THE WORLD.

The world is good in its own poor way. The world is rest by night and high spirits by day;
Yet the world is not happy, as the world might be—
Why is it? Why is it? O, answer me,
The Cross shines fair, and the church bell rings,
And the earth is peopled with holy things!
Yet the world is not happy, as the world might be—
Why is it? Why is it? O, answer me!
What lackest thou, world? for God made thee of old
Why, thy faith hath gone out and thy love grown cold;
Thou art not happy, as thou mightest be,
For the want of Christ's simplicity.
It is love thou lackest, thou poor old world!
Who shall make thy love hot for thee, frozen old world?
Thou art not happy, as thou mightest be,
For the love of dear Jesus is little in thee.
Poor world! If thou cravest a better day
Remember that Christ must have His own way;
I mourn thou art not as thou mightest be,
But the love of God would do all for thee.
—Frederick William Faber.

IN NORTH CAROLINA.

What is Happening Over the State.

Ex Congressman B. H. Bun has been appointed postmaster at Rocky Mount.

On May 14th, 15th and 16th the annual meeting of the North Carolina Dental Society will be held in Salisbury.

The Christian Citizen, the official organ of the temperance association in North Carolina, will be started in Raleigh next week, as stated in a circular letter received from the editor, Rev. D. H. Tuttle.

Mr. A. J. Kilpatrick, who superintends Mr. Albert Reuntree's plantation, a few miles from Kinston, caught 144 rats in two days and one night recently. He caught them in a wire trap.—Kinston Free Press.

FIRE COMPANY ORGANIZED.

Officers Elected—Only 34 Members
Which is not a Good Showing.

After two previous unsuccessful attempts the Greenville Fire Company was organized Wednesday evening with the following officers:

Foreman—A. J. Griffin
1st Asst.—F. M. Hodges.
2nd Asst.—R. D. Cheery.
Treasurer—W. L. Brown.
Secretary—O. L. Joyner.

The Chief of the fire department has to be appointed by the Town Councilmen at the suggestion of all the fire companies in the town. The name of S. T. Hooker was suggested for that position and a committee of three was appointed to confer with Capt. Ed. Latham of the Hook & Ladder Company. If the two companies agree on Mr. Hooker the two captains will take his name before the Council and request his appointment.

The company adjourned to meet in the Mayor's office Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

A very noticeable feature in organization of this company is the absolute lack of interest manifested by the property owners of the town. Of the thirty-four names that have been enrolled twenty-four are young men who have no property subject to be destroyed by fire. What is more noticeable, the property owners not only do not help to make a good company but take no interest whatever in it. When asked to join and help make the company, they say they have not the time but will help when a fire breaks out. Oh, what an expression! Now to those who own property here, can you expect these men who have nothing at stake to protect your interest when you show plainly that you do not appreciate their help. When by worse than silence you condemn the action of the Councilmen in getting the engine they did, how can you expect any favors or advantages from a fire company?

Nothing that has ever been done has satisfied everybody, and never will until the advent of the millennium, so this writer for one believes in accepting what we have got and make the best of it until we can get something better, which will be very soon if this is a success. There are a few people who can accomplish wonders by talk, and if let alone long enough will talk themselves and everything with which they have anything to do to death.

We sincerely hope to see more interest shown in this much needed organization in Greenville. If our merchants cannot join themselves they certainly can let their clerks help us out. If they cannot do that much they should not hinder the movement by talking it down. We are determined to have a fire organization that will be a credit to the town, so if you cannot be for us do not be against us.

Fire Companies.

What is a fire company? Ans.—A body of men organized to put out fires.

Of what composed? Ans.—A commander, subordinates and privates.

Commanders duties and qualifications? Ans.—To know what, where, when, why and how to command.

Privates duties? Ans.—To obey all orders promptly.

Duties of every member when fire alarm is sounded? Ans.—To go quickly to each one's place—not to go anywhere else.

What must the member do if he is busy when the alarm comes? Ans.—Be a fireman at once—and be nothing else.

When must the member go back to his business? Ans.—When the commander dismisses the company.—Kinston Free Press.

A SHORT CROP.

Advice was pretty freely given the tobacco growers last year to curtail their acreage and do their utmost in the direction of producing better leaf. They met with poor success as a general thing in improving the quality not because they did not try hard enough but for the reason that the weather was against them. The 1894 crop, while an improvement over that of the year previous, was far from a first class one, being deficient more especially in wrappers. Wrappers are becoming very scarce in the market, and if the farmers do not have better luck this summer, the plug manufacturers will be in trouble next season.

In regards to the size of last year's crop, it was undoubtedly short as a whole. All of the leading markets report a falling off in sales as compared with the year before, and although gains have been made by some of the minor markets, their increase of business will by no means offset the decrease at the larger markets. Danville will probably be behind about six or seven million pounds, and Lynchburg, Winston and other cities will show a proportionate loss. The shortage which they show at present will be greater as the season advances, for the biggest proportion by far of the crop has passed out of the planters' hands, and breaks during the summer promise to be light and to cease almost altogether some time before fall. The Eastern North Carolina markets are already resting, and there are indications that the end is close by for the central district of the State. South Carolina got through a month or so ago. Quietness will reign on the Piedmont North Carolina and the Virginia markets before many weeks elapse.

The 1894 crop affords a plenty of good working stock, and the supply of all grades, common and medium in particular and wrappers excepted, is ample to last several years. Again the farmer must direct his energies more towards quality than quantity. Good tobacco will bring him good returns for the labor and investments.

"TOO MUCH GIRLIE."

As maid-of-all-work, the Chinaman has won a fair reputation; but he is undoubtedly wrong on the woman question. A correspondent of Frank Leslie's Monthly tells of her Chinese servant's peculiar conduct when twin girls were born to the household.

Sue Kung had been with us for three years, when twin daughters blessed our home. He came in to look at them, and laid a new coin on their pillows and some tiny cups under the crib, and then asked, "Him girls or she boys?" We said, two girls. His face was a study, and wildly waving his hands, with the gesture of wringing the neck of a fowl, he said:

"Too much girlie; ling him neck in China. Too much girlie cost too muchee; allee time want nice clothes. Too much boys good, 'cause they makee muchee money in the banks."

When he came in the next morning, he said, "Me likee you belly (very) much, but me likee to stay in any place where him gettee two girlies allee same time."

He made us numerous and elegant presents, such as beautifully embroidered mantel draperies and highly colored silk handkerchiefs, and some pretty china trinkets and ornaments for "them too much girlies," and left our employ.

Probably the most remarkable sense of humor ever known was that of a soldier, who laughed uproariously all the time he was being flogged, and when the officer, at the end inquired the cause of his mirth, broke out in a fresh fit of laughter and cried: "Why I'm the wrong man!"

The Massachusetts Legislature has passed a Sunday law that goes a little ahead of the usual statute on that subject. It provides for punishing any one who attends a Sunday performance as well as those participating in the performance

It Was Good Advice.

A writer in the Great Divide says that some years ago, while he was office-boy in a large retail store, a bit of advice was given him that he has always remembered. It was sound advice, at all events, though the giver of it preached better than he practiced.

The establishment was large, and enough ink was used to necessitate the purchasing of a dozen pint bottles every few months. These bottles had accumulated for some time, and as there was scarcely room in the closet for the lot which had just arrived, I was instructed to take the old ones to the waste room. I removed them from the closet, but put them in one of the stock-rooms in the basement until after lunch time came; then I took them to a junk-shop near by, and sold them for two cents apiece, which netted me seventy-two cents. I returned to the office in high spirits but a little doubtful whether the money really belonged to me. All the afternoon I pondered over the question, and finally I referred it to the cashier, who had always been a good friend of mine.

"Well," he said, "no doubt you could have had the bottles had you asked for them; but my advice would be to turn the money over to the firm, as little things of this sort are liable to lead to acts of downright dishonesty."

I turned the money in, therefore, but rather reluctantly, I must admit. But the strange part of the story is yet to come. Not long ago I read of the trial and conviction of this same cashier for embezzlement. His depredations had extended over a number of years, and horrible doubts now enter my head whether the firm ever received that seventy-two cents.

The new revenue and machinery act requires the assessors and list-takers of the various townships to meet on or before the second Monday in May and elect a chairman. This is re-assessment year for the State at large. The chairman of the assessing, list-taking board is also to act as chairman of the equalization board, which meets with the board of commissioners in July.

AN ANTI-MORMON TOMB.

At Ludlow, Vt., there is a curious looking tomb which has been erected by a well-known miller of that place. It is in the exact shape of a millstone and stands on four granite supports designed especially for that purpose. The owner, who expects to be buried in it sooner or later, is so proud of his monument that he exhibits an exact model of it every year at the county fair.

HE WAS A SLEEP-WALKER.

But the Reform Policeman Run Him
 in just the Same.

St. Louis has the prize Dog-berry of the nineteenth century.
 This blue-coated and brass-buttoned custodian of the law overhauled a sleep-walker the other night, who was promenading the sidewalk in the uniform not exactly appropriate to this season of the year. He was dressed in his night robes only.

The officer arrested him, aroused him from his slumber, and escorted him to his home, made him dress and then took him down to the station house to lock him up.

"Surely you are not going to lock me up?" exclaimed the sleep-walker.

"Of course I am," said the officer.

"Why, I can't be held responsible for the predicament you found me in, I am a somnambulist."

"I don't give a curse what church you are a member of,"
 said the officer, according to a correspondent of the Memphis Commercial Appeal. "You can't walk the streets of St. Louis in your night gown if you belong to all the churches in the city."

How Tides Predict Storms.

Fresh interest has recently been developed in the fact that West Indian hurricanes, and other great storms at sea, frequently produce a remarkable effect upon the tides along neighboring coasts.

When a tempest is approaching, or passing out on the ocean,
 the tides are noticeably higher than usual, as if the water had been driven in a vast wave before the storm. The influence extends to a great distance from the cy-clonic storm centre, so that the possibility exists of foretelling
 the approach of a dangerous hurricane by means of indications furnished by tide gauges situated far away from the place then occupied by the whirling winds.

In fact that the tidal wave out-strips the advancing storm shows how extremely sensitive the surface of the sea is to the changes of pressure brought to bear upon it by the never-resting atmosphere.

himself to our people as few men have ever done. All denominations have been hearing him with the greatest delight, and he is loved by all. We are heartily sorry that he is compelled to leave church seems to be developing.

Can we not prevail on him to stay
