A SUDDEN DEATH.

Causes Much Sadness in the Community.

Mrs. J. B. Latham was sick last week, having had two or three light chills. Saturday when Mr. Latham went to return from his dinner to the store of Mr. H. B. Clark, for whom he clerks, his wife seemed much better and during the afternoon expressed herself as feeling so well that no one need stay in the room with her. A little past five o'clock Mr. W. B. Burgess, a relative of the family living near by, went in to see how she was getting along and for some minutes Mrs. Latham talked very cheerfully with him. Suddenly she expressed herself as feeling worse and asked for some medicine which she had been taking. Noticing an unusual look on her face Mr. Burgess became alarmed and ran to the door to call some neighbors and to send a messenger for a physician and for Mr. Latham, but before any of them could reach the house she was dead.

Her sudden death was a shock to the town and a severe blow to her husband.

Mrs. Latham was Miss Lamia Dixon before her marriage and was in her 29th year. A husband and three small children are left to mourn their irreparable loss.

Mr. Latham's mother and brother arrived from Washington Sunday morning, but the latter leaving his wife sick had to return in the afternoon.

Mrs. Latham's mother is expected to arrive from Littleton this evening, and the funeral will take place at Mt. Pleasant church, four miles from Greenville to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Where Do Our Birds Winter.

The robin in winter is sometimes seen in the latitudes of St. Louis. He goes southward as far as into Eastern Mexico.

Sometimes the meadow lark may be seen in Northern Illinois during the cold weather, but he is very plentiful then in the Southern States. Long before severe frosts come, the orioles and bobolinks lie them south, and do not return until the grass and leaves are expanding. Blackbirds also through the Southern States, and some of them go as far as the table lands of Mexico.

Of that numerous family, the warblers, the black throated blue warbler winters in Florida, while the yellow-throat and the palm warbler have been found to winter in southern Illinois.

The cat bird goes as far south as Panama and Cuba, and the mocking bird stays largely in the Southern States, although it sometimes goes to the Antilles and the Bahamas during the winter.

The swallows are to be found in Florida, and the purple martins in Mexico; the ruby-throat flies among the orange groves of Florida, while the whip-poor-will may be found as far southward as Guatemala.

The thrashers and the wrens do not go so far south as some other birds. The wood thrush winters in Guatemala, the hermit thrush along the gulf coast, and the cuckoo passes to the highlands of Mexico.

The rose-breasted grosbeak visits Cuba, the indigo bunting reaches Southern Mexico, the golden plover flies as far as Patagonia, while the upland plover makes itself at home in Brazil or Peru.

The more brilliant the plumage of a bird, the further south it migrates, and even those birds which are the most resident—like the jay, the grouse and the quail—move in winter to a milder climate.—Golden Days.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 3RD, 1896.

Cuban matters came to the front with a rush when Senator Morgan, of Ala., on behalf of the Senate committee on Foreign Relations, reported a lengthy resolution setting forth the unfortunate condition of affairs in Cuba and their depressing effect upon our commercial interests, and requesting the President to use his good offices with Spain to get the Cubans recognized as belligerents, in order that the fighting in Cuba may be governed by the rules of war. Nobody expects that Spain will agree, but if she doesn't it is altogether probable that the United States will, unless there is a change in the situation.

Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, more than balanced the speech of Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, against the Monroe doctrine resolution, now before the Senate, by one in its favor which specifically pointed out the errors upon which Mr. Wolcott built his argument. Answering the statements made in English papers about the people of the United States being divided in sentiment Senator Thurston said: "Standing upon the floor of the American Senate, knowing whereof I speak, I say to the people of Great Britain that the grave issues which have been settled by brave men upon American battlefields can never be reopened again. Sir, there is no division of sentiment in the United States. Let but a single drum beat be heard upon our coasts announcing the approach of a foreign foe, and there will spring to arms in North and South the grandest army the world has ever known; animated by a deathless loyalty to their country's flag, and marching on to the mingled and inspiring strains of our two National airs, Yankee Doodle and Dixie."

During the first eight months of last year 22,755 horses, valued at $2,947,000, were shipped from the United States to British ports, as against 15,614 in the same period of 1894, and 10,177 in 1893. The shipments to Continental ports show a large increase, too. The variety of horses in demand are different in almost every country in Europe, varying, of course, with the kind of work they are needed for.

A general simultaneous census of the world for the year 1900 is asked for by the International Statistical Institute. The New York Sun says it can be taken if slight modifications in the time of their regular censuses are made by the chief countries of the world. Portugal, Denmark, the United States, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Belgium, Hungary and Sweden will regularly take their censuses on different days of the year 1900; Holland on the last day of 1899; Norway on the first day of 1901, and Great Britain, France, and Italy later in that year.

TO ALL FREE MASONS.

A Plea for Peace Between the Nations

NASHVILLE, TENN., January, 29.—
"To all Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons Throughout the World—Greeting:

"The Grand Lodge of Tennessee, now sitting in annual communication, in the city of Nashville, send their fraternal greeting to the brethren of the Mystic Tie wheresoever dispersed, and sincerely hope and pray that the war-clouds which now seem hovering over the nations of the earth will soon be dispersed, and the white wings of peace will again cast their lengthening shadows over the world.

"To this end we urge upon every Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons meeting during the year 1896 to issue some fraternal sentiment favoring a peaceful termination of all international strife; also, that they use their great influence with the war-making and peace-keeping Powers of the two worlds, to exhaust all honorable and peaceful means to settle all contention without resort to arms.

"War between nations means death and destruction and untold agonies, and we who believe in the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man cannot refrain from raising our voice in condemnation, of the needless shedding of human blood.

"Brethren, we greet you, and strike hands with you in bringing about a peaceful solution of the impending danger of war."

Moody Moves Many to Tears.

The hundreds of persons who filled the Congregational church Wednesday at East Northfield, Mass., were moved tears as the Rev. Dwight Moody, the evangelist, standing over the open coffin which held the body of his mother, paid a touching tribute to her life of self-sacrifice and devotion, and recounted the story of his own early life of privation and other incidents which the public had never heard.

"She made our home, poor though it was" said he, "the best place on earth to us. She taught us that poverty was no disgrace. During the first years of her widowhood she wept herself to sleep night after night and we never knew of it until later years."

Mr. Moody told of the trying days after the father died leaving the family bankrupt; how the creditors took all property even to the wood from the shed how the children, himself included, had to stay in bed one morning until school time because there was no wood for a fire but a neighbor brought a load of wood before night and the family was kept together. Mr. Moody read from the Bible and from a book of verses given his mother by the late Dr. Everett. Turning to the face of his mother and in the gentle voice which has turned thousands, he said as he shook his head: "God bless you mother, we love you still." Many in the audience were unable to control their grief after this remark and the sobs nearly drowned the voice of the evangelist.

Lafferty's Latest.

The best thing that has been said about the Venezuelan controversy is enrolled to Dr. Lafferty of the Christian Advocate; not over-refined but very funny, yet over-refinement oftentimes takes out all the temper and dulls the edge besides. It is well known that both Mr. Cleveland and Lord Salisbury, the English premier, are what is called stout, protuberant and, in a word, "bay windowed." "Let them fight it out," says the Doctor, "in single combat. They could certainly never reach each other with their fists, and if they stand up to each other like men the whole matter will end in a navel engagement."

"Pa, what is a trip hammer?" "It is the hammer, my son, that your ma leaves on the carpet when she hangs up a picture."—Exchange.

SALLY'S BICYCLE.

FRANK L. STANTON.

When Sally got a bicycle, her mother raised a row;
The girls, when she was growing up, weren't like the girls are now;
The modestest and sweetest girls that lived under the sun—
You never saw a bicycle in eighteen fifty-one!

To think she'd lived to see it—a child she'd raised come out
In them new-fangled bloomers and go ridin' round about!
To think her children had forgot the counsel that she gave
And lived to bring her old gray hairs in sorrow to the grave!

But when Sal had her bicycle a-goin' 'bout a week,
And mother seen the roses that was bloomin' on her cheek,
We noticed that she'd changed her mind, was quiet-like, an so
Sal—she kept on ridin' where the bloomers love to blow!

An' as it came one mornin', jest past the break of day,
A shie din' of herself between a hill or two of hay,
Who should we see but mother, a-workin' in' with a will
On sister Sally's bicycle and goin' fit to kill.

An now we can't git breakfast, and dinner's always late,
For the bicycle is goin' from six o'clock till eight,
And when she comes a-pantin' in we have the biggest fun
With, "Never saw a bicycle in eighteen fifty-one!"

IF

and told every man you met that you had a load of wood to sell, and every man you met would in turn tell every man he met that you had a load of wood to sell and every man you met would in turn tell every man he met that you had a load of wood to sell, it would, in course of time, become pretty well circulated that you had a load of wood to sell; but why not cut it short—not the wood, but the method—and place a good ad in a good newspaper and tell everybody at once. "Delays are dangerous," and a good newspaper would start in where the last man left off and keep on telling everybody that you had a load of wood to sell; or anything else. The REFLECTOR boys are usually up with the times. One of the force reported that he had ground hog for breakfast this morning.

We did not see the ground hog Sunday, but caught a mosquito out basking around. It was a bad day for that mosquito to be out, too, for he never got back in.

County Statement.

Owing to the long sickness of County Treasurer, J. L. Little, last fall, the annual statement of the financial condition of the county could not be prepared for publication as soon after the close of the fiscal year as usual, and the committee only got through with their examination last week. It is now in the hands of the printers, and we begin today giving it in instalments in THE DAILY REFLECTOR. It will be given as a whole in our weekly edition.

The Treasury Statement.

In round figures, the Treasury statement shows the receipts for January to have been $29,000,000, expenditures $32,500,000, making the deficit for the month $3,500,000 and for the fiscal year $19,000,000. Pacific Railroad bonds to the amount of $3,800,000 which fell due January 1st, last, have been paid as fast as presented but $1,500,000 still remains unpaid. These are not accounted "ordinary" expenditures and do not figure in expenditures but will figure in the cash statement in the monthly debt statement.
