Populist Inconsistency and Hypocrisy.

Populist speakers and papers are frequently saying that the Populist party in nominating Bryan and Watson has "met the Democrats more than half way," and therefore the Democrats ought to take down Sewall and vote for Watson. And some persons, without thinking, are ready to admit that is true and reasonable. But is it?

It certainly is not, even according to the public declarations of prominent Populists. Both at the Populist national convention and frequently since then, prominent Populists have publicly boasted that Bryan is as good a Populist as they were, and that he would have been their nominee even if the Democrats had not nominated him. Even last week, at the Populist State convention, the chairman of that body (Hon. Harry Skinner) in his speech of acceptance boasted that "the People's party has swallowed the Democracy. We have compelled them to nominate for President a man who is more Populist to-day than any Populist in North Carolina."

How then has the People's party met the Democrats "more than half way," if that party has "swallowed the Democracy"? And, if the Democrats have been compelled to "nominate for President a man who is more Populist to-day than any Populist in North Carolina," surely we might be allowed to have a Democrat (Sewall) at the tail end of the ticket!—Chatham Record.

The Drought of '84.

Mr. E. B. Higgs, of Greenville was living in this community in 1884, and say he remembers distinctly that there was not a drop of rain in this section from 8th of August to 15th of November of that year. There were good crops, nevertheless. He also observes that generally when a crop is cut short by rains the short-age is under-estimated, but when cut short by drought the shortage is over-estimated. So there is some encouragement to the farmers in Mr. Higgs' observation.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

An Unreasonable Man.

A subscriber, evidently in deep trouble, sent the following to the "leisure editor" of a well-known paper:

I don't want to know how many miles it is to the moon.

I don't want to know how many gallons of water there are in the Dead Sea.

I don't want to know how long it would take to creep from Maine to California.

I don't care who invented the first washing machine.

I don't care who will be the greatest living person fifty years from now.

I don't care who first wrote that exquisite gem, "When Lovely Woman Stops to Folly."

I don't care who first discovered America or whether it was discovered before.

I don't care whether it's silver or gold sixteen to one or one to twenty-five.

I don't want to know who made the first pair of pants for Bryan or McKinley.

But if you will kindly tell me how to rid my flat of water bugs I'll be everlastingly obliged to you and will send you a five-year subscription in advance.

Notice.

Members of the Greenville Driving Association are requested to meet at the Presidents office on Monday, Aug. 31st, at 3 o'clock.

S. T. HOOKER, Sec'y.

New Cotton.

Two bales of new cotton were brought to Greenville today, both coming in very nearly at the same time. G. W. Clark had one and Joe Atkinson, co-ored, the other. The cotton sold for 7.30, J. C. Cobb & Son and Alfred Forbes each buying a bale.

Why He Stopped His Paper.

"I reckon I'll have ter quit subscribin' ter yer paper," said the rural citizen, "Jest see how much I'm a-owin' of, an' I'll pay up an' quit?"

"Would you mind stating your reasons for this course?" asked the trembling editor.

"Well," replied the rural citizen, "as I don't believe in strikin' a man in the dark, I mout as well tell you."

"Well?"

"I've been a-takin' of yer paper fer 'bout six months, hain't I?"

"Just about."

"Well, I've been ter town twict in that time, an' sold a load er lightard an' two cows, swapped hosses and licked the town marshal, an' ef you ever give me airy column erbout it I never seen it—that's all!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Items Methodistic.

The Sunday school teachers will meet at the residence of A. B. Ellington tonight at 8 o'clock.

The steeple of the Methodist church at Chapel Hill, was greatly damaged by a stroke of lightning on Monday, Aug. 24th.

On the 26th inst., Miss Lizzie Reid Martin, daughter of Rev. J. B. Martin, of Chapel Hill, sailed from San Francisco to Shanghai, China, to enter the mission work of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. With her sailed four other missionaries from the church South, and nine from the Methodist church, North, to work in China.

During this year the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist church has lost seven ministers by death. The largest proportionate loss in the history of the conference.

No more coffee shall be gathered, neither shall any more sugar cane be ground in Cuba. That is the latest decree of Captain General Weyler. The object of this hard measure is to prevent the insurgents from deriving revenue from the planters who have been in the habit of paying the representatives of the Provisional Government a tax as a consideration for permission to gather their crops and to insure them against destruction by the torches of the insurrectionists. If the planters shall tamely submit to this latest outrage upon their iralienable right to live off the fruit of their toil they must be men of putty. Far less tyrannical were the decrees of the Government of George III, which set the American colonies aflame from end to end.—Philadelphia Record.

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED.

MR. EDITOR:—A visitor desires to call the attention of the managers of the tobacco warehouses and the town authorities to the condition of the street from the Star Warehouse to the Greenville. If there is anything that the stranger going to a town or market observes, and is impressed with, it is the condition in which the roads or streets that lead to and from them. It is surprising that such men as manage these warehouses and administer the Town Government, should have left so important a matter, in the condition of the street referred to so long. It is almost impossible to pass vehicles going and coming. There were at least 400 carts wignons and buggies, on the grounds Wednesday, and every one present at the largest break that is said to have been in Greenville could but notice that deplorable place in the street. A visitor expected to see a beautiful drive way through the tobacco section but it's anything else. VISITOR.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 28TH, 1896.

People won't buy what they don't want. Generally they don't know what they do want. The successful advertiser is the one who persuades people that they want just what he has to sell.

Ex-Senator Jarvis met Maj. Guthrie at Roxboro Tuesday, in joint debate. There were some close firings between them.

Major Guthrie said "The Democrats nominated a good man, W. J. Bryan, at Chicago, and am going to vote for him."

He also said:

"This is a cutting and slashing campaign, with Cy. Watson on one side fighting and Daniel Russell on the other running with his tail tucked from a joint canvass; while I am in the middle-of-the-road. I am in the race for Governor to stay. I am not going to get down. I am in this fight to the finish, unless removed by death. If you want a free silver Governor and are sincerely in earnest take down Watson and vote for me, and we will beat Russell. I am going to tell you the truth. I have got political religion. (I wish I had some of the other sort.) I favor making the trade dollar legal tender in North Carolina for the payment of all debts."

Gov. Jarvis after some introductory remarks propounded a few questions to Major Guthrie as follows:

Jarvis—"Are you in favor of uniting on the electoral vote on a fair division?"

Guthrie—"I am in favor of taking down Sewall."

Jarvis—"Well then, Major, are you in favor of uniting on the silver men in this, your district, and in the support of Kitchen for Congress?"

Guthrie—"I will answer in my time."

Jarvis—"No answer now."

Guthrie—"I can't anticipate the convention."

Jarvis—"Well, Major, if you are not willing to answer that, say are you going to vote for Settle instead of Kitchen?"

Guthrie—"I didn't vote for Settle two years ago and I am not going to vote for any Goldbug this year. I am in favor of Kitchen and Settle fighting out their issue between themselves without in open field, without the Populists putting out a man."

Governor Jarvis then said to Major Guthrie.

"It is wrong for you to attempt to scare the negroes and the ignorant white people by telling them that if the Democrats get back into power they will put them under Tillman rule and disfranchise them: I say sir, it is a slander upon the character and intelligence of our fair State."

Guthrie—"Your platform favors it."

Governor Jarvis—"It is untrue. If we had wanted to put these people under such a constitution and laws, God knows we have had ample opportunity to do so. No party has done so much for the colored man in North Carolina as the Democratic party."

Mr. Bryan has commenced his journey homeward from Red Hook. He dined with Senator Hill on Wednesday. It is said and believed that Hill will support him and thus prove that he is a Democrat. Mr. Bryan went from the Senator's home to the city hall of Albany and spoke to an audience of ten thousand people. It was the most magnificent crowd and reception that Mr. Bryan has had on this return journey. The enthusiasm was unbounded and the distinguished candidate was equal to the occasion.

The State Sound Money Convention.

Winston, N. C., August 26.—The sound money state convention was held at Greensboro to-day. J. W. Fries of Salem, was chosen chairman. There were only twenty-four delegates in attendance, ten of whom were from Greensboro. Resolutions were adopted favoring a national presidential ticket; instructing a committee to put up electors, and after a hot debate pledging support to the state democratic ticket nominated at Raleigh on June 25th. Delegates were appointed to the Indianapolis convention.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal is responsible for the statement that Mark Hanna has laid aside a quarter of a million dollars with which to buy the State of North Carolina. He adds, however:

"But North Carolinians, though poor, are proud of their independence, and are apt to resent signs of corruption at the polls in an effective and extremely disagreeable way."

Evidently there is an impression that North Carolina is a purchasable State and that there is a purpose to pour a good deal of money into it this year. Let Hanna undertake to buy it for McKinley or the American Tobacco Company undertake to buy it from Watson and they will, each, hear something drop.—Charlotte Observer.

LATE NEWS.

Cairo, August 27.—Telegraphic communication has been stopped in the Nile valley beyond Assouan. It is believed here that the advance of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition upon Dongola will begin tomorrow.

Topeka, Kans, August 26.—The gold democratic State convention to elect delegates to the national convention to Indianapolis met this afternoon. About 100 prominent democrats from different parts of the state are in attendance.

Guthrie, Oka., August 26.—Bill Doolin, the last of the noted outlaws of the south, was killed in a battle with deputy marshals under command of Heck Thomas, near Ingalls, fifty miles northeast of here, last night. One marshal was also wounded.

Elwood, Ind., August 25.—The tin plate strike was ended at midnight last night by the company signing the scale and the city is wild with rejoicing. The strikers are greatly pleased at the outcome and spent the night in celebrating the event.

On Wednesday corn reached the lowest price ever known on the St. Louis market. It struck 19½ cents a bushel.

While Hunting's circus was showing at Shenandoah, Pa., Wednesday night, one of the canvasmen shot at a boy who was trying to steal under the tent. The boy's friends cut the tent-ropes and caused a panic among the spectators.

Application has been made to have a receiver appointed for the American Legion of Honor. It is alleged that the order is insolvent and that death claims to the amount of more than half a million dollars remain unpaid.

Ex-Gov. D. B. Francis, of Missouri, has been appointed by President Cleveland to succeed Hon. Hoke Smith, resigned, as Secretary of the Interior.

Hilton, Hughes & Co., a large dry goods firm of New York, have failed with liabilities at about $1,500,000.

The Salesman's Part.

It is a well-known fact that it is possible for a disagreeable salesman to do more in one day to hurt a store among its customers than the proprietors can counteract in a long time by their best efforts. Apropos of this, a Boston retailer recently said: "We spend a great deal of money in advertising our business and we try to do it effectively. I do not propose to have its good results in any way discounted by churlish demeanor on the part of any employee, and I have given special and positive directions on this point. No matter how small a person's purchase from us may be, or even if he makes no purchase at all—he is entitled to the fullest benefit of the salesman's knowledge of the business politely presented. Not only this, but each salesman is expected to do something more than show goods and state prices. He should add to this an interest in the customer's welfare, bearing in mind that the only solid basis for business success is a constantly increasing list of satisfied customers."—Shoe and Leather Facts.

He'd been praying for rain on the hill and the plain,
Lest the cotton and corn should miss;
"We hain't had a drop
Sence we planted the crop;
Hain't never seen weather like this!"
Now the rain comes down on the field and town,
And a dry spot's what he seeks;
And he crosses his leg
On the old nail keg.

With: "You reckon 'twill rain six weeks?"

Ants' Eggs.

The egg of the ant is uniform, smooth, tight and bright, without any division. When the larva has come from it, only a very thin membrane is left, which rolls up and is reduced to an imperceptible point, and even if the egg does not hatch it is still so small as to escape the eyes. This is why these eggs are so little known, for what is commonly and improperly called the egg is really the larva and is endowed with life and motion. These eggs, or rather these larvae, of ants are very much sought after by barnyard fowl.—Popular Science Monthly.

A shoemaker was fitting a customer with a pair of boots when the buyer observed that he had but one objection to them, which was that the soles were too thick. "If that is all," replied Crispin, "put on the boots, and the objection will gradually wear away."

AIDS, Poor Motorman.

A motorman's life is not a happy one. While the self satisfied conductor is chinking the coin in his pocket, jangling the register, pulling the bell cord or blithely mispronouncing street names, the motorman is silently grinding out his life at the brake, his mind strung to its utmost tension, and his hands and arms never for a moment idle. Yet he's the one to be blamed whenever an accident happens, without a thought being given to the many calamities which have been avoided through his alertness and precaution.—Boston Transcript.

Tommy Suggests a Remedy.

"I can say of our neighbor, Hark-along," observed Mr. Tucker, "that he gives away a great deal in charity and that his left hand never knows what his right hand is doing."

"Why doesn't he take boxing lessons?" asked Tommy Tucker.
