Burlington, Vt. had a slight earthquake shock.
A cyclone did considerable damage in Washington county Alabama.
The burning of the National Saw works, at Cincinnati, caused a loss of $150,000.
A block of buildings going up at Claversville, N. Y., suddenly collapsed, burying four men under the ruins.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee has been appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for the Western District of Virginia to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Capt. Ham Shepperd.

A disagreeable odor from the debris of a barn that was burned on the farm of William Lebold, near Delaware, O., last fall, led to an investigation yesterday, resulting in the discovery of the charred remains of four human beings, supposed to have been tramps who were sleeping in the barn.

Too Respectful.
Before the war—and probably the same is true now—many of the colored men handled a violin bow with a good degree of skill. One such dark musician, according to Texas Sitings, had a master of similar tastes.

One day master and servant were fiddling together, and as they finished the piece the master said:
"You handle the bow pretty well, Ned, but you are always a bar or so behind. Why is that?"
"Out of deference to you, colonel," said Uncle Ned.

The brand new woman, who surely is here,
May be all right in her self imposed sphere,
But the same old woman who shrieks at a mouse,
Will continue, as ever, the boss of the house.

TO A SWEET MAID.
My dear, if I had eyes like you,
And cheeks so soft and white and clear,
And if such grace were mine, I knew,
I think that I should hold my beauty dear;
I think that I should give sweet thanks to God
For all the loveliness that was mine own;
And try to make each smile or glance or nod.
Each careless word each night some pleasant tone,
A power of good, to banish dreary pain,
And bring glad smiles to drooping lips again.

If I had arms so plump and white
So pliant, dimpled and so good to see,
And form so round, so slenderly up-
-right,
I know it would give great pleasure to me,
And I should try to lift the heavy loads
And bear the burdens of the hearts that go
So sadly trudging over life's sweet roads,
And dream of naught but misery and woe;
And I should strive to always be as gay
As though life's outlook viewed but cloudless day.
For in this pleasant, singing earth,
That laughs in answer to God's smile,
There's nothing gives such endless, happy birth
To joy, nor has such power and thoughts to win,
As the sweet sigh of lovely womanhood,
The wondrous beauty which uncon-
-sciously lies
Half hid, it may be, but all thrilled for good,
Nestled the soft shadows of a maiden's eyes;
And when this charm is found (tis years, my dear),
It seems to bring God's love and heaven near.

Superior Court Clerk E. A. Moye tells us that up to Thursday afternoon 37 of the Magistrates appointed by the late Legislature had qualified. Of these 17 were to fill vacancies and 20 were additional appointees. There are still 28 more who have not yet qualified, but Mr. Moye says that because of errors in the names of 10 of these—4 for vacancies and 6 additional—they cannot qualify, and the Governor will have to make appointments if the places are filled.

Good Meetings.
Rev. Mr. Oliver is growing on our people with each sermon. His sermon last night on the Ten Commandments was one of the strongest discourses to which we have ever listened. His aim is not to press or excite, as a great many preachers, but to get people to think. Those who miss his sermons don't know what they miss, especially his night sermons.

This morning was the best service of all. It was the most comforting sermon yet preached, from the text "God is love." Who could hear such preaching and not be benefited? Hear his sermon to night on the Judgement.

There are many more people in town yet who ought to subscribe to the DAILY REFLECTOR. Come on and let us have your patronage.

Judge W. A. Graham, now holding court at Waynesville, has decided the judgeship contest between Judge Thomas A. Jones and Hon. H. G. Ewart in favor of Judge Jones, holding that the late General Assembly that appointed Ewart had no right to make an appointment. An appeal was made, a final decision will in all probability be made by the Supreme Court some time next week.

There is a mistaken idea, says the reliable and authentic Atohi son Globe, that "culture" means to paint a little, to sing a little, to dance a little, and to quote passages from late popular books. As a matter of fact, culture means nothing of the kind. Culture means mastery over self politeness, charity, fairness, good temper, good conduct. Culture is not a thing to make a display of; it is something to use so modestly that people do not discover all at once that you have it.

The Legislative appointees as directors of the Penitentiary have not succeeded yet in getting a quorum but are waiting in Raleigh until they can get a sufficient number present to elect Capt. Kitchen Superintendent. Meanwhile those appointed by the Governor have qualified and together with the old directors met Wednesday and elected Mr. Leazar Superintendent.

Marion Butler is in the city and through his advice the Treasurer has notified the Banks not to pay any of Mr. Leazar's vouchers. So it seems that they propose to turn out the convicts by not paying any of the running expenses of the institution. However, we are of the opinion that the law will find some way to compel this to be done. Treasurer Worth decides the case before it comes to the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court has recently made a decision of much importance to the firm of Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Company as to the taxes of that firm. The case was decided by Judge Hoke that the taxes should be paid in Philadelphia, as usual, but this decision was reversed by the Supreme Court, so that this tax on $300,000, which has heretofore been given in and taxed in Philadelphia, must be listed and paid at Durham. The State and county taxes on this sum will amount to about $2,500.

LOCAL NOTES AND TOBACCO JOTTINGS.

BY O. L. JOYNER.

There will not be very much tobacco planted this year in April.

It would be a good idea this year to commence cultivating your tobacco and cultivate it rapidly just as soon as the bud begins to turn green after it is transplanted.

Grown up hedge rows along ditch banks and fence lines are not good indications of neat farming nor do they hold the owners in good repute as a model farmer to the passerby.

Four acres of land well manured, well cultivated and properly attended to will turn out more net profit in the end than eight acres half manured and half cultivated.

To be a successful farmer it requires more careful sober thought and the exercise of more superior judgment than any other profession because there are so many things that need attention at the same time and in giving this attention unless serious consideration is given in the most important thing may be neglected at a time when reparation in the future may be impossible, and yet as a profession it is looked upon by many as only fit for those who have failed at everything else in which they have engaged and as a last resort find themselves in the agricultural to degrade and drag down the standard of the most faithful, most useful and most noble employment of man.

Talk and work for the upbuilding of home interests.

TOBACCO FRENCH.

Following is the letter of Mr. F. E. Emery in reply to our letters asking his opinion of tobacco french the causes &c. Every farmer should read it. It will be of service to the old tobacco growers as well as the new ones just beginning.

N. C. AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 17, 1895.

Mr. O. L. Joyner,

DEAR SIR:—Yours received and contents noted. I have had no experience with "frenching" and knew little about it. It is an affection which accompanies a cold, wet season or makes its attack on plants when set on cold, wet and consequently perhaps sour land. It is probably a fungous disease which flourishes under these peculiar conditions and overcomes the plants which are not thriving as they should because they have too little warmth and the soil is too wet for them.

With this supposition in view we would adopt preventive measures in selecting a warm, well drained soil, or drain the field we wished to grow tobacco in. An application of lime would also be indicated to help change the soil, make it more friable and thus assist in freeing it of excessive moisture by promoting drainage.

The disease may have been studied and more known about it than has come under my observation. If any notes relating to this which throw more light on the subject come out in a reasonable time I will try to send you word of it. Yours sincerely,

FRANK E. EMERY.

Some Facts for Business Men.

Constant repetition of the name of an article has no selling power, for after awhile one forgets its virtues—if he ever knew them—and remembers merely that it's all right because it's an old friend.

Bargain advertising has become so thoroughly a part of the regular programme of stores of the very highest standing, it has passed out of the doubtful policy stage and become a good thing all around for newspapers, for store keepers, and for shoppers—as long as it is strictly honest.

A good salesman, backed up by good advertising, can always sell good goods.

The man who advertises, is the one who often rises, To be among the leaders in the desperate race for wealth. With this one stipulation, that he does so with discretion. And he finds it beneficial too to both bank account and health.

To advertise "Money back if wanted" is the very best advertising when such advertising is possible.

The man who is convinced the public ought to buy what he has for sale can make the public think so, too.

The advertisement that may be good to-day may be poor to-morrow. Times change, and ads. should be changed with them.

All the business sense, all the common sense, all the advertising sense that can be condensed into an ad is just what it needs.

There are bad spots in the best ads., the same as there are weeds in the best gardens. You can't cultivate your copy too often.

What you've got to say may have been said by others a million times; the way you say it is what convinces and counts in advertising.

Better too much space and not enough matter than too much matter and not enough space.

To say your goods are "best and cheapest" is not enough, because buyers think they have a right to know why they are best and why cheapest. Wise merchants tell them why.

People are tired of too much reading in these days. Don't let your ad. make them more so. Let it invigorate them with its crisp, bright terseness—like a tonic, to create an appetite for for your goods.—Printers' Ink.

TIME TO RETURN.

Those North Carolinians who separated themselves from the Democratic party last year in the hope of getting something better in legislation than they have heretofore enjoyed, have seen their hopes disappointed. The Legislature which has just adjourned did not fulfil one promise in forty and no honest man can claim that it met the just expectations of those who elected it. Beyond continuing the appropriations heretofore made by the Democratic party for the public institutions, it did nothing that will redound to the general welfare, and many of its enactments are positively harmful, as time will develop. Many of the incidents attending its proceedings were openly and notoriously scandalous.

It must be manifest to every intelligent citizen, in view of everything that has happened at Raleigh since the 1st of January, and in considering the many things that have not, that nothing is to be expected in future of the combination which constituted this Legislature. It is a bad lot. It not only failed to do nearly everything it promised to do, but by what it did it demonstrated that it is not fit to govern North Carolina. The universal cry throughout the State should be, Away with it! Away with it! If a man or party fool you once, it is his or its fault; if he or it fool you twice, it is yours. Surely no stronger argument could be presented to the people of this State to persuade them to turn again to the party which governed so long and so well, than is offered by a review of the proceedings of the Legislature just adjourned.—Statesville Landmark.
