The Right Chord.

MR. EDITOR:—Your issue of Thursday commenting editorially upon "Some Shop Talk" was appropo indeed and to the point. Every town is judged, by strangers especially, by the standard of three things—its churches, schools and newspapers. It seems that there is more in Greenville and community should go to the first-class make up of these three standards than any place in the eastern part of the State. I might add one other to these three—a good hotel. With these four things as an index the problem is solved by every one who comes in our midst without further inquiry. They are the nucleus around which all prosperity will cling, and without them there will never be much hope for great things. "Some Shop Talk" is the best talk you have made yet. Keep this before the people. They are not dead, but simply sleeping, and all that is necessary is to wake them up and get them to thinking.

SENEX.

A planter said on the breaks to-day: "I was in Tarboro yesterday and they told me there that the Greenville market had broke all to pieces, but I see from prices here to-day it looks anything else but broke." Wonder if that is the way our neighbor town is trying to establish a market.

How Long Will it Be?

Will the town authorities and business men of Greenville continue to submit to the unfavorable criticism of strangers and all others who travel the street, Dickerson avenue, leading from the centre of town to the depot and to the greatest tobacco market that eastern North Carolina has? It is a great mistake that our leading thoroughfare should remain in the condition it is now in. Steps should be taken at once to improve the street. The winter will soon be upon us and every one knows how bad this street was last year, and how bad it will be again unless worked upon. It can be made a pleasure to drive over it and should not be longer neglected.

STATE NEWS.

Record of Matters of General Interest.

Large catches of mullets are reported on the coast.

The tax valuation of New Hanover county decreased $532,026 in the 1895 returns over the returns of 1894.

The Tabernacle Sunday School of Raleigh is said to be the largest in the State. It has 1,086 members and a good orchestra, including a piano and organ.

A little child of Mr. George Warwick, of Wayne county, fell into a boiling pot of water last week and was scalded so severely that it died soon after.—Clinton Democrat.

Mr. Frank Kennedy caught seven hundred bunches of mullets off Ocean View yesterday. It is said there was school after school passing, going south. The fishermen say this means cold weather.—Wilmington Star.

Richard Wilson, the 7-year-old son of T. J. Wilson, Jr., tobacco manufacturer of Winston, was run over and killed by a street-car Wednesday. The little fellow was returning from dinner to school and in attempting to cross the track, when the car was close to him, fell and the car passed over his body, nearly severing it in twain. Both arms were cut off.

Friday sales for this week were no larger than some other days of the week. Every day has become a big day now and the farmers pick no special day to come.

No new bale of cotton has come to this market yet. There is plenty open on some farms to get a bale, but our farmers are looking after their tobacco first.

Cause for Surprise.

A gentleman who had not been to Greenville in half a dozen years expressed utter astonishment at the scene that lay out before him when he stepped off the train Thursday evening. The tobacco warehouses, prize houses and many other buildings that have gone up in these years were a wonder to him. That is the way all who come to Greenville are impressed. The town grows so fast that it surprises them all.

Statistics from the Treasury Department show a decline in the number of immigrants coming to the United States from foreign shores. The new laws debarring paupers and criminals is one of the causes bringing about this result, and as these classes are not desirable, the decline in immigration is not to be regretted.

One of the tobacco buyers remarked that if the whole town stood up for the Greenville tobacco market and the progress of the town like the REFLECTOR does, you would see things hum here sure enough.

A South Carolina widow became her own mother-in-law recently. That is to say, she is now the wife of her husband's father.

Hill's slate for the coming together or the Democrats is, Hill for President in 1900; Flower for Vice-President in 1896; and Lamont for the next Governor. "Some good Western man" for President in 1896.

The negroes held a convention in Raleigh on Wednesday. There were one hundred and fifty delegates present. It is said to have been a representative body. Those who favored the convention say it was a grand success, those who opposed it say it was a failure. Any way they met and resolved a few things. The convention strongly favored independent action on the part of the colored race. We quote from the resolution this: "The time has come for free thought and speech and the negro has no special reason to be dumb, driven cattle more than other people." They did not resolve anything about free silver. The body demanded a Chapel Hill for the negroes. They favor County Superintendent of Public Education. There was much speech making and fusion was pretty severely denounced.

An Innocent Abroad.

The Philadelphia American in reply to the charge of Editor Thorne in his magazine. Today, that the negroes are lazy says:

Has it never occurred to Mr. Thorne that there are white people in the south who might well lend an ear to heaven's call for workers? Has he never reflected that it is the whites of the south who are lazy, and not the negroes alone. Whatever work has been done there has been done by the negroes, either as bound or free, and the statistics indubitably prove that the south is industrially today far ahead of its best estate as a slave area. It raises more cotton, more rice, more corn, and more of all things possible to it than ever before, and is growing every year.

We are glad to bear testimony to the industry and thrift of our southern negroes, but The American is very blind indeed if it cannot see that the whites of the south have been hard at work with their sleeves rolled up ever since the war.

In the field, the factory, the counting room and in every useful occupation the confederate veterans and their sons are putting in about as many hours of solid work every day as any other set of men on the face of the earth.

The editor of The American should read the census reports, and see the magnificent results of southern progress in the past quarter of a century.

Or, better still, let him come down to our exposition and see what we are doing.—Atlanta Constitution.

A New Form of Warrant.

A north Iredell justice, of the peace, one of the new issue, appointed by the last Legislature, wrote and issued a warrant Sunday, of which the following is an exact copy:

Iredell County, Justice Court
Thomas Somers

State of North Carolina

for want of a lawful officer I hereby depute C. H. Horn of said county

Greeting
whereas Thomas Somers hath complained on oath before the undersigned a justice of the peace in and for said county that John Moore of Iredell county did on the 7th day of September 1895 at and in said county assault by drawing a knife making threats and using profane language in the house of said Somers then went out and threw a rock against the house he then started off and came back with thirty or forty yards of the house shot a pistol contrary to the form of the State in such case made and provided & against the peace & dignity of the State you are therefore commanded forthwith to arrest the said Moore and him before the undersigned or some other justice of the peace in said county to answer said complaint & have otherwise dealt with according to law Herein fail not

& of this warrant make due return.
Signed and sealed this 8th day of September 1895.

Justice of the Peace.

Notwithstanding the warrant reads a little queer the officer arrested Moore and took him before the magistrate who issued it. He was given a hearing and sentenced to the chain gang for 30 days.—Statesville Landmark.

A locomotive engineer has just died in Bethlehem, Pa., who has been running on the road regularly for forty-six consecutive years; had travelled over 1,000,000 miles, and about whom the remarkable statement is made that he never had an accident.

He Was a 'Piscopalian.

An Episcopal clergyman passing his vacation in Indiana, struck an old farmer who declared that he was a "Piscopal," says the New York Tribune. "To what parish do you belong?" asked the minister. "Don't know anything 'bout enny parish," was the answer. "Well, then," continued the clergyman, "what diocese do you belong to?" "They ain't nawthin' like that 'round here," said the farmer. "Who confirmed you, then?" was the next question. "Nobody," answered the farmer. "Then how are you an Episcopalian?" asked the clergyman. "Well," was the reply, "you see, it's this way. Last winter I went down to Arkansas visitin', and while there I went to church, and it was called "Piscopal" and I he'd them say 'that they'd left undone the things what they oughter done,' and I says to myself, says I, 'Thats my fix, exac'ly,' and ever since I considered myself a 'Piscopalian.' The clergyman shook the old fellow's hand, and laughingly said: "Now I understand, my friend, why the membership of our church is so large."

A new law went into effect, last week, in the State of New York making it a misdemeanor punishable with imprisonment to marry a girl under eighteen without the consent of her parents. So the men of that State will have to be very careful in learning the age of the women whom they wish to marry. And not only are such persons guilty of a misdemeanor, but the minister or magistrate who performs the ceremony is also liable to be punished as an accessory.

According to the common law, and (so far as we know) according to the law of every State in the Union no person, male or female, under the age of twenty one can make an ordinary business contract. And according to law marriage is regarded as a civil contract of the greatest importance. Therefore the law, in order to be consistent, ought to forbid marriages when either of the contracting parties is under twenty-one.—Pittsboro Record.

A most wonderful occurrence has taken place in New York—a Congressman from that city has resigned! He was elected last November, and as the time draws near for him to go to Washington he has decided that he can do more good at home and has resigned. It is needless to add that so useful and unselfish a man is an Editor!—Pittsboro Record.

Light Pleasantry of England.

The chief thing about the great republic is, after all, that it is very big, but one little intaglio, found at Delphi or Olympia, is of more interest, in one way, and infinitely more fascinating. The opprobrium of gigantic newness lies upon the American continent, and there are numbers of Americans who would exchange all New York, and Chicago into the bargain, for one ancient monastery or one battlemented fortress of the past. Our transatlantic cousins are a wonderful and delightful people, but they cannot show a single antique, unless they have imported it from the old world. It is not surprising, then, that as soon as they have "made their pile," or are on the way to making it, the first thing Americans think of is a visit to Europe, and, most of all, to the old land. It has been said that the strongest wish of every American is to be an Englishman. But, if they only knew it, they are Englishmen.—London Standard.

Grows Its Own Heads and Tails.

Darwin, the great naturalist, is authority for the statement that earthworms possess the remarkable faculty of reproducing a head or a tail in case an accident occurs to either end. If one be cut in two at the middle, the tail will immediately set about repairing damages and growing a new head. The head end is also equal to the emergency, and within a surprisingly brief period of time grows a tail of its own.

Thinking and Doing.

I have been a great deal happier since I have given up thinking about what is easy and pleasant and being discontented because I could not have my own way. Our life is determined for us, and it makes the mind very free when we give up wishing and only think of bearing what is laid upon us and doing what is given us to do.—George Eliot.
