and Slippers at Lang's.

Your lucky find Monday morning may be only an April fool.

Spring bonnets will be worn on the Leid as usual this season.

Buy Cotton Seed Meal at the Old Brick Store.

Our devil has loaded the "shooting stick" for spring poets.

It will not take many of these pretty d.ys to sprout a crop of straw hat.

For Cotton Seed Meal and Hulls and Shingles call on Henry Sheppard. Prices low down.

March has not given us much wind, but taken as a whole has been a very mild month.

What a difference in the weather of the last three days and the same dates in March of last year.

The ladies should not fail to see the new goods at Lang's.

Fire in a field between Pactolus and Washington burned down the telegraph poles for two miles Friday.

As cotton planting time draws near we would advise the farmers not to plant much of it. A small crop at a large price pays better than a large crop at a small price.

The styles of spring dress goods the merchants say are beauties. See what our advertisers are saying.

Prof. Edmond's Musee de Art will open Monday. His tent will be on the public square near the Market House.

A watchman at Kinston accidentally shot himself last night while pulling a pistol from his pocket. It was only a flesh wound.

It was noticed that the sun looked unusually red for some time before setting Friday evening. An old colored man was heard to remark that it was a sure sign of war.

The Sunday-school of the Methodist church will have missionary exercises at the church to-morrow night. Rev. G. A. Oglesby and Mr. F. C. Harding will make short addresses.

FACES WHICH WAY?

Some Coming, Some Going, Look as They Pass.

Mrs. B. R. King left for Goldsboro this morning.

Mr. A. R. Dupree returned from Richmond Friday evening.

Mrs. Wood of Bertie county, arrived Friday evening on a visit to Mrs. Charles Skinner.

Mrs. B. F. Sugg returned Friday evening from Mt. Olive. Mr. Sugg is reported much better.

Miss Margie Langley returned yesterday from a visit to her sister Mrs. H. B. Clark, in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Bailey left this morning for Clarksville, Va., where they will spend the summer.

Mr. Will Grimmer, who has been visiting his brother, Mr. J. L. Grimmer, left this morning for Tarboro.

Presiding Elder G. A. Oglesby came in on the train last night and went with Rev. J. H. Joyner out to Salem to-day.

Rev. C. M. Billings left this morning for Bethel to attend the Union Meeting. He will return to night and conduct the usual services at the Baptist church to-morrow.

REFLECTANCE.

FOR COUNTRY CUSTOMERS.

Remarkable Growth in Cities of a New Branch of Business.

"There is an establishment out in Chicago that employs nearly 300 clerks and does a business of several million dollars a year, but which does not carry a dollar's worth of stock," said Postmaster Hesing, of the Exposition city. "Not long ago it sent out no less than 500,000 circulars to prospective customers. It is merely a purchasing agency for persons living outside of the city who need articles and do not find it convenient to buy them in person. The concern will buy anything for anybody, according to a well-arranged system. All the customer has to do is to send a description of the article wanted and the amount he is willing to pay for it, and it is gotten by an agent of the establishment and shipped to him at once.

"Suppose, for instance, a man in a remote town wants an overcoat of blue cloth, with a velvet collar, for which he will pay $10. He sends his breast and waist measurement and the money to the firm, and in twenty minutes after his order is received the coat is bought and packed up and at the freight or express office.
No charge is made to the customer,
as the firm has an arrangement with numerous retail mercantile establishments by which it gets a certain discount off from the market prices, and in this way makes heavy profits. I have been told that the discount ranges all the way from 5 to 15 per cent., so it is easy to see how remunerative the business is.
Absolute honesty characterizes all its dealings, and, consequently, very few articles are returned by customers as unsatisfactory."—Washington Star.

An Oddity in Office Seeking.

Representative Stevens, of Massachusetts, has had an experience which will make every southern and western man turn green with envy.
In Mr. Stevens' district is the town of Reading. It is quite a flourishing place and its postmaster-ship pays eighteen hundred dollars a year. Yet when the republican postmaster's term expired not many days ago Mr. Stevens found that there were only two applicants. Mr.
Millard F. Charles had dropped a note to Mr. Stevens saying that if no one wanted the office he would be pleased to have it, and the postmaster under the first Cleveland administration suggested his willingness to take the place.

These were absolutely the only aspirants to an eighteen hundred dollar place.

Mr. Charles got the appointment and the postmaster general keeps the two letters on his desk to show congressional visitors as a curiosity.—Washington Post.

VINTAGE 1894.

Nine Hundred and Sixty Million Gallons of Wine.

It was not to be expected that the French vineyards would yield as rich a harvest in 1894 as they had done in 1893—a year as remarkable for the quantity of wine made, especially in the Bordeaux, Burgundy and Champagne districts, where one gallon is of more value than ten grown in other parts of the country, says the London News.
But though the official returns just published show that the quantity of wine made during 1894 in France and Algeria was about 300,000,000 gallons less than in 1893, the total of 960,000,000 indicates a very marked increase upon the average of the previous ten years. The increase extends to nearly all the departments of France in which wine is grown, though here and there are to be found districts which have not shared in the general improvement, and in which, as it is safe to assume, the ravages of that redoubtable vine pest, the phylloxera vastatrix, are still uncurbed.

The greatest improvement during the year was in the districts bordering on the Mediterranean, which are noted for the great body and richness in alcohol of their wines, much used for "blending" with the lighter products of the Bordelais and of the central districts of France; and it will perhaps be as well not to inquire too curiously into the destiny of these growths before they reach the lips of the consumer. It does seem, however, that there is a fair chance of the supply of pure wine from France being less restricted than it has been of late years; for, while there has, as explained above, been a great increase during the last two years in the quantity made, there has been a corresponding decrease in the manufacture of the liquids made from raisins and ingredients other than the plain juice of the grape. It may also be regarded as a good sign that while the imports of wine into France from Spain, Italy and other countries which grow more than they can consume had grown from 6,000,000 to over 200,000,000, they have for the last three or four years been reduced to something like a third of the latter total, though, upon the other hand, there has not been a corresponding rise in the exports.

On Dangerous Ground.

"Judge," said the colored witness, "I wish you please, suh, make the lawyer stop puttin' me!"

"But he has a right to question you."

"Dat may be, judge, but I'se got a kinder guttin' in my head, en ef he worry me much, I'st t'ing you know I'll tell de truth 'bout dis matter!"

Buy Cotton Seed Meal at the Old Brick Store.

If you like the DAILY REFLECTOR any better now don't be afraid to tell us.

The weather bureau did not give any warning of Saturday evening's cold wave.

For Cotton Seed Meal and Hulls and Shingles call on Henry Sheppard. Prices low down.

Most of the day Saturday was so warm that it lifted many of the boys out of their shoes.

The days continue to grow on the nights and now get the longest half in the division.

The ladies should not fail to see the new goods at Lang's.

Messrs. Zeb Highsmith and Mark Cherry, Jr., rode their bicycles from Bethel to Greenville 16 miles, in an hour and twenty five minutes to-day.

At the corner stall in Market House you can find the nicest fresh Beef, Pork, Sausage, Fish, &c. All orders promptly filled. D. G. MOORE.

Mrs. R. L. Humber was recently elected organist of the Baptist church. Her excellent performing and splendid voice add much to the choir.

Enlarging the DAILY REFLECTOR makes more expense and we will appreciate prompt payments by our subscribers. We hope every family in town will take the paper.

J. B. Cherry & Co. call attention in their advertisement to the new line of new goods they have. They sell goods strictly upon credit and you will find every article purchased exactly as represented to you.

FACE WHICH WAY?

Some Coming, Some Going, Look as They Pass.

Mr. E. O. McGowan went to Parmele to-day.

Rev. G. A. Oglesby left this morning.

Postmaster C. P. Gaskins, of Grifton, spent to-day here.

Mrs. M. D. Higgs returned from Baltimore Saturday evening.

Mr. W. B. Wilson and children went to Plymouth Saturday evening.

Mr. J. B. Edwards, of Scotland Neck, came down Saturday evening and returned home to-day.

Dr. David Morrill, of Farmville, arrived here Saturday evening from Baltimore, where he has been attending medical lectures, and went out to his home.

His Own Carelessness.

Coroner Charles Laughinghouse went to Bethel Saturday and held an inquest over the body of Ben Stevens, who was killed near there the day before. The jury was composed of R. J. Grimes, J. E. Carson, J. W. Thomas, J. H. Andrews, W. A. Knox and R. D. Best. The verdict was "that deceased came to his death by his own carelessness in the attempt to steal a passage on the train."

Missionary Society.

A large congregation was at the Methodist church Sunday night to witness the very interesting exercises by the Bright Jewels Missionary Society. The following programme was rendered:

Song, No. 28.

Prayer by Rev. G. A. Oglesby.

Recitation—"Mission Ships," Miss Alice Lang.

Song, No. 148.

Recitation—"He Calleth for Thee," Miss Clara Forbes.

Song, No. 169.

Recitation—"Legend of St. Christopher," Miss Bessie Harding.

Song, No. 143.

Recitation—"Give," Misses Bessie Haskett, Glenn Forbes, Nina James, and Velma Rawls.

Collection.

Addresses by Mr. F. C. Harding and Rev. G. A. Oglesby.

Benediction.

The John Flanagan Buggy Co. is filling orders for buggies from Columbia, S. C. This speaks well for the fine work turned out by this firm.

Notice of Dissolution.

The firm of R. Greene & Co. has this day dissolved by mutual consent, R. Greene withdrawing from the same. The business will be continued under the same firm name.

This 1st day of April 1895.

R. GREENE.

The Bond Case Still in the Way.

To-day was the time for convening of the April term of Pitt Superior Court, but it could not meet because the jury on the bond case has not reached a verdict so that the former prolonged term could adjourn. This is unprecedented we believe, in North Carolina, one term of Court being unable to convene because of the continuation of a former term.

H. G. Jones, architect and builder, offers his services to those wanting houses built or repaired.
