LOCAL NOTES AND TOBACCO JOTTINGS

BY O. L. JOYNER.

The Tobacco Grower's Association meets next Saturday.

We hear that quite a number of farmers are curing tobacco this week.

There are a good many up-country tobacco curers coming down this season.

How about prices this season, is a frequent question nowadays. No one can tell just what any particular grade of tobacco is going to sell for. We can only draw conclusions from experience, and if we are to be governed by the past, it stands to reason that the better grades of tobacco will sell at good prices. While the markets of the world are now full of nondescript stuff and as a matter of course such grades of tobacco will necessarily remain low with but little demand for them.

Several more buyers are expected to locate in Greenville the coming year. We have had numbers of letters of inquiry from several large dealers in reference to the crop outlook, and the probability of getting prize houses here. The market will be in a better position this year to offer inducement to buyers to come here than ever before. We have more prize houses, more ware houses and we are going to offer them more tobacco than ever before.

Capt. Pace tells us that he has just returned from an extended trip to Martin and Hertford counties. Over there he says the farmers are just beginning to grow tobacco, but that there are several good crops. We don't know anything about the nature of the soil of Hertford county, but if it is adapted to tobacco and will mature it all right, we see no reason why tobacco should not be made as profitable there as anywhere else.

TOPPING TOBACCO.

Tobacco is a plant whose growth must be checked in early summer, or it will put on too much leaf. This is what is known as topping. When a bud appears in the top of the plant that indicates that the plant is getting ready to seed, and at this stage the plant should be topped. This is usually done by going through the field and pinching off the top of the plant. The number of leaves which should be allowed to mature on each stalk depends very much upon the quality of the land and the amount of fertilizer used. If the land is quite strong or the fertilizing heavy, the plant may be topped at from 9 to 10 or even 12 leaves. If the land is poor and the fertilizing light, let the topping range from 5 to 10 leaves. The hand who does the topping has to judge of each plant how many leaves should be allowed to remain on the stalk and ripen. A little practice, however, soon makes this an easy part of the work.

That is Our Aim.

"You are certainly showing much enterprise and doing excellent work for Greenville, for which you are entitled to a great deal of credit," remarked an observing gentleman to the REFLECTOR. That is exactly what we are here for. The REFLECTOR belongs to Greenville and we don't feel that we can do too much for the town.

For the best Cigar in town go to J. L. Starkey & Co.

Bethel Items.

BETHEL, N. C., July 8th, 1895.—Prof. B. F. Hassell spent last Saturday in town.

The crops in this section have greatly improved the last two weeks.

Mr. S. A. Gainer our clever and efficient Postmaster was a happy man last week, it's a girl.

With the exception of a little jolification by the little folks the 4th of July passed off very quietly here.

Rev. E. J. Edwards filled his monthly appointments in the Baptist church Sunday morning. There were no services at night. He returned home Sunday evening on account of sickness in his family.

While we regret to see Prof. McWhorter leave, we are glad to know that Bethel will still have a high school, Prof. B. F. Hassell will open school here about the first of September. He comes highly recommended as a teacher. He is a graduate of Wake Forest College. We hope he will have a good school.

John Miller, Jr., has been elected cashier of the Charlotte bank to succeed the defaulter Holland, who has been sent to the Albany penitentiary.

Governor Carr has authorized an exchange of courts between Judge Hoke and Judge Roberson on account of the fact that Judge Hoke is lying in bed at his home in Lincolnton with a broken arm.

The trial of Shemwell at Lexington continues from day to day. The State is endeavoring to show that Shemwell deliberately and with malice aforethought came up behind Dr. Payne and shot him. The defence will endeavor to show that it was plainly in self defence and that the Paynes had conspired together to kill Shemwell. The case will be a long one and is hotly contested on both sides.

There were 6,657 commercial failures in the first half of 1895, against 7,039 in the first half of 1894, and 6,401 in the first half of 1893. These commercial failures involved liabilities of $88,839,944 this year, against $101,789,306 last year, and $168,064,444 in 1893. The details show a decrease in every class of failures in the second, compared with the first quarter of 1895 both in the number and magnitude, the defaulting liabilities averaging $34, against $40 for every firm in business and $3.04 for every $1,000 solvent payments.

There were 197 failures reported throughout the United States last week, as compared with 215 the previous week, 164 in the first week of July 1894; 319 in 1893 and 152 in the like week of 1892.

A SURE WAY TO SUCCESS.

The way to make your town a blessing to yourself and every one else and the finest and most interesting place to live is to push it, talk it up, write it up, help improve it, beautify its manufactured products, speak well of its enterprising men, and if you can't say something good, say nothing. If you have the means invest in something; employ somebody, be a hustler. Be sure and be courteous to all visitors so that they may leave our town with a good impression. Always be ready to encourage and support new industries and you will be rewarded by a prosperous and go ahead town. Extend a hearty welcome and encourage all who contemplate locating among you as it takes people to make a town. Never fail to have a good word to say for the man who puts up the most buildings in your town or comes down with the largest amount of cash to help along a business boom or a big day, which is always a blessing to our business men. Above all don't kick about any necessary improvements because it doesn't happen to benefit you as much or more than it does anybody else. Let the good of the town be your highest consideration and you will always be liked and honored by the whole community and your name will never die, but live long after you are dead and gone.

When a man or firm has to curtail expenses the first thing he jumps on is the town newspaper—the organ that devotes its time and energies to the upbuilding of the town in which it is published. But when it comes to economizing they forget the free advertising it does for said town, and the local paper gets it where the chicken got the axe—in the neck. Every business should be represented in the local paper, if only by a two or three inch advertisement.—Durham Sun.

A lady teacher in one of the public schools, in trying to explain the meaning of the word "slowly," illustrated it by walking across the floor. Then she asked the class to tell her how she walked. She nearly fainted when a boy at the foot of the class shouted, "Bow-legged, ma'am."

New Telephone Line.

A new telephone line that will nearly cover the State, has been organized. The president of the company is Mr. L. A. Carr, of Durham, who is president of the Norfolk and Durham Fertilizer Company. Col. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, is secretary and treasurer, and Mr. George W. Watts, of Durham, of the American Tobacco company, is one of the directors. The other gentlemen named above are also directors, along with Dr. P. D. Fahrney and Mr. James E. Walker, of Maryland.

About one hundred thousand dollars will be invested in building the system. The Wilmington Messenger learns that three hundred miles of wire has already been ordered, and that Wilmington, Winston, Raleigh, Goldsboro, Durham, Greensboro and Charlotte will be connected with two trunk wires, and that eventually the principal towns in North Carolina and South Carolina will be embraced in one long distance system. It has been the intention to commence on the work between Wilmington and Winston at once.—Durham Sun.

DYSPEPSIA MAKES MEN BALD.

Disordered Digestive Organs Said to Be a Great Hair Puller.

Dyspepsia is one of the most common causes of baldness. Nature is a great economizer and when the nutrient elements furnished by the blood are insufficient to properly support the whole body she cuts off the supply to parts the least vital, like the hair and the nails, that the heart and lungs and other vital organs may be better nourished. In cases of severe fevers this economy is particularly noticeable. A single hair is a sort of history of the physical condition of the individual during the time it has been growing, if one could read it closely enough. Take a hair from the beard or from the head and scrutinize it and you will see that it shows some attenuated places, indicating that at some period of its growth the blood supply was deficient from overwork, anxiety or under feeding.

The hair falls out when the strength of its root is insufficient to sustain its weight any longer, and a new hair will take its place unless the root is diseased. For this reason each person has a certain definite length of hair. When the hair begins to split or fall out massage to the scalp is excellent. Place the tips of the fingers firmly upon the scalp and then vibrate or move the scalp while holding the pressure steadily. This will stimulate the blood vessels underneath and bring about better nourishment of the hair. A brush of unevenly tufted bristles is also excellent to use upon the scalp, not the hair.—Hall's Journal of Health.

"SHERIDAN'S RIDE"

The General Himself Got Tired of Hearing It.

Speaking of how weary and sick of "Ben Bolt," its author, Thomas Dunn English, had lately become because of the "Trilby" craze, a woman said: "If Gen. Sheridan were alive, Mr. English would be sure of the general's sympathy, for if ever a man got tired of a poem, it was 'Phil' Sheridan of 'Sheridan's Ride.'" Mrs. Sheridan was asked recently to tell the story of the famous ride as the general himself used to tell it. Mrs. Sheridan answered: "He wasn't in the habit of telling it. It was told to him often enough. Wherever he went somebody recited that poem. Whenever he was invited to entertainments or suppers or dinners some boy or girl told him how he rode. It went on for years, and the general would come home disgusted that he often declared he never would accept another invitation for reunions or celebrations unless promised that he shouldn't be recited at and told how he rode.

"The only time I know of when Gen. Sheridan himself told the story in public was one night at a dinner at Mrs. Hale's house. Everybody saves the best for the wife of the senator from Maine, and one night I was surprised to hear the general finishing the account of that ride. But it was told so quietly that only the group about him knew what was going on. He heard it too often to ever want to tell of it himself."—N. Y. World.

A Division of Responsibility.

On the outskirts of one of our southern cities there used to be an old colored blacksmith who did a thriving business, but who, in an evil hour, took to himself a young man as partner. The money matters of the concern soon became so involved that the old man begged for a release, but the young man assured him that the law in the case of partnership was so peculiar that it couldn't be broken. Six months later, when the younger partner was away, the old man consulted a friend, found out the truth, and nailed up the following placard:

"The partnership heretofore existing between Micah Davis and myself is now resolved. Who owes the firm will call on me. Who the firm owes will call on Micah Davis."

No Use to Worry.

What good is accomplished by worrying? We might as well try to turn back the tides of the ocean with a shovel as to try to overcome trouble and disappointment by fretting over them. We at all times cannot control our thoughts and they are liable to run in gloomy channels, let us do our best, but we can brave trouble better than we generally do if we only make an effort. Worrying shortens life, so claim those who have given metaphysical subjects much study. It maps itself in our faces, and we go among our friends leaving sympathetic marks of our trouble here and there. Be cheerful and you will notice the faces of all about reflecting brightness; be sad and you will see the faces of those with whom you associate, mirror like, cast back a gloomy shadow. Worrying will not help you in any way, and is sure to magnify your trouble.

Remember the sun shines for you as well as for all God's creatures, the flowers, the beautiful landscape and all the magnificence of nature are for you, then why should you worry even though you must bear trials? Always remember but for adversity we would not know and enjoy the greater blessings of life.—Orange Va. Observer.

How Flies Walk on Window Panes.

The microscope reveals the neat contrivance which enables a fly to walk up a window pane or defy the laws of gravity by gliding along, back downward, on the ceiling. The magnifier shows the foot to be made up of two pads covered with fine, short hair, each pad having a hook above it. Behind each pad is a bag filled with liquid which oozes out when the fly puts his foot down. The amount which is pressed out of each foot is very small indeed, but taken altogether it is amply sufficient to hold the insect in any position he chooses.—St. Louis Republic.

It Worked Out.

In the marriage of Brooks Townes, a young Atlanta lawyer, and Miss Fanny Rosa Atkinson, at Kirkwood, Ga., yesterday, a contract made 21 years ago was fulfilled. When the two were infants their mothers plighted them. Mrs. Atkinson gave a deed for her daughter to the Townes baby boy. The children did not see each other from the time they were 3 years old until they were 20 when they met by accident. Each knew of the contract and they proceeded to fall in love with each other and carry out the agreement.
