Some of Those Who Have Carried Their Part of the Burden in Pushing Greenville Forward.

With the introduction of tobacco culture in the eastern counties there was naturally an inflow of tobacco men from the old tobacco belt of the State. Nearly all who came down east were impressed with the superior advantages of the section and a great many moved east to make it their home. In the fall of 1890 quite a number of young men from Oxford came down to Pitt county to instruct our farmers in curing tobacco. Among them was

J. S. JENKINS.

He was so much impressed with the tobacco lands of Eastern Carolina that he decided to move east and make it his future home. At this time there had been no talk whatever of a tobacco market in Greenville that we know of, and while we do not pretend to be thoroughly informed as to whose mind first conceived the idea of building a warehouse, we do know that Mr. Jenkins, at this time, in the fall of 1890, tried to interest a gentleman with the idea of purchasing the land on which the Planters and Eastern Warehouses are now situated for the purpose of building a tobacco warehouse. Failing in this he moved his family from Oxford to Wilson where a warehouse had been built in 1890. In 1891 he cultivated a tobacco crop near the town of Wilson and in the fall of the same year he bought tobacco on the Wilson market. In this year it was (as was stated a year ago in these same columns by this writer when a thousand extra copies of the REFLECTOR were being sent out weekly, the greater part of the expense of which was paid by this writer) that Mr. R. J. Cobb canvassed the county in the interest of building a tobacco warehouse. The result of his labor has too often been stated in these columns to need a repetition. The Greenville warehouse was brought into existence and with the prospect and hope of a market in Greenville, Mr. Jenkins moved from Wilson to Greenville and began actively to engage in the leaf tobacco business with Mr. M. H. Pennix, who was located on the Wilson market. Mr. Jenkins was young and comparatively inexperienced in the business of this kind, but by his superior judgment in his purchases he always gave satisfaction, and from the very beginning of his career on this market he has gradually increased his business until to-day there is no buyer anywhere that has a better, safer and sounder line of orders than he. Jenkins & Pennix dissolved copartnership in 1893, Mr. Jenkins taking the entire business in his charge. As above stated Mr. Jenkins first saw the great possibilities of Greenville as a tobacco center and along this line he has always argued doing any and everything that he could to advance the best interests of the market.

FRANK WILSON

As a judge of what tobacco Mr. Jenkins stands without a superior on the eastern market and as a thoroughly square and upright business man he stands unquestioned before all who know him, and to know him is to like him, for Jenkins is a bravehearted, clever and accommodating boy. During the last three years he has built up a very lucrative business and it is increasing annually. He has the confidence of the trade, the good wishes of his friends and is made of the stuff that is required to succeed.

Nothing New in This.

It is now said that the colored fraternity in Baltimore is coming to the front and clamoring for recognition and a share of the patronage to be given out in that city.

A day or so since a number of them applied to Sheriff Mason for a job, but although that official had something like twenty appointments at his disposal he informed the negro applicants that they had all been filled. He promised them, however, that he would use his influence to get them positions in another line of work, but there is a lurking suspicion that the promise is about all they will ever get.

It is represented that the negroes feel greatly disappointed over the manner in which the white Republican friends have treated them in "the Monumental City," but to those familiar with the history of the aforesaid friends their course is not new.

As the Lynchburg News says: "This is the way that the Republicans always deal with the negroes after elections, but take care never to give them more than a spittoon or sweep-up place of honor or emolument." And right here it may be added that there are whole lots of people who are not sorry for them, either.—Norfolk Virginian.

Money in Cabbage.

Mr. J. Ed. Marsh, who has charge of Mr. Geo. W. Huntley's truck farm, near town, has nearly two acres planted in cabbage. He estimates that, at the least calculation, there are 8,000 salable cabbage heads on the two acres. Some of them are very fine, crisp and heavy, and all of them average up well. They are being put on the market at an average price at 6 cents per head, and it only takes a very short calculation to show that at this rate the 8,000 heads will sell for the snug sum of $480.

Mr. Marsh estimates the total cost of cultivating the cabbage, fertilizers, work, marketing and everything, at $75. He also estimates the value of the waste at $20, when utilized for feeding stock, &c., which added to the $480 the crop proper will bring, makes an even $500, of which amount $425 will be clear money.—Wadesboro Messenger.

Reward Offered.

A Christian Endeavor Society offers a reward for the following, says Rev. H. M. Price in Parish Record:

Missing.—Some families from church.

Stolen.—Several hours from the Lord's day by a number of people in different ages, dressed in their Sunday clothes.

Strayed.—Half a score of lambs believed to have gone in direction of the town of No Sunday School.

Mislaid.—A quantity of silver and copper coins on the counter of a saloon, the owner being in a state of excitement at the time.

Wandered.—Several young people. When last seen were walking up Sabbath breakers' lane, which leads to the city of No Good.

Lost.—A lad carefully reared; not long from home, and for a time very promising; supposed to have gone with one or two older companions to Prodigal Town, Husk Lane.

Any one assisting in the recovery of the above shall in no wise lose his reward.

A New Industry.

There is no use in saying the farmers of this age are not progressive, and we think some of them in Sampson county cap the climax. We are told that two farmers were seen a few days ago on banks of Blackman's Mill pond dipping out tadpoles with a dip net. When asked their motive for this they replied they were going to make fertilizer of them.

This is a new industry in these parts. This is a new industry in these parts, but tadpoles will no doubt make as good fertilizer as fish. We should judge that Sampson can raise its share of tadpoles if it produces them as bountiful as it does Populists. This is beautiful weather for catching them, and our friends should be careful that they do not make an over-production of tadpole cotton next year.—Dunn Union.

The Two-Third Rule.

In Democratic national conventions it requires a two-thirds vote in order to the nomination of the candidates for President and Vice President. We stated this fact the other day, and added that the same rule applied in the adoption of a platform. The Wilmington (N. C.) Star says that we are right as to the candidates for President and Vice President, but wrong as the platform, which it says is adopted by a majority vote.—Richmond Dispatch.

Weather Bulletin.

Sunday, fair, warmer Sunday morning.

Late Trains.

You don't know much more about when to look for the train now than if they had no schedule to run on. The south bound freight train due to leave here at 2:15 in the afternoon, pulled out Friday at 7:30, just five-and-a-quarter hours late. And the passenger train due here at 6:47 did not get in until 9:30. We notice from our exchanges that other towns are having similar trouble.

ATTENTION LADIES.—By special request we will have an auction sale of our line of handsome Silverware for Ladies only, Monday at 2:30 P. M. This will be your last opportunity as this is our last sale here.

For The Orphans.

With commendable zeal Rountree, Brown & Co., of the Star Warehouse, have set apart Friday, December 20, 1895, for a special sale of tobacco, and will donate one-half of the warehouse charges to the Oxford Orphan Asylum. They call upon the Masonic brethren for their help and aid in making this a grand offering.

Church Services

Methodist church.—Sunday School at 9:30 A. M. Preaching at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. by Rev. G. F. Smith.

Episcopal church.—Sunday School at 9:30 A. M. Preaching at 11 A. M. and 7:20 P. M. by Rev. A. Greaves.

Baptist church.—Sunday School at 9:30 A. M. Preaching at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. by Rev. C. M. Billings.

Presbyterian.—Sunday School at 9:30 A. M.

Notice

All persons who have not listed their tax are hereby notified to meet the Board of Councilmen for the Town of Greenville at the Mayors office on Monday Nov. 25th inst., at 10 o'clock, A. M., when they will hear all complaints, correct errors and receive delinquents. All who fail to appear will be charged a double tax. By order of the Board.

This Nov. 6th, 1895.

PROPER NOUNS.

Third Person, Plural Number, Present Tense, Potential Mood.

T. L. Boyd left this morning for Halifax.

Mrs. L. B. Earnhill left this morning for Parmele.

Col. E. A. Keith, of Ayden, came up this morning.

Ollen Warren returned from Nashville Friday evening.

Mrs. M. H. Quislerly, of Kinston, came over this morning to visit her parents.

Miss Stella Lee Fleming, of Middleburg, is visiting her brother, G. P. Fleming.

Miss Emma Williams, of Falkland, has been spending a few days with Mrs. Lou Rountree and returned home Friday.

Rev. A. Greaves came over from Kinston this morning and will conduct services in the Episcopal church tomorrow.

Cards are out for the marriage of Charles L. Abernethy, editor of the Beaufort Herald, to Miss Minnie May, of Speight's Bridge, on Dec. 19th.

Another Enterprise.

Greenville is soon to have another enterprise, one in which the town has for a long time been in need. Mr. S. H. Abbott, of Kinston, who was here Friday, leased a plot of ground from the Greenville Lumber Company upon which to conduct a brick yard, and will move his large plant here from Kinston about the first of the new year. The plant will give employment to about thirty hands and will be a good addition to the business of the community. Such an enterprise will prove a stimulus to building because of the convenience it will afford in getting material.

Kinston Incendiaries.

Mr. Lovitt Hines went over to Kinston, Friday evening, and spent the night there. He tells us there is considerable excitement in the community over the incendiary trials now before the Superior Court for Lenoir county. Three suspected negroes were arrested some months ago and held in jail for this term of court to investigate the charges against them. One of these negroes, who was in the employ of Mr. Bryan Fields at the time of the burning, was first tried, the case resulting in a mistrial, nine of the jury being for acquittal and three for conviction.

NOVEMBER NOTES.

Sung in the Key of "G"—Join the Choir of Readers.

WANTED.—A good messenger boy. REFLECTOR OFFICE.

Tomorrow is the last Sunday in November.

Cotton still a little better today, 7.80 being the price paid.

Mrs. Ricks will soon have a handsome residence built in Forbestown.

The Standard Oil Company advanced prices 1½ cents per gallon this week.

Those who buy Groceries of me once are sure to come again. The reason is I keep nice, fresh goods.

D. S. SMITH.

Greenville has abundant wedding material, but we don't hear of any on the programme for the coming holidays.

After all the dry weather the turnip crop this fall is fine, at least we have seen quantities of very fine ones in market.

Fresh arrivals: Grits, Hominy, Beans, Mince Meat, Dates, Citron, Seeded Raisins, Currents, Canned Cranberry Sauce, Aunt Sarah's Catsup at S. M. Schultz.

Ex-Sheriff Warren tells us that Riverside Nurseries has been well crowded with orders for fruit trees during the last few weeks.

NEWS.—The best Flour is Proctor Knott sold by S. M. Schultz. Try a 24 lb bag.

Rehearsals are going on nightly for the drama "Among the Breakers," which will be presented in the Opera House Thanksgiving night.

Choice supply of fresh Groceries, Fruits and Canned Goods, at D. S. Smith's.

If you are looking for a good place to locate, don't make a decision until you have seen Greenville. This town offers splendid advantages to the homeseeker.

Another large lot of Diamond Ink, best writing fluid made, and Cream Mucilage, at Reflector Book Store.

There are in Greenville two wells of as fine mineral water as can be found in the State. One of these is at the College Hotel and the other in the yard of H. A. Sutton.

A rare opportunity to purchase bargains in Silverware at lowest possible prices, next door to Penders's.

Pat Gorman's horse sale and the silverware auction both drew good crowds up the street this afternoon. The horse sale was lively and eight head were disposed of at fair prices.
