TOO HOT.

It's too hot for thinkin',
It's too hot to write;
It's too hot to quarrel—
It's too hot to fight.
It's too hot for talkin'—
For ridin', or walkin';
But the world's out o' sight-out o' sight!

It's too hot for dreamin'
By day or by night;
It's too hot for schemin'
For wrong or for right,
It's too hot for sighin'
For divin' or dyin';
But the world's out o' sight-out o' sight!

Sing, sing, all together—
And sweet be the song.
In spite o' the weather
"We worry along!"
The glad bells are ringin',
An' sweet birds are singin',
An' life is a song—is a song!
—Frank L. Stanton.

OAKLEY, N. C., Aug. 5th. 1895.

Mr Geo. Belcher went to Greenville Saturday.

Messrs. J. E. Hines and W. J. Jenkins went to Bethel Sunday.

Mr. R. F. Gainer is spending a few days in Bethel.

The charming Miss Hattie Williams, of Jonetoe, is the guest of Mrs W. H. Williams.

Mrs. W. H. Williams and son, Mr. J. O., made a visit to relatives near Tarboro last week.

Mr. Lean the engineer on the Washington train was taken quite ill on his evening run last Tuesday. Capt. Ellsworth carried the train to Washington on time acting as engineer and conductor.

T. J. Jarvis for Governor.

"In naming the probable candidates for Governor at Greensboro, Governor Jarvis omitted two of the most prominent," said a well posted politician yesterday. "Modesty forbade him to mention himself, but if all I hear is true, 'Barkis is willin'."

"Recently at Morehead," continued the gentleman, "Senator Jarvis approached Mr. Julian S. Carr, who was surrounded by some friends and said: 'Jule, I want to know whether you are working for the nomination for Governor, and if you are a candidate for the nomination."

"Mr. Carr said he was not a candidate for the nomination and was not trying to secure it." Then Senator Jarvis said, "I'll say to you, Jule, what Judge Settle once said to Gov. Holden. It was shortly before the time that the Republicans were to elect a United States Senator. Judge Settle wanted to be elected, but he was afraid of Holden and so one morning he went into the Governor's office and said:

'Governor, are you a candidate for the Senate?'

'No,' said the Governor, without reflection.

"Then I am," said Judge Settle, and with that he walked out. "Senator Jarvis said no more, but he, Mr. Carr, and the others laughed heartily at the joke. Was it more than a joke?"—Raleigh News and Observer.

The North Carolina weather bureau puts the tobacco crop of the State at 86 for July, against 84 for June, and 73½ for July of last year. The averages in the western and middle districts are about the same, both being a little less than 87, while the average in the east is 83½.

The most degenerating practice of modern times is that of allowing children and youths to run on the streets at night, completely outside of parental restraint. This practice prevails in nearly every town in the country, but in some places active measures are being taken to break it up and save the children for future good citizenship.

Dwelling Burned.

Mr. Benj. Belcher, who lives two miles below Pactolus, lost his dwelling house and adjacent out-buildings by fire Saturday evening. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue.

Moonlight Excursion.

The young men of the town will give the last moonlight excursion of the season, on steamer Myers, Wednesday night. Steamer will leave at 8 o'clock, sharp. Tickets 25 cents.

To Bridge Grindle Creek.

The people of Carolina township who use the Carney crossing of Grindle creek, are taking steps to secure a bridge over the creek at that place. Messrs. G. M. Mooring and J. W. Page took a subscription list among the people of that section to secure pledges for building the bridge and met with liberal response. Monday the same gentlemen took the matter before the County Commissioners and received the assurance of a good appropriation from the Board. This is a good move forward. There are times the Carney crossing is impassable, but a good bridge over it will remedy this trouble and be a great public convenience.

The Town Council could not have a meeting last night for lack of a quorum.

DAILY REFLECTOR.

Subscription 25 cents per Month.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

EVERY AFTERNOON (EXCEPT SUNDAY)

The REFLECTOR learns with deep sorrow of the death of Miss M. G. McClelland, which occurred at her home near Norwood, Va., on Saturday, 3rd inst. She was a warm friend of the writer, and to us her death is a personal bereavement. Miss McClelland was one of the Old Dominion's brightest women and took high rank among the authors of the present day. Knowing her as we did, it always afforded us rare pleasure to read her books, and aside from this for a number of years we enjoyed occasional friendly letters from her. Her name and writings are familiar to many REFLECTOR readers, she being some years ago a frequent contributor to its columns. She had been sick for several months—in fact her health failed under her devoted attention to her mother in the latter's long sickness a little more than two years ago, whose death was such a grief to her that she never fully regained her strength. Miss McClelland was a pure, sweet, noble woman, ever showing a deepest devotion to her home and parents, and her memory will be long cherished by a large circle of relatives and friends. The only members of the immediate family surviving her are an aged father and a sister, and to these we extend heartfelt sympathy in their sore bereavement.

The cry of "hard times" would be robbed of much of its severity if those who are able to pay their bills would do so promptly, and not excuse themselves from payment on the ground that money is hard to collect. Let the ready money be kept circulating. It is wrong in God's sight, and a sin against one's fellow man, to withhold from another what belongs to him, when it is in a man's power to pay him.—Philadelphia Presbyterian.

The New England Cotton Manufacturers' Association will probably accept the invitation of the Cotton States and International Exposition Company to visit Atlanta in October. The party will consist of several hundred, including the most prominent cotton mill men in New England. The recent movement of cotton mills South, and the building of large cotton mills both by local and New England capital, has stirred up great interest in New England concerning Southern cotton industries. They expect to see a great deal of special interest in the Georgia Manufacturers' Building, in which the best products of the cotton mills of Georgia will be exhibited.

The Old Silver Dollar.

The following from the Chenoa (Ill.) Gazette, will be read with interest for its excellent sentiment if not the poetic inspiration it breathes:

How dear to our hearts is the old silver dollar, when some kind subscriber presents it to view; the liberty bust without necktie or collar and all the strange things that to us seem so new; the wide spreading eagle, the arrows below it, the stars and the words with the strange things they tell; the coin of our fathers, we're glad that we know it, for some time or other 'twill come in right well—the spread eagle dollar, the old silver dollar that we all love so well.

Mr. Charles B. Rouss, the well known New York millionaire, wants to put up a memorial building for Confederate veterans at the Cotton States and International Exposition. He proposes to make it a meeting place for lectures and speeches by veterans and for the sale of Confederate relics. Mr. Rouss, who is himself a Confederate veteran, and who went to New York without a dollar at the close of the war, recently gave $100,000 for the erection of a Confederate memorial building to be located in some large city and made a repository for Confederate history and archives.

THE "TELEPHONE EAR."

Its Ravages Are Principally Limited to the Far West.

It is somewhat strange that the new malady which has appeared in the American telephone exchanges is most prevalent in California, while being almost entirely unknown in the eastern states. The fatigue of listening continually at the receiver produces a humming in the ears, headache, and finally abscess of the tympanum. The employe has to rest every three or four hours, and sometimes to cease work altogether for some days. It is not yet explained whether the affection is due to defective apparatus or to overwork. Further light on this subject is especially desirable, as it may give most valuable suggestions to aurists who are now treating certain ear affections by sound vibrations produced through the telephone. The idea is favored by some leading practitioners that in many cases abnormal tissue can be stimulated to healthy activity by the concentration upon them of vibrations of exactly suitable pitch and strength. In many of the best-equipped telephone exchanges a clever provision has been made for reducing the ear fatigue of the operator by the use of a small electric lamp, which, working in the call wires, indicates "through," and so obviates the voice calls, which are sometimes so irritating to the subscriber, as well as wearing on the "central," by their inevitable repetition.—Philadelphia Record.

A SOUTHERNER'S BRAVERY.

Charlie Fairfax and the Dastardly Attack of Whitcomb Lee.

"During the civil war there was not a more rabid secessionist or a more popular man in California than Charlie Fairfax, Virginian, and direct descendant of Lord Fairfax," said City Attorney Creswell. "He was a man of such undoubted courage, such scrupulous honesty and such distinguished courtesy that his violent prejudices against the north were forgiven before they were expressed, and his open declarations of disloyalty forgotten as soon as spoken.

"While the clerk of the supreme court in Sacramento, he engaged in an altercation with a man named Whitcomb Lee. Without warning, Lee drew a sword cane and made a lunge at Fairfax. The keen blade penetrated his abdomen a couple of inches before he could seize it. Fairfax held the blade with his left hand while he whipped out a revolver with his right, and with the sword still in the wound he leveled his pistol at Lee's head, and said, in the coolest tone:

"Draw that sword and put it up. I would kill you, but no man shall ever say that Charlie Fairfax made a woman a widow and children fatherless."—San Francisco Post.

A JAPANESE BABY SHOW.

Four Prizes Out of Six Go to One Family.

Dr. A. Nelson Beach, surgeon of the steamship China, has told the story of the most remarkable baby show and of the most remarkable prize-winning family yet on record, says the San Francisco Examiner.

The China on a recent trip to the orient took on board at Honolulu four hundred and ten Japanese, all homeward bound after having worked out their contracts on the Hawaiian islands. Many of the Japanese had their wives and children with them and there were eighty-three babies under four years—fifty-three girls and thirty boys.

The eighty-three almond-eyed youngsters furnished amusement for the cabin passengers for a time. When there is no view save the broad horizon eighty-three Japanese babies are great attractions. Somebody suggested a baby show. The mothers had never heard of a baby show, but the eagle on an American dollar is a great interpreter, and the Japanese commissioner of emigration to the Hawaiian islands, who was a passenger on the steamer, aroused the maternal pride of the little mothers in the steerage. By contribution of the cabin passengers a purse was made up and prizes were offered for the three handsomest girls and the three finest boys under four years.

The eighty-three little Japs in gorgeous kimonos were placed on exhibition one afternoon, and then the judges awarded the prizes.

After the prizes were awarded a startling discovery was made. The little girls who took first and second prizes were sisters, and the little boys who took first and second prizes were brothers. But when the passengers found that the prize-winning little boys and the prize-winning little girls were brothers and sisters, all children of the same parents, there was astonishment unbounded, and the passengers made up a purse of five dollars for the mother of the prize-winning family in addition to the prize money bestowed on the children.

"If there had been more in the family they would have had the rest of the prizes, I suppose," said Dr. Beach, "but the award of four prizes to four children of the same family, the oldest of the children four years of age, was sufficient glory for one mother, who was the proudest parent I ever saw. The awards were fairly made, and none of the judges knew that the children were brothers and sisters."

Convincing Proof.

There is plenty of evidence already that during the long cold winter months not a single fly got frozen or mislaid.—Somerville Journal

The Marion Record wants Judge Armfield nominated for Governor. The Durham Sun wants Julian S. Carr. The Oxford Ledger favors Lt. Gov. Doughton. The Asheville Citizen wants "a mountain man;" name not given, but presumed to be Col. Theo. F. Davidson. Dr. Faison tells the Charlotte Observer that the East is solid for Jarvis, and says "he's the only Democrat that can carry the State." Overman has lots of friends. The Statesville Landmark prints the following: "Well, Governor, who's going to be our next Governor?" asked Mr. Geo. M. Rose, of Fayetteville, of Senator Jarvis Wednesday night at the Benbow House, in Greensboro. "I can't prophesy," said he. "I hear Tom Mason, Jule Carr, Lee Overman, Bob Glenn and Theo. Davidson spoken of. We ought to nominate the strongest man we have for Governor in May, and start him to work early."

The Advantage of Diversified Crops. Says an exchange, with much of truth and good reasoning:

The man who raises a diversity of crops is in an independent way of living, for there is some cash income at all times of the year. He is thus enabled to pay cash for all he requires, and with cash in his finger he buys at the lowest figures and only buys what he needs. He has no long bills to settle at the usual fall settling time of the one-crop man. He quickly wipes out all his interest bearing debts, and soon begins to make small loans to his less thoughtful neighbors.
