ATLANTA'S ATTRACTION.

The Great Exposition Increases in Interest.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 18th, 1895—To write about the Cotton States and International Exposition now in progress here is a difficult undertaking, as there is so much to be seen one can hardly tell where to begin describing it. In fact it cannot be described in print, but must be seen to be fully appreciated.

Upon entering the grounds such a picture meets the eye as to almost bewilder the spectator, and he is at first at a loss to know just which way to go. However, I came to "see the show," and throwing bewilderment aside I started out to see it.

Right in front of the main entrance is the Georgia building, containing a superb exhibit of the products of the State arranged in a manner very striking and pleasing. To the left of the entrance is the fire building, equipped with engines and firemen from the city department.

On to the left you next come to the Pennsylvania building. On the porch to this building is the historic old liberty bell, over the coming of which the city authorities of Philadelphia had such a warm contest. There are no exhibits in the building, but it is headquarters for all delegations from the Keystone State. Near by is situated the New York building and the Piedmont Club building.

Next you come to the Fine Arts building where can be seen many specimens of paintings and sculpture by some of the world's best artists. Then you come to the U. S. Government building which is a place of unusual interest. Here "Uncle Sam" makes a very elaborate exhibit from the different departments of the government.

Following the same direction you next come to the Plant System building containing a beautiful exhibit of Florida product

RICHER AND HANDSOMER

Than any ever produced. My Clothes, Hats and Furnishings, I'm talking about. Look over the stock; it's complete now, and see if you don't agree with me. One of two things I always mean to do: To sell you better goods than you get elsewhere for the same price; to sell you the same goods lower than you get them.

made by the railways of that State. Next in order comes the Alabama building which also has a very creditable display.

This brings you out to the end of the first avenue, crossing over which Confederate Hall is reached. This building contains a display of Confederate relics that recall much history of the war between the States. Occupying a prominent position in the centre of the hall was the cradle in which Jeff Davis was rocked when a baby. Then there was a homespun dress made by a daughter of the Calhoun family, a uniform worn by Kirby Smith, a soldier's valise just as it was sent home to his family after he was killed, and many other interesting articles that space forbids mentioning.

Returning on the same avenue you next come to the Illinois and Massachusetts building. The former was not yet open and the latter lacked a little of being completed. Passing these you next come to the Manufacturers and Liberal Arts building. This is the largest and possibly the most interesting building in the grounds. It contains exhibits from nearly all the States and the principal foreign countries. Several hours can be spent among these profitably. Near this building is a tower containing a chime of bells that several times during the day peal forth the mellow notes of some familiar hymn.

Are You a Help to Your Husband?

Of course all ladies help their husbands all they can. When one don't help its because they don't know how. I know how you can help your husband and save a nice little sum, that is if you have got to buy any DRESS GOODS, NOTIONS and SHOES, by trading with

H. B. CLARK.

You will find that a dollar will buy more at my store than a dollar ever bought before. This a broad statement, but it is true. The only way to account for this lowness in prices is the fact that a little profit is all I expect. To simply say my line of dress goods are pretty is not doing them justice, they are more than pretty dainty and sensible novelties that combine style and wear and satisfaction. My line CLOTHING and GENTS FURNISHINGS is in reach of every one. I have the nicest and cheapest ever brought to this town. Don't forget to see me before buying.

PRITCHARD FOR FULL FUSION.

ASHEVILLE, Oct. 17.—In the course of a speech at Hendersonville to-day, Senator Pritchard, speaking on the question of fusion said: "A great deal is being said in regard to the policy the Republican party will pursue in North Carolina at the next election. I am in favor of honorable co-operation on the electoral ticket, as on the State and county tickets. That is, I favor a division of the electoral ticket in such a way as to secure the election of so many Republican electors pledged to vote for the nominee of the Republican party and of so many Populist electors pledged to vote for the nominee of the Populist party. In the selection of electors individual views in regard to silver or any other matter ought not to be considered. I am unalterably opposed to what is known as "independence for the silver ticket." While I am in favor of the free coinage of silver, and shall work and vote for it in Congress, at the same time I am not in favor of abandoning our national Republican organization in the State and adopting any one specific issue. It is the patriotic duty of every loyal Republican and Populist in North Carolina to see to it that the Democrats are defeated in the State at the next election. Should we fail to co-operate and thereby give the Democrats the advantage of us, the result will be the enactment of election laws similar to those in force in South Carolina and Mississippi, and it will be impossible for Republicans or Populists in the future to secure fair treatment at the polls. With co-operation from top to bottom victory will be easy, certain and overwhelming. With co-operation on the State ticket only, and three competing electoral tickets in the field, the result would be doubtful, particularly on account of the new election law, which requires that there be only two ballots and that the names of electors and State officers shall be on the same ballot, and the further fact that it will cause more or less confusion in each one of counties where we have co-operation and in every congressional district where there is co-operation on the electoral as well as on the State ticket. The adoption of the policy of some of our friends would simply mean the abandonment of those Republicans who were elected to Congress at the last election by means of co-operation. It is a fact that there was not a single Republican elected to Congress at the last election without the aid of Populist votes.—News and Observer.

THINGS TO REMEMBER.

The path of duty lies in what is near.

A man who marries for money usually earns it.

Inexperience is even more costly than experience.

The gambler is always sure of winning next time.

When you introduce a moral lesson let it be brief.

The door of the temple of fame opens both ways.

Loss of time grieves him most who knows most.

Man owes more to himself than he is willing to pay.

Pleasure becomes monotonous, but happiness never.

Love is within the reach of all who care to have it.

Civilization produces its own peculiar breed of savages.

There will be no new women until there is a new creation.

Love at first sight will not always survive a second look.

Every woman regards her first baby as an infant phenomenon.

Lots of men are afraid of ghosts and yet have no fear of spirits.

Sow good services; sweet remembrances will grow from them.

The Asheville Citizen congratulates the people on the fact that at last they know where Pearson stands. He declared at Hendersonville last week that he was a Republican and would support the candidate for President nominated by the Republican National Convention. Now that Pearson and Spier Whitaker are located, the procession may move forward.—Raleigh News and Observer.

It is Walter Henry, Baylus Cade and other statesmen out of job who are doing most of the clamoring for "relief" just at this time. Stroud, Shuford, Skinner & Co got "relief" last year in the shape of a $5,000 salary. They have suddenly quit favoring decreasing all salaries to correspond with the reduction in the price of cotton. If all the "Reformers" could have been given an office, peace and quiet would reign in the country now.—Raleigh News & Observer.

A Queer Trade.
 A queer trade is followed by half a dozen side-walk merchants outside the Philadelphia House of Correction. Every person discharged from the institution receives on leaving a new pair of shoes. Traders lie in wait for them discharged prisoners and offer them a pair of old and comfortable shoes and twenty-five or fifty cents for their new pair. In a great majority of cases the trade is made. The House of Correction shoes are well made and strong, and the traders get a good price for them from workmen. — New York Sun

Wednesday, fair.

The Stanly Enterprise said last week Mr. T. S. Parker killed two copper heads in his smoke house, and on the same day Mr. Tise Whitlock found one in his bed. Mr. Marshall killed one on his table, and Mr. Caesar Parker drew five out of his well. This is a considerable snake story but the Enterprise vouches for its truthfulness.
