Vol. 1.

GREENVILLE, N. C., APRIL 16, 1895.

No. 109

Local Trains and Boat Schedule.

Passenger and mail train going north, arrives 8:22 A. M. Going south, arrives 6:37 P. M.

North Bound Freight, arrives 6:45 A. M., leaves 10:15 A. M.

South Bound Freight, arrives 1:51 P. M., leaves 2:11 P. M.

Steamer Myers arrives from Washington Monday, Wednesday and Friday leaves for Washington Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Weather Bulletin.

Showers tonight, warmer, rain Wednesday.

To Be Enlarged.

The Wiley Brown stock has been moved out of the store he lately occupied, and Mr. S. M. Schultz, who recently purchased the building, will soon begin improving it preparatory to occupying it himself. The building will be run a story higher and other improvements made.

Aln at Scap-d.

We learn that a young man named Sam James, who works for the Parmele Eccleston Lumber Co., at Parmele, was painfully hurt a few days ago. While loading a car he accidentally fell, and striking his head split his scalp from the forehead around to the back of his head.

Fire Company.

The citizens of Greenville are requested to meet in the Court House Friday night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a fire company. The fire engine will probably be here next week; and it is important to all that a good company be organized at once and it should be composed of the best citizens of the town. Let everybody attend.

J. L. FLEMING, Mayor.

Quinerly Items.

April 16th, 1895.

Miss Lucy Lane is visiting relatives here.

Miss Bessie Harding, of Greenville, is visiting at Mrs. Mary Harding's.

Rev. Alban Greaves filled his regular appointment at St. John's Sunday.

Mr. J. P. Quinerly is numbered among the bicycle riders.

Mr. F. C. Harding came down from Greenville Saturday and returned Monday.

Mr. W. F. Pittman went to Newbern yesterday on business.

Mrs. W. G. Butler, Misses Annie Brooks and Addie Butler spent part of the past week in Kinston.

SLANDER.

'Twas but a breath—
And yet a woman's fair name wilted,
And friends once warm grew cold and stilted.

And life was worse than death.

One venomous word,
That struck its coward, poisoned blow,
In craven whispers hushed and low,
And yet the wide world heard.

'Twas but one whisper—one
That muttered low for very shame,
That thing the slanderer dare not name,
And yet its work was done.

A hint so light,
And yet so mighty in its power,
A human soul in one short hour
Lies crushed beneath its blight.

Bethel Items.

BETHEL, N. C., April, 15th 1895.
Miss Minnie Carroway went to Halifax Friday. She will return this evening.

Mr. J. R. Bunting is spending a few days at Conetoe this week.

A young man named James came very near being killed at Parmele Saturday, he received a severe wound on the head from a saw. We learn he is improving and will get well.

Drummers have been here by the score during the past week.

Mr. J. E. Carson got his candy tent burnt up last Friday. Fortunately no other damage was done.

Owing to the heavy rains the farmers in this section are backward in planting their crops.

Mr. C. R. Speight and Miss Lemmie James were married last Wednesday at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Cornelius James, Rev. R. W. Hines officiating.

Frightened Watchman.

Early last night a tube in one of the boilers at the Greenville Lumber Co's mill burst, and the watchman thinking the boiler was going to explode became frightened and blew the whistle alarm. A large crowd rushed out there, thinking the alarm was because of fire.

This Mule Had Hind Legs.

Monday Joshua Mills was driving a mule showing the animal to a prospective buyer. The mule becoming somewhat mulish and not doing the showing off act just right, Mills plied the lash to him, when the mule leaned forward, stretched out his hind legs over the spatterboard and planted both feet in Mills' breast. Fortunately for Mills that mule's legs just were long enough to reach him after expending most of the force of the kick, or he might not have come off with two light bruises.

MEN'S AND BOYS' SPRING FIXINGS FROM HEAD TO FOOT.

MY suits combine styles, elegance and wearing qualities.
I study the wants of buyers.
I have your idea of a spring suit.

MY Hat Department is complete with all the latest blocks.
Derbys, Alpines, Soft and Straw.

NECKWEAR, shirts, Underwear, Collars, Cuffs and the numerous little necessities of a Man's Wardrobe is pleasing array.

FRANK WILSON,

The Leader in Clothing.

LOCAL SNAPS.

The warehousemen say very little tobacco comes in now, most of the last crop being sold.

No, you cannot register any day during the week, the books are only open Saturdays. Bear this in mind when next Saturday comes.

The directors of the Greenville Warehouse Company had a meeting Monday afternoon to discuss the advisability of enlarging the warehouse.

Some of the boys say if the girls sleeves get much larger they will have to walk on the opposite side of the streets when escorting them out.

The R. W. Royster & Co. steam prizery was sold at public auction before the Court House, Monday, to wind up the affairs of the old company. It was bought by J. N. Gorman & Co.

NEARER HOME.

What is Haapening Over the State.

The Clyde steamer Croatan, that sprung a leak near Cape Lookout, has been carried to Wilmington.

A Fayetteville correspondent of the Wilmington Messenger says that Evangelist Oaks was "gloriously drunk" on the train between Wilson and Richmond a few days ago.

EVERY AFTERNOON (EXCEPT SUNDAY)

The canvass of the Republican and Democratic National Committeemen recently made puts McKinley and Stevenson ahead in the presidential race and Chicago the leading city for the Conventions.

The Motto of Broadus was: "Trust in God and Work." This reminds us of another motto given us by a farmer brother the other day, "Trust in God as though you could do nothing, and work as though works would save you."—Biblical Recorder

A motion will be made for a rehearing of the income tax. If the Supreme Court decides to have a rehearing the decision of last Monday will be set aside and the case will come up on the docket just as if it had never been heard and will be in effect until after the Court renders another decision. It is thought that this rehearing will depend very much upon whether Justice Jackson's health will allow him to be present. He was not present at the last hearing and the Court was a tie upon some of the features of the bill. It is said that Mr. Cleveland will in the meantime fill out his blank putting his salary and all in to be taxed.

WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION.

In the course of a column editorial in the Columbia State the following passage occurs:

In a talk the other day with Mr. R. H. Edmonds, the editor of the Manufacturer's Record, of Baltimore, the leading organ of Southern development, he told us something which is appropriate to this case. Two or three years ago, he said, he spent some time in Polk county, North Carolina, near Tryon, on the border of this State, and during his stay hundreds of people from the North came into the neighborhood to prospect for homes. He observed that although a great many bought land and settled in Polk county none located on the South Carolina side of the line, although the natural attractions were fully as great. When he inquired the reason for this discrimination, he was told by numbers of them that they did not settle in South Carolina because in this State the laws were not enforced. The frequency of lynchings in South Carolina and their infrequency in North Carolina had impressed them, and they said that they would not locate in this State if they could get land gratis, for they feared that they would not be protected by the government.

We are far from glad that the situation in South Carolina is as it is here represented, but it is an infinite satisfaction to know that North Carolina's reputation as a law-abiding State is so good.

All those who love it and wish it well should do all in their power to see that this character is preserved. In the first place, we need above everything to keep our individual hands free of the stain of crime, and next we should desire, for every reason, that the State should stand fairly in the eyes of the sisterhood. This cannot be if lawlessness prevails and especially not if lynch law becomes prevalent. We delight to have an outsider speak of the infrequency in North Carolina of this great crime. Let us cultivate a public sentiment of that healthful character that an offence against God and man and the State, now infrequent, may become unknown.—Charlotte Observer.

The Living Truth.

Ram's Morn.

Most people are better than their neighbors give them credit for.

It is doubtful if God ever made a man who could please all his neighbors.

No man can love his neighbor as himself until he first loves God with his whole heart.

People are scarce who think that the folks in the next house have religion enough.

If men had to be judged by one another the gates of heaven would remain closed forever.

Strip off all masks, and there is hardly a man who would know his next door neighbor.

Many are more concerned about what they will have for dinner than where they will spend eternity.

A kind word will go farther than rifle shot.

Love never loses by being tested.

Hell is where love is stagnant and hope is dead.

It is not what we do but what we love that decides our fate.

To see others happy is hell to the man who has no love in his heart.

Whether we get to heaven or not is to be decided by what we love, not by what we know.

The man who has a kind word for everybody will not need a brass band to draw mourners to his funeral.

It is said that Harriet Beecher Stowe has grown to perfectly abhor any and all reference to her well known book, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." She cannot endure any mention of it however slight it may be, and her family and friends are very careful to avoid any allusions to it. It has taken the old lady a long time to find out her mistake in writing it.

STRUGGLE WITH A LION.

Account of an English Surgeon's Death in Africa.

The British Central Africa Gazette gives particulars of the death of Dr. McKay, surgeon on board her majesty's ship Pioneer, who was killed by a lion October 20. It appears that the doctor was left by the Pioneer for a few days shooting at a village near the southwest corner of Nyassa. Two days later he started with three boys to shoot elephants. After walking for some hours they came to a pool of water, and, seeing a lion and lioness a few yards distant, Dr. McKay fired twice at the lion. He wounded it and both animals made off for the jungle. Two of Dr. McKay's native attendants ran away, but the doctor and the Zanzibari boy, Musa, went in search of the wounded lion. They espied the beast crouching down fifteen yards away; McKay fired at the lion's head. At that instant the lion sprang upon the doctor with a terrific roar, and a deadly struggle took place. Dr. McKay lost hold of his rifle in endeavoring to keep the lion off his throat. The beast seized his left arm in its jaws and clawed his right. The doctor kicked at the lion, which threw him down and began to tear his flesh. He then called to Musa: "Musa, my arm is broken; my leg is broken; bring the rifle." Musa took it, and McKay, unable to hold it up, made Musa sit down and, resting the rifle on his shoulder, shot the lion dead. A rough stretcher was made and Dr. McKay was carried into camp. He suffered much, and died on the 26th.

The Dog in Law.

Dogs have not the same property value here that they have in England, and this is so notwithstanding the fact that dogs are property here and they are not property in England. This seeming paradox may be explained from the fact that, according to the old English laws, felony was punishable by death. If dogs had been property then, to steal a dog would have been a felony, punishable by death. It was not considered right that a man should die for a dog, and therefore dogs were held by the court not to be property. There are foolish dog laws in nearly every city and town in the United States based on the presumption that dogs are not property, but such laws would not stand investigation and the interpretation of the higher courts. A dog-catcher who seizes dogs and puts them to death is acting without warrant of law, whatever the local ordinance, for property cannot be taken from a citizen without giving him an opportunity to be heard before a court of law and before a jury. The owners of fine dogs are usually so careful of them that the dog-catchers and pound-keepers have small chance to capture them.—Harper's Weekly.

SPRING BALLET.

A Few Fresh Sprigs Plucked by Reflector Reporters.

Attend church to-night.

There was a dance in Germania Hall last night.

The weather is showing its fickleness to perfection.

Three slate pencils for one cent at Reflector Book Store.

Don't forget to hand your subscription to the carrier.

Spring seems decidedly backward in settling down to business.

Buy Cotton Seed Meal at the Old Brick Store.

The price of oil has jumped up and the oil trust is making a speck.

White, tan and black shoes and slippers in endless variety at Lang's.

Riverside Nurseries shipped ten thousand cabbage plants to-day.

GIVEN AWAY.—A pair of roller skates with every boy's suit at Lang's.

Lang's white goods, laces, swisses and hamburgs are prettier than ever.

Look out for R. L. Smith & Co's car load of fine Kentucky drive horses this week.

The Tribune came out enlarged to six pages to-day. "Tops" is making things hustle.

The catch of shad has been large for a few days and they have sold as low as 25 cents a pair.

There seems to be no interest as to who the Democrats will nominate for Councilmen. This should not be so.

NOTHING BUT THE BEST.—For "Best in the World" Flour, best new Butter and Cream Cheese, and finest selected canned goods, go to J. S. Smith & Co.

They are here now—another big lot of the "Brownie" penny tablets, and the "Wide Awake" five cent tablets, at the Reflector Book Store.

A negro detective has been working up the cause of the late fires at Kinston, and we learn that two arrests were made Monday night on evidence he had obtained.

While looking after a better water supply the Town Council might consider the advisability of putting wells somewhere on Pitt and Greene streets. That section of the town needs them.

LENT AFTERMATH.

The Season is Over but People Continue to Come and Go.

Mr. W. M. Lang, of Farmville, is here to-day.

Mr. J. N. Gorman returned to Richmond to-day.

Mrs. Robt. Carr, of Greene county, was here to-day.

Mr. T. F. Whitley, of Parmele, spent Monday night here.

Miss Lucy Tyson, of Farmville, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Lina Sheppard and Master Hugh Sheppard are both sick.

Mrs. W. M. Lang, of Farmville, is visiting Mrs. E. M. Williams.

Mrs. D. L. James and Miss Jennie James went to Grindool to-day.

Mr. J. O. Caddell, representative of the Biblical Recorder, is in town.

Mrs. Elam, of Wilson, who was visiting Mrs. C. T. Munford, returned home to-day.

Misses Cornelia Jones and Lela Wilkinson, of Farmville, are visiting Mrs. Charles Cobb, in Skin nerville.

Mr. S. A. Congleton, who clerked for Mr. Wiley Brown while the latter was in business, has returned to his home in Carolina township.

The Meeting.

Rev. C. M. Billings preached a splendid sermon last night on the ability of God to do abundantly more for us than we are able to ask or think. Rev. W. B. Oliver, of Wilmington is expected to arrive in time to preach to-night.

What must I do to be saved? God's answer: Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved.—Acts 16:31.
