Truth in This.

The Rocky Mount Argonaut truthfully says, "the business man who thinks he can do business without advertising shows a lamentable lack of judgment. In this year of our Lord 1895, people who have money to spend read the newspapers, and instead of going around the street hunting for what they need, take up their paper and soon find where they are kept. The man who advertises and does it in a business like manner will in the end come out ahead of his neighbor who thinks the world ought to hunt him up to find out his business. If you want people's trade you should invite them to come to see you."

Her Composition.

A little girl in Boston wrote a composition on boys. Here it is: "The boy is not an animal, yet they can be heard to a considerable distance. When a boy hollers he opens his big mouth like frogs, but girls hold their tongue till they are spoke to, and then they answer respectable and tell just how it was. A boy thinks himself clever because he can wade where it is deep, but God made the dry land for every living thing, and rested on the seventh day. When the boy grows up he is called a husband, and then he stops wading and stays out nights, but the grew-up girl is a widow and keeps house."

Freight Discrimination.

We have it from good authority that the railroad companies will haul cotton from Washington N. C., to Norfolk, for 25 cents a bale. From Pactolus, 12 miles nearer Norfolk, they charge 50 cents a bale. From Whichard's Station, still 6 miles nearer Norfolk, they charge $1.00 a bale. From Parmele, still 8 miles nearer Norfolk, they charge $1.35. That is to say, they charge $1.10 more a bale from Parmele to Norfolk than from Washington, which is 26 miles further.—Scotland Neck

GREENVILLE, N. C.

The Greensboro Record tells it, from information in a letter, that a few miles north of town a couple were to have been married last Wednesday night. While waiting for the arrival of the minister, a former lover of the bride in some way gained access to her and the next thing the guests knew he had carried her away, whether on a flying charger like Davy Crockett, or in his arms is not known.

Of course some of the party was fighting mad, others fighting glad, but what can't be cured must be endured and the situation was accepted.

Fact is it had to be, for before the absence of the bride was noticed she had been gone and was by this time married.

From 1,632 letters received by Latham, Alexander & Co., of New York, as to the probable total cotton crop of the United States for this year, the estimate is placed at 6,435,000 bales as against 9,901,000 bales for last year, or a decrease of more than one-third in the number of bales. It is estimated also that this year's bales average 10 to 12 pounds lighter than last year, making the difference in pounds even greater.

WAKE FOREST ITEMS.

[Special Correspondence.]

Mr. R. L. Bridges, of Bladenboro, has recently subscribed $1,000 to the endowment.

Rev. A. C. Cree, Jr., a student of the college, has been called a pastor of Chapel Hill Baptist church.

Wake Forest College has now enrolled 239 students. This is the largest enrollment in the history of the college.

Prof. Poteat, the Professor of General Biology and Geology, addressed the Baptist Convention at Providence, R. I., on the 12th, his subject being "Physiological Basis of Morality."

The Enzealian Society has elected Mr. Bruce Benton, of Monroe, Morehead orator. The medal was won last year by a Wake Forest man, and we will be glad if one of her men wins it this year.

Rev. Tom Dixon, who graduated here in 1883, and who has gained a world-wide reputation as an orator, lectured here recently. His subject was "New Woman," a subject which today is greatly agitating the minds of the American people. He had a large audience, all of whom listened very attentively. It was a grand lecture indeed.

Profs. J. B. Carlyle and R. W. Haywood, the Professors of Latin, have recently had their recitation rooms furnished with nice and comfortable chairs, purchased of the High Point Chair Co., by themselves and students. The boys no longer have to carry chairs from their rooms to sit in, and lap boards to write on during examinations.

Slander.

Against slander there is no defense. It starts with a word—with a shrug—with a nod—and very often with a smile. It is a pestilence walking in the darkness, spreading contagion far and wide, the most wary traveler can not avoid; it is the heart-searching dagger of the assassin; it is the poisoned arrow whose wounds are incurable; it is the mortal sting of the deadly adder; murder its employment, innocence its prey, and ruin its sport.

The man who at the midnight hour fires the dwelling of another does an injury; he burns the roof, pillar, raiment, the very shelter from the storm and tempest, but he does an injury that can be repaired. The storm may indeed beat and chilling blasts assail, but charity will receive the victim into her dwelling, will give him food to eat and raiment to put on; will timely assist him, raising a roof over the ashes of the old, and will again sit at our fireside and taste the fruit of friendship and of home.

But the man who circulates false reports concerning a brother's character, who exposes every act of his life which may be presented to his disadvantage who goes to this and that brother, tells them he is very tender of his brother's reputation; enjoins upon them the strictest secrecy, and then fills their ears with hearsays and rumors, and, what is worse, leaving them to dwell upon the hints and suggestions of his own busy imagination. The man who thus "filches from another his good name" does him an injustice which neither industry nor charity nor time itself can repair.

Mystic Tree.

Chickens as Weather Prophets

A grizzled and gray Montgomery county farmer formed one of a group of men who were discussing weather signs recently. "I always know when there is to be a wind storm," he said, by watching the turkeys and chickens go to roost each night. In calm weather the fowls always roost with their heads alternating each way; that is, one faces east, the next west, and so on. But when there is going to be a high wind they always roost with their heads turned toward the direction from which it is coming. There are reasons for these different ways of roosting. I take it, when there is no wind to guard against they can see other danger more readily if they are headed in both directions; but when wind is to arise they face it because they can hold their positions better. But the part I can't understand, he concluded, is how the orators know the wind is going to rise, when we mortals lack all intimation of it."

Tobacco Exposition.

Why cannot Winston have a tobacco exposition next autumn? It need not be gotten up on too grand and expensive a scale, and yet it ought not to be a small affair. A happy medium can be struck, and with proper interest displayed a complete success scored.

Our tobacco people should give the matter consideration. Talk it over. Look at it from every point of view. In our opinion it is practical. We believe it would not only be helpful to local tobaccoists, but of benefit to the tobacco interests of the State and of this section. Great crowds would be attracted to this city. Winston and its manufacturers would be handsomely advertised. The market would gain importance.

Cotton and corn and wheat and other products have had their expositions and palaces and so forth, but for tobacco little or nothing has even been done. Why should not Winston, a representative tobacco town, do something in this direction?—Winston Tobacco Journal.

It is evident that the South has at hand, and therefore cheap, all the raw materials entering into manufactures; that its labor and cost of living are cheaper than at the North; that it can, in consequence, manufacture goods of all kinds at less cost than the North or the West; that it can not only supply the home demand, but also export goods with profit; that in the finer lines of manufactures it is extending its operations with success.—North American Review

Mrs. Lou Rountree is very sick.

Prof. C. H. James, of Grindool, spent today here.

A. B. Cherry of Bethel spent Thursday night here.

Adrian Savage returned from Richmond Thursday evening

Miss Susie Johnston, daughter of Mr. Frank Johnston, near town, is critically ill and was not expected to live through the day.

A. R. Dupree left this afternoon, in response to a telegram, to take the run as postal clerk between Tarboro and Washington.

As some inquiry has been made as to the articles on the tobacco market that are appearing in the REFLECTOR, we will state that the articles on the general growth and development of the market are written by Mr. O. L. Joyner, while those on the different warehouses and warehousemen are written by the editor.

He Got The Pin.

A man who believed in the old saying. "See a pin pick it up, and all day long you'll have good luck," saw a pin in front of the postoffice the other day. Bending down to get it his hat tumbled off and rolled into the gutter; his eye glasses fell and broke on the pavement his suspenders gave way behind; he burst the button hole on the back of his shirt collar, and he all but lost his new false teeth. He got the pin.—Weldon News.

For the Children.

Shedman Bros. train dogs and monkeys give a special performance tomorrow (Saturday) A. M., at 10 o'clock for school children. All school children holding school cards will be admitted for 5 cents at this performance by presenting school card at box office. Those children who have not been served with the school cards can have them by applying to Prof. Shedman before 9 A. M., tomorrow. Regular Matinee at 3 P. M. The last appearance at 8 P. M., admission 10 and 20 cents, a few seats reserved.

Subscribe to the DAILY REFLECTOR 25 cents a month.

NOVEMBER NOTES.

Sung in the Key of "G"—Join the Choir of Readers.

The price of cotton gets still worse.

FOR RENT.—A dwelling house in Forbestown. A. FORBES.

It has been fair and warmer today.

A long spectacle case has been found and left at REFLECTOR office.

There is not much cotton left in the fields.

Seed Oats 40 cents, Timothy Hay $1.10 at A. Forbes'.

Splendid breaks at the warehouses again today.

The celebrated clown, John Lowlow, says the "Southern Leader" is the best cigar he ever smoked. For sale at D. S. Smith's.

The days have got mighty close to ten hours in length.

Another large lot of Diamond Ink, best writing fluid made, and Cream Mucilage, at Reflector Book Store.

People are just flocking to the Atlanta Exposition now.

From this day on our Children, Boys, Youths and Mens Clothing will be sold 15 per ct. less than New York cost at Lang's.

Any one wanting a splendid parlor organ cheap, can learn of a bargain by calling at the REFLECTOR office.

The reason so many people go to D. S. Smith for a smoke is because he keeps a full line of the very best brands of cigars and they are sure to get suited.

Our neighbor, the Greenville REFLECTOR, is doing especially fine work for its town. It is giving a series of articles on the Greenville tobacco market. The articles are well illustrated, and the work shows commendable enterprise in Editor Whichard.—Scotland Neck Democrat.

NEWS.—The best Flour is Proctor Kuott sold by S. M. Schultz. Try a 24 lb bag.

The citizens of Robersonville, Martin county, have petitioned the Railroad Commission for the establishment of a freight and passenger station at that point. The petition has been granted, and the station will soon be built.
