A Public Enemy.

Marion Butler, in his speech in Charlotte last Friday night, telling the people of the oppressions to which they are subjected, said to them that it would not do for them to resort to bullets for the redress of their grievances, because their oppressors have the government and would thus be enabled to coerce and crush them. The logical inference is that the people ought, by right, to rise up in arms against the government; that they have justification for so doing and that the only consideration which should restrain them relates wholly to the practicability of revolution. This government is one of the people and this suggestion of rebellion against it is a clear denial of the right of majority rule. The majority of the people elect the men who make and those who execute the laws, and yet here is a fellow who will soon take the oath as a United States Senator to support the constitution and the laws, going around advising against rebellion upon the ground only that it is not practicable. A person who indulges in such talk is not only unworthy the blessings of free government himself but is a public enemy. None but a bad man would do it. He who talks thus should be regarded as a dangerous element in society and should be shunned as one shuns a poisonous snake.—Statesville Landmark.

A Suggestion as to Turnips.

This dry, hot weather is expected to adversely affect the turnip crop now growing. It is too late to do anything with rutabagas—they being of slow growth—than take the chances with those growing, but a gardner informs us that white turnips will still come and do well if planted.

It might be well for our farmer friends to try another sowing. If the first sown ones should turn out poorly there might be good money in the second sowing.—Newberne Journal.

The Governor of Texas has called a special session of the legislature of that State to take action on prize fighting. Texas evidently does not want any outsiders to come into that State and fight.

The Charlotte Observer says according to the new law dealers in tobacco are required to pay an annual tax of 5 per cents. on the thousand, and one-half per cent per pound on manufactured tobacco. Some of the merchants are either ignorant of, or have forgotten the law and are notified to make their returns.

A Kiss.

One of our exchanges has taken a shy at kissing. It says that Judas betrayed the Savior with a kiss, and from that hour to the present day the world has been betrayed by a kiss. There is, by the way, a good deal more in this unique proposition than would appear on the surface. A young man, for example, kisses a maiden and makes her his wife, and the next thing we know the sparkling wine has lured him away from her side. He tells her a lie and seals it with a kiss, and the young wife believes every word of it. The son has a kiss for his mother while she toils with the needle for him, and in a year or two the gambling den has more of his love than the woman who bore him. The daughter has a kiss as she wishes mother had not so much to do, while she toils on the veranda for hours and reads trashy novels of the Trilby type.

While the foregoing specimens are, of course, exceptions to the general rule, their counterparts are to be found in every community, and that without the aid of a magnifying glass. A kiss and a smile have been the ruin of thousands, while on the other hand, often men have been made heroes by a kick and a cuff. —German town (Pa) Independent.

A Difference of "Time" at Atlanta.

Unless visitors from North Carolina make a note of the difference in time they are apt to be put to many little annoyances. If those who go from this section will set their watches one hour fast, on reaching Atlanta, they will have no trouble on the score of keeping the correct time, for Atlanta time is just one hour slower than North Carolina time. When it is 12 o'clock noon here, it is 11 A.M. in Atlanta. It is easily seen how this hour's difference in time may work trouble for those careless about such matters, especially when they want to be prompt at dinner, at the theatre or more particularly when they want to catch a train for home. North Carolina people shouldn't forget that when it is 12 o'clock in Atlanta it is 1 o'clock in North Carolina and fix their watches so that they will not get muddled. —Raleigh Press Visitor.

Yesterday Adjutant General Cameron issued a requisition for revolvers for commission officers of the guard. The requisition includes 110 Colts revolvers, 38 calibre, 110 cartridge belts, 110 pistol holsters and 6,000 revolver-ball cartridges. Maj. Hayes remarked yesterday that he considered the militia now to be in better condition than it ever had been, as far as his observation went. The men are thoroughly provided for and comfortable in every way, both in clothing, camp-outfit and military supplies, all which is largely due to the unceasing interest and vigilance and good management of General Cameron. —Raleigh News and Observer.

First-Class Work.

Eleven Years Ago.

This fall is very much like the one eleven years ago. Most every one will remember that when the State Exposition opened in Raleigh the first of October, 1884, the weather was very much as it has been the week. The boys of the old Greenville Guard will not soon forget the hot march they had.—Greenville REFLECTOR.

The occasion is well remembered. We were a private in the Greenville Guard and with them and the other members of the State Guard, some 1,100 or 1,200 in number, stood in the broiling sun for fully two hours in the rear of the capital while the big officers and dignitaries were getting in their carriages and on their horses. After this long wait came a terrible tramp of two miles through dust and heat to the exposition grounds. Every company in line had men who fell by the wayside, overcome by heat, and some were seriously sick. One poor fellow, we believe, died from the effects of his exertion. We remember, too, that an effort was made to have the boys appear on dress parade after all their work, and what a howl of protest went up from the officers who knew of their suffering. Col. Cotten, of the First Regiment, now Brigadier General, threatened to resign his commission and dishonour his regiment before submitting to such inhuman treatment, and other equally as strong protests were made. One captain remarked that the 2,500 cartridges in the boxes of his men would be exhausted before they went out. It was exceedingly hot and trying on the boys and the experience almost cured us of "soldiering."—Salisbury Herald.

The Base of it All.

The Baltimore Sun, in referring to the price of cotton at this time, takes occasion to say that after all there can be no real, substantial prosperity unless the farmer is getting reasonable prices; for what he has to sell, for the farmer is the base upon which all the whole fabric of our national prosperity and happiness rests. This is very true. If the farmer is successful and crops are good the country is very likely to be prosperous.

Speaking of cotton planting, our contemporary says that the cotton planters of the South are this year receiving about 3 cents a pound more for their cotton than they got last year. This is an advance of about $15 per bale. Estimating the crop this year at 8,000,000 bales which is 2,000,000 under some of the estimates, the 3 cents a pound will bring $130,000,000 more into the cotton States than last year. The cotton and the wheat growers and those dependent upon them are all consumers of the manufactured product, and the vast sum of money mentioned will all be spent in buying the products of labor.

As it is with these products of cotton and wheat so it is with everything grown by the farmer. Success to him benefits all.—Norfolk Virginian.

To the Farmers of North Carolina.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE.

That I will be at the following named places for the purpose of selling Farm Rights for my improved method of hanging tobacco—known as the Loop String Patent. Patented by P. B. Farmer Oct. 21, 1889, and by him duly assigned to me, appears of Record in the Patent office of the United States at Washington, D. C. The very low rates made below will hold good until Oct. 23, 1895, to wit:

For Five Acres or less, $3.00. For a greater number than Five Acres, $5.00.

I shall be glad to meet the farmers in person at Greenville, N. C. Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 2d and 3d. Tarboro, N. C., Friday and Saturday, October 4th and 5th. Rocky Mount, N. C., Monday and Tuesday, October 7th and 8th. Wilson, N. C., Wednesday and Thursday, October 9th and 10th. Louisburg, N. C., Friday and Saturday, October 11th and 12th. Parties who prefer to purchase Farm Rights at once, or who cannot meet me at any of the places named, may remit at my risk by P. O. on Danville, Va., or by Registered Letter to my address at Laurel Grove, Va., and Rights will be promptly sent by mail. In writing please state number of acres grown this year.

What Whiskey Does.

It clogs and befuddles the brain and overworks the heart.

It arrests digestion and causes fatty degeneration of the kidneys.

It creates an appetite which is only increased by being gratified.

It destroys the nerve force and paralyzes the energy of man.

It transmits disease to the third and fourth generation by heredity.

It ruins the mental and physical faculties, and wrecks the moral powers as well.

It demoralizes business, politics and society.

It degrades father and son, and blights the love of wife and mother, and chains womanhood in a hell of chastity.

It blocks the wheels of industry, closes mines and mills, and cripples the markets.

It causes strikes fills jails and piles cost on country, state and nation.

It hinders honest legislation and creates laws which are a stench in the nostrils of every patriot.

And above all, it damns men eternally and leaves them without hope in life or death.

Baltimore Wins.

The base ball games of last week gives Baltimore the pennant, that club being so far ahead that no other can reach it. Cleveland comes in a close second. Baltimore's success over New York Saturday settled the unfinished business.

The following is the record of the clubs, including the games played Saturday.

	Won	Lost	Per Cent
Baltimore	86	43	.666
Cleveland	84	45	.651
Philadelphia	77	53	.592
Chicago	71	59	.550
Brooklyn	72	59	.549
Boston	70	57	.543
Pittsburg	71	62	.534
Cincinnati	66	63	.512
New York	66	64	.508
Washington	42	84	.333
St. Louis	39	92	.288
Louisville	34	96	.262

President Winston writes us that the enrollment at the University is 505, as follows: graduates 8, seniors 40, juniors 56, sophomores 67, freshmen 134, medical 27, law 43, teachers in summer school 140—total 575. Counted twice 10, making the actual total 565.

AUTUMN ANATOMY.

People Going and Coming These Early Fall Days.

Maj. L. C. Latham has been quite sick for several days.

Rev. J. W. McNamara, of Washington, spent today here.

Sheriff R. W. King left for Raleigh today to take a prisoner to the penitentiary.

W. S. Bernard has returned to Chocowinity to resume his position as instructor in the Hughes school there.

Dr. David Morrill, of Farmville, took the train here today for Baltimore, to attend Baltimore Medical College.

Mrs. Pattie Winstead, who was visiting her parents at the King House, left for her home in Rocky Mount today.

Mrs. T. B. Moore, Mrs. Susan Moore and Foster Quinn, one of the REFLECTOR boys, returned from a visit to Grifton this morning.

The tobacco men are going to have an artesian well sunk at some convenient point near the warehouses. The machinery is here for putting down the well. This is a good step and we hope will be followed by more wells.

The men who dip their pens in rose-colored ink have latterly had much to say of the greatly improved outlook and it is no doubt true that there has been some reaction that is favorable since the very low plane of 1894, when the bottom had well-nigh dropped out. But somehow the tramp business flourishes. According to a Northern "authority," in 1892, the number of tramps was 45,142, costing $9,000,000 annually for their support. He says that this devouring army has so increased that in 1895, it really numbers 85,268, costing the people $17,000,000 to feed them. The army of tramps is being recruited and enlarged all the time. Why? Where is the cure?—Wilmington Messenger.
