Written for Reflector.
I LIVE WITH the RESURRECTED.

BY Z. MOORE.

The Old Brick Store of Greenville
Has undergone repairs.
One feels an awful reverence
To climb its foot-worn stairs,
To miss its folding shutters,
And heavy baten door,
Which, like its former tenants,
Is in its place no more.
The stair is dark and winding,
And 'bove you seems to wait
The ghostly face of past time,
And grinning bones of Fate.
But I had soon forgot this,
Pass'd out the gloomy hall,
Was there in camp with soldiers
Whose names are on the wall.
Here fancy seeks the scattered homes
Of those whose names you see,
From the 50th Virginia
Here's Sergeant Edward Lee.
And this from Hoke's division,
His name you cannot tell.
And this man followed Clingman,
Lieut. Robt. Snell.
The next is Jones, of Flor.,
Initials all erased,
But "D" and "57th"
Is all that can be traced.
Now this one came from Ga.,
His name is Simon Glinn;
Bob Toombs' friend; it may be,
Who knows? It may have been.
This, Wm. Shaw, still living.
He said not long before
As he pass'd with me this building,
"I camped there in the war."

I scinged to read the datings
Of "63" and "4,"
Then march off to Virginia—
Whence they return no more.
There with them, too, I witness
The peerless Jackson's fall,
And die with the fallen heroes,
Whose names are on the wall.
This death-dream still pursuing,
I came, it seemed to me,
To its night-mare, Appomattox,
And laid down arms with Lee.
This prince of Southern chivalry
This worthy lesson gave;
It takes less strength to meet death,
Than is required to live.
Then waking from such horrors,
With peace again restored;
With Davis, Lee and Johnson
Gone up to that reward,
Which God above has promised
The faithful and the brave;
And rev'ling with promises
Of life beyond the grave.
Beyond the sound of cannon,
Beyond the bugle call;
I live with these immortals
Whose names are on the wall.

[It is remembered by many people in Greenville, that during the war the upper story of the building known as the Old Brick Store was a camping quarter for soldiers. There was hardly a Confederate State that did not at some time have representatives encamped there. Many of the soldiers wrote their names upon the walls, some of them still being there. It was going through this building while it is undergoing repairs and reading the names on the wall that suggested the above beautiful verses to the author. Ah! could those old upper walls but speak what stories they could relate, and what memories they could recall of many gallant heroes of the Lost Cause who have "passed over the river" with Jackson.—Ed.]

A Little Hall.

Joe Evans tells us that it hailed pretty lively for a short while this morning, about a mile south of town. The hail stones were as large as the end of his little finger.

THE TOWN'S GREATEST NEED.

Is Water—Small Attendance at the Meeting—Absent Councilmen Break the Quorum and Prevent Action.

An informal meeting was held in the Mayor's office Wednesday night, to give opportunity for an expression of opinion in reference to the needs of the town along the line of general improvements. Councilman W. L. Brown spoke in behalf of a water supply for protection against fire and stated some investigations recently made by himself. He said that he believed the best step that could be taken now, was to build four large cisterns at convenient places. These cisterns would hold sufficient water to protect the town and they could be built at a cost of about $600. There is already on hand in the special tax fund about $500, but the law under which this special tax was levied says it shall apply first to sewerage, second to water supply, and third to street improvements. By using this fund now on hand the cisterns could be built at once, but the Councilmen were unwilling to take the entire responsibility of expending the fund for a water supply, when the act of the Legislature had placed sewerage first, and they could not act in the matter unless authorized to do so by a majority of the voters of the town.

Dr. C. J. O'Hagan fully endorsed what Councilman Brown said in reference to the cisterns, and said it was the best way to supply water for protection against fire that he had heard suggested. He thought that under the circumstances the Councilmen would be justified in going ahead and using the funds in hand for building the cisterns. Dr. O'Hagan also suggested some needed street improvements, and said the work of the lamp lighter could also be considerably improved upon. He said further that he was sorry to see that so few of the property owners of the town were present to show that they had some interest in the matter.

Remarks were also made by F. M. Hodges, E. M. Pace, W. H. Ragsdale and Councilman W. H. Smith, all endorsing the suggestion of Councilman Brown, and urging that the cisterns should be built at the earliest possible moment. The unanimous sentiment was that a water supply is the pressing necessity of the town.

Councilmen Godwin, Wilks and Jenkins were absent, thus breaking a quorum of the Board and preventing any action being taken at this meeting.

Before adjournment Mayor Forbes called a special meeting of the Board for to-night and instructed the Policeman to notify all the members to be present.

In a conversation with Councilman Brown he told the REFLECTOR that he thought the meeting to-night would take steps to get authority from a majority of the tax payers, either by primary election or by signatures to a petition, to use the special tax fund now in hand to build the cisterns.

The Board can take no step that will be of so much benefit to the town as to provide water.

LATE NEWS.

George Nicholson one of the proprietors of the "New Orleans Picayune," died Tuesday afternoon.

Senator L. B. Morgan, at Nashville, Tenn., was shot by a man named Laport, but his life was saved by an Atlanta Constitution which was folded up in his pocket.

At Lincoln, Neb., President Mills of the State Bank of Republican City, was arrested for embezzlement.

So Mrs. Potter Palmer's work in behalf of her husband, to secure the appointment to Germany, did not amount to anything.

The Drummer.

Who hath woe? Who hath contentions? Who hath babblings? Verily, he who goeth forth upon the road to travel.

He goeth forth in the morning with a light heart and a starved collar, and returneth at eventide with soiled raiment and a blister on his heel.

He goeth forth like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour; but, lo, every man he meets smiteth him. He goeth to the place where they do entertain strangers, and what he ordereth of the servant she bringeth not, and that which he doth not order is set before him.

And when eventide has fallen, he sayeth unto the keeper of the house:

"Behold, I would be wakened at the fifth hour of the morning, that I may depart to another country."

And lo, before it is yet light, he knocketh loudly against the door and sayeth, "Arise" in a loud voice "that thou mayest depart upon thy train."

And he that would arise, awaketh in haste, and putteth his right foot into his left shoe, and he girdeth himself quickly, and, behold, he weareth his clothes hinderside before, so great is his haste thereof.

And the collar that should be girt about his neck is coiled in the upper story of his hat.

And when he arriveth at the place from whence he would depart, he findeth that it is only the third hour of the morning, and he leaneth against a telegraph pole, and in his heart he revileth the keeper of the house wherein he slept.

Or perchance he asketh to be wakened at the sixth hour of the morning, and lo, the servant man; knocketh not until the eighth hour and when he railleth the hired man looketh at him with a look of scorn.

He goeth forth to ride upon the railway.

Then cometh in a beautiful maiden, arrayed like the lillies, and behold she taketh a seat afar off; but the dowdy woman with five children, and a wart on her nose, taketh the seat nearest him.

Verily, man that is born of woman, and goeth up the road, is of few days and variegated rations. To-day he hath much that is good and tomorrow the food is as the withered grass, yet not so cleanly. Where he sleepeth, if there be much water, he hath no towel but if the water be gone, he hath of towels five in number and a piece of soap.

Verily, he hath cause to murmur an exceeding great murmur.—Germantown, Phila. Guide.

The Effect of Machinery.

The following statements, compiled by a person who has given the subject a great deal of thought, shows how great has been the effect of labor saving machinery:

One man and two boys do the work which it required 1,100 spinners to do but a small number of years ago.

One man does the work now of fifty weavers, which were required at the time of his grandfather.

Cotton printing machines have replaced 1,500 per cent hand labor.

One machine with one man as attendant manufactures as many horse shoes in one day as it would take 500 men to make in the same time.

Out of 500 men formerly employed of the log sawing business 499 have lost their jobs through the introduction of modern machinery.

One nail machine has taken the place of 1,000 men.

In the manufacture of paper 95 per cent. of hand labor has been replaced.

One man now makes as much pottery ware in the same time as 1,000 could do before machinery was applied.

By the use of machinery in loading and unloading ships one man can perform the labor of 2,000 men.

Steel wire nail machines are a saving of 200 per cent.

An expert watchmaker can turn out from 250 to 300 watches each year with the aid of machinery, 35 per cent. of former hand labor being thus replaced.

A Secret in Ink.

All the ink with which the United States government prints its paper money is made by one man. The father of the present manufacturer, of Mr. Eddy, invented the ink, but he never told any one how the ink was made until just before he died, when he let his son into the secret of his composition. Had a fatal accident happened to the inventor before he told his son about the ink the government printer would have been in a dilemma, for Mr. Eddy's invention is the only kind of ink that will print on the peculiar surface of the fiber of which government note paper is made.

The present Mr. Eddy employs only six men in the manufacture of his ink, and none of them is in the secret. Not one of them has yet seen Mr. Eddy in the interesting act of mixing the ingredients of which the ink is composed. He locks himself up in his own room two weeks in every year, and it is there and then that he mixes stuff enough to supply the government with ink for the ensuing 12 months and receives for this $50,000 a year.

Had it Straight.

The Rev. Dr. Sutton once said to the late Mr. Peech a veterinary surgeon: "Mr. Peech, how is it that you have not called upon me for your account?" "Oh," said Mr. Peech, "I never ask a gentleman for money." "Indeed," said the vicar; "then how do you get on if he doesn't pay?" "Why," replied Mr. Peech, "after a certain time I conclude that he is not a gentleman, and then I ask him."—Yorkville Enquirer.

Biting The Lips.

Biting the lips frequently makes them sore, and for hard, dry lips a little pure glycerine lightly rubbed in at night is often beneficial. A harmless application for the same purpose is made of a quarter of an ounce of white wax, with one teaspoonful each of glycerine and mutton suet. The wax and suet are melted separately, and then the whole mass mixed and turned into a mold to cool.

As a producer of freaks Ohio claims pre-eminence. She produced John Sherman the record breaker as a straddler on the financial question, and Foraker, the pyrotechnic performer, and now she supplements these with the tallest woman in the world, a 23-year old Miss who stands high in the community, eight feet four inches, and smallest baby, which at eight weeks old weighs only two and a half pounds and weighed at birth only one and a half pounds. The Miss and baby are still growing.

Once more the snarling, snapping, worthless yellow dog has been "vindicated." The South Carolina Legislature is the vindicator this time. That body has refused to pass a dog law. It can hardly be successfully questioned that such a law would be worth thousands of dollars each year to the farmers of the State.—Savannah News.

"My wife is queen of the tea table," remarked a host to a friendly visitor. "And she never reigns but she pours," was the quiet reply.

The Ass Who Predicted.

An Ass who heard a Goose observe that the Water in the Pond was getting very Low, at once offered his Services to Predict Rain. This having been Noised about, the Hens asked for continued Dry Weather, the Foxes demanded a snowstorm, the Oxen wanted frosty mornings, and the Mule, the Wolf, the Dog and the Peacock each demanded that he be Favored with Weather made to order. As a result the Ass could Please no one, and as his Failure was charged to his Obstinacy, the Whole Crowd fell upon him and Wounded him almost to Death. He was Complaining of this to the Peasant When the latter Replied: He who seeks to Please all will end in Pleasing nobody at all.—Detroit Free Press.

Wanted Some of the Same.

A little boy was taken by his father into a cafe for dinner. As they were eating their dessert the father handed the waiter a bill, which that worthy carried to the cashier's desk, returning presently with a little pile of change on a silver plate. Robby's eyes grew bright. "Oh, papa," he said, "I'd like a plate of that too!"—New York Herald.

IF YOU HAD A LOAD OF WOOD TO SELL

and told every man you met that you had a load of wood to sell, and every man you met would in turn tell every man he met that you had a load of wood to sell and every man you met would in turn tell every man he met that you had a load of wood to sell, it would, in course of time, become pretty well circulated that you had a load of wood to sell; but why not cut it short—not the wood, but the method—and place a good ad in a good newspaper and tell everybody at once. "Delays are dangerous," and a good newspaper would start in where the last man left off and keep on telling everybody that you had a load of wood to sell; or anything else. ## FEBRUARY FANCIES.

Fun, Frivolities, Facts and Figures at One Finding.

Now lookout for colder weather.

Mud is the prevailing color to-day.

Fresh Grits just arrived at D. S. Smith's.

You will hear talk of bad roads after this rain.

Nice line of Cigars at J. L. Starkey's, the place for a delightful smoke.

The "Southern Leader" is the pride of Greenville, at D. S. Smith's.

Have you tried Golden Seal? If not you have missed a good smoke
JESSE W. BROWN.

Train nearly two hours late last night.

You may not believe it, but reports says it rained last night.

Cod Fish, Irish Potatoes, Prepared Backwheat, Oat Flakes, Cheese, Macaroni, P. R. Molasses, at S. M. Schultz.

The house that did not leak last night wears a good roof.

It sounded like a regular summer thunder storm last night.

February 14th is the date set for presentation of "The Deacon."

The storm last night cut off telegraphic communication between here and Tarboro.

Some of the town Councilmen must have got lost in the mud last night, as they failed to get out to the meeting of the Board.

An editor gets off the following: "In church or State it is rule or be ruled; in courtship or marriage it is fool or be fooled; in logic or law it is kick or be kicked; in gambling or trade it is trick or be tricked; in treaty or war it is beat or be beaten; in the struggle for life it is eat or be eaten, in politics it is crow or eat crow; in newspaper it is hoe your own row."

Train Off Track.

We learn that last night's rain caused a washout in the railroad near Tillery, and the freight train coming south this morning run into it. We did not hear if any damage was done to the train. The passenger train could not get by and if the track cannot be repaired today there is no telling what time the mail will get in to-night. Since writing the above, we learn that nine loaded box cars were wrecked. The balance of the train came in this afternoon, so we suppose the track has been cleared. Capt. W. L. Jones was slightly hurt.

FOLKS IN FEBRUARY.

Get Around Just Like in any Other Month, Faces Foremost.

Miss Louallie Pool, who has been visiting here, returned to her home in Williamston to-day.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt and daughter, Miss Sibyl, who have been here for a few days, returned to Kinston last night.

Almost a Fire.

This morning the ceiling around the stove flue in James Whitley's restaurant, adjoining the Market House, caught on fire. It was put out before any damage was done to the building.

Improving His Studio.

R. Hyman is having some good improvements made to his photograph studio. He has rented the room adjoining and is having a large passage way cut in the partition between them. The extra room will be nicely furnished and used for a display and reception room.

How It Is At Monroe.

It is remarkable how many suits are brought against the railroads. For instance, at every session of court here there are several cases against the Seaboard Air Line, or sections of it for damages. A man walked over the trestle, admitting that he knew the rules of the road prohibited it, but nevertheless brought suit for $5,000, for a slight injury, only a flesh wound. The jury gave $245. There are other cases of similar character. It has become a fad to sue some kind of corporation, and strange to say juries will encourage it by allowing damages when the case is very doubtful.—Cor. Charlotte Observer.

He Knew.

Mr. Binks—Here is some money for the grocer. He usually sends around for it on the first of the month. You'll be in all day, I suppose?

Mrs. Binks—I'll be in all the morning. I'm going shopping this afternoon.

Mr. Binks (at the grocer's shortly after)—Say, I left money at home for you. Send the collector around at once. If you wait until afternoon, you won't get a cent.—New York Weekly.

Today has given a general mixture of weather. There has been sunshine, rain, hail, thunder and lightning.

The town has looked almost deserted today.

Killed a Deer.

On Tuesday Bob Moye went in the woods just back of the mill hunting and in a short while his dog set, what Bob thought, a covey of birds, but upon investigation it proved to be a deer. Having only bird shot in his gun he ran back to the Planter's Warehouse and got Mayor Ola Forbes, Tobe Moore, Forbes Kenneday and W. T. Lipscomb and soon was on the scene again, when "old black," the veteran 'coon dog, struck the trail and had his deer ship on a jump. They all surrounded the place and Tobe Moore went in. He found the dog making it hot for the deer and getting a good shot broke his leg. He then shot him in the head killing

IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Matters of Interest Over the State.

The commissioners of Halifax county have decided to put in a vault.

Three children at Durham were poisoned by eating polk root which they dug up and thought to be artichokes.

The Washington Messenger suggests that a negro jury be selected to try the negro Barfield who recently murdered his wife at Aurora.

W. T. Surles, aged 35 years, yard master of the Southern R. R. at Durham, met a horrible death while attempting to couple some cars. His foot caught in the frog of a switch near Duke's factory, and his body was horribly mangled. He leaves a wife and two children. The boys tied the deer's feet together and strung him on a pole, coming in town with a whoop. The deer weighed 103 pounds dressed. It is not safe for deer to be foraging so close to town.

Be Sure and Attend.

The lecture to-morrow night by Rev. J. T. Betts, of Richmond, promises to be of great interest. The vocal music by Mr. Betts and Mrs. Thomas will be one of the features of the evening. It looks now as if the Opera House will have to be secured to hold the crowd. Announcement will be made in time to-morrow as to whether the church or the Opera House will be used, though we feel safe now in saying that the Opera House will be used. We are certain that no one can invest twenty-five cents that will pay them more handsomely than in purchasing a ticket for this entertainment. The Ladies Aid Society cordially invites everybody to be present. If you don't secure a ticket before Friday night you can get one at the door.

Below we give a few of the many testimonials which Mr. Betts has from those who have heard the lecture. They show that the audience may expect to be pleased and instructed. Give Mr. Betts and the ladies an audience worthy of the town and the occasion:

Rev. J. T. Betts, formerly of Asheville, now of Richmond, Va., has recently returned from a tour to Palestine, and is now giving illustrated lectures on the Holy Land. We had the exceeding pleasure of hearing him in the Baptist Church here last Friday. His pictures are taken by himself and are as represented. The audience was delighted with his lecture. He throws new light on many passages of Scripture. We hope to have him with us again soon.—Milton Times.

Our people were pleased by the lecture of Rev. J. T. Betts—"A Trip Through the Holy Land." It was entertaining and instructive.

H. T. WILLIAMS,
Pastor Baptist Church, Roxboro.

My people greatly enjoyed every feature of your beautiful and instructive lecture on Palestine.

J. E. ARMSTRONG,
Pastor at Yanceyville.

Rev. J. T. Betts gave illustrated lectures at the Baptist church Thursday and Friday nights, on Palestine and Egypt. Many of the pictures were magnificent. There was a large attendance Thursday night, and a very good attendance on Friday night. The lectures are very entertaining to those interested in the old countries. The singing of Mrs. Thomas was fine.—Kinston Free Press.
