THE CRADLE SHIP.

BY EUNICE MONROE.

Ho! you little sailor,
Quickly get aboard;
Snowy sails are hoisted,
Now the ship's unmoored!
Lo! the craft is rocking,
Yon the port so grand:
Land of radiant visions—
Slumberland!

Mother is the captain,
Baby is the mate;
Drowsy eyes are closing,
For they cannot wait.
Oh! the sights and treasures
On that golden strand!
Sail we to the haven—
Slumberland!

Gems of rarest beauty,
All for baby dear;
Set the watch, and safely
To the land we steer,
Rocked by gentle breezes,
Ever sweet and bland;
Oh! the blissful harbor—
Slumberland!

Stars above are twinkling,
But they soon will fade;
Dawn will soon be blushing
Over vale and glade
Ho? you little sailor,
Then you'll leave the strand,
Sailing back from yonder
Slumberland;

IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Matters of Interest Over the State.

Wilmington is taking steps to organize a fair association.

The Treasury gold reserve stood at $125,056,526 Saturday.

A large lumber plant at Cincinnati was destroyed by fire Saturday.

The North Carolina Republican State Convention will meet in Raleigh March 18th.

The Court House at Wayne, W. Va., has been destroyed by fire. The building cost $50,000 but was fully insured.

A judgment for $650 has been taken against the State Teachers Assembly for furniture in the building at Morehead.

W. H. Hardin, of Watauga, tells the Boone Democrat that from 1½ acres planted in cabbage last year he realized $245.

At Southern Pines in May a big convention of settlers will be held. It will embrace the entire South, and delegates will be present from every Southern State.

The Wake county man who sued the druggists for damages for selling his wife morphine, she having contracted the opium habit, got knocked out in the Superior Court. He appealed.

Frank P. Webster, a leaf tobacco dealer of Madison, Rockingham county, has disappeared from home. Since leaving home he has sent his wife $80 and written her that she need never expect to see him again. He was in debt and out of profitable employment.

The Baptist State Board of Missions has selected as Sunday school secretary Rev. B. W. Spilman, now in charge of the church in Kinston. He will take charge of the work April 1st, and will have general supervision over the Sunday school work of the Baptist church in North Carolina.

Another lot of Parker Fountain Pens at Reflector Book Store. Some new styles. These are the best pens made and every business man should have one.

Good Farmers Make Money.

The Aurora presents one farmer who started with nothing except willing hands and a brave heart, and has made by farming alone in fifteen years $15,000 or $1,000 each year on an average. His valuable lands and the tax lists show this is a true statement.

Two weeks ago Leander S. Hamrick sold forty bales of cotton and made last year forty bales, including eight bales of rent cotton. He is free from debt although he has bought $15,000 worth of land since he began farming 15 years ago near Shelby.

L. S. and C. C. Hamrick sold fifty-four bales of cotton at the same time for eight cents per pound; C. C. Hamrick making twenty bales and L. S. Hamrick forty bales total. Such farmers never complain of hard times and never try to run the finances.

For some of their lands near Shelby they have paid big prices; each year they spend less than they make and add to their possessions by hard work and economy. They are not always buying goods or discussing politics and they vote the Democratic ticket. These young men are model farmers who will soon be rich, for the first $5,000 is always hardest to make and save.—Shelby Aurora.

Bethel Items.

BETHEL, N. C. March, 9, '96.—Rev. J. W. Powell filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church the first Sunday morning and night.

Elder B. R. Hall held quarterly meeting in the Methodist church Saturday and Sunday. He preached Sunday morning and night to large congregation.

At the sale of the O. C. Farrar property here last Monday. The Brick Hotel was purchased by Blount & Bro. The brick store under hotel by Mrs. O. C. Farrar and the house and lot known as the James residence by Newsome Worsley.

B. J. Grimes, Mayor D. C. Moore, W. C. Nelson, J. L. Peal and F. S. Gardner are attending court at Greenville to-day.

One Cent Postage.

The movement in favor of one cent letter postage is being pushed very vigorously. At its recent meeting in Washington the National Board of Trade appointed a committee on the subject. committee established headquarters in Philadelphia and has certainly worked faithfully. It has appealed to the business organizations in all the cities of the country and to all prominent newspapers, and in its circulars and addresses has set forth the reasons in favor of one-cent postage very clearly.

The committee announces that it has received many assurances of support. The objects it has in view are reduction of letter postage to one cent, the exclusion from second class matter of everything except legitimate news publications and a correction of the franking privilege.

LATE NEWS.

A street car in Memphis, Tenn., jumped the track and ran into a wall. Thirteen people were seriously injured.

The Farmers' Bank, of King's City, Mo., has been taken in charge by the State Bank Examiner. Liabilities $60,000.

A negro prisoner shot Officer Cook at Danville, Va., and made his escape. The officer is thought to be fatally wounded.

Work commenced to-day on Mr. Henry Sheppard's real estate office between the bank and Forbes' store.

MONDAY, MARCH 9TH, 1896.

President Cleveland, in addition to making a speech at the Presbyterian Home Mission rally, also joined in singing a hymn, and those who sat near him say he has a good voice. It is surmised that he sung of the golden streets of the New Jerusalem, and that the allusion to the money question on the gold standard side gave him zest to sing with the spirit and the understanding.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Was Hayes Elected.

There is a case pending in the District Court at Mt. Pleasant, Ia., which grew out of what was practically a campaign bet made during the Hayes-Tilden contest in October, 1875. Job Codner sold a horse to W. H. Nugen, giving in payment a note which was worded as follows: "When Hayes and Wheeler is elected President of the United States I promise to pay Job Codner $65 for value received."

Notwithstanding the fact that Hayes was declared by the commission to have been duly elected, Nugen claimed that the matter was still in dispute, and he refused to pay the note or to return the horse. Codner brought suit before a justice of the peace, and on default secured a judgment for the face value of the note, with interest until paid, but Nugen appealed to the District Court, where the case was dismissed. Codner then brought a new suit for the value of the horse, and, according to the Iowa State Register, that case is still pending, the title being "Hannah R. Codner, administratrix of the estate of Job Codner, against W. H. Nugen."

The horse long ago departed this life. The original plaintiff is dead, and neither of the law firms originally retained is in existence. But the case is still on the docket, and the Clerk of the Court complains of the work involved in keeping it there during the last nineteen years.

Curiosities of the Calendar.

An exchange has compiled the following information from this year's calendar:

1896 will have 366 days.

Christmas comes on Friday.

Easter will fall on April fifth.

October alone will begin on Thursday.

Decoration day, May 30th, is Saturday.

May is the only month to begin on Friday.

The year began on Wednesday.

March and April will begin on Sunday.

June is the only month to begin on Monday.

The fourth of July will fall on Saturday.

February and August begin on Saturday.

August will have five changes of the moon.

February and October end with the week.

January, April and July will begin on Wednesday.

Forefather's day, December 21, falls on Monday.

The first Monday in September will come on the 7th.

May 24 will be Whitsunday, and May 31 Trinity Sunday.

March, May, August and November have five Sundays each.

Arbor day, the first Monday in April, will occur on the 6th.

May and August will occupy places in six different weeks.

Labor day, the first Monday in September, comes on the 7th.

Two months, September and December, will begin on Tuesday.

Thanksgiving will fall on the 26th of November and the national election on the third of that month.

St. Valentine's day, February 14, fell on Friday, and Washington's birthday on Saturday.

Septuagesima Sunday was February 2nd, and Sexagesima Sunday the 9th, Quinquagesima falling on the 16th.

There will be fifty-two each of Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday, and fifty-three each of Wednesday and Thursday.

The January new moon occurred on the 14th; the February new moon on the 13th; March, 14; April, 12th, May, 12th; June, 11th; July, 10th; August, 9th; September, 7th; October, 6th, November, 5th; and December 4th.

The first Monday in each month is as follows on the 6th in January, the 3rd in February, the 2nd in March, the 6th in April, the 4th in May, the 1st in June, the 6th in July, the 3d in August, the 7th in September, and the 5th in October, the 2nd in November, and the 7th in December.

An Amusing Trick.

Here is a simple and easily contrived means of having some indoor fun. Put a lighted candle on a table and on the wall opposite tack a sheet of white paper. Between the candle and the paper place a big book or a piece of cardboard, so that the paper may be dark. The effect will be better if the spectators sit between the table and the wall, or at least so that the table is in the rear, either directly so or one side.

Now, place a mirror at the edge of the table so that it will reflect the light from the candle upon the paper on the wall, and if you hold before the mirror fancy or grotesque figures of any kind, an image of them will be thrown upon the paper.

Beauvoir for a Southern Soldiers' Home.

There is now before the Mississippi Legislature a bill providing for the purchase, from the family of the late President Davis, of the house and lands of Beauvoir, to be used as a home for disabled and dependent Mississippi Confederate soldiers.

Such an enactment, organizing such an institution under proper safeguards, would be a most wise move, in that it would not only provide for the necessitous Confederate veterans, but it would consign to a most worthy use a locality that is of peculiar interest to all southern people.

The Picayune knows, through a letter to a prominent citizen of New Orleans, from Mrs. Jefferson Davis, that, while the sale of the property at Beauvoir has repeatedly been refused, because it would be used for speculative and commercial purposes, its use for a home for the old soldiers of Mississippi would be most gratifying to the family, and it would be readily disposed of to that end to the State of Mississippi.

Nothing could be more fitting than that this place, where the last years of the President of the Confederacy were spent, should be used to shelter and protect, during their declining days, the helpless and dependent veterans of the southern cause; and there is no locality in the State more appropriate, not merely from sentimental considerations, but also because of its salubrity and accessibility. The Picayune will most heartily approve such an enterprise, and earnestly hopes that a bill to that end will pass the Mississippi Legislature—New Orleans Picayune.

TOWN TOPICS TARTS.

He—Will you give me a lock of your hair?

She—No.

He—It's all right: I shouldn't want you to buy a new lot on my account.

Billie—How long do you suppose my cold will last?

Walter—Till that whiskey you are taking for it is all gone.

Yes, I kissed her. Perhaps 'twas wrong,

But, really, I could not resist. 'Twas merely to show how it felt For she said she had never been kissed.

In the basement of that palatial apartment house, the Cuticeberg, a furious and freezing tenant faced a haughty janitor.

"Do you suppose, you miscreant, that we shall ever live to see the day when we have heat enough?"

"No, me friend; you'll have to die to see the day."

Bogg—Old Soak tells me that he's buying a brewery. Did you know it?

Fogg—Yes; case at a time.

'Tis queer to think that science Can on your inwards gaze; And size up lights and liver With the new found kathode rays.

Wilton—Why have you taken to the cycle so zealously?

Kilton—to study stock.

Wilton—What kind?

Kilton—Calves, principally.

Teacher (holding English History class)—And how did the Earl of Suffolk meet his death?

Bobby (who follows his impulses)—He was suffolkated.

He'd go out with the boys; Have a glorious time, If he only could hock The "Watch on the Rhine."

"Just one kiss!" he pleaded with outstretched arms.

She burst into tears.

"Oh! you stingy thing!" she wailed.

Hubby—Is it sweet to think of me in my absence?

Wifey—Yes; but sweeter still in your presents, dear!

Jones—How did your wife happen to get a bicycle?

Brown—Her physician told her it would make a "new woman" of her!

He Got an Answer.

For grave speeches of importance delivered with weight, Bismarck was, of course, most celebrated. When annoyed he nearly always adopted a jesting tone, which must have sounded to his frightened friends much as if the tiger in the menagerie had greeted them with a cordial handshake before devouring. "Do you mean to break the convention of Gastein?" bluntly demanded the Austrian ambassador, Count Kurolyi, of the Prussian minister-president. "No," replied the latter, with great directness, "but even if I did so, do you think I should be such a fool as to tell you?"—Detroit Free Press.

GET A GOOD SAFE.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Feb. 26th, 1896.
J. L. SUGG, Agent Victor Safe Co.,
Greenville, N. C.
DEAR SIR:—I am pleased to say that the Victor Safe you sold me some five or six years ago preserved in tact all its contents in the late fire in Greenville on the 16th inst. The safe stood at a point in my office in the Opera House block that must have been one of the hottest parts in the great conflagration. It contained many papers and other things of value. When it was taken out of the ruins and opened, some twelve hours after the fire, everything in it was found to be safely preserved and in good condition. I cheerfully make this statement of facts in recognition of the valuable service rendered me by this safe and you are at liberty to make such use of it as you may see proper.
THOS. J. JARVIS.
The Victor Safe is made in all sizes, convenient for home, farm, office or general business use. Every Safe sold with a guarantee to be fire proof. Prices range from $15 up.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.
—St. Paul, the capital of Minnesota, is worth $124,408,205, and owes $8,442,100.
—A dog owned by a man in Addison, Mich., walked back home a distance of 40 miles recently. Its owner gave it away, but the dog didn't like its new home, and quietly trotted back to its old kennel.
—A stick of timber 119 feet long and 22 inches square, without a knot or blemish, was cut in a mill at Hoquiam, Wash., recently. It is the longest piece of timber ever cut in that neighborhood, and the most nearly perfect any of the old lumbermen there has ever seen.
—One of the buildings at the Tennessee centennial exposition will be erected entirely with money provided by the children of the state. Everything in it and around it will be arranged for the pleasure and profit of children. In the tower will swing a fine set of silver chimes.
—When Kentucky does draw the line on whisky it is drawn tight. A young man in Crittenden county was held recently to answer in the circuit court on a charge of giving liquor to a minor, because he gave a glass of eggnog to his sweetheart. Somebody, maybe a rejected suitor, saw the occurrence and reported it to the local authorities.
—Seven brothers, all over 65 years old, had a reunion in Fresno, Cal., recently, and a notable photographic group is an interesting memento of the occasion. The brothers are of the Funck family. There are three sisters in the family, too, all very near the three-score and ten years mark. The eldest of the brothers is 84 and the youngest 65. A noticeable fact is that each wears a long white beard and none is bald.
—“The underground railroad” was a secret arrangement, legally a conspiracy, by which fugitive slaves were concealed and sent secretly from place to place in Canada, which, being a British colony, was a safe place for them. It extended all over the north. Covington, Ky., was a principal station, and there were other stations all through Ohio and Indiana. Levi Coffin, of Cleveland, was the president more than 30 years.
—One of the many natural wonders of Arizona scenery just made accessible by the opening up of new rail and stage roads is a remarkable natural bridge in the Tonto Basin, not far from Flagstaff. The bridge is 550 feet long and spans a canyon some 200 feet deep, at the bottom of which flows the river. The bridge is of rock, and is perfectly proportioned. The under side is gracefully arched and the upper perfectly level. The walls of the canyon are honeycombed with caves, in which is a great profusion of stalactites and stalagmites.

The Orator's Inspiration.
Our orator gazes with far-searching eye. He is the poet in prose, the musician who plays on men, the painter, in words, of thoughts, sentiments, passions, ideas. His colors live and burn, for they are drawn from men's hearts. To him the glory that beckons on from height to height and then again on and on till the eye wearies, is the ideal—that which men pray for, struggle for, travail for, yet never grasp; but are the nobler for having aspired to. As the eye follows hill after hill that the falling sun gilds, and then rests unrested because the gold has turned to black, so the orator must follow hard after the ideal even till the night cometh. For him the breath of the pine is wine, and the strength of the forest makes strong his heart. The broad, clear ranges of space widen his mind, the pure azure clarifies his vision, and the distant rim of earth and sky makes far-sighted and keen the eyes of his soul.—William F. Seward, in New Bohemian.

Skating Carnival.

On Wednesday evening, at the Planters' Warehouse, the young ladies will have a skating carnival and supper for the benefit of Hope Fire Company. Both ladies and gentlemen will take part in the carnival one of the features being a tournament on skates. Refreshments will be sold. No charge for admission to the carnival.

Jurors.

The regular jury for this week's court is composed of J. T. Lewis, G. T. Tyson, Henry B. Turner, Henry Mitchell, R. L. Humber, J. H. Dudley, John Pierce, J. J. Forbes, M. T. Horton, Nashville Hardy, Lacy Warren, Geo. W. Dail, O. Hooker, W. C. Jackson, Erastus Cannon, W. L. F. Cory, Robt. L. Nichols.

Crowing Chickens.

An old lady in Greensboro, remarking on the changes of the times and the degeneracy of the same, says that in old times chickens never crowed in the night except about Christmas and now the pesky things crow any time. That seems to be about the way of it down here. We have heard many people commenting on chickens crowing every night and at all hours of the night.

Greenville Stands Ahead.

A recent issue of the Rocky Mount Argonaut says that the purchases of the largest tobacco buyer on that market foot up 800,000 for this season. Greenville has three buyers who have done better than that. Up to the first of March one of our buyers had bought 1,100,000, another 1,000,000, and another between 800,000 and 900,000. The total sales of the market are about 5,000,000.

Law For Taxing a Billy Goat.

The newly-appointed assessor in a Maine city was making up a tax assessment and taxed the billy goat of a hard-working citizen.

"Sure," said the latter, "where do you get the authority for that?"

Much talking ensued and finally the assessor got the book of laws and read that all property bounding and abutting on both sides of the street should be taxed, so and so, "and, sure," said the assessor, "many's the time I've seen that same billy goat o' yours a bounding and a buttin' on both sides o' the street."—Lewiston Evening Journal.

An Overflow Well.

The tobacco men found an abundant supply of water in the fire well they have dug near the warehouses. After sinking the well as deep as desired a pipe was run from it to a ditch near by with the idea of increasing the supply in the well by draining the water from the ditch into it, but so much water rose in the well that it overflows and the pipe comes into play by taking off the surplus.

A Wagon Merry-go-Round.

Boys, did you ever hear of a wagon merry-go-round? Its great fun. Here is how it is made. A stout post is driven at the centre of a level plot of ground, and to the top of this a long pole or plank is fastened on a pivot. This is all that is necessary. A small wagon may now be tied to either end at each end of the pole, and a few boys at the centre can keep the merry-go-round spinning with great rapidity. Of course the boys on the wagon, who are called "rushers," can have an exciting ride, and they take turns occasionally with the "pushers." Be careful and not get the rope too long from the tongue of the wagon to the end of the pole.
