Wants a Goat Arrested.

We hear of a right amusing occurrence at Ayden. A little boy of that town had a pet goat with which he played about the streets. A citizen of that town sent word to the Mayor to have the goat arrested, that it had been to his house and run his folks up stairs. The next funniest thing to wanting the goat arrested is that the house in which the man lived, says our informant, does not have a stairs in it.

Peculiar Shower.

The heavy rain cloud this afternoon seemed to divide right over town, and the difference was very noticeable even in a distance of two blocks. Up near the Court House the rain came down in torrents, while at Five Points it was light, and over about the Academy there was hardly enough to dampen the bridge. It seemed strange to be standing out in the sunshine at one end of the street seeing it raining hard at the other end.

Large Musk Melon.

There have been large water melons, of course, but the largest musk melon we have heard of yet was raised by Mr. Henry Harris, of Falkland. This melon was 22 inches long and measured 32 inches in circumference. Can anybody beat this?

"Brown's a lucky fellow—never has a contribution declined."

"What magazine does he write for?"

"His own."

LOCAL NOTES AND TOBACCO JOTTINGS

BY O. L. JOYNER.

The woman's edition of the Southern Tobacco Journal was the recipient of many nice compliments from the State press.

There is a strong demand for barn room now among tobacco farmers. Tobacco is nearly all ripe on the hill and nowhere to cure it. It would be well to remember this when the leisure days of winter come on and prepare plenty of barn room for the next crop.

Raleigh tobacco flue makers boast of having sold 100 sets of flues this season. The flue factories here (three) have sold up to date over 675 sets and are still making flues.—Louisburg Times.

And the Pitt county flue makers have sold over 1200 sets and are now as busy as bees in a tar bucket putting up sets daily. Come this way brethren, if you want to sell tobacco.

The Kinston Free Press had a column last week on the tobacco market down there, which opens August 15th. Nearly all the merchants and business men of the town have offered premiums to farmers carrying their tobacco to Kinston on opening days, and the Free Press says that quite a number of premiums will be offered between now and January 1st.

The Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade will give a purse of $2.00 and one year's subscription to the EASTERN REFLECTOR for the heaviest watermelon delivered to J. W. Morgan at his prize house opposite the Eastern Warehouse between now and October 1st, 1895.

J. W. MORGAN,
Pres't. Board of Trade.

In the last report of the Labor Bureau the number of papers was given at 219. They are classified as follows. Democratic, 107, Populist, 10, Republican, 10, Alliance 8, Independent, 6, Educational, 8, Non-Political, 27, Religious, 30, Fraternal, 1, not classified, 7."

No young lady is satisfied with her clothes unless they are a Miss fit.

Wonder if anybody ever measured the height of folly or the length of the moral law.

A Bridle chamber is where the bride puts the bridle on her husband to lead him through life by.

There is a man in Chicago so very stingy that he won't even kiss his wife. He's afraid of losing a dime's worth of paint.

There is more profit in being what the Lord has actually made you, than trying to fill a big brain career on a small brain capital.

Between the courtesies of etiquette and the hospitalities of a friendship there is as much difference as exists between an iceberg and a volcano.

And now a West Virginia heirless has eloped with a tramp. Its getting so that after a while a decent man will have no chance with the girls at all.—Orange, Va, Observer.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular co. respondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12 '95
Senator Gorman is evidently letting the other fellows do all the worrying about the situation in Maryland. He has gone for his usual August stay at Saratoga. He was in Washington just before starting, and said: The ticket is first-class in every respect, and the democratic party is to be congratulated. The trifling objections that are being raised against it are no more than were to be expected. The truth is there is less objection than I expected, and much less than has often risen before when tickets were named, and the party majority has been larger than usual when the votes were counted. I anticipate no more than the usual amount of difficulty in carrying on the campaign, and look for a good majority for Mr. Hurst and the other nominees. There must always be disappointments in politics, but the party in the end will get together and win as usual. I have no fear whatever of the result in November. Long before that time all real democrats will be united for the common cause.

Secretary Morton has more than once shown that his ideas on public affairs are of a good, old Thomas Jefferso, Andrew Jackson sort of democracy. He has just given another instance of it. Sometime ago he said to a newspaper man in regard to a proposition to pay a government bounty on agricultural products; If it will pay to raise and export agricultural products, there is no bounty needed. And if it will not pay to raise and export agricultural products no bounty should be given. This did not please the editor of the New York periodical for whom the interview was secured. He fixed up an answer to the Secretary's words and this week Mr. Morton received a proof of it. In reply Secretary Morton has written him a short letter, from which the following paragraph, which is a nutshell statement of the whole bounty question, is taken: Be kind enough to explain to your readers how the bounty is to be raised to pay the producer of agricultural products for his exports, except by taxation upon the people. Has the government of the United States a single dollar that is not taken from the pockets of its citizens by means of taxation? The bounty system is merely a modern application of robbing Peter to pay Paul, and there is no doubt of its being class legislation of the most vicious kind, although it is difficult to convince those temporarily benefitted that it is.

FORGOTTEN FORTUNES.

Banks Holding Vast Piles of Unclaimed Wealth.

An Englishman Deposits Fifty Thousand Dollars and Immediately Forgets All About It — Other Cases of Like Nature.

To say that there must be at least $2,500,000 lying in London banks which has been forgotten, or is awaiting claims from relatives, is no exaggeration at all, said a bank manager to a representative of Tit-Bits the other day. If an investigation could be made, he went on, it would most likely be found that this unclaimed sum was nearer $5,000,000 than $2,500,000.

A most curious case was that of a wealthy merchant in Leadenhall street, whose forgetfulness was a byword. Ten years ago he placed $50,000 in his bank, to his private account, and immediately forgot all about it, having neglected to fill up the counterfoil in his deposit book.

A few months ago, while tearing up some old papers, he came across a penciled note bearing the words: "Bank $50,000," and a date which he was unable to decipher. He made inquiries into the matter, and found that he was wealthier than he thought by $50,000, with interest. How he overlooked the amount it is difficult to say. He is still noted for the haphazard way in which he keeps his private accounts.

The old woman who forgot the existence of a legacy of $1,000 a year from her master was another instance of carelessness. Here the old lady, a one-time housekeeper, could hardly read or write. When she received a letter from her late master's solicitors to the effect that the legacy would be paid quarterly on application at a city bank the lucky woman for a fortnight was none the wiser.

The important look of the seal on the envelope and the fine note paper caused her to make inquiries, and a friendly neighbor, after much effort, spelled through the letter. The old lady, who was in poor circumstances, could not believe the good news, and so, without going to the bank, she decided that the letter was a hoax.

Five years passed away, when her only son—a soldier—returned from India. One day he accidentally came across the letter, read it, and asked his old mother the particulars. But her mind was a complete blank on the subject. However, the son made inquiries, and the result was that his mother and he found $5,000 awaiting them at the bank and the promise of $1,000 a year during the forgetful old lady's lifetime.

Old misers who have amassed small fortunes have more than once destroyed their bank books and all evidence showing they were possessed of money, and in this way a well-known bank once benefited to the extent of $40,000. None of the relatives of the old man knew of his fortune, and such things are never the concern of the bank.

The money was kept in the depositor's name for five years, when it passed into the bank's own account. No doubt, if a claimant came forward, they would give the money up, but they would probably fiercely fight the case if the evidence on the other side showed any weak loopholes.

At present there is money in different banks in the metropolis which never will be claimed, for naturally a bank is not inclined to go to great trouble in finding rightful owners if they fail to come forward of their own account.

BLACK ROSES.

The Unique Production of a German Gardener.

We learn, on good authority, that a certain enterprising gardener has at last succeeded in producing a black rose—"as black as soot," as he proudly declares. Perhaps it is needless to say that this persevering, but rather melancholy, person is a German. So far his achievement is unique, though green roses were obtained some time ago by a member of his fraternity. Science, we suppose, makes every experiment worth while, otherwise one would be tempted to question whether the result were worth the trouble taken, as a black rose certainly cannot, from a purely Philistine point of view, be considered as beautiful as a pink or yellow one. Moreover, the good man is a trifle behind the times, since the artificial flower makers succeeded in making us all thoroughly tired of black roses quite a twelve-month ago. It is to be hoped that the craze for unnaturally colored flowers will not spread, otherwise we shall see black lilies, like those in the mosaic pavement of Santa Maria de Flori, in Florence, and what a misfortune that would be.—Lady.

Queer Pool Playing.

"There are many ways of playing pool, but the queerest way I ever saw the game played was at the Louisville hotel the other night," said a rounder. "He was a young man, and was the admired of every pool player in the room.

"He played with two cues, but never struck a ball with his cue. He held a cue in each hand, with the points touching. He picked his cue ball up with the cues and rolled it back into the groove formed by holding the cues nearly together.

"Then he took aim, and slanting his cues down let the cue ball shoot down the improvised groove. He rarely missed running from five to ten balls every time his turn to shoot came."—Louisville Courier
