Why Not Take Passengers?

The south bound freight train over the road between Weldon and Kinston now reaches Greenville at 12:50 P. M., and goes on to Kinston in time to connect with the train on the Atlantic road going east. Now if the freight trains on this road were allowed to carry passengers it can be seen at a glance what a convenience it would be to the people living along the road and those traveling this way. Besides the convenience to local travel, it would enable people to leave Greenville at 1 o'clock and reach Morehead the same evening, instead of having to spend a night and day in Kinston as at present. For some reason the railroad authorities early this year stopped passengers from going on these freight trains, but we hope they will see the convenience it would be to our people by putting a passenger coach on these trains again.

Still Better Mail Facilities.

Mr. H. H. Wilson, mail clerk on the railroad, told us Saturday evening that beginning on Tuesday 16th, the freight train arriving at Greenville from Weldon at 12:50 P. M., would bring mail to Greenville. This additional service is established for the purpose of bringing on the fast mail that reaches Weldon at night and under the old arrangement has been laying over in that town until the next evening before reaching here. Under this new arrangement much of our northern mail will get here six hours sooner. Mr. Wilson told us he had been at work several weeks, trying to get this convenience added to the mail service.

Matters Of Interest Over the State.

The Fayetteville Observer reports a cotton blossom on the 12th.

W. M. Sherrill, formerly editor of the Lexington Dispatch, has started a weekly paper at Greensboro called the Guilford Herald. We wish him success.

Miss Annie Fields, in turning a corner on her bicycle Thursday evening, fell in the ditch and broke her arm. Dr. Hyatt set the break, and she is resting easily now.—Kinston Free Press.

Gov. Carr has received a letter from the Secretary of the Navy saying that as the cruiser Raleigh draws 20 feet 3 inches of water it will be dangerous to take her across the bar at Southport that the testimonial may be presented at that place. The Secretary suggested that the presentation be made at Norfolk or Hampton Roads.

LATE NEWS.

Saturday the Treasury gold reserve dropped down to a little above $104,000,000.

Capt. Thos. P. Leathers, a well known Mississippi river steamboat captain, died in New Orleans from the effects of being run over by a bicycle.

Patrick Sullivan, 27 years of age jumped from Brooklyn Bridge into East river. He was picked up by a passing tug and placed under arrest on the charge of attempting to commit suicide. The only injury he sustained was a slight sprain of the right ankle.

The Encampments.

The fourth Regiment of the N. C. State Guard will encamp at Charlotte, N. C. The ten companies comprising the fourth will consolidate at Statesville, and march from there to Charlotte, a distance of 44 miles. The march will be divided in stages so that it will only take four days. Maj. E. M. Hayes and Col. T. L. Smith will accompany the Regiment on the march. The plan of doing actual campaign duty is a new feature, but one which the officers think will prove popular.

The Second Regiment will encamp at Wrightsville, but it is doubtful whether the first Regiment will join in the encampment. The Governor's Guard will not go into encampment this season.—Raleigh Press Visitor.

It Talks.

A cynical humor had caught the philosopher when his youngest son inquired:

"Did you ever read Aesop's Fables?"

"Yes."

"Things are very different now from what they were when Aesop was alive."

"Very."

"He couldn't get birds and other animals to talk now, could he?"

"No, my boy. The only thing outside of the human race that talks now is money. And it is generally too busy looking after its own affairs to give much good advice."—Detroit Free Press.

One of our exchanges is authority for the statement that the pastor of a Chicago church is trying an experiment to induce people to attend. In order to attract people to prayer meetings he provides lemonade and ginger snaps, which are served gratis. The idea is novel, but the experiment is of doubtful utility. A religion with free lunch accompaniment to make it go seems severely afflicted with incipient lethargy that may develop into evanescent oblivion, so to speak.

KEEP COOL.

We show the grandest assortment of Fancy Cheviot Business Suits ever brought to Greenville. A superb collection of the choicest patterns and fabrics in ultra fashionable styles. Beautiful broken plaids, indistinct plaids, neat pin checks. fancy Clay weaves, silk mintures pin dots—the colorings, cut and the make all of the latest merchant tailor kind—the price of which is very low down.

HATS! A nice line of Straw Hats still left to select from. Your own price not refused.

Married 100 Years

Last year Jean Szathmary and wife, at the town Zsomboyi, in Hungary, celebrated the hundredth anniversary of their wedding. The venerable couple were on that occasion aged 120 and 115 respectively, and had for many years been in receipt of a pension, granted to them in recognition of their great age and their fidelity to each other. The fact of a hundred years of married life spent together seems hardly credible, but the marriage of this then very young couple and now extremely aged couple was verified beyond question as having been duly and officially recorded to have taken place in May, 1794, both, according to the record, having then attained marriageable age.—Parrson's weekly.

The New Man in Baltimore.

A singular story comes from Baltimore showing the progress which the "new man" has made in performing household duties. The account is given in the following special to the Philadelphia Times: "Mrs. Annie Kuhn today secured the release of her husband from jail and put him back to work in her home as man of all work and nurse to the children, while she supports the large family by working in a cigar factory. With all the interesting gossip about the 'new women,' Kuhn has been quietly and unostentatiously playing the part of a 'new man.' He performed the household duties with perfect satisfaction to his wife, and always had meals promptly ready when she returned from the factory. He kept the house clean and could manipulate a scrubbing brush with agility. In addition to these duties he washed and dressed the children, demanded a weekly compensation of $1.25 as pin money, in addition to home and support. His wife agreed, but after paying him money for several weeks he began to spend it in beer, neglect his household duties and abuse his wife. Then she had him sent to jail and employed a woman to do the work. Yesterday she applied to the court to release him, declaring that she could not do without his services. The woman she employed had been taken sick. She told the judge she thought she could now manage her husband again. Justice Grannan today gave her the order for her husband's release and said it was the most peculiar case he had ever had before him."

RAILROAD TRAVEL.

Modern Civilization Has Made It Quick, Comfortable and Secure.

In the Ladies' Home Journal John Gilmer Speed writes entertainingly and instructively on the construction and operation of railroads, under the caption, "Running a Train at Night." He prefatorily asserts that "the most remarkable achievements of modern civilization, probably, are those which affect traveling, making it at once quick, comfortable and secure. We cross states and continents at the rate of 30 miles an hour, with greater security against accident than our grandfathers enjoyed in their stage coaches, and we have, even when on the cars, comforts unknown in the palaces of kings when our grandfathers' grandfathers were young. During the year (from interstate commerce commissioner's report for year ending July 1, 1894), one passenger was killed for every 1,985,153 passengers carried; and one was injured for every 183,822 carried. This surely is as safe as living ordinary humdrum lives in large cities."

The report further shows that a man's chances against injury were such that he would have to travel 4,406,659 miles before getting hurt, and go 47,588,966 miles before being killed. At the rate of 30 miles an hour a man could travel, if nature permitted, on American railways for 181 years, without leaving the cars, before being killed, or with the same amount of security against accident he could go round the earth 1,903 times before meeting his death by accident, and 176 times before getting hurt.

Stupid Litigation.

A stupidly obstinate piece of litigation has just been settled by the house of Lords. Two Aberdeenshire land owners quarreled over the right to fish in the River Dee, which borders their estates for 150 yards. Both admitted that the fishing was of no value, but they had spent $15,000 to have their rights decided.

Increase of Penalty.

The old penalty against a German soldier or sailor of the standing army or navy who left the Fatherland was a fine of 200 marks or 40 days' imprisonment. That has now been raised to 1,000 marks fine or imprisonment for ten months.

A medical journal says that probable the oldest physician in active practice in America is Dr. F. H. Wilgohs, of Doylestown, Ohio, who is still practicing at the age of ninety-three. He has the appearance of a man of sixty, reads the newspapers without aid of glasses, and eats three hearty meals each day. He is an habitual smoker, but never used tobacco until he was fifty years old. He attributes longevity to heredity and to careful regularity in all his habits of life. He says that for 300 years the male members of his family, who have died of natural deaths, all lived to be 100 or more. His grandfather cradled wheat two days in succession at the age of 106, and died from overheating himself.

A Human Faced Bug.

Mr. Henry Oyerby has exhibited to us a remarkable bug which Mr. Jim Wright, of Campbellton, found on a whortleberry bush. It is about an eighth of an inch in diameter, and on its back is the perfect representation of a human face, eyes, forehead, hair, nose, mouth and chin. It is like the face of a mulatto girl. The eyes appear also, through a magnifying glass, to be the eyes of the bug itself, and one person who examined it through a microscope says that he saw them wink. Barnum's Wooley horse wasn't a circumstance to it.—Fayetteville Observer.

A Court Incident in Greensboro.

Saturday afternoon Justice Keith suddenly adjourned his court in the midst of a hearing and said he desired to relieve his mind. He relieved it and then got choked by a strong hand grabbing his neck from behind and jabbing his worship's face on the table in front of him, the jobber being John A. A Splendid Record.

The REFLECTOR has during the last week or two mentioned the high stand some Pitt county boys had taken at the schools they were attending. We are glad to know that our girls, too, are taking equally as high stand as the boys. To-day we saw the report of Miss Bettie, Tyson, daughter of Mr. R. A. Tyson, for the last half-session at Salem Female Academy. Her average on all studies was 99½, showing that she obtained almost the perfect mark on every study.

To Ocracoke.

Beginning next Saturday, 20th, the steamer Myers will leave Greenville on Saturdays at 2 o'clock P. M., connecting at Washington with steamer Virginia Dare which leaves the latter place at 10 o'clock P. M. for Ocracoke. The Virginia Dare will reach Ocracoke at 5 o'clock Sunday mornings and leave at 4 o'clock Sunday evenings, reaching Washington in time to connect with the Myers for up river points. The fare for the round trip, Greenville to Ocracoke and return, is only $2.25, tickets good for the entire season.

A Greensboro physician is authority for the statement that onions make a nerve tonic not to be despised. They tone up the worn out system, and if eaten freely will show good results in case of nervous prostration. If a sprig of parsley is dipped in vinegar and eaten after an onion no unpleasant odor from the breath can be detected. And in addition to this valuable and important bit of information, onions eaten freely will, also he says, beautify the complexion.

Mayor Forbes had John Plummer, colored, before him this morning for cursing on the streets. John was told he could get his release from custody by contributing $3 to the town treasury.
