WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 6th. 1895. Who will be the Democratic candidate next year? That question is asked of every prominent Democrat who comes to Washington these days, for the talk of nominating President Cleveland for a third term is considered meaningless by most Democrats. The three men who are oftenest named for that honor are ex-Secretary Whitney, of New York, Secretary Carlisle, of Kentucky, and Hon. William R. Morrison, of Ill., either of whom would make a good candidate and a good President. Other gentlemen are named, but one of the three will be nominated. Representative Tucker, of Va., who was in Washington this week, named two of them in expressing his opinion. He said, "We are going to nominate one of two men for the Presidency. It will be either Carlisle or Morrison. The silver men will probably oppose Carlisle more determinedly than they would Morrison. He will be stronger in the east, however, and the fact that he is a southern man will be enough to give him the sentiment of that section. I suppose the west will be more favorable to Morrison and the silver men would be better satisfied with him."

Secretary Morton has not a very high opinion of the business sense displayed in some of the legislation of the last Congress, as he has shown by his refusal to spend $168,000 appropriated to buy seeds for free distribution. He this week cited another instance of bad business legislation. Congress authorized a new edition of what is popularly known as the "Horse Book". These books will cost the government about 60 cents each and Secretary Morton says the same quantity could have been bought from the dealers in government publications who buy largely from Congressmen for 40 cents each. Secretary Morton is not alone in thinking such legislation unbusinesslike.

The Democratic Congressional Committee does not as a rule take any part in strictly State campaigns, but the campaign in Utah, which will send two United States Senators and one Representative to Congress, has been made an exception, and the committee has been aiding the Utah Democrats in every way possible. In view of the vote at the last territorial election—Republican 21,000, Democrat 19,000 and Populist 500, neither party has any reason to feel over confident of the result of the present campaign. The only thing absolutely certain about Utah is that its Congressional delegation will be split for silver, and that one of the new Senators will be a Gentile and one a Mormon. The Congressional delegation will be for silver because it would be impossible for either party to elect any other and the leaders of both parties have agreed about the Senators.

Secretary Herbert has given Admiral Kirkland a sharp official reprimand for a bit of flunkeyism which he was guilty of during the celebration attending the opening of the North Sea and Baltic Canal. When the Admiral, his staff, and the officers of the cruiser New York were all drawn up on the bridge of that vessel to receive a visit from Emperor William, Admiral Kirkland noticed that Rev. H. H. Clark, chaplain of the New York, wore his ordinary clerical garments. He directed Capt. Evans ("Fighting Bob"), commander of the New York, to order the chaplain to go below because he was not in special full dress uniform. Capt. Evans demurred, on the ground that the chaplain had on the only dress provided for him by the navel regulations, and that being an officer he was entitled to the right of remaining on the bridge. Admiral Kirkland thereupon gave Capt. Evans a pre-emptory order to send the chaplain below and of course, Capt. Evans was obliged to obey his superior officer. Chaplain Clark made a complaint to the Department, forwarding a full statement of the affair, accompanied by one from Capt. Evans, and Admiral Kirkland also made a statement.

Gen. Coppinger, who is now in Washington, says that neither the Wyoming settlers nor the Bannock Indians were to blame for the Jackson Hole Indian troubles, but that the migratory class known as "Rustlers" were at the bottom of the whole business. Gen. Coppinger favors annexing the Jackson Hole region to the Yellowstone National Park, but in view of the probable opposition from Wyoming it is not probable that Secretary Lamont will make such a recommendation to Congress.

Albemarle Presbytery.

IN SESSION WITH THE GREENVILLE CHURCH.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Session convened with very scanty attendance, most of the clergymen and delegates having left on the morning train.

The report of J. I. Young, agent for the Orphanage was read and approved.

The following resolution of thanks was adopted by a rising vote:

RESOLVED: That the Presbytery of Albemarle extends to the church and citizens of Greenville its grateful recognition of their kindness and cordial hospitality in entertaining the members of the Presbytery, and also to the ministers of the Methodist and Baptist churches for the offer of their pulpits.

The Presbytery adjourned until 8:10 P. M.

Big excitement up the street this morning Frank Wilson had put a beautiful black eye on high prices for trying to enter his store. Eugene and Ashley were on hand to assist him, backed up by Will James who soon fired him. Frank Wilson's new Clothing is all in and is beautiful. Go and see it, you'll be sure to buy.

EVENING SESSION.

The special order for the evening was the ordination of Mr. McLaurin.

The text of the ordination sermon by Dr. Morton was from Rom. 1. 16. It was in truth a Gospel Message of "glad tidings" and "salvation to men."

After the sermon Dr. Payne propounded the usual questions and the candidate kneeling received the right of laying on of hands, all Presbyters and Elders present participating.

Dr. Johnson in a few earnest words "charged" the young Evangelist as to the duties and dangers of his position.

Dr. Payne declared the Presbytery adjourned until its "adjourned meeting" during the session of the Synod at Fayetteville in October.

Greenville was indeed glad to have the meeting of the Albemarle Presbytery here, and our people regretted when the time for departure of the delegates came. Besides the interesting business of the body, there was an opportunity of hearing several exceptionally able sermons. The Presbytery has some brilliant men among its members.

Camp Officers.

At the reunion of Bryan Grimes Camp of Confederate Veterans held here on Thursday, the Camp elected officers as follows:

President.—E. A. Moyer.

Secretary.—B. F. Suggs.

Executive Committee.—J. R. Congleton, F. Ward, T. A. Nichols, J. H. Smith.

Commissioners Sale.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt county made at September term, 1889, in a cause therein pending entitled, Laney M. Briley et al. versus Martha A. Rouse et als, I will on Tuesday, the 17th day of September 1895, before the Court House door in Greenville, sell at public sale to the highest bidder for cash, all that certain lot or parcel of land known and designated in the plan of the town of Greenville as lot number four in the old portion of said town, bounded on the north by lot number three, on the east by lot number sixteen, on the south by second street and on the west by Cherry Hill Cemetery, containing one half an acre more or less.

EVERY AFTERNOON (EXCEPT SUNDAY)

The Girl that Everybody Likes.

You have undoubtedly met disagreeable girls who, without doing anything especially spiteful or mean, have impressed you as a girl to avoid. But have you ever met the girl that you, as well as everybody else, liked? You are unfortunate if you have not met her.

She is the girl who is not "too bright and good" to be able to find joy and pleasure all over the world.

She is the girl who appreciates the fact that she cannot always have the first choice of everything in the world.

She is the girl who is not aggressive and does not find joy in inciting aggressive people.

She is the girl who never causes pain with a thoughtless tongue.

She is the girl who, whether it is warm or cold, clear or stormy, finds no fault with the weather.

She is the girl who, when you invite her to any place, compliments you by looking her best.

She is the girl who makes this world a pleasant place because she is so pleasant herself.

And by and by, when you come to think of it, isn't she the girl who makes you feel she likes you and therefore you like her?

A Cheeky Little Lamb.

The Rev. Dr. Meredith, a well known clergyman, tries to cultivate friendly relations with the younger members of his flock. In a recent talk to his Sunday School he urged the children to speak to him whenever they met.

The next day a dirty-faced urchin, smoking a cigarette and having a generally disreputable appearance, accosted him on the street with:

"Hallo, doctor!"

The clergyman stopped and cordially inquired.

"And who are you, sir?"

"I am one of your little lambs," replied the boy, affably. "Fine day."

And tilting his hat on his head, he swaggered off, leaving the worthy divine speechless with amazement.—Person's Weekly.

The colored Fair had one circumstance to take at it which but few Fairs have—snakes hatched out at it. A boy placed seven snake eggs on exhibition at the beginning of the Fair and they all hatched out before it was over. They moved lively from the first and are said to be white oak snakes.—Newbern Journal.

Don't Snub the Boys.

Don't snub a boy because he wears shabby clothes. When Edison, the inventor, first entered Boston he wore a pair of yellow linen breeches in the depth of winter.

Don't snub a boy because of the ignorance of his parents. Shakespeare, the world's poet, was the son of a man who was unable to write his own name.

Don't snub a boy because his home is plain and unpretended. Abraham Lincoln's early home was a log cabin.

Don't snub a boy because he chooses an humble trade. The author of the "Pilgrim's Progress" was a thinker.

Don't snub a boy because of dullness in his lessons. Hogarth, the celebrated painter and engraver, was a stupid boy at his books.

Don't snub a boy because he stutters. Demosthenes, the great orator of Greece, overcame a harsh and stammering voice.

Don't snub him for any reason. Not only because he may some day outstrip you in the race of life, but because it is neither kind nor right nor Christian.—Good Housekeeping.

Potato Bugs Stop Trains.

It sounds like the story of the days of the grasshopper scourge in Kansas, when trains were unable to make their way through the masses of the locusts which settled on the tracks by the million, yet it is a fact that for two weeks or more trains on the Long Island Railroad returning from Coney Island, Manhattan and Rockaway Beaches, and also on the Sea Beach line, have been brought to a standstill by mighty swarms of potato bugs. Millions of them were slaughtered by the engine and car wheels until the wheels spun around in the slimy mass and could only be driven ahead by the lavish use of sand.—New York World.

On Tuesday last in Bensalom township a young white man named Yancy Myrie met with a most horrible accident which resulted in his death the following day. The cogs of the tram engine caught his foot and literally pulled his leg from his body. Eye witnesses of the accident say it was a sickening sight.—Carthage Gazette.

Proper Names in Alabama.

The singular and long name inscribed on a tombstone in Montgomery, Ala., has recently been published in the papers. As the owner of the name is dead it may or may not be genuine, but there are some live tenants on Col. Chess Howard's plantation in Crawford county who "take the cake" when it comes to names. The mother of the household is named Nina Notion Patience Peas Caroline Corn-cob Elizabeth Penny. Her husband flourishes as King Solomon's Watkins, and her favorite daughter bears the euphonious title of "Mitrelicious," and a younger son's name is "William Abraham's Bosom" all things told pray the Good Lord rock-y my Soul." He is never called anything less than "William Abraham's Bosom." They are very religious people, so another girl is named "I Will Arise and Go to My Father." She is called "Iwilla" for short.

King of Prussia.

"William West, King of Prussia," is an autograph creating a good deal of speculation at the Parker house just now. Persons having but little geographical knowledge of Uncle Sam's domain are ignorant of the whereabouts of "King of Prussia" in Pennsylvania state, yet that is where that little town is located, and Mr. West is not royalty's own, nor has he any claim of relationship to his royal highness of Prussia. His handwriting, however, is above nobility's scrawl, and many a conjecture is advanced concerning it.

Another Week of Success to Greenville.

Today closes the most successful week ever known to the Greenville tobacco market. Another link has been forged in the chain of success, and day by day and week by week the achievements of the proceeding day and week are more manifest and certain. Blessed have been the people during the past week more than usual. The weather has been to our own liking; the crops of fodder, so important, are saved in a most excellent condition, the last closing up of tobacco curing has been without an objection. Never has the first week in September given so much to the farmer from the store of nature. Happy and grateful hearts should greet the dawning of the Holy Sabbath of rest. Every person in every profession, vocation and calling should stop and think and give praise to Diety. Contrast it with the first week of September 1894. More fodder was lost in that week than in many years. The tobacco cures were the most unsatisfactory ever known, the market was a drag and prices were depressed, irregular and not pleasing to the people.

Surely a new era is coming upon us. The veil and gloom that has so long hovered over our county is being dispelled by the sun of prosperity and hope, and it is chiefly through the tobacco culture that this prosperity has again blessed us.
