LOCAL NOTES AND TOBACCO JOTTINGS.

BY O. L. JOYNER.

Mr. B. F. Sugg, who has just returned from a trip to Greene county says the farmers over there are perfectly satisfied with their tobacco crop prospects.

The excessive warm weather of the past few days has changed the condition of crops more rapidly than we have ever seen before. Tobacco that a week ago could not be seen from the road is now looking green and fresh and thoroughly healthy.

Mr. P. H. Gorman after finishing up his work here left Tuesday morning for Richmond. He will spend some time there and will then visit several of the most important tobacco markets in North Carolina and Virginia and return here in time for the opening of this market, August 1st. We venture the assertion that Pat will be as thoroughly acquainted with the crop prospects when he returns as any of the older leaf men in the country. Through only a genial, jolly boy he is one of the shrewdest business men in the trade. In the firm of J. N. Gorman & Co. Greenville is fortunate in permanently establishing them here.

Contractor Jones commenced work yesterday on Mr. Hooker's prize houses. He showed us the plan of the inside floors from which we judge they are to be substantial buildings.

WHEN THE NOTE FALLS DUE.

You may say that life is trouble
When the clouds are in the blue;
But a fellow finds it double
When the

Note
Falls
Due!

Sorrow's nothing but a bubble
That will vanish from the view;
But it's trouble, trouble, trouble,
When the

Note
Falls
Due!

And the corn—it goes to stubble,
And the rose—it withers, too;
And it's trouble, trouble, trouble,
When the

Note
Falls
Due!

Go it single file, or double,
There'll be work enough for you
In a living world of trouble,
When the

Note
Falls
Due!

GIVE US THE SCHEDULE.

What Say the Railroad Authorities?

While talking on the subject of a connection at Kinston between this branch of the Wilmington & Weldon road and the Atlantic road, we drop this suggestion to the Coast Line authorities in the form of an inquiry. Could not they arrange to let their passenger train on Saturdays run on through to Morehead City after arrival at Kinston, returning Monday morning in time for the regular trip from Kinston, and then have their freight train on Wednesday's to make close connection with the passenger trains on the Atlantic road? This would give an opportunity of two trips a week to Morehead and be a great convenience to people along the line if this branch, also people on the Norfolk & Carolina road could take advantage of the Saturday trains for spending Sunday at Morehead. We believe such a schedule on Saturday and Wednesday could be effected with very little if any extra expense the railroad, and the increased travel from Scotland Neck, Tarboro and Greenville alone would amply repay them, to say nothing of other points to which it would also be a great convenience.

Have Your Eyes Examined.

Prof. P. D. Mahoney, specialist in lenses for the eye, is at the Ricks House for one week, where examinations for all forms of defective sight will be thoroughly and scientifically made.

If your sight, either distant or near, is imperfect; if your eyes water or burn after reading, sewing or any other kind of work, if your vision is blurred when looking at an object fifteen feet or more away; if after prolonged use of your eyes they feel strained and your head aches, you certainly require glasses, and should not for a day neglect their use.

If your defective sight can be improved by glasses, the proper one will be selected for you; if on the other hand the defect depends upon disease or such abnormal condition of the eye that glasses will not help, you will be frankly so informed and so saved a useless expense.

I guarantee every pair of glasses ordered to be satisfactory, and expect to win your confidence by the skillful and accurate manner in which they give you improved and comfortable vision. All examinations free.

EVERY AFTERNOON (EXCEPT SUNDAY)

The Democratic Convention at Springfield, Illinois which met this morning will adopt a platform favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. The fight has been a bitter one but the silver men won. Kansas and Missouri are to follow with conventions and they will also add to the momentum the silver movement is now receiving. The final triumph of silver as money seems now to be indicated.

The Governor of the State of North Carolina and the Mayor of the city of Raleigh came very near having a clash between State and municipal authority on Monday. It grew out of poles being put up on the sidewalk of the Governor's Mansion which is the State's property. The committee which has in charge the public grounds of the State some months ago authorized the Governor to have the poles cut down, he had delayed doing this because Mr. Glass, who had them put up promised to have them removed, but instead of doing this he commenced some days ago to have others put up. On Saturday he told the Governor he would have them removed by 9 o'clock Monday morning. When Monday morning came he sent the Governor word that he would not remove them. The Governor sent out two men to cut them down when two policemen appeared on the scene and said they were ordered by the Mayor to arrest any man who interfered with the telephone poles. Several letters passed between the Governor and Mayor and Attorney General Osborne has been summoned from Charlotte to give an opinion concerning the right of the Governor to protect the property. It will be regretted should there be any further trouble between these officials.

JUST FOR FUN.

She—"Just think, Cousin Fritz while coming home from the club last night fell into the water."

He—"Great Heavens! I hope he didn't drown."

She—"He couldn't drown. He was so full he couldn't swallow any water."

"Rivers," said Banks, "turn round and let me see how it fits you. Yes, it's a pretty fair sort of overcoat. I hope it's paid for."

"Banks," responded Rivers with dignity, "the difference between you and my tailor is that he hopes it will be paid for."

Man of the House (in a loud and angry voice)—"Confound it! Shut that door, d'you hear?"

Servant (appearing with dignity)—"Do you know who you're hollerin' at?"

Man of the House (collapsed)—"Oh, excuse me, Mary! I thought it was my wife!"

Queen Bee—"How does it happen, you are not working with the swarm?"

Common Bee—"I want to quit and go out of business, your majesty. We are the only manufacturers left that don't turn out either snide or adulterated goods, and I'm tired of bucking against the whole earth."

A Motto by Frances Joseph

A German authoress who is collecting autographs for an album for girls and has valuable contributions by the Emperor William I and Frederick has obtained the following motto from the Emperor Francis Joseph, who is not known to have given such autographs before:

It is written in a clear bold hand and runs thus: "Take your duties seriously and require the same of others but be lenient toward the failings of your neighbor. Franz Josef."—London News.

The total Indian population of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, is 248,263, and the expense of maintaining these "wards of the nation" about $7,000,000 per year. It is hardly necessary to say that the money thus used is practically thrown away so far as the interests of civilization are concerned.

A Bit of Book Gossip.

Here is a little bit of book gossip. Three years ago Dodd, Mead & Co., purchased at auction, in Boston, a very rare copy of Poe's "Tamerlaine," about forty pages in paper covers, for which they paid $1,850. They sold it for a good profit for $2,500 within six months to a Mr. Maxwell, a New York book collector, who sent it to Paris and had it bound in a most sumptuous manner by Lortie Fils at an expense of about $300. A few weeks ago the owner's collection was put up for sale in Boston and Dodd, Mead & Co., bought the book back again for $1,450, $400 less than they paid for it three years ago.

The Rockingham Rocket says that last Saturday a colored woman in Wolf Pit township, Richmond county, got her baby to sleep, laid it on the bed, and left the house, leaving two children, aged three and five years, playing about the yard. Soon after she left, the two children—one her own and the other a neighbor's—got upon the bed with the baby and beat, bit and pinched it to death, no grown person being near enough to hear its cries and go to the rescue. When the mother and neighbors had found the baby dead, dressed and laid it out, the two little savages who had killed it made repeated efforts to get at the body and further mutilate it, and had finally to be carried from the house.

Proof Positive.

Much has been written in ridicule of the wild answers given from the witness-stand, where all connected thought seems to escape some people. But strictly to the point was the evidence of a woman in Maine who was striving to prove an alibi for a boy in a horse-stealing case.

A witness testified that he had seen the boy at the village on that day, when the woman sprang from her seat, and cried:

"He wa'n't out, nuther! His pants was hangin' on the clo'es line all day!"

The Bicycle Path.

A bill has been introduced in the New York legislature to provide for bicycle paths, which meets the approval of the leading papers. The World says:

"The revolution in means of locomotion has already taken place. It is not a question of the future. It is of the past. Bicycles are used by thousands now where they were by the hundred five years ago. People of all ages, sexes and conditions ride them. The time will come when on both sides of every new street a bicycle path will be as much a matter of course as the sidewalks."

"It ought to come soon. To make it come the sooner New York ought to set the outside world a good example by putting down the best bicycle track in the world. And that it may be the best it must be in the best place."

Undoubtedly there has been a steadily increasing interest in bicycle riding in Wilmington, and it would be well in the construction of new roads if our authorities would consider the importance of providing a path for this kind of locomotion.—Wilmington Star.

How to Rest the Eyes.

A medical journal says that in the continued use of the eyes, in such work as sewing, typesetting, bookkeeping, reading and studying, the saving point is looking up from the work at short intervals and looking around the room. This may be practiced every 10 or 15 minutes. This relieves the muscular blood supply much better.

The Michigan Legislature has passed an anti-treating law. When it gets it enforced it will please let the remainder of the world know it, and then if the remainder of the world has any sense it will adopt it and we shall soon have an end to about half the drinking that goes on. Drinking together is regarded as the highest evidence of sociability among men and if it were stopped it is safe to say that the consumption of liquor would fall off at least one-half. How to stop it, is the question. Laws won't do it.—Charlotte Observer.

Dreamed Where It Was.

Capt. Jim Williams tells a good one on Contractor H. G. Jones. Sunday night Mr. Jones dreamed some one had stolen his adze and that he found it up a chimney in one of the buildings he was putting up. Coming down to his work next morning, sure enough the adze was missing. Remembering his dream he went to a chimney and looked up, but found nothing. Curiosity impelled him to try again, and going to another chimney he found the adze pushed up the flue.
