GREENVILLE'S BIG DAY.

Great Crowd Here to Enjoy the 4th.

THE RACES WERE FINE.

George D., John G. and Little Steve First Winners.

A GRAND, BRILLIANT GERMAN.

Twenty-six Couples Participate—A Scene of Gallantry and Beauty.

Boom! went the signal gun, jump! went the people.

When somebody touched off a cannon early on the morning of the 4th it acted as a regular eye-opener and warned all that the glorious anniversary of our National Liberty was here. The sound echoed through the surrounding country and told our friends and neighbors that Greenville was awake, and immediately they came pouring into town in great numbers. They came from everywhere—big folks, little folks; old folks, young folks; pretty folks, ugly folks; white folks, black folks—everybody.

Some a walking, some a riding, Some a running, some a gliding, Some rode single, some rode double. All bent on pleasure, but none on trouble.

The crowd was just immense, away up in the thousands.

Of course the races were the chief attraction of the day and were all the talk as the crowd swelled larger and larger through the morning. The DAILY REFLECTOR with the full programme was much in demand and went off like hot peanuts.

"Ten cents to the race track!" was the cry on every hand, and long before the hour for the races people were piling in the hacks and going out. Nearly all the white people went out to the track while the colored brother gloriously celebrated the day by walking around town arm in arm with his sweetheart, eating streaked candy, drinking red lemonade, popping roast peanuts and looking longingly at that pile of Georgia watermelons before the Old Brick Store. It was a big day for all, white and colored.

THE RACES.

The crowd that gathered at the track to witness the races was estimated between 1,500 and 2,000, and was well behaved and orderly except some of them would push out too far on the track at times. The racing started at 1:30 and continued until 5:30, giving the spectators an afternoon of rare amusement. The trials of speed were fine, good judges saying they never saw better. Every horse had a train of admirers and the "rooters" shouted themselves hoarse in proportion to the success of their favorite.

The following tells just how the races occurred and the winners:

JUDGES.—F. G. James, Heber L. Coward and L. C. Latham.

STARTER.—William Harris.

TIME-KEEPER.—S. T. Hooker.

FIRST RACE—3 OUT OF 5.

The following entered:—George D.—B. W. Edwards. Rectford.—W. B. Burnett. Maud.—Jason Joyner. Boston.—G. Hinson.

In the first heat the horses came in as follows:—George D., Rectford, Maud, Boston.

2nd Heat.—Maud, George D., Boston, Rectford.

3rd Heat.—George D., Rectford, Maud, Boston.

4th Heat.—George D., Rectford, Boston, Maud.

Winners—George D. 1st, Maud 2nd, Rectford 3rd.

SECOND RACE—3 OUT OF 5.

The following entered:—John G.—B. W. Edwards. Simon P.—Joseph Parker. Dictate.—A. J. Baker. Palizada.—N. H. Whitfield.

1st Heat.—John G., Dictate, Palizada, Simon P.

2nd Heat.—John G., Dictate, Palizada, Simon P.

3rd Heat.—John G., Dictate, Palizada, Simon P.

3rd Heat.—John G., Dictate, Palizada, Simon P.

THIRD RACE—OPEN TO ALL—2 OUT OF 3.

The following entered:—Henry W. Beecher.—W. W. Revis. Rush Miller.—G. J. Studdart. Little Steve.—Wm. Ellis. Limber Jim.—D. S. Simmons.

1st Heat.—Little Steve, Rush Miller, Limber Jim, Henry W. Beecher.

SACRIFICE SALE!

Cutting and Slashing prices to make room for my incoming fall goods this week. My entire stock is thrown open to the public and you just name the price and we will suit you. Low prices on goods but the quality remains the same. Come and see

FRANK WILSON THE KING CLOTHIER.

2nd Heat.—Little Steve. Rush Miller, Limber Jim. Henry W. Beecher became lame and was withdrawn at this heat.

BICYCLE RACE—MILE DASH.

The following entered:—Walter Mewberne, Claude Chapman, Gus Hardee. Walter Mewberne won in 3.02, Gus Hardee second.

FOOT RACE—HALF MILE DASH.

The next thing was a foot race between boys under 14 years for a purse of $1.00 for first and 50 cents for second. There were twelve entries and was won by Jimmie Anderson first Charlie Skinner second. Rommy Higgs came in last and was awarded five cents for making the whole distance.

The crowd came in from the track in fine spirits and well pleased with the races. The Pleasure Club have cause for congratulation upon the success of the occasion and the excellent manner in which everything was conducted.

THE GERMAN.

The festivities of the day closed in the most brilliant German Greenville has ever known. Twenty-six couples participated, and such a picture of beauty is seldom seen. The floor of the Greenville Warehouse, in which the German was held, had been polished to the smoothness glass and everything placed splendid keeping for such event. Such a transformation did the old house proud—"wrappers" giving place to exquisite toilets of many charming fair ones; glances from eyes "mahogany," blue and hazel they were "cutters" indeed to galle "by-bidders" and "pin hooker" the "checks" never being drawn on the "figures" until Prof. Girard Ballezza's orchestra had "cried" the last "note" on his and violin. Entrancing music lovely women, gallant men! "sand lugs" and "green tips" had no place on the "sale" at as the following list shows:

Leaders—Miss Blanche Thornton, Fayetteville with W. B. James.

Miss Becca Weathington, of Farmville with P. S. B. Harper, of Greene county.

Miss Hennie Sheppard with Walter Mitchell, of Kinston.

Miss Ada Tyson, of Farmville, with J. W. Percies, of Falkland.

EVERY AFTERNOON (EXCEPT SUNDAY)

Kind to Our Guests.

A city alderman told us that in a certain city recently visited by a circus the authorities refused to demand the entire tax levied upon such impositions, and could not absolutely testify whether it was because it rained that day or whether it was because said authorities, whose sworn duty it was to collect the backsheesh, had received free tickets to see the thing. Had we not better throw the mantle of charity over the whole affair and say it was because of the great consideration our officials entertain for their visitors.

If these peripatetic monstrosities are going over the country because of their desire to benefit the country they should be considered, but if they are trying to scoop up every possible dollar by circuses, side-shows, pick pockets, gambling and other baser means, and leave a putrid trail of corrupting influences behind them to be mopped up by the pure and good, they should be made to pay the money down if they come at all. There is a false view of these shows entertained by the towns anyway. It is thought by many that they bring people who spend cash, and thus help trade, but we have studied the question for years, and are forced to the conclusion that they hurt rather than help. Sooner or later the money all finds its way to town, and when kept and wisely invested by the supporters of the town, the back country makes a bulwark to the town far more than transient disbursement with no more to follow.—Greensboro Advocate.

The Raleigh News and Observer gives figures to show that the deficit in the State Treasury at the end of 1896 will be $275,000.

The weather is so hot down in Georgia that the newspapers say they can cook tough beef steak in the sun and boil eggs by moonlight.

The dude were obliterated from the face of the earth—and

The offensive partisan were not so rampant—and

We could discover that a man may be good even before he dies—and

Society were not a matrimonial mart—and

The objectionable features could be eliminated from the waltz—and

Decent citizens would go to the primaries once in a while—and

Porterhouse steak were not so high—and Rich men would not lie to the assessor—and

The peanut fiend were excluded from theatre galleries—and

The collection box were not always associated with religion—and

Sensationalism were not considered news by the daily papers—and

People would throw care to the wind and read the humorist—and

The suicide would not seek the nicest room in a hotel wherein to die—and

The pies "like mother used to make" were more numerous—and

The bad speller were not so anxious to write letters—and

Girls who go to cooking schools were not too tired to help mother get the dinner when they come home—and

The word "genial" were not used so much—and

A few other things arranged.—

This world would not be a bad place to live in.

Off and On.

Lawyers often meet their match in a witness of quick wit, whose repartee not only by the spectators, but sometimes by the inquisitor himself. In Harper's Magazine for April this instance is given:

A lawyer noted for his success in cross-examination found his match in a recent trial, when he asked a long suffering witness how long he had worked at his business of tin-roofing. The answer was: "I have worked at it off and on, but have worked at it steady for the past twelve years."

"How long off and on have you worked at it?"

"Sixty-five years."
"How old are you?"
"Sixty-five."
"Then you have been a tin-roofer from birth?"

"No, sir, of course I haven't."
"Then why do you say that you have worked at your trade sixty-five years?"

"Because you asked how long off and on I had worked at it. I have worked at it off and on sixty five years—twenty years on and forty-five off."

There was a roar in the courtroom, but not at the expense of the witness, and his inquisitor hurriedly finished his examination in great confusion.

English Shoes.

The remark that Americans, while in England, often send home to buy shoes, because the English shoes are of such poor quality, called out from one American present this story:

An American in England, who had bought a pair of shoes of a fashionable dealer, carried them back soon with a protest.

"Look here!" he said, "I've had these shoes only two weeks, and they are completely out of shape, and the leather is giving way in two places."

The Englishman looked at the shoes an instant.

"Dear me! dear me!" he said, "you've been walking in these shoes!"

"Walking in them? What else should I do with them?"

"That's it sir! Our shoes are made only for carriage people, sir!"

And the dealer loftily bowed the American out of the shop.

Monopoly.

Some people think they have a monopoly upon this or that, a right which is criminal to dispute, and as soon as they are convinced that you are succeeding at once set about to break up your plans. You have committed the unpardonable sin. They never think to meet your competition with honest effort, with a desire to please the general public and thus win their confidence, and thus be a successful rival, but they at once start to crush you out because they have more capital by reducing prices to an extent, to meet, you are obliged to do business at a loss. They may succeed, but experience teaches when it does the public pay dear for it in the end.—Washington Messenger.

H. Barnich, the leading dry goods merchant of Charlotte has made an assignment.

HAND-SHAKING.

Origin of the Custom in the Barbaric Days of Yore.

When the iron glove might mean mischief it was a sign of peace to uncover the hand in greeting.

That is how the custom, which is so fast falling into neglect, or taking off the glove to shake hands arose, and that is why gloves have always to be removed on presentation to the queen at court.

But though the glove was removed, there was still, in the rough old days, some fear of treachery, and that is why we shake hands at all, for when men met they surrendered to the grasp of the other the right and weapon-wielding hand.

Had it been possible for President Carnot, says Herbert Maxwell, to insist upon mutual surrender of right hands, the attack upon him would have assuredly miscarried.

GREATER THAN THE MISSISSIPPI

Canadian Geologists Tell of an Enormous Preglacial River.

The largest river of any age of which there is any evidence in the world, according to a remarkable geological discovery reported to the Royal society of Canada at its late meeting at Ottawa, was a great preglacial river in northern Canada, says a dispatch to the New York Sun. Dr. Robert Bell, who produced scientific evidence of the correctness of his discovery, pointed out that it was generally admitted by geologists that the continent of North America immediately before the glacial period stood at a much higher elevation than at the present time, amounting to, perhaps, between two and three thousand feet. The inevitable result of this must have been to change the river systems from what they now are, and to create in the north a gigantic river draining an area of over one-third of the entire continent of North America, and forming a drainage basin seven times as large as that of the St. Lawrence.

The central portion of the great river was the middle of what is now Hudson bay, as proved by the existing depressions of land in the north of Canada and the great depth of the center of Hudson bay. Its lower part discharged through what is now Hudson straits into Davis straits. It is also maintained that the upper half of the St. Lawrence basin, both in preglacial times and also at a later geological period, discharged its waters northward by way of what is now Hudson bay. It is asserted that this constituted one of the main branches of this great northern river. Other large branches were the present Saskatchewan, the Nelson river, which rises west of the Rocky mountains, the Churchill, largely augmented by the reversal of some of the upper rivers of the Mackenzie basin, and the great tributary streams that came down the present Churchill inlet, Fox channel and Ungava bay, any one of which must have fully equaled in size the Mississippi of our own day.

Something Better.

Mrs. Soakleigh (sternly) — Will you kindly explain to me, sir, how you can come home in such a condition?

Mr. Soakleigh—It ish n't neshary. One demonshtation 'sh worth dozen exshel'nationsh. I'm here.

Breakfast First.

It is not a good plan to do much of anything in the morning before eating breakfast, or at any rate drinking a cup of coffee. One is not in condition to work without detriment to the general health, and not long ago a doctor advised a friend not even to read before eating her first meal; he said that it was bad for the eyes.—Philadelphia Press.

A Frog Fight.

Messrs. W. G. Carson and J. H. Eubanks, of Bethel, told us that while they were coming to Greenville on the 4th they saw a "scrap" that was not down on the regular programme for the day. Nearing a pond along the road they noticed a great commotion in the water, and getting closer the cause was found to be two big bull frogs engaged in a fight. The frogs were up on their hind legs, had each other by the lip and with their fore legs were pummeling each other in regular Corbett-Sullivan style. There were not any seconds to call time, so first one frog and then the other would bellow as he got worsted.
