EDITORIAL NOTES.

The gold reserve in the U. S. Treasury is now below $48,000,000.

Philadelphia had a million dollar fire Sunday morning. The American Baptist Publication Society's building was among those burned.

Ex-President Harrison has written a letter in which he refuses to allow his name to go before the Republican National convention for the nomination.

There has been a shaking up among piano manufacturers in New York. The Wheelock Company failed and the Weber and Stuyvesant companies both went into the hands of receivers.

State Chairman Marion Butler, Populist has issued an address to his party and all opponents of a single gold standard to write and vote so as to elect eleven silver electors from this State.

A Miss Reel, of Wyoming, proposes if possible, to be Governor of her State, which has adopted woman suffrage in full. Her first name, if reports are correct, is Virginia, and hence they are saying out West, "On with the dance."

Spanish volunteers at Savanilla are reported to have massacred a number of women, after a recent fight, for cheering the Cubans. Was this by way of anticipation of the announced policy of Weyler, "the butcher"—a policy of "fire and blood"?

Eleven years ago a man was lynched at Knoxville, Tenn., for robbing and murdering a drummer. A woman of bad character just died there, and on her death bed confessed that she lured the drummer to an isolated spot where another man committed the murder, the one who was lynched being innocent.

By the strangest coincidence three men met in the house restaurant in Washington the other day whose names were Wheat, Oates and Barley. They began to hunt around, and found another man whose name was Rye. They had never met before, and immediately cemented their ties of relationship by a liberal patronage of the bar. The remarkable feature about the story is that it is true.

Small Farms Pay.

Mr. P. J. Bynum, of Farmville, was in town today selling tobacco. He told the REFLECTOR something of what he had done last year with a one horse crop. He planted three acres in tobacco, 4 acres in cotton, 15 acres in corn and had a small patch of peanuts. From his tobacco crop he has sold $348 clear and has one barn left. He made 1428 pounds lint cotton, 28 barrels of corn, put up 1600 pounds of meat and has a good lot of peanuts on hand. Most of the work on his farm was done by himself and family, the amount expended for extra help during the whole year not exceeding $25. Such examples as this show that money can be made on a small farm carefully attended to.

THREE HELPS.

If the world seems cold to you,
Kindle fires to warm it!
Let their comfort hide from view
Winters that deform it.
Hearts as frozen as your own
To that radiance gather;
You will soon forget to moan
"Ah! the cheerless weather!"

If the world's a wilderness,
Go build houses in it!
Will it help your loneliness
On the winds to din it?
Raise a hut, however slight,
Weeds and brambles smother,
And to roof and meal invite
Some forlorn brother.

If the world's a vale of tears,
Smile till rainbows span it;
Breath the love that life endears,
Clear of clouds to fan it.
Of your gladness lend a gleam
Unto souls that shiver;
Show them how dark Sorrows' stream
Blends with Hope's bright river.

—Lucy Larcom.

IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Matters of Interest Over the State.

A large tobacco factory at Salem was destroyed by fire Monday.

In Alleghany county Preston Andrews, 19 years of age, shot and killed George Edwards, son of Melvin Edwards, one of the leading citizens of the county. The shooting was the result of an old feud.

Bill Williams died at his home near Mocksville last week. Bill was the biggest negro in the State, he weighed nearly 400 pounds. He was so large that a coffin big enough for him could not be obtained, so a box was secured for him and he was buried in it.

The members of the first Presbyterian church of Raleigh, have decided to build a new $20,000 house of worship. Dr. Eugene Daniel, pastor of the church, says that work will begin on the new building in May.

There were 62 deaths in Charlotte during the month of January. Forty-one of these were white and twenty-one colored. Measles caused the death of twenty-seven persons.

Five of the prisoners in Caldwell county jail came very near making their escape a few nights since by cutting the bars of the cage with an old knife. They were found out just in time.

The Roman Catholics of Raleigh announce that they have decided to build a cathedral in that city. It will be one of stone, and its cost will approximate $100,000.

Winston sold 1,948,201 pounds of leaf tobacco during January, an increase of 511,790 pounds over same month last year.

Confederate Generals.

Augusta Chronicle.

As stated in a former article, there were 474 general officers of all grades in the regular military service of the Confederacy. It may be interesting to know just how many of these were severally contributed by the States comprehended in the Southern Confederacy:

North Carolina—Two lieutenant generals; seven major generals; and twenty-nine brigadier generals—38 in all.

South Carolina—Three lieutenant generals; four major generals; and twenty-seven brigadier generals—34 in all.

Georgia—Three lieutenant generals; seven major generals; and forty-two brigadier generals—52 in all.

Florida—One general in Provisional Army of Confederate States; three major generals; and ten brigadier generals—14 in all.

Alabama—One lieutenant general; six major generals; and twenty-nine brigadier generals—36 in all.

Mississippi—Five major generals and thirty brigadier generals—35 in all.

CHAS. EDGEWORTH JONES.
Augusta, Ga., Jan. 7, 1896.

One of the weather prophets is kind enough to predict that February will be a nicer month than January. If the weather clerk can give us better weather during February than he has during January, he will be entitled to a gold medal, as for a general thing January weather this year has been perfectly delightful. Of course, up North and out West they have had snows and blows, and boreal accompaniments with variations, but down here in God's own country we have been basking in the glorious sunshine, and have been breathing an atmosphere just cool enough to be bracing and invigorating. The moral of this is that the people who have to wade around in snow knee-deep nearly all winter should come to this happy land and learn what it is to live in a kingdom over which Jack Frost does not hold despotic sway most of the time. Come South and get thawed out a little.—Berkley Graphic.

THE SOUTHLAND.

O southland! O sunland!
Your skies are always blue,
Your sun is always shining,
And nature smiles on you;
Your hills are crowned with gladness,
Your valleys filled with praise;
Your years, they know no sadness
Through all their halcyon days.

O sunland! O southland!
Your warm winds woo me back,
I cannot stay from you away,
Nor take the traveler's track;
Though all the world be calling
And waves a beckoning hand,
I love you so, I cannot go
From you, my own southland.
—Womankind.

The Tadpole in Science.

At the close of the last century Galvani astonished the world with the experiments he performed on frogs. There is no doubt but what his work, as far as the development of engineering was concerned, almost retarded the progress, at least for a very short time, but he has opened a field which to future generations may be of as much, possibly of more, importance than all the practical applications of electricity today. We refer to the physiological effects of the electric currents.

Now, as we approach the end of another century, another experiment on tadpoles has been made, which in our minds' eye may have tremendous consequence. Dr. Waller has observed that tadpoles face the positive pole when an electric current is sent through the trough in which they live. This is certainly a remarkable fact, and we hope sincerely that this matter may not be taken up as a matter of ridicule or of play, for there may be hidden in this simple experimental fact a vast deal of knowledge; not that we want to prophesy, but on the face of it it does not seem impossible that this simple fact should be the commencement of a knowledge of electro-physiology, which in 100 years from now might in perfection be second to none of our descriptive sciences.

—Max Osterberg in Electric Power.

Royalty at the Pawnbroker's.

Kings and queens are far more frequent customers of the pawnshop than most people would be willing to believe. Thus, Queen Isabella of Spain has repeatedly had her jewels in pawn, while the silver plate of the late ex-king of Naples and of his heroic queen, a sister of the empress of Austria, has been for years at a time reposing in the vaults of the great London pawnbroker Attenuborough. Even the Prince of Wales has known what it is to have his time kept by his uncle, for when visiting the battlefields shortly after the Franco-German war he found himself stranded at Sedan without money enough to pay his hotel bill or to continue his journey. He had no time to telegraph for funds, and even if he had there was the danger of disclosing his identity, which, with respect to French susceptibilities, he was anxious at all costs to keep secret. So he handed his watch and chain to his equerry, General Teesdale, who, adding thereto his own and that of the prince's valet, who accompanied them, proceeded to the local mont de pieté, or pawnshop, where he raised enough money to enable the prince to continue his journey.—Philadelphia Press.

Called Back.

A commercial traveler for a London firm secured an order for £1,000 in the west of England, and, as it was not duly acknowledged, wrote a letter to the firm calling special attention to it and saying, "I thought you would consider such an order quite a feather in my cap."

In reply he received this note from his principal, "We have filed your order, and inclose for your cap the one feather you require."

After about a fortnight came another letter from the firm: "The people who gave you the £1,000 order have failed, and we lose the goods. We have this day sent to you a bagful of feathers for you to fly home with, as we do not want you out on the road for us any more."—Strand Magazine.

A Queer Perfume.

Several substances, whose odor is to western nostrils exceedingly repugnant, are highly esteemed in the east as perfumes. In Persia and Afghanistan, asafetida is considered a delicate perfume, and many luxurious persons carry a quantity of it in their pockets or in a bag suspended from the neck.

Every superintendent of a national cemetery must be an honorably discharged, disabled soldier or officer of the regular or volunteer army.

In 1880 the wages paid to cotton mill hands aggregated $42,000,000. Ten years later it had increased to $66,000,000.

Honoring Judge Brown.

The lawyers of Winston have a very high regard for Judge Geo. H. Brown, Jr., who has held two special and one regular term of court there within the past year. Before court closed Friday night Clement Manly, in behalf of the Winston bar, made a happy speech thanking Judge Brown for his uniform courtesy and just rulings throughout the long term of court. His Honor responded, and his pleasing remarks reciprocated the kind words expressed by Mr. Manly. As a testimonial of their high regard for this just and popular judge, the members of the bar Friday night sent by express to his Honor a beautiful gold headed cane. On it is engraved the following: "Judge Brown, from the bar of Winston, 1895-96—Justice to all." He will know nothing about the present until he receives it or reads notices of it in the papers.

Found $18,000.

A report reaches here that Mr. J. H. Parker, of High Point, hearing that years ago $18,000 in gold had been buried at or near Lineberry, a station on the Factory Branch of the C. F. & Y. V. Railway, determined to locate it. Tradition has it that the owner buried it and either forgot it or was unable to find it. Mr. Parker, so the story goes, made an instrument, went down to Lineberry last week and on Saturday located the spot. Feeling assured his "pointer" had not misinformed him, he went to work digging and soon unearthed it; $18,000 in old gold coin. A passenger who came by the place this morning says the whole country is excited over it and it is declared that every word is true. Who buried it, however, we have been unable to learn.—Greensboro Record.

and told every man you met that you had a load of wood to sell, and every man you met would in turn tell every man he met that you had a load of wood to sell and every man you met would in turn tell every man he met that you had a load of wood to sell, it would, in course of time, become pretty well circulated that you had a load of wood to sell; but why not cut it short—not the wood, but the method—and place a good ad in a good newspaper and tell everybody at once. "Delays are dangerous," and a good newspaper would start in where the last man left off and keep on telling everybody that you had a load of wood to sell; or anything else. ### Better Roads in Prospect.

Chairman Dawson, of the Board of County Commissioners, on Tuesday said to us that he was coming to the belief that the best way to get better public roads for the county is by the means of taxation and working convicts of the county upon them. We were glad to hear him so express himself, and if the other members of the Board are of the same opinion we may expect such a system to be adopted in the near future. The REFLECTOR has for a long time advocated this in the hope that our excellent and progressive Board of Commissioners would take it up. The Legislature enacted a law under which any county wishing to do so could provide a stockade and proper guards and work convicts upon the roads. Several counties in the State have done this and much better roads are reported wherever the system has been inaugurated. Let Pitt continue her progressive march forward.

FOLKS IN FEBRUARY.

Get Around Just Like in any Other Month, Faces Foremost.

Capt. E. M. Pace returned last night.

B. F. Smith returned to Richmond to-day.

B. C. Pearce returned home this morning.

W. B. Quinerly, of Grifton, spent today here.

Miss Mamie King, of Farmville, is visiting her uncle, Sheriff R. W. King.

We regret to hear that J. R. Moyer, whose sickness was mentioned yesterday, has pneumonia.

Mrs. P. C. Monteiro, Miss Louise Latham and the daughters of Col. Harry Skinner all left this morning for Washington City.

S. C. Hamilton left this morning for Norfolk to look after the electric light machinery. He may go on to his old home up in Maine for a few days before returning.

Meet To-night.

Remember the suggestion of Mayor Forbes that citizens of the town meet with the Councilmen to-night to suggest improvements for the town, and discuss a water supply especially. Let your interest be shown in this matter.

Postoffice Robbed.

AYDEN, N. C. Feb. 5, 1896.—The postoffice at this place was broken into last night, but as yet the postmaster is unable to tell what was taken. Some stamps, but not a great quantity, and about $3 in coppers are missing. It will require an overhauling of the office to ascertain just what was stolen.

Moved In.

The Superior Court Clerk and Register of Deeds have each moved the record books and documents of their offices into the county vault. To see how nicely everything is arranged and how secure the records now are makes one wonder how the county got along for so many years without the vault. The Board of Commissioners never made a better investment.

They Throng to Hear Him.

Some of the young ladies are selling tickets for the lecture of Rev. J. T. Betts Friday night. One of them sold 54 tickets yesterday and the outlook is he will have a large audience. We learn that at Kinston he was met by the largest audience that ever assembled at a lecture there, while at Wilson people had to be turned away, more desiring to hear him than could be accommodated in the building.

Brantley Confesses.

From a gentleman who was on the train Tuesday we learn that William Brantley, one of the Bonner murderers, talked freely while they were being taken to the penitentiary, and said that the statements made by David Credle, the accomplice who turned State's evidence, were true. Brantley also said that on the Sunday after the murder, the day upon which Credle could give no account of the movement of the others, he (Brantley) and the two Bell boys were in the woods destroying the papers that were taken from Bonner's pockets.

A Card.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Feb. 5th, 1896.

Language fails to express the deep feelings of gratitude that swells my inmost soul, when I think of the many kindnesses conferred upon me and mine under my sore affliction. Dear and highly valued friends, such manifestation of respect and christian regard, the angels above look down and smile upon and embalm you in memory with love. God bless each one of you, and lighten your burdens here, and brighten your noble hearts with the hope of eternal glory.

J. B. LATHAM.
