WHY THEY STOPPED.

CHOCOWINITY, N. C. Nov. 16, '95.
MR. EDITOR:—

Perhaps I can give the Tobacco Department of the REFLECTOR a bit of curious lore. In a recent edition it was stated that in Colonial days Eastern Carolina was extensively engaged in the culture of tobacco, but for some unexplained cause gave up the industry which was never renewed until recent years. The cause was this, Eastern Carolina was a part of the Virginia Colony and all of the tobacco raised in this section was required to be shipped through the ports of Virginia. The authorities of that Colony picked out all the best tobacco of the farmers of this section and shipped it to England as Virginia tobacco returning to the Carolina farmers only a small per cent. of the profit, while they rejected the poor leaf leaving it on the hands of the farmers as so much crystalized hard labor utterly wasted.

You can gain more information on this point from certain ponderous volumes in the possession of Mr. Alex Blow, of Greenville. I send this because I know Mr. Olthus Joyner is desirous of such quaint and old facts about the industry he has so successfully made his vocation.

Very truly,
WM. S. BERNARD.

Caught a Swan.

Ex-Representative I. K. Witherington, of Swift Creek township, told us Monday night that he had a large swan. About two weeks ago some hands on his place found the swan in the field. It is supposed the swan was with a flock going South, and becoming exhausted from travel fell by the wayside. Mr. Witherington says the fowl has proved a great curiosity in the neighborhood.

The Virginia penitentiary yielded the State a revenue of $51,000 during the last fiscal year.

The Manufacturers' Record is authority for the statement that the finest State exhibit of woods at the Atlanta Exposition, is that presented by North Carolina.

A man who wanted to learn what profession he would have his son enter put him in a room with a Bible, an apple, and a dollar bill. If he found him when he returned reading the Bible, he would make a clergyman of him; if eating the apple, a farmer; and if interested in the dollar bill, a banker. When he returned he found the boy sitting on the Bible, with the dollar bill in his pocket and the apple almost devoured. He made a politician of him.

North Carolina has many things that commend it to the home-seeker, the manufacturer, the farmer, the merchant and the capitalist. To the home-seeker, a residence in a delightful climate; to the farmer, cheap lands and a diversity of productions; to the business man, channels of commerce and trade in almost every locality; to the capitalist, safe and conservative investments and the certainty of a rise in values in the near future. To all good citizens a hearty welcome, just laws, an economical administration of the various branches of government, and kind and considerate treatment.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

About three feet of the top of one of the chimneys of Mr. T. I. Gillam's residence broke loose on last Sunday morning and fell to the ground. Upon examination Mr. Gillam found that two of his other chimneys had large cracks in them at the top. He says he thought he had as good chimneys as there are in town, and cannot account for this occurrence without it was caused by the earthquake shock last week.—Morgan-Herald.

LET HER ROLL.

What's the use in growlin' 'bout the weather? Let her roll!
We'll all get home together if there's sunshine in the soul!
So, never mind the blizzard, soon the summer winds will sigh,
And we'll strike a warmer climate, and we'll get there by and by!

What's the use in growlin' 'bout the weather, day or night?
We'll all get home together if the heart is beatin' right!
So, never mind the blizzard—there is still a brighter sky.
And we'll strike a warmer climate, and we'll get there by and by!—Atlanta Constitution.

Speaking of the newly-organized "North Carolina Prison Association," the Biblical Recorder objects to the use of the term "unfortunates" to describe convicted criminals, and goes on to present these very practical thoughts:

In the first place convicts are not unfortunates; they are criminals. A man who commits crime deserves to suffer. * * * What shall we say of this new organization in the name of "true religion set to music," in behalf of out and out criminals? Do the promoters of it really think that convicts ought to have eiderdown quilts, electric conveniences, and meals to order? Would they have the convict enjoy penitentiary life? * * * What is a penal institution? What is a penitentiary, anyway? It is a place of punishment not a reformatory. The convict, the law-breaker, has forfeited his civil rights. The penitentiary is not to reform him, but to punish.

It will do to sit down and think on these things.—Charlotte Observer.

Patronize the Advertiser.

Patronize the man that advertises. You do not visit your neighbor unless asked to, and do not attend a wedding or party without an invitation; then why intrude upon the privacy of a storekeeper without an invitation? Buy of the live, go ahead business man who not only invites you to come in and see him, but educates and keeps you posted on what is popular in his line of goods.—Ex.

Buried the Bones.

Mr. S. Stern, who, it will be remembered, interested himself in behalf of the Jewish peddler, Sam Tucker, who was murdered in Louisburg, N. C., received by mail Tuesday from Deitz Brothers, of Louisburg, a small box containing a finger and several of the face bones of Tucker, with the request that they be interred with the rest of the remains Mr. Stern sent the bones to the Jewish cemetery, and Tucker's grave was opened and the bones were placed therein. --Richmond Times.

The Best Day Yet.

This has been one of the liveliest days on the Greenville tobacco market we ever saw. There was more tobacco here and it averaged up better in quality than any one day's offerings the market has previously had. The fine weather has given the farmers a good opportunity to handle their tobacco and they are giving the warehousemen all they can do. It made no difference which house had first or last sale today—each warehouse crowded every foot of space it could command and there was load after load that could not get on the sale at either house. Thousands of pounds had to be stored in the prize houses for another day. This week is going to show the largest sales record the market ever had. So much for having a good market and letting the world know it. The market grows better all the time.

AUCTION SALE!
