It Is So.

The most miserable man alive is the one who lives in constant fear of death, and the one next to him is the poor fellow who opposes every public enterprise lest his tax may be increased a nickle or two and himself finally sent to the poor farm.

When a man has so much property that his tax becomes a burden, the wonder is that he does not get rid of some of it. Strange as it may seem, the poorest man in the land, who pays his tax, pays much more in proportion to what he has than a rich man.—Durham Sun.

No one has any more right to go about unhappy than he has to go about ill bred. He owes it to himself, to his friends, to society and the community in general to live up to his best spiritual possibilities, not only now and then, once or twice a year, or once in a season, but every day and every hour.—Lilian Whiting.

Keep in Practice.

A young man in town made some lemonade not long since and treated a couple of young ladies. He received the following note of thanks:

“Mr. ————:

We enjoyed your elegant treat more than words can express. We are sure you have excelled Doughi himself on the lemonade question, only keep in practice.”

Help Each Other.

The people of the town are entitled to the support of each other. We are all dependent upon one another to a greater or less extent, and that town is prosperous and the people happy in which the inhabitants stand together for their town and for each other. Experience teaches that those who trade with peddlers and foreigners get beat, and those who are really interested in their town are wise and deal only with home people.

Our Townsman in Tennessee.

Ex-Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis delivered the annual address before the University of Tennessee at Knoxville on Tuesday. We have seen copies of Knoxville papers that spoke in highest terms of our honored townsman and congratulated the authorities of the University upon selecting him as speaker for the occasion. The Tribune published the address in full and said editorially, “It is full of wholesome truths, worthy sentiment and sound advice which is worth the consideration of every citizen.”

In speaking of the presence of Ex Gov. Jarvis in Knoxville, the Journal, which, by the way, is a Republican paper, says: “For a few days Knoxville will have among her visitors one of the most public-spirited of the public men of North Carolina in the person of Hon. Thos. J. Jarvis, ex-Governor and ex-United States senator. He is a man of ability and one whom the people of his state delight to honor. Moreover, he is one in honoring whom his people honor themselves.”

FRANK WILSON,
THE KING CLOTHIER.

Miss Bessie Jarvis gave a delightful entertainment at the home of her mother, on Friday evening, complimentary to Misses Mattie Russell, of Washington, and May Harris, of Falkland, who are visiting her. A large number of the young people of the town were present and the occasion was in every way a great success.

James R. Holland, ex-cashier of the Merchants' and Farmers' National Bank, of Charlotte, was arraigned in the Federal Court in that city, Thursday, and submitted to an indictment of embezzlement. He was sentenced to seven years in the Albany penitentiary. Holland got away with $90,000 of the bank's funds.

Had you ever thought what a blessing Saturday evening is! All the work of the week finished up and put aside that you may enter upon the Sabbath day, and fully enjoy its rest. Show your appreciation of the Sabbath by attending worship and properly observing the day.

Mr. A. N. Daniel, a well known citizen of Wilson, died on Thursday.

The rains have muddied the river, much to the regret of the hook and line fishermen.

Wilmington has guaranteed the subscription and secures the State Fruit Fair this year.

Up to to-day Register of Deeds King had not issued but one marriage license since June came in. The advance in price and hot weather combined seem to have broken up the Register's trade in the marriage license department.

At Durham some negroes applied to the manager of the Opera House for reserved seats among the white people on the lower floor of the hall to hear Blind Tom. They were refused the seats and immediately issued a big circular headed "Negroes Refused Recognition." That is a pretty dowdy-do. Negroes who act in such a manner need expect no one to have any respect for them, and really, they have none for themselves.

The Convention in Memphis is still in session and they are having some plain talking. At one time a cloud seemed to be gathering over the Convention caused by some utterances of some bolting Democrats who wanted to abolish party lines. At once the sentiment was denounced and had it not been put in the back ground the Democrats in the Convention would have left in disgust. Nearly all the speakers expressed the sentiment that free silver must come through the Democratic party and through no other.

Mr. S. L. Patterson, of Caldwell county, has been elected Commissioner of Agriculture in place of Mr. Robinson resigned. He is a practical farmer. The other officers of the Board were retained. These are all Democrats. The men who were elected by the Legislature as members of the Board of Agriculture did not contest for the places as the Courts had decided that the Legislature could not elect with less than a quorum.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 14, 1895.

No member of the Cabinet ever made a more favorable impression upon his first appearance in Washington than Attorney General Harmon has. Every one who has had the pleasure of talking with him has been at once struck by his agreeable manner, quick grasp of subjects discussed and general broadmindedness. If he doesn't make a model Attorney General those who have met him will be greatly surprised, particularly the newspaper men, who quickly size a public man up, and express their opinions of him to each other, if they do not always send them to their papers. Before buckling down to the business of the Department of Justice, Judge Harmon will return to Cincinnati for a few days to put his private business in order. The financial opinion expressed by him is sound enough to be adopted by every good Democrat. Said he: "I want the American dollar to be just as good as anybody else's dollar, and, with that qualification, I don't care what it is made of."

According to Hon. E. W. Durant, a Democratic State Senator of Minnesota, now visiting Washington, the party that comes out the strongest for sound money is the party that will elect the next President. Discussing the subject he said: "Sound money will be the slogan in 1896. If the Republicans should nominate a candidate on a free silver platform to be followed later by the Democrats with a sound money platform and candidate, the latter would win overwhelmingly, and vice versa. I am a Democrat, and yet I would vote the opposition ticket if our party were to declare for free coinage. Thousands of Republicans would vote against the nominee of their party were he to stand as a champion of silver. If Mr. Cleveland were to run again he would get Republican votes by the thousands, for the people have tried him and know where he stands. This is purely a business proposition, and the business men of the country are going to look after it, without regard to political affiliation."

The Georgia delegation which visited Washington for the purpose of inviting President Cleveland and the cabinet to attend the Atlanta Exposition returned home in a very good humor. President Cleveland and every member of the cabinet who was in Washington accepted the invitation and will visit the exposition during the latter part of October, unless important public business shall prevent. President Cleveland complimented the Georgians very highly on the energy they have displayed in working for the success of the exposition.

Secretary Olney's first move as Secretary of State was an important one. He believes that the United States should do just as it would insist that other countries should do under similar circumstances. Therefore on account of representations made by the Spanish minister he ordered the Cruiser Raleigh to proceed to Florida waters and to remain there until further orders for the purpose of preventing filibustering parties going over to Cuba. It is altogether probable that Secretary Olney, like most other Americans, sympathizes with the attempt of the Cuban revolutionists to throw off the yoke of Spain, but his personal sympathies have nothing to do with his official duties. The United States is at peace with Spain and it is the duty of its government to exercise all due diligence to prevent the departure of armed bodies of men from its ports to make war upon Spain; hence the President's proclamation.

President Cleveland has cleared his desk and will, probably before this letter is printed, join his wife and children at Gray Gables where he will spend the the hot weather. He will be in telegraphic communication with Washington and will attend to all public business requiring his personal attention, just the same as if he remained at the White House.

Editor Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, is one of the foremost men in the State, but when he can't get up a racket in the Democratic party there's no use of anybody else trying. He enjoys it though, no doubt. He has even now so far advanced in "having his fun" that he actually believes that if a man sticks to the life-long Democratic doctrine of silver money, he is about to turn Populist. We are sorry to see the breeziest daily in the State thus working for Butler's and Pritchard's party—Wilkesboro Chronicle.
