MORE ROBBERY.

A Negro Opens Mr. Joel Gardner's Safe.

From the Weekly we learn that another attempt has been made to rob Mr. Joel Gardner, of Belvoir township, one of the wealthiest citizens of the county. It is known that Mr. Gardner keeps large sums of money about his house, and robbers make effort to get it. A few years ago one of his barns was set on fire and while his family were trying to put out the fire the robbers went in his house and took a trunk that had considerable money in it out of a window. About $3,000 of what was stolen at that time was recovered, but much more was lost.

After that robbery Mr. Gardner procured a safe of the old lock and key pattern and has since been keeping his money in that, and kept the key in a trunk. A few days ago while the family were occupied in the kitchen, a negro named Ned Walston, who worked with Mr. Gardner and knew where his money was, entered the house, got the key from the bottom of the trunk, opened the safe and was in the act of taking out money when Miss Alice Gardner walked in the room. The negro opened a window and escaped, leaving a bag of gold and a large roll of bills on the floor. It is not known whether he got away with any money. The negro was tracked for three miles. Mr. Gardner has offered $100 reward for his capture and delivery to the Sheriff.

NEARLY 60,000 POUNDS.

The Golden Weed Was Here To-day, And Everybody Was Happy.

The Greenville tobacco market went a humming to day with one of the largest breaks in the history of the market. At an early hour wagons and carts full of the weed began coming in and they were still arriving when the sales started, swelling the aggregate on the four warehouse floors to nearly 60,000 pounds.

The Greenville Warehouse started the ball on the first sale with 7,000 pounds. "Parson" Evans was in one of his finest humors and fairly shot in high prices on the boys, making every seller at his house happy. The old Greenville is a hummer.

The Star came in for second sale with 10,000 pounds, and Capt Pace's bald pate glistened like silver as it bobbed up and down over the piles. Prices kept a whooping up and Pat Gorman would cause no little fun when he would whistle and yell "come down from there!" causing the spectators to stretch their necks towards the roof to see who he was calling down.

The Planters pulled off the third sale with 15,000 pounds. Ola Forbes was in all his glory and cried himself hoarse making the boys run 'em up. But he got there in great shape and every farmer smiled with joy over his prices.

The Eastern rounded up with the last and best sale, having the enormous break of 25,000 pounds, the largest by 2,000 pounds that has ever been on any single floor here. "Old Man Gus" was strictly in it up to his neck, and Olthos Joyner hardly got time to shake the floods of perspiration off his auburn locks while he shoved the buyers on and made them do some fancy bidding.

It was an all-round fine break. The tobacco was here and the buyers almost tumbled over each other after the bright piles. The high prices on every floor was the subject of general remark. It goes without saying that Greenville is THE tobacco market of Eastern North Carolina. The farmers are finding this out and they will bring their tobacco where they can get good prices. You just can't keep Greenville down.

Picnic.

Invitations are being sent out for a picnic to be held in Mr. Henry Brown's grove, near Mt. Pleasant church, on next Friday, 22nd. The managers are J. E. Nobles, J. F. Davenport, W. S. Briley, B. A. Fleming, J. J. Spain, R. D. Harrington, W. J. Briley, M. T. Spier, W. S. Atkins, R. W. Ward. Floor managers, J. B. Fleming and J. E. Fleming. It is going to be a grand time. Go and take a full basket.

If the people of the South would talk less politics and more business it would be better for them. There is too much politics in the South and not enough business. —Lenoir Topic.

Several of our tobacco men were at Kinston yesterday but came back this morning to be at the big break here to-day.

The REFLECTOR force thanks Mr. Walter Leggett for two fine cantelopes and a watermelon.

EVERY AFTERNOON (EXCEPT SUNDAY)

The silver conference of prominent Democrats, in Washington City this week, had a large attendance of delegates from twenty States. Senator Thos. J. Sarvis was present and was placed on most of the prominent committees. He with Senators Turpie, Harris, Gov. Stone and Mr. Heinrichsen constitute a provisional national committee with power to select national committeemen for each State and perfect the plan of organization. The gold advocates may ridicule the silver men as much as they please and say there are no men of brains are on side, but this meeting in Washington shows just the contrary to be true. The silver advocates are going to be heard and their presence will be felt in the next national convention.

We see it stated that the Raleigh News and Observer announces by authority that Senator Jarvis is not and will not be a candidate for Governor. The Senator being absent from home we cannot get his confirmation of this, but taking it for granted that the News and Observer would not have made the statement without some grounds for so doing, the REFLECTOR cheerfully adds a second to the suggestion that Col. J. S. Carr be the next Democratic nominee for Governor of North Carolina. Every reader knows just where the REFLECTOR stands in reference to Senator Jarvis, but next to to him we had as live see Col. Carr occupying the Governor's chair as any one. He is an able man, a patriotic citizen, a philanthropist without a superior in the State, and would fill the position with credit and dignity.

Protection a Needless Fraud.

When Anniston, Ala., is able to supply Tokio, Japan, with water pipe at a profit, in competition with English, German and Belgium bidders, how foolish and insincere seem the dolorous wails sent up from that quarter in 1893 when it was proposed to remove the duty from iron ore and pig. No protection was needed, it is clear, since Anniston can pay freight on its water pipe to Tokio via Liverpool, and yet underbid all competitors. Pittsburg is said to have sent 400 tons of pig to England recently, and Youngstown, Ohio, sent 1,000 tons of waste metal. The wool manufacturing industry prospers greatly with the free wool given by the Democratic tariff. The American Wool and Cotton Reporter states that there were, on June 1, 1895, in operation in this country 8,456 sets of cards, 77,199 looms and 64,250 knitting machines, as against 7,784 sets of cards, 71,000 looms and 33,691 knitting machines in May, 1892, under the McKinley tariff and before the panic.—Baltimore Sun.

The Burlington News hits the nail squarely on the head and gives excellent advice in these words: "Money invested in the cultivation of the talents of your children does good and yields a dividend as long as they live. Hence it is not economy to raise your boys and girls in ignorance for the sake of a small saving. Mind is worth more in the battle of life than muscle, and brings more on the markets of the world. Sequel: Put your children in a good school at the opening, keep them there for a term and watch the improvement."

The great dailies are every day full of expressions of fear, emanating from prominent men, that the bond syndicate will not protect the treasury from gold raids. The spectacle of a great government appealing helplessly to a half dozen bankers to stand between it and insolvency is a spectacle that is humiliating to every man in America except the out and out gold bugs. They see nothing to condemn in a financial system that thus humiliates and dwarfs the Federal government.—Raleigh News and Observer.

NOT THE FIRST.

Why the Selection He Wanted to Play Was Inappropriate.

They were engaged. That was apparent from their actions. They were together all the time, and he tried to anticipate her every wish.
 They wandered on the beach together and they sat out on the porch in the moonlight earnestly talking about nothing. Moreover, he could play the flute and they would occasionally steal away from the crowd around the hotel and he would entertain her with solos.

But she was more worldly than she looked, and one night some of the other guests overheard a conversation that was unique, but not intended for their ears.

"Shall I get my flute?" he asked.

"Oh, yes, do," she replied.

"Do you like to hear it?" he inquired, fishing for a compliment.

"Indeed I do."

"What shall I play this time?"

"Anything you wish."

"Well," after a few moments spent in thought, "don't you think the 'First Kiss' waltz would be very appropriate?"

He wished to be very complimentary, but somehow he seemed to have made a mistake.

"No, I don't," she replied, shortly.

"Why not?"

"You're about three years too late."—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Young Lawyer's Mistake.

There is a certain judge in one of the higher courts of this city who rather prides himself on his knowledge of the law. The other day he was compelled to listen to a case that had been appealed from one of the police courts. The young practitioner who appealed for the appellant was long and tedious; he brought in all of the elementary text books and quoted the fundamental propositions of law.

At last the judge thought it was time to make an effort to close the argument.

"Can we not assume," he said, pompously, "that the court knows a little about law itself?"

"That's the very mistake I made in the other court," answered the young orator, "and I don't want to let it defeat me twice." Motion denied.—N. Y. Recorder.

Good Old Days.

"It's all right," said Meandering Mike, "ter talk about things bein'
 so fine, but gimme de good old times."

"But everybody says dese is good times," said Plodding Pete.

"Yes, dere's de trouble. What I'm heartsick for is de days when ef
 ye told a man ye was huntin' work,
 he didn't go and show some place
 where ye could find it."—Washington Star.

Wise and Beautiful Answers.

A Sophist, wishing to puzzle
 Thales with difficult questions which he had arranged, put the following, to which Thales answered without hesitation and
 with utmost precision:

What is the oldest thing? God for He existed always.

What is the most beautiful?
 The world, for it is the work of God.

What is the greatest of all things? Space, for it contains all things.

What is the most constant?
 Hope, for it remains when all else
 is fled.

What is the best of all things?
 Virtue, for without it there is nothing.

What is the quickest? Thought in a moment it can reach the end of the universe.

What is the strongest? Necessity, it makes men face all danger.

What is the easiest of all things?
 To give advice.

What is the most difficult? To know thyself.—Young Men's Era.

On the Bowery.

The following incident of New York life shows how badly our population is mixed: An Italian sent an American lad to a Chinaman for his laundry. The American gave the Chinaman a 50 cent piece. John bit on it and said: "Counterfeit; you gettee in trouble; me keepee," and put it in his pocket. The Italian then called and started to give the Chinaman a beating. A Greek left his oyster stand to act as peace maker. The Italian drew a razor and the Greek shied
 a bottle of Cayenne pepper at him, which struck a Hebrew. A negro who was passing shouted,
 and an Irishman in the uniform
 of a policeman arrested the fighting congress of nations which was presided over by a Dutch police justice.

A Monarch's Heart.

Louis XVII.'s heart has been presented to a representative of Don Carlos, the senior male Bourbon, by M. Edouard Drumont, the Jew baiter. He inherited it from his mother, who had it from M. Gabriel Pelletan, whose father, Dr. Pelletan, examined the body of the unfortunate dauphin, and removed the heart from it. The doctor gave it, in 1828, to M. de Quelen, archbishop of Paris, to hand over to the royal family, taking a receipt for it. During the revolution of 1830, the palace was sacked, the vase containing the heart broken, and the heart itself lost, but M. Gabriel Pelletan looked for it and found it a sand heap in the palace yard.

AT SCOTLAND NECK.

They All Had a Great Big Time.

The picnic at Scotland Neck was a success.

There were Masons and Odd Fellows from Tarboro, Greenville, Hamilton and elsewhere, besides many who belonged to neither order.

The weather was fine and the crowd was estimated from eight hundred to a thousand people.

We never saw a more inviting place for a picnic than Capt. Kitchen's Grove, where the speakers stand with ample seats for the crowd, and a large table supplied with everything to please a hungry man had been prepared.

The speakers invited for the occasion, we are told, were unavoidably absent, but Halifax county is no beggar for oratory. She has speakers of her own Capt. W. H. Kitchen in his broad sweeping style had entertained us near an hour when dinner was announced. After we had all eaten and were filled, Judge Whitaker and Claude Kitchen both made short addresses which were well received by this social body.

We cannot undertake to enumerate all the "private addresses," as they were outside the order. But to an observer it seemed that everything looked inviting and the chances were good. If good shade, free lemonade, good dinner, good speaking and pretty girls make a picnic, there was a picnic.

It was our first visit to Scotland Neck, but we never saw cleverer people nor a better behaved crowd. We note with pride that in all that crowd there was no drunkenness. M.
