People Enjoying Themselves by the Seaside.

(Editorial Correspondence.)

HOTEL PONDER,

Ocracoke, N. C., July 20.—The season at Ocracoke is now at its prime, and the many people sojourning here are enjoying this pleasant resort to the utmost. Hotel Ponder is surpassing any of its former seasons, and Proprietor George Credle is giving it a reputation which it has not heretofore enjoyed.

This season transportation facilities are much more advantageous than formerly, and this fact also causes much larger crowds to come here. The elegant Old Dominion Line steamer, Virginia Dare, under command of clever Capt. David Hill, make a trip from Washington here every Saturday night, returning Sunday night. Let me say here in passing that any one who has ever traveled with Dave Hill knows what a pleasure it is to be on a steamer under his command. Then the same company in connection with the Norfolk & Southern railroad have established a lay boat here and this is one of the regular stopping points of the large and commodious steamer Neuse that plies between Newbern and Elizabeth City. This steamer touches here every night. And beginning on Wednesday, 22nd inst., the steamer Gazelle will begin a mid-week trip from Washington, leaving there at 8 o'clock A. M. on Wednesdays and returning Thursdays. Besides these steamers, the number of sail boats to and from Ocracoke make it possible for people to come and go every day.

I looked over the hotel register on Sunday and found there were fifty arrivals here on that day alone. Among these were people from New York, Baltimore, Lynchburg, Richmond, Winston, Greenville, Washington, Newbern, Tillery and other points.

There are a number of pretty girls among the guests, and let me add again that Greenville "holds her own" when the "round up" comes. Miss Lillian Cherry is the most popular girl here, the boys all declaring that she is the most charming dancer that has been here this season.

In addition to the large number of guests at the hotel there are many at several boarding houses, and still many others are here occupying their summer cottages. A party of twelve young men from Winston are in camp here having immense fun. So taken altogether the entire island presents a picture of activity and gaiety.

Col. Williamson, the veteran fisherman of Asheville, is here again this season, but you can mark it down that "Uncle John" Cherry don't let anybody go ahead of him in landing the funny tribe.

M. K. King, General Manager of the Norfolk and Southern railroad arrived here with his family on his private yacht.

It was my pleasure on Sunday to hear Dr. C. M. Payne, of Washington, preach two delightful sermons here. He is spending some days here.

It has been two years since the writer was at Ocracoke and that time I notice several improvements have taken place. The O. D. S. S. Co. and N. & S. R. R. having established the lay boat here has largely increased the amount of business done on the island and as a result of this a number of new buildings have been erected. Near this lay boat another light house is being stationed for the convenience of mariners, and the Government is having a new channel cut from the inlet across what is known as the "wash."

Hotel Ponder has come in for a full share of improvements also. Blinds have been placed to the rooms, the building has been brightened with paint, considerable new furniture has been put in, and everything is clean and neat.

I have not tried my hand with the rod at this writing, but in my next I expect to be able to state that the "old man" don't run far behind when it comes to catching whales.

D. J. W.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK.

St. Louis, July 17.—After a debate that lasted four hours last night the Jefferson club, the democratic organization of this city, endorsed the Chicago platform and the nomination of Bryan and Sewall by a vote of 62 to 34. F. W. Lehman and R. G. Frost opposed the indorsement and Frank M. Ester, Lee Merryweather, Given Campbell and Paul T. Gadsden spoke in favor of it. President Rolla H. Wells has resigned from the club in consequence of last night's action.

New York, July 17.—A meeting was held this morning at the office of Flower & Co. between Senator Hill, ex-Lieutenant Governor William F. Sheehan, B. F. Martin, of Tammany hall, ex-Governor R. P. Flower and Chairman Hinckley, of the state democratic committee. The whole political situation was gone over and the best possible methods of procedure discussed. It was finally agreed that an early meeting of the state committee should be held and the chairman was asked to issue a call this evening. It is expected that the committee will meet in a few days and fix an early date for the state convention. The attitude of the democracy of the state of New York in the coming campaign will be left to the convention to decide. Senator Hill has decided to remain silent until the convention meets.

Topeka, Kan., July 17.—The American silver party state convention, composed of over 300 delegates representing four-fifths of the counties in the state, yesterday afternoon elected sixty delegates to the national silver convention at St. Louis and instructed them to vote as a unit for William J. Bryan for president. The republicans were in full control of the convention, comparatively few of the delegates being either populists or democrats. Of the eleven delegates at large all were republicans up to the time of the republican national convention except three. Of the forty-nine district delegates all but fifteen are republicans. The resolutions commended Senator Teller and his associates for bolting the republican national convention and instructed delegates to the national convention to confer and act with bolting republicans in an endeavor to solidify all free silver forces.

Senator Smith, of New Jersey was asked today:

"Is there any silver sentiment in New Jersey?"

"Yes, much more than is generally supposed. The agriculture element of each party is affected to a considerable degree by the enthusiasm of the western farmers for this idea. It will be no easy task to overcome this enthusiasm wherever there is a large agricultural element."

"Then you do not foresee a walkover for McKinley?"

"On the contrary, I am convinced that if the election was to be held next week Bryan would win. People here in the east do not appreciate the hold the free silver idea has taken upon the masses of the entire west and south. They believe they are right in principle, and they will be impressed more and more as the campaign progresses by the personality of the candidate."—Baltimore Sun.

MONDAY, JULY 20TH, 1896.

Convention Dates.

Populist National Convention, St. Louis, July 22.

Silver National Convention, St. Louis, July 22.

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

Many thousands of general investors, capitalists and manufacturers throughout the North and West and in Great Britain will have a clearer insight into the advantages of the South, and a better knowledge of what it is accomplishing, through a series of special issues of the Manufacturers' Record to be published during the next twelve months, than they have ever had before. The value of these issues in attracting attention to the South cannot be overestimated.

The Manufacturers' Record has undertaken this series of special editions in order to make each one emphasize some striking feature of Southern advancement which could not otherwise be brought so conspicuously to public attention. It is proposed, in this series, to be issued during the next twelve months, to present to the world at large the most comprehensive outlines of the expansion of particular interests in the South. The very remarkable progress of the foreign trade of the South, so essential to the prosperity of the whole section, as outlined in the Special New Orleans Issue of July 17, will be followed next by one having as its central idea "Kansas City and the Gulf Trade," the aim being to show the influence upon Southern development of the concentration of railroad and business interests at Kansas City looking to the Gulf as an outlet to foreign markets. The foreign commercial interests have been taken up first because the increase of Southern commerce means the broadening and expansion of the whole business interests of this section, thus greatly strengthening the industrial situation and bringing about a well-rounded development. Following this will be several special issues covering other features of Southern upbuilding. Arrangements have been made to guarantee that these issues will have the largest circulation among manufacturers and capitalists and business men generally, in this country and abroad, of any publication ever issued in behalf of southern advancement. Every manufacturer in the United States must necessarily be deeply interested in such a comprehensive plan looking to the upbuilding of the whole South, and thus to an increase in the demand in this section for machinery and manufactured products generally. During the next twelve months regular advertisers in the Manufacturers' Record will have the benefit of this remarkable extra circulation without extra cost.

Penmanship and Morality.

"Before beginning my lecture," remarked the professor, "I will, in order to more fully establish the influence of handwriting upon character, ask some gentleman in the audience to come forward and give a sample of his penmanship."

A pale young man with short hair arose and stepped to the platform. Seizing the pen he hastily dashed down a sentence or two and then returned to his seat.

"Excellent," remarked the professor, as he surveyed the man's work. "This writing shows the advantage of acquiring a fixed style. I don't suppose the man who wrote this could vary his penmanship if he practiced a month of Sundays. It shows an adherence to established principles, unswerving directness of purpose, a fixed moral code, an aspiration for orderly methods. I should classify it as a combination of conscience and commerce, so to speak. It's the style of writing Oliver Cromwell might have affected. And now, young man, may I inquire your business?"

"Hain't had no business lately," replied the young man, hoarsely. "I've just finished a term in the pen for forgoing checks."—Cleveland Leader.

THE BRYAN SCHOOLMATE.

He's comin' into prominence—wuz lost, but now he's found;
First time since Lee surrendered that we knowed he wuz around;
You'll meet him in the meadows—you'll hail him on the hill;
He went to school with Bryan—you bet he did!—with Bill!

He tell it in the city, he spouts it on the plain;
He never stops in sunshine, he never runs fer rain;
No matter where you meet him, he's tellin' of it still—
How he went to school with Bryan—democratic Bill!

He's walkin' an' he's talkin' in the villages an' towns;
Stampedin' all the circuses—the elephants an' clowns;
No matter where you meet him—the same old story still:
For he went to school with Bryan—you bet he did!—with Bill!

It is of very great importance that an able, efficient executive officer should have charge of the state campaign, North Carolina democrats have been badly served often. Few men in a million have the right combination of endowments for leadership. The ablest of all democratic managers is not popular with "young America." The "good gray heads" are at a discount in this state, and men of sixty are shoved aside to make way for aspiring youth. In England the old men like Gladstone and Salisbury are put at the helm in a storm. Ex-Senator Jarvis is vastly superior to any men known now in the state for the chairmanship of the democratic executive committee. If he has an equal he is unknown as yet. It is a bad year for experiments. We have no idea he will be selected. He was ignored at Chicago also.—Wilmington Messenger.

A. FORBES.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 17.—A sensation has been caused in political circles by the announcement that E. C. Wall, ex-chairman of the Democratic state committee, and a number of the democratic national committee, will support Bryan and Sewall, the nominees of the Chicago convention. The announcement is made by Mr. Wall himself. He said: "Believing that the distress and dissatisfaction existing among the people of this country today are due to the pernicious legislation of the republican party for thirty years, and believing that the supremacy of the republican party would ultimately destroy a government by the people in this land, I prefer to appear inconsistent in one matter rather than to do violence to my present principles. Therefore, notwithstanding the fact that my views on the money question are not in accord with those expressed by the recent democratic national convention, I submit and I will support and vote for the nominees."

Lansing, Mich., July 17.—The state silver convention met here yesterday. A number of gentlemen made ardent silver speeches. The report of the committee on resolutions declared against the gold standard as producing a stagnation of industry, the heaping up of enormous interest charges on the government, the issuing of bonds in time of peace, the heaping up of wealth in the hands of the few, the impoverishment of the people, the increase of taxes and the obligations of debtors and concludes as follows: "Therefore we, the bi-metallists of Michigan, in convention assembled, hereby resolved that we favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1, as it existed previous to 1873, by the United States, independent of any other nation, and all money minted or issued by the government to be a full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, the government to exercise the option to redeem its obligations in either silver or gold, as may be most convenient. We also favor the enactment of a law that will prohibit the making of contracts that discriminate against any money issued by the government."
