THE N. C. CONFERENCE.

In Session at Elizabeth City.

FOURTH DAY.

After reading of yesterday's journal, the transfer certificates of A. W. Crumpler, of St. Louis conference and Ernest Fox, of Western North Carolina conference, were presented. The names of R. W. Townsend and C. W. Taylor were transferred to the Committee on Conference Relations.

Question 20 was resumed, and the seventy-two preachers not previously reported were called, and their characters passed. The class of five young ministers, J. B. Gibson, Edward Kelly, W. F. Craven, W. C. Hocutt, and W. E. Merritt were admitted into full membership in the conference, the bishop delivering to them a most solemn and impressive charge.

Question 30, as to where the next conference will be held, was called, and Raleigh and Kinston were placed in nomination, the latter receiving a small majority. On motion the vote for Kinston was made unanimous.

The report of the committee on district conference records was read and adopted.

The report of the committee on books and periodicals were read and adopted, except that referring to the North Carolina Christian Advocate, which was made the special order for next Monday at 10 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Hoss, of Nashville, spoke briefly in behalf of the Missionary Review.

The morning session closed at 1 o'clock with benediction by Bishop Wilson.

The afternoon session opened at 3 o'clock, Rev. R. A. Willis, of Fayetteville, presiding. The committee on education submitted its report through Chairman Beaman, of Goldsboro.

Rev. Dr. John Kilgo, president of Trinity college, and Rev. J. M. Rhodes, president of Littleton Female college, made strong speeches in behalf of Christian Education.

To-night there was a meeting of the Board of Missions and earnest and forcible addresses were delivered by Bishop Wilson, Rev. B. R. Hall and others.

The pulpits of all the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches, both white and colored, will be filled to-morrow with preachers of the conference.

Conference will probably adjourn Monday afternoon and a special train will run early Tuesday morning to connect with the outgoing trains to North Carolina. For the first time during the conference weather was fine to-day.

The difficulty in the matter of Rev. A. B. Crumpler was adjusted and the charges withdrawn.

The missionary meeting to-night was addressed by Bishop Wilson. The bishop will be requested to appoint a missionary secretary for the conference and Rev. G. A. Oglesby will be secretary.

Better Work Fast.

We call the attention of the boys to our offer of 5 months tuition to the one who will bring us the largest number of subscribers to the weekly REFLECTOR. Only a few weeks are now left for this contest. It will be too late after you see the number published to say "Why, I could have got more subscribers than that." The best thing to do is to start now and see how many you can get. You have until January 11th to work for this prize. Read our offer in another column and go to work for it.

Housekeepers should buy their nice Groceries for Christmas cooking of D. S. Smith if they want the best.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The funeral of Hon. Allen G. Thurman was held from his late residence in Columbus, Ohio, on Saturday. Rev. J. L. Grover, 89 years old officiating.

There are prospects of a duel between Congressman Boatner and Major Hearsay of the New Orleans States.

Byron Dozier, of Norfolk, was fatally stabbed by Joseph Morritz.

J. B. Pace, banker and capitalist of Richmond, made an assignment Saturday. Liabilities are placed at $900,000 which it is thought there will be sufficient assets to cover.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the National People's Party will be held in St. Louis, Jan. 17th, to select time and place for the People's Party National Convention.

Bethel Items.

BETHEL, N. C., Dec. 16.—Gen. John W. Cotton, of Tarboro, was in town Friday.

J. L. Sugg, of Greenville, spent Friday night in town on insurance business.

Dr. J. D. Bullock went to Greenville to-day.

G. W. Blount, of Williamston, spent last Friday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Keel, of Falkland, spent Sunday night in town visiting relatives.

Rev. W. A. Forbes is attending the Methodist conference at Elizabeth City.

Bethel presents a sad and desolate appearance since the fire. Several of the losses sustained were much larger than reported in your paper Friday. I will give you a correct report later.

IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Matters of Interest Over the State.

The enrollment at the white graded school at Charlotte is 1,204 scholars.

The court house at Murphy, Cherokee county, was burned Saturday. The records were saved.

Twelve cars of a freight train on the Seaboard Air Line were wrecked at Warren Plains Saturday.

In the Beaufort graveyard insurance cases, tried last week in Jones county, there were several convictions.

An excessively polite Hendersonville merchant, being asked by a customer if he had any nut-crackers, replied, "No, madam, but we have oyster crackers."

Our townsman, T. P. Johnston, reports having planted five acres of his best land in black walnuts. the past week. This is a new departure in the right direction and his example should be followed by all lovers of forestry all over this State.—Salisbury Herald.

James Tyson, who has been confined for some time on account of an old wound received in one of his lower limbs during the war, is resting some better. His physician, however, thinks that amputation is necessary for permanent relief and it is quite likely that the wounded member will be taken off.—Durham Sun.

Raleigh or Kinston?

The dispatches from Elizabeth City to the different papers had the meeting place for the N. C. Conference next year mixed, some saying it was Raleigh and some Kinston. See the first reports the REFLECTOR published yesterday that Raleigh was the place, but we were called down on it. In the proceedings published to-day Kinston is given as the lucky place.

Low Rates to Atlanta.

The railroads are making a low rate to the Atlanta Exposition for the holidays, tickets to be sold between the 15th and 25th, good for five days. The rate for the round trip from Greenville will be $7.75.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 17TH, 1895.

Judge Dick said in his charge to the grand jury at Charlotte Tuesday: "If all the evils in the world were placed on one side and whiskey on the other, it would more than outbalance them. It is the evil of the age."

There are five candidates for Sergeant-at-Arms of the United States Senate now in the field and working energetically to secure their election. They are Captain G. A. Curtis, of New Hampshire, backed by Senators Chandler and Gallinger; Smith D. Frye, of Iowa; ex-Sergeant-at-Arms Valention, of Nebraska; Mr. Shaw, of Washington, and Major Grant, of North Carolina.

POLITICAL OPINIONS.

It is said that for every $100 the Government gets through fines imposed on violators of the revenue law it costs $150. There is much talk of useless persecution instead of prosecution on the part of Federal authorities. Persons maimed for life and women eighty years old, none of them able to support themselves, have been indicted this way.—Salisbury Herald.

One of the prominent negroes in North Carolina, who is at the head of one of the principal educational institutions for his race in the State, has pointed out to the Citizen the dangers that threaten our institutions should the present crowd be continued in control in North Carolina. When the intelligent portion of the colored race see and acknowledge that this is what is meant by Republican-Populist control, is it not time that the white men of the State were organizing for next year's fight?—Asheville Citizen.

The bill which Mr. Settle, of North Carolina, will introduce into the House of Representatives soon after the Christmas holidays does not promise to do much towards settling the free coinage question. To levy customs duties upon silver coming to this from other countries will be to cause a fall in the price of silver. So also as to the proposition to pay 50 per cent. of customs duties in gold. In a word, Mr. Settle will not make much reputation by introducing such a silver bill as his into the House of Representatives.—Richmond Dispatch.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald polled the members of the national Republican committee, during its session in Washington the early part of the week, as to their presidential preferences, with the following result: For McKinley, 10; Reed, 11; Allison, 9; Morton, 8; Cameron, 4; Harrison, 2; Cullom, 1; Davis, 2; Bradley, 1; Spooner, 1, and Elkins 2. In this enumeration Committee man Cowles, of North Carolina, is placed in the Reed column. There are two surprises in the list—the strength of Allison and the weakness of Harrison.—Charlotte Democrat.

A Big Truth in Little Space.

The Goldsboro Argus turns out a big chunk of truth and sound wisdom in the following paragraph:

"The happiest men in the South are those who live at home, busy with their own affairs and expect nothing at the hands of the government. And probably the most miserable class of men in the country are those who are trying to draw their rations from the public crib. Office-holding temporarily—and one cannot reasonably expect to hold office all the time—to a certain extent unfits a man for the general business affairs of life, and the discarded office-holder then has to commence business on his own hook at a disadvantage. Much better is it for a man to adopt some business vocation, stick to it, and build up a business of his own that will not be dependent upon the fickleness of the public mind."

Push.

Push is a talent as much as skill in any art. You can commence pushing by imagining yourself as a pusher. Keep yourself before yourself in your mind as a pusher and such frame of mind will at length make you push. There is a power in a continual imagination of yourself in any certain character. Imagine that the best belongs to you and you will find the best coming to you. Imagine the worst, see yourself in the poor house, and the poor house come to you. Success, like charity, must commence at home in the mind. If now you are compelled to live at home in a poor room and on poor fare, do so only under protest. Keep your mind on the better room and the better fare. Don't say, "I suppose I must always take up with this." Say, instead, "I am going to have better things than these." You are creating for yourself strength, not weakness. You are then ever strengthening the inexplicable mental attraction which will bring these things to you.—Randolph Argus.

Sweeping Reduction in Atlanta Exposition Rates via Southern Railway.

The Southern Railway will sell, on December 19 to 25 inclusive, round-trip tickets from Washington to Atlanta and return at rate of $8.75 for the round trip of 1,300 miles; good five days from date of sale. Rates from all other points in same proportion, which are the lowest rates ever offered for any similar occasion; affording a splendid opportunity to visit the Atlanta Exposition, conceded to be second in importance only to the World's Fair.

The Southern Railway is the only line operating solid vestibuled trains of Pullman palace cars and elegant first-class day coaches between New York, Washington and Atlanta without change. Time, New York to Atlanta, 24 hours; Washington to Atlanta, 18 hours. Three trains daily in each direction. Christmas Holiday parties now being organized.

Tickets good for ten (10) days from date of sale will also be sold Washington to Atlanta and return at rate of $14, December 19 to 26 inclusive, also on December 28, 1895, enabling a longer stay at the Exposition if desired.

Apply to any representative of that company for full information.

A Fearful Situation.

"Chawles," said Willie Wibbles, "I shall nevah again make fun of melodramas."

"Why not?"

"Those struggles between devotion and duty sometimes happen in weal life. You know how the girl wants to marry a young man who disagrees with her father on politics and goes to war on the other side?"

"Yes—everybody knows her."

"Don't make sport of her—deah boy—don't do it. Suppose this country were to have a war with England. Which would I do, wave the American flag and whistle 'Yankee Doodle' or roll up my pantaloons and sing 'Wale Britannia'?"—Washington Star.

POLISHING FURNITURE.

How to See "Your Face Reflected" in the Shining Tables.

It is a most satisfactory state of affairs and an evidence of careful and dainty housewifery if when entering the room it is evidenced that the chairs, tables, cabinets and other polished furniture surfaces reflect the light, glistening as with much careful rubbing and showing absence of dust and grime.

There is no one of the housekeeper's duties that requires more careful attention than the care of furniture surfaces. Dust will settle, dampness and steam moisten it, and though a room may be carefully put to rights every day some dust is bound to adhere, especially in corners and the crevices of carvings and ornate work, that, if neglected, presents anything but a lovely appearance. If there are children, the imprints of tiny fingers, so hard to keep free from soil, are sure to adorn the edges of tables and form traceries on chairs and other household goods.

The aid of a cabinet maker every month or so to clean the furniture would prove too costly and the repeated varnishings of such articles as require it too much trouble. Therefore a cleaner that will keep the furniture looking nice, remove the stains and soil and does not cost a great deal in time and money is a great boon to housewives.

To reach this end there is nothing better than a mixture of linseed oil and kerosene. Some furniture dealers use linseed and turpentine, but it is not so satisfactory, as after repeated usings the turpentine roughens the polished surface.

If the article to be polished is very much soiled, wash thoroughly with warm soapy water, drying as quickly as possible. Then with a flannel rag dipped in a mixture of two parts linseed to one of kerosene rub the surface thoroughly. Let it stand awhile until you have rubbed another piece, and then with a perfectly clean piece of flannel free from oil polish it until it shines to your taste. This is an easy method of keeping furniture bright, and it does not injure the daintiest wood, the odor soon evaporating if the window is opened.

If there is much furniture to clean and it is badly soiled, mix a small quantity of the oils at a time so that it will be all used, and a very soiled rag should not be tolerated. Clean rags and a little clean oil at a time give much better results. Then be careful to rub every trace of the cleaner from the furniture, or the result will not be what you desire.

To clean fairly well the arms and backs of upholstered furniture that have become dingy use a little gasoline. Use clean flannel for this also, and after dusting briskly with a whisk broom rub with flannel dipped in gasoline; then set in the air until the odor has evaporated. Polished or painted floors, grained or varnished doors, dingy baseboards or any surface that requires polishing, or that the housekeeper desires to make shine, will do so most agreeably if treated to a vigorous rubbing with the linseed and turpentine after first cleansing with soap and water.

Bronzes and bent iron work, fenders and grate fixings all look brighter and fresher for a little rubbing with the oily rags, and the room and its furnishings that you have thus treated present a look of dainty, refined cleanliness that is worth a great deal of work and infinite trouble to produce.—Philadelphia His Art Girl.

She was visiting at the house of the eminent politician.

"I hear," she said, "that you have a valuable addition to your art collection."

"My art collection?" he repeated.

"Yes. I take it for granted that you must have one."

"I have ever striven, madam, to cultivate an appreciation of the beautiful."

"And wasn't it beautiful in the voters to remember you as they did?"

"I don't quite follow you, ma'am," said the eminent politician, growing red in the face.

"Why, I was told that they gave you a beautiful marble heart, and I am just dying to see it."—Washington Star.

Why He Stopped His Paper.

A recent subscriber to a Georgia newspaper writes to the editor to stop his paper and makes this explanation:

"I think people ought to spend their money fur papurs mi daddy didn't and everybody sed he was the intelligentest man in the kentry and had the smartest family of boys that ever dug taters."

WHEN YOUR LETTER CAME.

Sweetheart, when your dear letter came last night,
My heart was burdened with a wild unrest;
I seemed to grope in shadows dim of light
By doubtful moods a prisoner sore distressed;
But then I knew my promptings were the best
If only they found favor in your sight—
Your sweet forgiveness stole a light career,
Sweetheart, when your dear letter came last night.

Sweetheart, if man could always have his way—
If circumstances tore not his castles down—
If perseverance favor found today
And prizes were not given to the clown,
Perhaps—I say perhaps—that some renown
Might come to him whose heart is in his lay,
And he might merit praise, a laurel crown,
Sweetheart, if man could always have his way.

Sweetheart, some day these clouds will disappear,
These darkening shapes that cloud the smiling sun,
The livelong day be bright with blue and clear,
The singers' dreams of worldly prize be won.
Until then, sweetheart, while the hours run
But give your prayers to him who holds you dear.

Your love I'll ask, that most prized boon,
Sweetheart, some day when clouds shall disappear,
—Roy Farrell Greene in Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Night on the Heather.

A strident voice hailed us through the darkness, the voice of our excellent friend, the shepherd of the Redwirehead. His tall form seemed all but gigantic in the failing light, but his walk was sufficient to mark him far off. A rough gray plaid hung on his shoulders, his homespun clothes had a healthy smell of peat reek, and his hand grasped a great horn handled stick, which he dug into the earth as he walked. Clearly the stick was too old a companion to be left at home, for in his other hand he held a gun, and few men think it needful to carry both. He peered into our basket and nodded, for he was a man of few words. We looked at his gun, and he answered our unspoken question.

"Aye," said he, "it's an auld fox that gave me sair work," the lambkin time. She's hidin in a score o' birk on the hill there, and I'll have a shot at her, though I should sit tae mornin'."

We also were out for the night. We would come with him, for one fox was better in our eyes than many trout. So in a trice it was agreed that we two should keep watch on the hill and plot the death of this ancient mother of evil. In the upper parts of the Tweed valley this shooting of foxes is not a crime, but a necessity, for they make deadly havoc among the young lambs in the spring of the year. A price, too, may be had for the skins, and so it comes about that every mountain shepherd traps the young and shoots the old ones as enemies of his profession.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Running Amuck.

A Malay is intolerant of insult or slight; it is something that to him should be wiped out in blood. He will brood over a real or fancied stain on his honor until he is possessed by the desire for revenge. If he cannot wreak it on the offender, he will strike out at the first human being that comes in his way, male or female, old or young. It is this state of blind fury, this vision of blood, that produces the amuck. The Malay has often been called treacherous. I question whether he deserves the reproach more than other men. He is courteous and expects courtesy in return, and he understands only one method of avenging personal insults.—Malay Sketches.

A Shaker Cure.

Among the Shakers there is a singular and very ingenious medicinal custom. If a member of the fraternity has taken cold, her companions seriously set themselves to work to make her angry. They make disagreeable personal remarks about her until she blushes with indignation. Then her blood is heated, and the theory is she will be able to throw off the chill from which she has been suffering.

Lion Strength.

For a short distance a lion or tiger can outrun a man and can equal the speed of a fast horse, but they lose their wind at the end of half a mile at most. They have little endurance and are remarkably weak in lung power. Their strength is the kind which is capable of a terrific effort for a short time.

Education, briefly, is the leading human mind and souls to what is right and best, and to making what is best out of them. The training which makes men happiest in themselves also makes them most serviceable to others.—Ruskin.

Pitt County Stock.

For many years under a Democratic official Mr. A. W. Moye, a Pitt county boy, held the position of chief clerk in the Superior Court Clerk's office of Wake county. In the election last year Wake county, like many others, got caught in the slump and went down under the fusion landslide. D. H. Young was elected Clerk, but not, withstanding Mr. Moye was a Democrat Young could not run the office without him, and though Republicans kept throwing it up at Young it was not until last week that a successor to Mr. Moye was named. Speaking of him the Raleigh Press-Visitor says:

"Mr. Moye, the gentleman who retires, obtains the best testimonial that could be paid him, from the fact that he has continuously held his office under Mr. Young since that gentleman assumed office more than a year ago."

A Fine Effort.

Rev. C. M. Billings preached an excellent sermon Sunday morning on the subject, "Unseen Things." He dwelt in a beautiful simile. He said the physical world is governed by unseen forces, viz: wind, heat electricity and gravitation, so the natural and spiritual life is governed by unseen forces—desire, willpower love, patience the bearing force, resignation and the dying force. The wind, said he, was unseen and could devastate things, but no one know whence it came, but that there was a power behind it that no one could understand. So also with desire and love. A Christian amid death, sickness and trouble could look up with hope, with love that could see beyond, that made them stand firm and bear all. A sweet assurance, that they could not see or understand, but they knew it was there and thereby rested their faith.

between now and 6 o'clock P. M. on Jan 11th, 1896. Two subscribers for 6 months or four subscribers for 3 months will count the same as one yearly subscriber. This is no catch penny device but a bonafide offer, and if only one subscriber should be brought during the time specified the boy who brings it will get the scholarship. Of course we expect more than one subscriber to be brought in, for this is a prize worth winning and many boys will work for it.

In order that there may be an incentive for every boy who wishes to enter this contest, we offer a cash commission of 10 per cent on all subscribers, so that those who fail to get the scholarship will be paid for their work, but the one who wins the scholarship will not get the commission. Now boys get to work with the determination to win this prize. You can get as many sample copies of the REFLECTOR as you need by applying to the office. If you decide to enter this contest send us your name as we wish to know how many boys are working for the prize. We will publish the result of the contest with the name of winner in the issue of the REFLECTOR of Jan. 15th, 1896, giving the successful boy time to enter school on the opening day of spring term Monday, Jan. 20th.
