PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Delightful Session at Wilmington.

The North Carolina Press Association held its twenty-fourth annual convention this week in the city of Wilmington. In all there were forty editors in attendance and they had a very interesting meeting.

The morning of the first day was devoted to matters of business connected with the Association, and to addresses of welcome and responses, and the annual address of the President. In the afternoon the editors were taken in charge by the Chamber of Commerce and given an excursion over the sea-coast railroad to Ocean View where an hour was spent in sight seeing and surf bathing. They then returned to Wrightsville where an old fashioned oyster roast was served to which the quill drivers did full and ample justice. They were back in Wilmington in time for supper and held another business session at night.

Thursday through the courtesy of Capt. John W. Harper, of the steamer Wilmington, the editors joined an excursion down the river to Southport and out to sea. This proved a delightful trip all through. Returning to Carolina Beach a stop of two hours was made and the Association held another business session for the election of officers. At night another session was held in Wilmington and all business being completed the convention adjourned sine die.

Wilmington was exceedingly courteous to the editors and made their stay in the city of such pleasure as to be an occasion long remembered even going so far as to invite the Association to make Wilmington its permanent headquarters.

Just how they appreciated this can be best expressed in the resolutions adopted by the Association.

The following resolution offered by J. C. Tipton was unanimously adopted. "Resolved, That the thanks of the North Carolina Press Association are hereby extended to the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce for their cordial invitation and entertainment while in Wilmington, to the Wilmington Seacoast railroad, the Wilmington street railroad, to Captain John W. Harper, of the steamer Wilmington, and to the railroads for the courtesies extended.

"Resolved further, that the thanks of the North Carolina Press Association are hereby tendered to D. J. Whichard for the faithful and efficient manner in which he discharged the duties as secretary of the convention."

J. P. Caldwell offered the following which was adopted by a rising vote.

"The North Carolina Press Association, on the eve of adjournment, makes special acknowledgement of its thanks for unnumbered courtesies to Messrs. F. L. Huggins, B. F. King and Charles M. Whitlock, the committee of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, having our entertainment especially in charge; to the members of the local press, especially Messrs. Bell and Bernard and to Mr. James H. Chadbourn, Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce, for his kind invitation to the association to make this delightful city its permanent headquarters."

Several editors also made remarks expressive of their pleasure at Wilmington's hospitality.

The officers of the association for the ensuing year are as follows:

President—R. M. Clark, of the Statesville Ledger.

First Vice President—J. B. Whitaker, Jr., of the Winston Sentinel.

Second Vice President—J. T. Britt, of the Oxford Ledger.

A Big Something.

Cesar, the colored truckman for Mr. A. Forbes, made the REFLECTOR a present of a "kershaw," or a potato pumpkin, yesterday. It is as large as a pumpkin, of a green color, and is exactly the shape of a goose. It has attracted a great deal of attention. Guessing has been lively as to "what it is," and when they asked Billie what it was, he replied it was a great, big squash, nearly the size of Frank Sugg's snake. It was raised by Caesar.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, July 17th, 1896.

Senator Jones, of Ark., who was chosen by Mr. Bryan to be chairman of the Democratic National Committee, returned to Washington this week. He brought with him an immense stock of confidence which he is freely distributing among Democrats. He refuses to consider the election of Bryan and Sewall other than an absolute certainty, and he says he knows prominent Republicans who take the same view of the situation, one of whom told him that he would not be surprised to see silver carry every state outside of New England. He was asked if he feared the nomination of a gold Democratic ticket, and replied: "Not in the least. Why should we? It will not carry any State, and the only votes it will get will be of those Democrats who would otherwise vote for McKinley or else go fishing. It may be called an independent ticket. Its convention would not be representative of the Democratic party, because the Democratic party, called together in National convention by its national committee, has already acted. No one has any authority to call another Democratic convention. No, the threat, if it may be called one, of certain gentlemen to hold another convention has no terror. I understand that several administration officials refuse to support the nominee of the Democratic convention. They have never been with us. The fact that they are not with us is not astonishing. Secretary Herbert was probably one of the officials Senator Jones referred to, as he is credited with having said that he would not vote for Bryan and Sewall.

Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, believes that the Democrats can capture the House this year and is determined that it shall not be the fault of the committee if they do not. He says: "The province of this committee will be to aid the election of any candidate for Congress upon the regular Democratic ticket. We have nothing to do with the nominations for Congress, and will take no part in the contests for them. After the candidates are selected, however, it will be our business and we will see to it that all aid possible is given for the election of those candidates. We will take it for granted that the Democrats of each district know what they are about, and we will not question their selection. It will make no difference to us what the platform may be upon which the candidates are selected." Senator Faulkner has no doubts about the election of Bryan and Sewall, nor about their carrying his own State, of which he said: "I think West Virginia will be carried by free silver. I believe that the sentiment throughout the State is overwhelmingly in favor of it. In my own county I know personally. of Republican votes that we will get with our platform. I think the same condition exists in other counties in the State. We will hold our State convention August 12th, and will nominate a State ticket upon a silver basis throughout. Every one of our Congressional candidates will also be for silver."

The Congressional committee has already placed large orders for Mr. Bryan's speeches in Congress, in order to be able to promptly fill the orders for them which have already begun to come in. Among the other documents selected by the committee for campaign use are speeches on finance by Senators Daniel, Jones, of Ark., and Cockrell; on the income tax by Representative McMillin and Ex-Representative Wile, and Representative Fitzgerald's speech on sectarianism and the Marquette statue.

According to present indications, the number of democratic clubs which will take part in this year's campaign will largely exceed that of any previous campaign. In one day, this week, sixty applications for charters for new clubs were received at the headquarters of the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

There is reason to believe that a bold attempt is to be made to prevent the populist convention, which will be held at St. Louis next week, endorsing Bryan and Sewall. Agents of those interested in having the populists put up a ticket of their own for the purpose of dividing the silver vote are reported to have intimated to leading populists that any price they might name would be paid for a failure on the part of the convention to endorse Bryan and Sewall and the nomination of a straight populist ticket. Those who ought to know say the convention will either endorse Bryan and Sewall or will nominate them outright. It is certain that the silver convention, to be held at the same time and place, will be for Bryan and Sewall.

WHEN THE WOMEN SAY THEY WILL.

Maria rides a bicycle
That's painted red an' blue,
An' I reckon she'll be bouncin'
In them colored bloomers, too!
But what's the use in howlin'?
Got to climb the hill!
Ain't no good in growlin'
When the women say they will!
The hoss is idle in the lot—
She's let the ole mule slide;
She's changed completely since she got,
That bicycle to ride!
But what's the use in shoutin'?
Got to climb the hill!
Ain't no use in poutin'
When the women say they will!
The world—it keeps a turnin'—
We're all the time at sea;
It's left me in the kitchen
Wher' Maria use to be!

But what's the use in sighin'?
Got to climb the hill!
Ain't no good in cryin'
When the women say they will!

The Democratic party is crippled by the eastern bolt just about as a man is crippled who leaves off his button-hole bouquet.

Died.

Married Cousins Three Times.

A man obtained a license from Register of Deeds King to-day for another man to get married. This is the third time, that the same man has applied for license for the same groom-elect to get married, and everytime the bride have been first cousins to each other all three of them granddaughters of the same man. We doubt if there is a parallel case to this on record.

Another Handsome Block.

The work of clearing away the debris on Elliott Bros.' opera house block has started and as soon as this is done the new block of buildings to occupy the site will start up. Mr. W. H. Long has shown us the specifications and it will be a handsome building. The block is to contain six stores. The store next to Mrs. Jarvis' block and the one outside on the corner will be two stories high, the four intervening stores being one story. The first idea to have a portion of the corner store made into offices has been abandoned, but instead the upper story will be made into a nice ball for some of the lodges. Messrs. Riddick and Barnes have the contract for this building and it is to be completed by October 15th.
