COURT AND COURTINGS.

A Batch of Observations Taken as the Court Proceeds.

If Mr. E. A. Moye, the efficient Clerk of the Court, could serve every man in the county for one day in proportion to the service he rendered Mr. W. L. Butts, on Tuesday, there would be no talk on the street corners and at the cross roads of free silver and hard times. Sentence was being passed on Mr. Butts for assault and battery, and the judgment of the Court was a fine of $15 and costs. Mr. Butts hurriedly whispered to Mr. Moye and asked the Court to hear him on the question of his character. Mr. Moye was heard, and after telling the Court he had known the defendant 25 years, and that he was a good natured man when sober, that he had not drank any in over two years and was trying to keep himself a sober man, the Judge kindly look off the fine. This occupied just about one minute, and Mr. Butts made $15 by the kind office of Mr. Moye. Could that much be made for one day of ten hours by every person in the county—there being 29,000 according to the census of 1890—the sum would be $9,000 a day for each inhabitant, or a total of $261,000,000. This shows the worth of good character, and trying to let whiskey alone. Drinking men who are liable to fight should think of this and keep sober. Mr. Butts was once a drinking man but reformed two years ago and is still keeping the faith, and it paid him $15 in one minute Tuesday.

Could Pitt county have the able and learned Judge Boykin to preside at a few more courts the dockets would be cleaned up. He is indeed a good judge and everybody is pleased with him, except the evil doers. He wears the ermine with honor and is a credit to North Carolina. We hope he may live long to dispense justice and uphold the dignity of the State. Such Judges are not plentiful.

"There's nothing like having a lawyer on a case," is the way we heard a compliment paid Hon. J. H. Blount after arguing a motion to quash a bill of indictment in which he showed the faultiness of such bill. The Court sustained him and the bill was very promptly quashed. Let us add that the Greenville Bar has had no more able member than Mr. Blount.

Four months in jail were awarded Haywood Smith for shooting at a young colored Buck, the result of interfering with the custom of holding a sweet-hearts' hand while going from church. The young Buck, who was doing the holding act, got six months of the same flavor in a former Court for carving Haywood with a knife. This occurred near Black Jack.

$35 and costs is quite a costly luxury for carrying a pistol concealed, and if every man in the county who carries one this year had to pay that sum, the public schools would be able to run on full time and have a surplus in the treasury at Christmas. This is campaign year, you know.

$40 and costs for handling a pair of brass knucks while snow-balling, was the price paid Tuesday. Knucks are a luxurious ornament to some of the sporting youth.

Just received a new supply of job material. Some beautiful linen letter heads. Come, let us put you up a thousand or two.

THE GREATEST NEED.

BALTIMORE, Md. March 30th, 1896.

EDITOR OF DAILY REFLECTOR:

We are very glad to see by your paper of 27th inst., that there now seems a prospect of having a system of water works in your live and growing town. We were interested sometime since in reading a number of articles in your valuable paper as to what your town most needs. One writer stated that in his opinion the greatest need was water works. We fully agree with him. Undoubtedly this is Greenville's greatest need. We trust your Town Council will take this view of the matter and will take measures to supply this need without delay.

Very truly yours,
ELLIOTT BROS.

To-night the Time.

The citizens' water works committee will report to the Town Council to-night and recommend putting in a complete system of water works both for fire and domestic use. It is hoped the full Board will be present and that the pledge made at the joint meeting with the citizens, March 3rd, will be faithfully kept. The worst thing that could happen to the town now would be the failure of the Councilmen to act on the suggestion of the committee. The town must have water works.

Superior Court.

The following cases have been disposed of since last report:

Daniel Atkinson, carrying concealed weapon, guilty, fined $25 and costs.

W. L. Butts, assault with deadly weapon, pleads guilty, judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

Stanley Hopkins and Robert Johnson, affray, Johnson pleads guilty, sentenced four months in jail, Hopkins not guilty.

Rone Bagley and Will Pippin affray, guilty, Pippin fined $10 and costs, Bagley fined $40 and costs.

T. C. Stokes, affray, guilty, judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

William Perry, carrying concealed weapon, pleads guilty, judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

William Perry and W. H. Barnes, highway robbery, guilty, each sentenced 7 years in penitentiary.

Jacob Peyton, assault with deadly weapon, guilty, sentenced 6 months in jail.

John Cobb, larceny, guilty, sentenced 12 months in jail with leave to Commissioners to hire out.

William Whichard and Frank Teel, affray, Whichard not guilty, Teel guilty, sentenced 6 months in Jail with leave to Commissioners to hire out.

Frank Teel, carrying concealed weapon, pleads guilty, judgment suspended.

Tuesday evening the grand jury found a true bill against The. Jenkins, Laneer Jenkins and George Davis, for the murder of Patrick Whitehurst at Bethel on Jan. 11th. The case was set for trial Thursday morning and a venire of 150 ordered.

STOLEN.

On Thursday, March 26th, a small, dark bay mare, with white star in her forehead, about 7 years old, was hired by a white man, giving his name as George Williams, from my stables, in Greenville. Williams was a medium sized man, clean shaven, with red face, had on white hat and blue suit of clothes. I will pay a reward of $25 for information leading to the recovery of said mare.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1ST, 1896.

The REFLECTOR a few days ago asked the Charlotte Observer the following question:

"Suppose, contrary to the Observer's belief, (and such a thing is possible) the Democratic national convention at Chicago should nominate for President a man committed to the free coinage of silver, will the Observer give such nominee its support?"

Bro. Caldwell answers in the following language:

"If the national Democratic convention at Chicago should nominate for President a man committed to the free coinage of silver, the Observer will give him its most earnest and loyal support."

This is plain enough and is just such an answer as we expected. The question was not asked because we doubted what the Observer would do but to have it express itself so that those in these parts who are so fond of quoting the Observer and asserting that it would bolt the party should it nominate a silver man for President might see just what we knew, that its editor believes too much in the principles of the Democratic party to desert it because its candidate may differ somewhat in his views from those held by the Observer.

When Joe Caldwell ceases to be a Democrat we will begin to doubt the existence of any such party. His example in the answer above given may well be followed by many of the extreme silver papers in the State. There is one thing certain, the Charlotte Observer will be found in the next campaign fighting as manfully for Democracy as it has done in the past, and this is saying a great deal.

THE DAVIS MONUMENT.

RICHMOND, VA, Mar. 25, '96
TO THE UNITED CONFEDERATE VETERANS EVERYWHERE:—Your Sixth Annual Reunion will be held at Richmond, Virginia, on the 30th June, 1st and 2nd days of July next.

Widely scattered since the war by the ties of family and old-time fire-sides, by the demands of business, by your natural energies, and by the necessities of life, you are coming home—home to the city which is yours by the supreme tests of the rain of fire through which you went; and of the sea of blood through which you passed, on the mission of her and the common defence. You have been no prodigal sons, for you inherited only the remnants of a rapacious ravage that was rampant everywhere in your land because you had nothing left but the manhood from which you were inseparable. But the fatted calf shall be killed for you and we shall be merry together, not because of pity for your sins, but because pride in your fame demands.

You shall traverse again the streets which thrilled to the tread of your legions while they were passing to the ranks of the best army the world ever knew.

You shall be confronted by the Virginians who were the comrades of your immortal glory and who are your brothers forever.

You shall see again the women who nursed you back to vigor from the feebleness of wounds and want, from the wretched woe of your losses, and who pointed the dying gaze of your fellows to the heaven which stooped to enfold them.

Your eyes shall behold for themselves the city which proudly wrapped herself in your patriotic flames, from which she has emerged a thing of beauty and a joy for always.

You shall revisit the battlefields which have been consecrated by your blood, and where, if you lost your country, you found a fame that fills the world.

Heartily helped by our city and her citizens, we are building for you a place of reunion in which ten thousand of you may make the welkin ring to the music of Dixie and to the chorus of the Rebel Yell.

On some appropriate day of the Reunion you shall be part and parcel of the rearing of that monument which shall be to Jefferson Davis, not merely because he was your President and dwelt as such in the capital of your Confederacy, but because he was the unspeakable type of that ineffable manhood which made the armies of the South.

During your stay here there will be many a bivouac, where, not in bravado or disloyalty, but for sweet memory's sake, will be sung over again the old songs, told over again the old tales, fought over again the old fights, yelled again the old yells, and raised again the old flag.

Come, then. Come to our hearts and homes and to these bivouacs. Before we pass to the great beyond we ought to have one more bout and toast together. The toast shall be to our own memories and to our Confederate comrades wherever they may be; but it shall carry along with it a brave blessing for our fellow-citizens everywhere, a determined devotion to the safety, honor, and welfare of the entire country.

PEYTON WISE,
Chairman.

Didn't Like the Names

Much to the surprise of Proprietor Hurst of the Hurst Hotel, one of his regular boarders walked up to the desk yesterday morning, paid his bill, and announced his intention of leaving. Mr. Hurst solicitously inquired the reason. If there had been any inattention, Mr. Hurst assured his guest he would see that it was remedied.

"Well," said the guest, "it may seem foolish to you, Mr. Hurst, but I have a reason for leaving. I have nothing against the hotel. I think it is the nicest place to live in I ever saw. But you know I am superstitious, and my superstition is all that is taking me away.

"It is customary with me, as you know, to take a few drinks through the day. I go into your saloon and I find that the name of the man who manages it is Berry. This in itself doesn't amount to anything, but his assistant is named Graves. Of course the fact wouldn't cut any particular amount of force with you, but it does with me, especially when I find that you have a night clerk named Coffin. And then you have a porter named Gunn and a chambermaid named Vitril, to say nothing of a bell boy named Schroud and an elevator boy named Sexton. Taken in connection with the name of the place, which can be easily mistaken for 'Hearse,' there is too much around here to suggest a funeral to suit me, Hurst—too much to suggest a funeral."

And then the superstitious man departed, and Mr. Hurst thought long and deeply. There will be some loose hotel talent in town about Saturday.—St. Louis Republic.

Some Don'ts.

Don't abuse a paper unless you pay for it. Borrowers are the greatest fault finders a newspaper has to contend with.

Don't expect a paper to abuse the town government for your especial benefit.

Don't take a paper out of the post-office for five years and then refuse to pay for it because you "never subscribed for it nohow." You could have refused it four years and eleven months before.

Don't get mad if your visitor's name does not appear in the personal columns. Perhaps you did not tell the editor; he's not a mind reader.

Don't stop a paper if your three column contribution is condensed into eight lines. The condenser may have done you a great favor.

Don't cuss the editor because his opinions do not conform to yours. If they did he might be variance with some eight or ten thousand other persons.

Don't delay paying your subscription because it is a small matter. If all the subscribers did the same way it would kill the paper in six months.

Don't get mad if the editor holds up your communication a few days. He is the best judge when there is room for it. And don't get mad if he does not print it. He knows or out to know, whether it is best to publish it or not.

CATARRH.

His Worst Enemy Defeated by P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy.

FOR THREE YEARS HE SUFFERED--COULD

HARDLY BREATHE AT NIGHT--ONE

NOSTRIL CLOSED FOR 10 YEARS.

Mr. A. M. Ramsey, of DeLeon, Texas,
was a sufferer from Catarrh in its worst form. Truly, his description of his sufferings seem little short of marvelous. Instead of seeking his couch, glad for the nights coming, he went to it with terror, realizing that another long, weary, wakeful night and a struggle to breathe was before him. He could not sleep on either side for two years. P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, cured him in quick time.

DE LEON, TEXAS.
Messrs. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.
Gents: I have used nearly four bottles of P. P. P. I was afflicted from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet. Your P. P. P. has cured my difficulty of breathing, smothering, palpitation of the heart, and has relieved me of all pain. One nostril was closed for ten years, but now I can breathe through it readily.
I have not slept on either side for two years; in fact, I dreaded to see night come.
Now I sleep soundly in any position all night.
I am 50 years old, but expect soon to be able to take hold of the plow handles.
I feel glad that I was lucky enough to get
P. P. P., and I heartily recommend it to my friends and the public generally.
Yours respectfully,
A. M. RAMSEY.

THE STATE OF TEXAS--County of Comanche--Before the undersigned authority on this day, personally appeared A. M. Ramsey, who, after being duly sworn, says on oath that the foregoing statement made by him relative to the virtue of P. P. P. medicine is true.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this August 4th, 1891.

I am a great friend of human nature, and I like it all the better because it has had to suffer so much unjust reproach. It seems to me that we are always mistaking our conditions for our natures, and saying that human nature is greedy and mean and false and cruel, when only its conditions are so. We say you must change human nature if you wish to have human brotherhood, but we really mean that you must change human conditions, and this is quite feasible. It has always been better than its conditions and ready for new and better conditions, although many sages have tried to rivet the old ones upon it, out of some such mistaken kindness as would forbid the crustacean a change of shell. The state of the crustacean after this change takes place is perilous, but with all its dangers it is not so perilous as the effort to keep its old shell on forever would be.
"Equality as the Basis of Good Society," by W. D. Howells.

A Practical Doctor.
Wife--Well, doctor, how is it with
my husband?
Doctor--Fair to middling, so to speak. He wants rest above all things. I have written out a prescription for an opiate.
Wife--And when must I give him
the medicine?
Doctor--Him? The opiate is for you, madam. --Hamburger Nachrichten
No, He Wasn't Out.
He--And did you see Monte Carlo
while you were at Nice?
She--No; papa called on him, I believe, but from his disappointed appearance when he returned to the hotel I think Mr. Carlo must have been out. --London Sun.

London Milk.

Perhaps among the manifold contributions to the commissariat of London that of milk asserts itself most loudly. First, there is the rumbling transfer at railway stations of those truncated tin cones containing it which have arrived by night trains from the country into milkmen's carts, whose jangling cans add to the rattle they make as jehus drive furiously to the various "walks" where it is distributed by thick soled, white aproned women,
who, in filling the household jug,
also leave a "blob" of it on the doorstep--a libation resented by tidy mistresses. The noise of its arrival before the London milkmaid fills her pail might well lead one to wish that its transporting carts were fitted with pneumatic tires. No other vehicle makes such a seemingly needless row in going about its business.
But every Londoner must have his supply of milk betimes, and in this respect the poor townsman is better off than his mate in the country.
There a peasant, daily working in the midst of cow pastured fields, is often unable to get a jug of it for his family. It is sent away to the city, in whose meanest streets the housewife can always buy a penn'orth.--

GREENVILLE Male Academy.

The next session of this School will begin on

MONDAY SEPT. 2, 1895,

and continue for ten months.

The course embraces all the branches
usually taught in an Academy.

Terms, both for tuition and board reasonable.

Boys well fitted and equipped for business, by taking the academic course alone. Where they wish to pursue a higher course, this school guarantees thorough preparation to enter, with credit, any College in North Carolina or the State University. It refers to those who have recently left its wall for the truthfulness of this statement.

Any young man with character and moderate ability taking a course with us will be aided in making arrangements to continue in the higher schools.

The discipline will be kept at its present standard.

Neither time nor attention nor work will be spared to make this school
all that parents could wish.

GET A GOOD SAFE.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Feb. 26th, 1896.

J. L. SUGG, Agent Victor Safe Co.,
Greenville, N. C.

DEAR SIR:--I am pleased to say that the Victor Safe you sold me some five or six years ago
preserved in tact all its contents in the late fire in Greenville on the 16th inst. The safe stood at a point in my office in the Opera House block that must have been one of the hottest parts in the great conflagration. It contained many papers and other things of value. When it was taken out of the ruins and opened, some twelve hours after the fire, everything in it was found to be safely preserved and in good condition. I cheerfully make this statement of facts in recognition of the valuable service rendered me by this safe and you are at liberty to make such use of it as you may see proper.

THOS. J. JARVIS.

The Victor Safe is made in all sizes, convenient for home, farm, office or general business
use. Every Safe sold with a guarantee to be fire proof. Prices range from $15 up.

APRIL ANATOMY.

More Commonly Called Folks—These
Were Caught in the Shower.

George Holderness, of Tarboro, is in town.

Mrs. M. D. Higgs has returned from Baltimore.

Mrs. T. J. Jarvis left this morning for Washington City.

Hon. J. E. Moore, of Williamston, is here at court.

S. M. Schultz returned Tuesday evening from Rocky Mount.

Miss Ruth Harper, of Kinston, is visiting Miss Clara Bruce Forbes.

Mrs. L. E. Cleve has gone to Philadelphia to visit her sister, Mrs. Goodwin.

M. H. Quinerly and wife, of Kinston, are visiting Mrs. Quinerly's parents here.

J. B. Jarvis returned to-day to Chapel Hill to resume his studies at the University.

The showers to-day had some thunder in them.

The temperature at one time today
reached 76, summer heat.

The thermometer to-day and our weather report for to-morrow are at extremes.

If you have any thing up in your garden that frost will kill you had best look after it sometime tomorrow.

A window at Mrs. M. D. Higgs' is handsomely draped in laces and organdies with a beautiful Easter hat as the centre piece. It is very attractive.

Lang sent the REFLECTOR a couple of fans with the injunction to "keep cool." No April fool about this, and the fans will be brought into play after awhile.

Thirty For the Month.

The total number of marriage licenses issued by Register of Deeds King during the month of March was thirty, ten being for white and twenty for colored couples.

Go See.

What it is to be you will have to attend to find out. The ladies of the M.
E. Church will have a "boot and shoe sale" and give "a trip to fairy land" at the Star Warehouse next Tuesday evening. They promise it shall both interest and entertain all who attend.

Notice.

I have erected a photograph tent,
