EDITORIAL NOTES

The Star says that on Thursday night Wilmington had the greatest political demonstration in its history. Gov. Jarvis was the speaker and delivered one of his best.

It is amusing how press dispatches sometime get mixed up when they appear in print. For instance, telegrams were sent to several papers about the Populist convention here Thursday. A part of the dispatches as sent read: "Both Forbes and Phillips, who were in the last Legislature from this county, were coolly laid aside. A. J. Moye, co doorkeeper in the last House with Abe Middleton, was nominated for Senate." Some of the papers to which this was sent had it that Forbes and Phillips "were coolly set aside for A. J. Moye," and that "Abe Middleton was nominated for the Senate." The Charlotte Observer was the only paper that gave it correctly.

The Sound Money Convention at Indianapolis nominated Senator Palmer, of Illinois, for President and Governor Buckner, of Kentucky, for Vice President. The platform declares unalterably for gold and against the income tax.

The Republicans of Washington county got out a straight ticket and would not fuse with the Populists. That is the way they do where they are strong enough to elect a ticket by themselves—have no use for the Populists at all. But don't they get thick with the Populists in counties where they need help!

Notice.

The Male Academy will open next Monday, Sept. 7th. I wish to urge upon those who expect to patronize the school, the necessity of having their boys present on the first day. Don't wait a week and then demand that the boys shall do as well as if they were present at the opening.

The proper classification of the students is very much aided by their presence in the beginning.

On a Hunt.

About a dozen of the tobacco boys went on a coon hunt down near Ayden last night. Several of the boys who did not go went to the depot in a two horse wagon this morning to meet the hunters on their return. They only brought back one coon but say they had an immense lot of fun.

Worthy of Patronage.

G. A. Hamlet, of Augusta, Ga., a native of Halifax county, this state, is here for a few days selling choice literature. Mr. Hamlet is a totally blind man and has adopted the selling of books as a means of making a living for himself and family. He comes well recommended, having in his possession a number of strong testimonials.

Points Well Taken.

Richmond Dispatch.

The Buffalo (N. Y.) Evening Times, in commenting on McKinley's bid for Southern votes, as contained in the anti-sectional utterances in his letter of acceptance, remarks that the Republican party is in particularly bad shape to be a blender of sections, or to go into the welding or cementing business. "The Democracy," adds the Times, "is the only party that can weld together the different sections of the country, because it is the power alone having the power to secure the electorate of the States in every part of the United States. McKinley knows full well that he cannot save the vote of any State in the Union south of Pennsylvania, and south of the Ohio river. This fact makes him a sectional candidate as fully as Harrison, who relieved not one of those States. The Democracy never failed to carry Northern as well as Southern States."

The Times' points are well taken, McKinley could not be an antisectional President if he would, and that he would not, if he could, is well established by his force bill record.

Greenville Township Primary.

There was one of the largest crowds in attendance upon the Democratic primary in the Court House this afternoon, that we ever saw assembled at a primary.

The meeting was called to order by W. L. Brown, chairman township executive committee. H. T. King and D. J. Whichard elected secretaries.

Following the usual custom the township divided to give each section opportunity to the county convention, a precinct executive committee and candidates for Magistrates.

The different precincts reported their selections to the convention which were ratified. The REFLECTOR will give the names of the delegates, executive committees and candidates for Magistrates and Constables in Monday's issue.

Registration Law.

Under the existing election laws there are four days only allotted for registration, to wit; Saturday, September 26th, Saturday, October 3rd, Saturday, October 10th, and Saturday, October 17th. The Registrars are required to meet on these days at the voting places in these precincts, and between the hours of 9 o'clock, A. M., and 4 o'clock, P. M. register the qualified voters.

The Registrars and Judges of election are required to meet at the voting place on Saturday, October, 24th from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M. for the purpose of permitting challenges to be made, and at 10 o'clock A. M. on Saturday, October 31st they shall meet at the polling places and hear and decide the challenges.

Lamp Needed.

A light placed in the postoffice lobby would be a great convenience to the people getting their mail at night. It would be much safer, too, than for people to be forced to strike matches in order to find and open their boxes at they do at present.

Notice.

I take this method of declaring myself an Independent candidate for Register of Deeds of Pitt county. If the voters of the county endorse my action by electing me I will serve them faithfully. C. O. BROWN. Winterville, N. C., Sept. 4th, 1896.

The Chicago postoffice, which cost $4,126,000, must be pulled down. The crust of the earth was too soft to support it, and it continued to sink.

In Liverpool, England, they now use an electric apparatus for painting. It puts on the paint by spraying at a cost of 90 per cent less than by hand.

IN MCKINLEY'S HOME.

Canton Union Veterans Declare Allegiance to Free Silver.

From The Cincinnati Inquirer.

Canton, O., August 30.—It has all along been stated that Major McKinley would receive almost the unanimous vote of the Grand Army men. This has been confidently counted on by Major McKinley's managers. The old soldiers, in all of Mr. Hanna's plans, have been expected not only to vote for the major themselves, but to see that their sons and their sons' sons did the same. There have been a number of Grand Army delegates here, and in each instance the speakers introducing these delegations have pledged the united support of the Grand Army of the Republic to Major McKinley. If, however, the proportion of old soldiers throughout the country who will vote for the major is no larger than it is in Canton, the republicans are doomed to disappointment.

This afternoon the Union Veteran League of Canton held a meeting. The Union Veteran League is, in a sense, even a more select organization than the Grand Army of the Republic. Anybody who was ever mustered into the service of the United States can become a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, but a union veteran must have seen two years' actual fighting to be eligible to membership in the veteran league. There are forty-two members of the league in Canton, and a full attendance characterized the meeting today. A poll was taken of those who were for Bryan, and out of the whole forty-two it was found that thirty-eight were for and would certainly support him at the polls. But this was not all. The old veterans who are loyal to silver and the people decided by a unanimous vote to go to Cleveland tomorrow and accept an invitation to lead the Bryan parade there. So it is that thirty-eight old soldiers, who were some of them in Major McKinley's own regiment, and most of whom belong to the same Grand Army Post here that carries the major's name on its rolls will lead a procession in honor of Major McKinley's opponent tomorrow.
