PROFITABLE PUBLICITY.

Summer Advertising.

BY NATH'L C. FOWLER, JR., DOCTOR OF PUBLICITY.

Folks eat in Summer.

Folks wear clothes in Summer.

Folks sit down in Summer, and they walk, and they break dishes, and they use up in Summer as much as they use in Winter.

If folks eat in Summer they must have something to eat, and if they have something to eat, and so long as there is a prejudice against stealing, they must buy that something.

If folks wear clothes in Summer, they must wear out these clothes, and if they wear them out, they must go naked, or have more clothes, and if they have more clothes, they must buy those clothes.

If folks buy things in summer, because they have to, and if stores must be kept open, is there any reason why stores shouldn't advertise when folks eat things, wear things, wear out things, and buy things?

Perhaps it is a coincidence, but the man who does the most business in the Winter, and in the Spring, Fall and Summer, and the man who makes the most money in the long run, is the man who advertises in all four of the four seasons, and thinks more of increasing his advertising than he does of cutting it.

In the Winter it is generally cold enough for activity, and there are theatre parties, and card parties, and entertainments of every sort.

Folks read in Winter, but they do other things first.

Folks read in Summer, and do the other things afterwards, because it is easier to read than it is to perspire, and they read everything from the country newspaper to the circus poster.

Women will read advertisements in the Summer when they will not read them in the Winter. They think they haven't time in the Winter, because they have something else to do.

Summer advertising may pay better than Winter advertising.

Will be Interesting.

There can be little doubt that the campaign will be one of the most interesting in years. There may not be so much brass band and torchlight procession about it, but there will be any amount of speaking. In this regard the Democrats will have rather the advantage. Formerly the differences between the two parties were not so distinctly defined. Now the line of demarcation is plain, the issues are tangible, and for the first time in many years the Democratic party is in advance. It will be aggressive, not defensive; defiant, not supplicating. It will gather round its banner the masses of the people as against the classes, and in a contest of that nature the Democrats are bound to win. New leaders will come to the front, younger men will be found making the fight; the barnacles of the party will be scraped off and there will be more harmony in the ranks. The fight will be for principles, not a mere choice between men. Old personal differences and grievances will disappear. There will be a united Democracy.—Oxford Ledger.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Mr. Bryan has had a perfect ovation from his home to New York. Everywhere crowds greeted him. Even at Canton, Mr. McKinley's home he found an enthusiastic silver gathering.

Strange to say that Mr. McKinley was notably absent. At Senator Sherman's town the people vied with those at Mr. McKinley's in their hurrahing for the Democratic nominee.

But Pittsburg gave him the most enthusiastic crowd of the trip. Whole acres of people shouted themselves hoarse for Bryan and free silver.

Mr. N. C. English, whom the Republicans nominated sometime ago for Congress in the fourth district, declines to accept the nomination. The Republican Executive Committee met yesterday and it was thought would fill the place. The two most prominent candidates for the place were C. T. Bailey and John Nichols.

Mr. J. H. Southgate, provisional chairman for North Carolina of the National Party, has issued a call for a mass meeting in Greensboro on the 21st of August for the purpose of nominating Bentley-Southgate electors and a State ticket &c.

There are many who believe that the income tax plank in the Chicago platform is the cause of more opposition in the north to the Democratic ticket than free silver. It is very evident that they are not much in love with any party that proposes that they shall bear their part of the burdens of taxation. There never was a more just demand than for an income tax.

Bethel Items.

BETHEL N. C., Aug. 11th.

Hon. F. G. James, of Greenville, spent Friday here on legal business.

Harman Jenkins, of Alabama, who has been visiting relations here left for his home yesterday.

James Carson, of Fortress Monroe, is home on a furlough.

Miss Sallie Andrews and sister, of Tarboro, are visiting relatives here this week.

Rev. S. A. Cotton, of Conetoe, assisted Rev. A. [S. Barnes in conducting the revival here last week. The meeting will close tonight. There have been several conversions.

The new depot is about completed. J. M. Lloyd who has charge of the painting force is finishing up the office. It is quite a handsome building.

New Process for Tobacco Curing.

Mr. Geo. B. Webb is making experiments to develop a new process, originated by himself, to cure tobacco. He has succeeded in curing small parcels of it a bright yellow. He says he expects to cure it in from 30 to 50 days without any heat. If his process proves successful he will be able to cure a pound of tobacco to each cubic foot of room space, without any danger of burning, without any attention after first placing it, without chemicals and by a perfectly natural and inexpensive process, retaining all the oils in the tobacco, curing it a bright color, with a velvety finish, and perfectly curing the stem and leaf. If this proves practical it will be a great saving to the tobacco farmers, and will mean a fortune for Mr. Webb. We wish him the greatest success.—Kinston Free Press.

Hoke Smith Resigned.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The Post this morning confirms the report that Hoke Smith has resigned from the cabinet, in an article from which the following is an extract: "Secretary Hoke Smith's resignation as a member of the cabinet and the head of the Interior Department is said to be in the hands of the President.

"The authority for this statement is a close personal friend of Secretary Smith. As the story goes, Secretary Smith forwarded his resignation to the President at Gray Gables on the same day that he authorized the publication in his paper, the Atlanta Journal, of the editorial declaring that paper would support Bryan and Sewall, although deprecating the platform upon which they were nominated.

"In this letter to the President, it is said that the Secretary announced the position that he was going to assume, pointed out that he had, during the campaign in Georgia, given a solemn pledge that he would abide by the action of the Chicago convention, and then went on to say that he felt that he could not, in justice to the President longer, remain in his cabinet."

The Post then speculates as to what the President is going to do about it, and concludes that if the President continues in his present attitude of non-action, Smith must serve out his time in the cabinet, but that if he takes either of several suggested courses unfavorable to Bryan and the Chicago platform, the Secretary will insist upon enforcing his resignation, and will return to Georgia and take an active part in the campaign.

WEATHER CROP BULLETIN.

The past week has been on the whole the most unfavorable of the entire season. The conditions of extreme heat and dryness, which began over two weeks ago, continue unabated. While the mean temperature has been only from 4 to 6 degrees above the normal per day the maximum again reached over 100 degrees. Showers occurred at half dozen points on the 2d and 3d, but were altogether insufficient in amount; the deficiency for the State for this week is nearly 1.50 inches. Bright sunshine prevailed. The effect of these conditions on crops has been bad in all districts, except at some points in the south-east portion and in the mountainous sections. Cotton continues to deteriorate, very many correspondents report that bolls and leaves are shedding badly; at places the plants are wilting; no top crop seems to be forming; the crop is opening too rapidly. Although it is easy to overestimate the damage to cotton, all evidences show that it has been considerable. Still if good rains occur this week there will be some recovery. Corn has also been injured, the late corn will be a failure without rain soon. Much of the fodder of the old crop has been pulled, and much is drying on the stalk before it can be stripped. Curin tobacco is now progressing everywhere. Much firing is reported, and farmers are pulling lower leaves, which are curing bright but thin and light. Although peas, sweet potatoes and peanuts are good, they need rain badly. Sowing turnip seed has been stopped. The conditions are becoming serious, and there has been an unfortunate decline from the fine crop prospects of two weeks ago.

A Horrible Affair.

Mr. W. H. French, of Rocky Point, brought news yesterday of a murder or murders last Saturday in Holly Town ship, Pender county.

The facts, as told by Mr. French, are as follows: Mr. Frank Powers and wife left their two children, (one fourteen months old and the other two-years old) at Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Hills' house, with the latter's three children, while the old folks went out to pick dog-tongue. While gone Mr. Hill's ten-year old son beat the Powers children unmercifully because they began crying for their parents, and said when the old folks returned and found one dead and the other at the point of death, that he did it to keep them from crying.

It was a sad affair and the entire community sympathize with the two families. It was thought that the Powers children had also been cut with a knife. The coroner had been sent for, but the result of the inquest was not ascertained.—Wilmington Star.

Alarming.

The reports from the country districts of Cumberland are really becoming alarming. Many of the farmers who only three weeks ago were counting on harvesting the best crops they ever raised, are now in despair.

Every one should pray earnestly for rain. This additional calamity to our already existing woes, is bad, very bad.—Fayetteville Observer.

According to statistician Mullan, this country is the wealthiest country in the world, its wealth being $64,120,000,000, against $47,000,000,000 for Great Britain. And yet the gold standard people get into a state of pan-demoniac alarm at every suggestion that this country should declare its financial independence of G. B. and refuse to be longer led by the nasal organ. Can't we build a railroad or raise a few million dollars without running to John Bull with hat in hand?—Wilmington Star.

He Met an Old Friend.

"I cannot but admit my condition, your Honor," said the dignified old gentleman who had been carried to the police station the night before in a state of collapse, "but the circumstances arose from my meeting an old friend of my younger days, an old friend from Kentucky."

"I have the honor of being a Kentuckian," said his Honor; "and I will let you go. By the way, who was the old friend? He may be a friend of myself."

The dignified old gentleman first got himself near the door and then said, in soft voice:

"John Barleycorn."

This country is now very much in the position of a man who, being possessed of a wealth of broad acres, has so plastered them over with mortgages, that it requires all the profits of their tillage to square the annual interest account. This is why we hear so much about the national credit, and why it has become so difficult to meet the expenses of the Government without further borrowing. The financial management of this country since the war has been such that, it persisted in a few years longer, will end in total bankruptcy, repudiation and ruin!—Durham Star.

ODDITIES OF DRESS.

National Characteristics of the Attire of European Women.

It is strange that whereas in every country of Europe, among the higher classes as well as among the peasantry, a distinctive peculiarity of costume exists, there is absolutely nothing of the kind in North America. The newness of the country does not explain this, as in South American states, which are younger than our nation, a national costume is the rule.

The Russian "kakochnik" is one of the most charming articles of adornment in Europe. It originated among the Muscovite peasant women, but has been adopted during this century by the ladies of the court, who have elaborated it into a red velvet cap embroidered in precious stones. It is worn with the red velvet court mantle and jeweled stomacher brought out on state occasions, and more than outrivals the plumes and veil worn at the English court.

The Spanish mantilla is well known and has been somewhat vulgarized on the comic stage. The national dress of Roumania has escaped that fate. Carmen Sylva always wears it when at home. It consists of a white linen sleeveless garment made with as few folds as possible and somewhat resembling the Egyptian "fellaheen." It is thickly embroidered in a cross stitch arabesque in bright red, sky blue, orange, yellow and black silk, intermingled with gold and silver threads, a band of similar embroidery encircling the waist, with streamers of colored ribbon falling therefrom in a shimmering cascade. The hair is braided in four plaits loosely tied with chains of sequins and the feet are incased in crimson kid slippers strewn with seed pearls.

In Poland princesses and peasants wear around their throats several rows of huge coral beads, and so loath to part with these supposed bringers of good luck are they that when a grande dame is arrayed for a ball and is obliged to put on pearls and diamonds she carries her coral beads in her pocket.

In Austria-Hungary is found the greatest divergence in the matter of costume. The garb of the Hungarian peasant is so fetching that the wealthy ladies copy it when on their estates. It consists of a short puffy skirt of crimson and yellow, a small sleeveless velvet bodice imprisoning a snowy shirt, stiffly starched and embroidered in contrasting colors, and an artistically knotted head scarf from under which escapes a thick braid of hair entwined with colored ribbons.

In the plains of Provence and in the Normandy lands the wealthy still cling to their little lace cap, the intrinsic value of which is some times inestimable, made as they are of rare point lace fastened down with quaintly chased golden pins, barbed in families.—New York

FIRESIDE FRAGMENTS.

—A little flour dredged over the top of a cake will keep the icing from running.

—Fruit cake can be preserved for a long time by placing it in a box with an apple, and keeping in a cool place. If the apple shows signs of rotting, it must be replaced by a good one.

—A most delicious homemade flavoring may be prepared by grating into one-half pint of alcohol the yellow rinds of four lemons. Shake this daily for three or four weeks, and at the end of that time it will be ready for use.

—A Delicate Pudding.—Cream a pound of butter and sugar, add eight well-beaten eggs, flavor the mixture with nutmeg. Line a pudding dish with thin puff paste, pour in the pudding and set in a very hot oven for ten minutes. Serve without sauce.—N. Y. Ledger.

—Baked Ham.—Soak the ham in cold water over night; trim, wipe dry, cover it with a paste made of flour and water and bake in a slow oven. When done, take off the crust and peel off the skin; allow to cool, glaze and garnish with carrots and beets cut into fancy shapes.—Harper's Bazar.

—Banana charlotte makes a good desert and one capable of being prepared in a hurry. Line the sides of a quart mold with slices of sponge cake. Cover the bottom of the mold with a thick layer of thinly sliced banana. Fill the mold with stiff whipped cream and set it aside in the ice box until wanted, then remove carefully from the mold and serve.

—Apple Rice Pudding.—Pare, quarter and core three tart apples and spread loosely in a buttered agate pudding dish. Add three-quarters cupful of sugar and three tablespoonfuls rice to one quart of milk; turn the mixture over the apples, spread a few bits of butter over the tops and bake in a moderate oven four hours. Serve hot with sweetened whipped cream.—Orange Judd Farmer.

—Colds, With or Without Fever.—On going to bed, let the feet and legs be bathed in a warm bath. Drink freely of warm, thin gruel or warm weak tea with plenty of milk in it. If there is pain in the head, apply a mustard poultice on the back of the neck until the skin is red and painful. If there is pain in the chest, the side or any part of the abdomen, put the mustard plaster directly over the painful part until the same effect is produced.—Liverpool Mercury.

LUCKY PIGS—UNLUCKY OPALS.

Former with Two Legs No Good and Latter for Folk Born in October.

They—the girl with the violets and the girl with the feather boa—came into the public tearoom and settled at one of the small tables. She of the violets studied the menu. It was her treat. She of the boa drew her gloves off and then began to study her neighbors. Presently the order was given. It was not for a chocolate eclair and a pickle, by the way. Then she of the violets began to draw off her gloves her companion chattering about others at luncheon in the room. Suddenly she stopped her chatter and gasped: "Margaret! What a beauty. Where did you get it? Aren't you afraid to wear it?"

"What? Oh, my opal? Why, Charles brought me the stone from Mexico last spring, and mother had it set for me at Christmas. No, I'm not afraid to wear it. It's perfect nonsense about opals being unlucky. I don't believe in such things, anyhow. I'm not the least bit superstitious."

"Well, I wouldn't wear an opal for anything, unless I had been born in October. It may be nonsense, but since Christmas you've lost your purse—"

"Only a dime and a glove buttoner and some samples in it!"

"—And your watch; and two stick pins, to my certain knowledge; and I believe it was that opal!"

"Nonsense! It wasn't the opal at all. It was my pig."

"Your pig?"

"Yes. My lucky pig! You know Katharine gave me a dear little one, cut out of ebony, for Christmas, and on New Year's day I took it off my watch chain to show to some one, and between us we dropped it; and as I stepped back to see where it had fallen I stepped on it and broke off two of its legs. Wasn't it awful? Of course with only a two-legged pig I'm bound to have the lamest sort of luck this year."

"That was hard luck. But I thought you weren't superstitious."

"Well, I'm not. But everyone knows about lucky pigs. And the idea of blaming it on my opal. Why, opals can't do any harm, anyhow. My birthday's the 7th of October."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Life Is a Game.

"Life," said the sententious young man, "is like a game of cards."

"It is more like a game of chess to me," said the man who rents. "I move once a year."—Indianapolis Journal.

Keen Senses in Lower Animals.

Experiments indicate that spiders have a long range of vision. It is not always possible to tell, however, whether the lower animals perceive by sight or hearing; or by the action air in motion has on their bodies. It is asserted that mice are sensitive to motions of the air which to human ears create no sound whatever.

Bo Cherry was preparing to "cut a pigeon wing" out in front of Muntola's when he saw the sprinkle start this afternoon, but it stopped before he could strike the first figure. We could not look out to see what he was doing when the rain came sure enough.

Go Ask Will.

Will James says Frank Wilson bought half of a fresh pig, but being busy kept it at the store through a whole afternoon before sending it home. When he went to send it up he found that the hot weather had barbecued the pig ready for use.

Pleased With Prices.

Messrs. R. R. and J. J. Jackson, of Contentnea, sold over 3,000 pounds of tobacco at the Eastern Warehouse today, and one of them told us he was highly pleased with prices, finding them much better than he expected. That is the way people find things when they sell at the Eastern.

Quotations of Greenville Tobacco Market.

The weather since the market opened has been so excessively hot that farmers and buyers alike have not been in much of a humor for handling tobacco. The offerings have been small, but show fairly good color and while as everybody expected prices are not altogether as good as we would like, yet there is a better feeling than was once expected. LUGS—common to good, 2½ to 8 " good to fine, 7 to 14 CUTTERS—common, 6½ to 10 " good to fine, 10 to 18.

We noticed on yesterday's sale a small pile of wrappers which readily brought twenty-five cents a pound and they were nothing extra at all.

The rain late this afternoon was fine.

The rain this afternoon was preceded by a hard wind that raised a big dust.

J. C. Lanier & Co. have just completed a monument over the grave of Mrs. A. M. Clark in Cherry Hill Cemetery. It is of a fine Italian marble and a handsome piece of work.
