EDITORIAL NOTES

It is getting about time to Hung Li Chang up. He's a right big fellow and pretty rich, but the country has read enough gush over him in the papers.

The REFLECTOR feels like congratulating the Democrats of the county upon the good work they have done up to this stage of the campaign. All over the county there were large crowds in attendance upon the primaries held Saturday, and our published lists show that good men have been selected as delegates to the nominating convention on Thursday, and good men have been named as candidates for Magistrates and Constables. Now let the same good work be carried into Thursday's convention and put the very best men on the county and Legislative tickets. Whether you are a delegate or not, come to town Thursday and help make the convention day one long to be remembered.

Poor Walter Henry seems in hard luck. He has always wanted office, and there was a time when many in the Democratic party would have been glad to see his labors for that party rewarded with an office. But he let his ambition run clear away with his judgment and because he was not given as big an office as he wanted we find him kicking clear out of Democratic harness with a big founce. Anticipating that there might be a chance to finger in the Populist pie he tenders himself to that party and is joyously accepted. He had worn his new political clothes but a short while before we see him moving to Charlotte with the expectation of getting the Populists to give him a seat in Congress. When the convention met another man walked off with the nomination and poor Henry was left again. Thinking that he must have something, he went back to Charlotte and accepted the Populist nomination as State Senator from Mecklenburg. But alas! he finds disappointment in store for him again. The legal point has been raised and is sustained that he has not lived in the county long enough to represent it in the Senate. Maybe they can give him the office of township Constable, but if he don't get something soon he will be hunting a job in some other parts.

The Black Man as a Hero.

A few days ago we read in the Raleigh Press-Visitor that a gentleman of that city had left his horse and buggy standing in the street there, his little boy in the buggy; that the horse got frightened at an umbrella, wheeled around and dashed headlong up the street; that a colored man, Tom Donnellson, standing near, took in the situation, gave chase, overtook the buggy, clambered into it from behind, clutched the reins over the head of the boy and pulled the horse down. Two weeks ago a story, the facts of which were substantially the same as those in this just given, was read in the Washington Post, this occurrence having taken place there. Recently a State paper gave an account of a colored man having jumped into a stream of water and at the imminent peril of his own life saved that of a white boy. Such incidents as these shed glory on the colored race. In such emergencies as those recited, in times of fire and under other circumstances calling for the exercise of coolness and daring, the black man has been known often to display the highest heroism in putting his own life in jeopardy for the saving of another. Our brother in black has many excellent qualities and those referred to are not among the least of them.—Charlotte Observer.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8TH, 1896.

SEWALL LOYAL TO BRYAN.

Wants the Nebraskan to Win Even Though He Be Sacrificed.

Chicago Telegram in New York Journal.

Chairman Jones, of the Democratic national committee, recently wrote to Arthur Sewall stating that many Democrats throughout the country, and especially throughout the West, objected to fusion with the Populists on electoral tickets for the reason that they do not wish to be disloyal to Mr. Sewall. In reply to Mr. Jones, Mr. Sewall forwarded the following copy of a letter written to Mr. Bryan:

Bath, Me., July 25, 1896.
W. J. Bryan, Lincoln, Neb.:
My Dear Mr. Bryan: In view of the action of the St. Louis convention today I cannot refrain from giving you my thoughts on the situation.

My advices are that you have been nominated as candidate for President and Mr. Watson for Vice President. I also learn through press dispatches that you are somewhat undecided whether you ought to accept or decline. Now, I desire to say to you, with the utmost frankness and good feeling, that you must not allow any personal consideration for me to influence you in this action.

I desire that you will do just what you believe is best for the success of the head of the ticket. The principles we are fighting for are paramount to any personal consideration that the latter should not have any weight or influence on your action.

I cannot for a moment allow myself to be a factor in any action on your part that would in the slightest degree hazard an electoral vote for you.

With kind regards to Mrs. Bryan, believe me your sincere friend,
ARTHUR SEWALL.

Chairman Jones, referring to the above letter, said:

"The talk about the retirement of our candidate for Vice President is too absurd to be seriously considered. Mr. Sewall's letter, written just after the nomination of Mr. Bryan by the St. Louis convention, is a splendid illustration of his loyalty to his associate on the Democratic national ticket. He sees no embarrassment whatever in Mr. Bryan's nomination for President by another party and upon another ticket, but believes it to be an important step toward certain victory for the silver cause.

"It is a complete answer to efforts of the gold Democrats to create the impression that Mr. Sewall will retire under any circumstances, to say that the Democratic party and its national organization are just as loyal to Mr. Sewall as he himself is to Mr. Bryan, and the great cause of the common people.

McKinley Cannot Carry North Carolina—Some Figures on the Vote.

It is doubtful if McKinley can carry this State. Democratic political observers declare that no Republican candidate depending entirely on the votes of his party can be elected this year in North Carolina.

The largest vote ever polled by the Republican party in this State was 134,000 in 1888 for Harrison, and the Democratic vote that year was 147,000. Two years later, in 1890, the Republican vote was reduced to 100,000, and this was the status of affairs when the campaign of 1892 was opened. Cleveland, Harrison and Weaver were voted for that year. Every Federal office was in the hands of the Republicans and all the pressure that could be used was brought to bear from Washington on these officials to compel them to give money to the canvass and to work for the Republican candidates.

With all this effort Mr. Harrison polled only the vote of 1890—100,000. Weaver's vote 47,000 and Cleveland's 132,000. The combined Republican and populist vote of 1894 was 142,000, and the Democratic vote was 121,000. This shows a loss of 11,000 for the Democrats on the vote of 1892, and 5,000 less than the combined Republican and populist vote of 1892. Allowing that the new election law will add 20,000 votes to the Republicans, which would make their full strength 154,000 votes on the basis of 1888, we must then deduct from this vote the colored voters who left the State in 1889.

At the town of Selma alone 20,000 emigration tickets were sold during this year. There were probably as many more sold throughout the State. Of this number, 10,000 were colored men and voters. Then in all the counties where the negro vote is large nearly all the white Republicans left and went to the populist party. There must have been 20,000 of these. This would bring down the Republican vote to 124,000. Now take 26,000 from the Democratic vote of 147,000 and it gives 121,000, the Democratic vote of 1894, which discloses the fact that at least 21,000 Republicans voted the populist ticket in 1894, which would leave the next straight Republican vote 103,000.

McKinley on a single gold standard platform cannot poll more than three-fourths of this vote.

What Free Coinage Means.

It means that the money of the people shall not be boycotted.

It means that greenbacks shall be redeemed with silver as well as gold.

It means that no more bonds shall be sold to buy greenbacks.

It means that silver shall continue to be a legal tender.

It would mean money enough in circulation to keep pace with the increase in population.

It would make silver bullion worth as much as if coined into dollars.

It would stop the redemption of greenbacks by money sharks who will not take silver for them.

It would guarantee stability to our currency. It would gradually raise the general level of prices.

It would mean better prices for wheat and corn.

It would mean more work and better pay for work.

The panic makers would go out of business.

We would have no more declarations from the White House that the government is bankrupt.

There would be no more syndicate bond purchase at robbery rates of interest.

It would mean the payment of 100 cents on the dollar for indebtedness and no more.

These thoughts are not our thoughts, nor of any one man, but the convictions of a majority of the Democratic American people.

They are presented in this form that you may understand them.—Darham Sun.

Quick Building.

Architectural building is not the slow process it used to be. The iron skeleton goes up in a twinkle, and the walls follow in short order. Trade building, like other building, is quicker than of yore. Some one has said that one year of wise advertising can build up a business that it used to take a lifetime to acquire: and it is true.

Put This in Your Pipe.

Some folks argue that advertisements are not read. But they are. Even the newspaper folks themselves read the advertisements in the REFLECTOR. Not many days ago we printed a piece from the Darrah Sun about a merchant advertising "New mullets and potatoes 10 cents a peck," and now we see the Charlotte Observer making some good points from seeing "Vermont butter," advertised. Of course advertisements are read, and the wise merchant will put his announcement just where it will be read—in the papers.

An Evening With Miss James.

Monday evening the friends of Miss Jennie James gave her quite a pleasant surprise party. The evening was delightfully spent in music, dancing and "spooning." This continued until quite a late hour when refreshments in the form of ices and cake were served by the charming hostess and Miss Jessie Jarvis.

The following couples were present: Miss Bettie Tyson and W. J. Corbett, Miss Helen Perkins and G. E. Harrison, Miss Annie Perkins and R. M. Moe, Miss Rosalind Rountree and G. J. Woodward, Miss Leda Wooten and J. L. Fleming, Miss Lula White, and J. A. Parham, Miss Bessie Jarvis and P. H. Gorman.

STAGS—S. T. White, R. D. Cherry, and H. A. White. Bo Cherry with his curly locks made fun for the crowd.

It was with reluctance that the merry assemblage dispersed, but the most pleasant occasions have their ending, yet this is one to be long remembered.

That Tired Feeling

Makes you seem "all broken up," without life, ambition, energy or appetite. It is often the forerunner of serious illness, or the accompaniment of nervous troubles. It is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is therefore apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember

The Wilson Heater, which is a stove for house heating, is the most remarkable that has ever been patented.

In the first place it radiates more heat than any stove known, and will save 25 per cent. in fuel over any stove made.

Second, with two or three ordinary sticks of pine stove wood it will keep the fire from 36 to 48 hours, and with ordinary care the fire will never go out.

Third, being entirely closed at the base there is no danger of fire, and it is the cleanest stove in use. It is not necessary to remove the ashes of even once a month. These stoves are made in different styles—the small one, which is made for bed-rooms, is specially recommended for health as well as comfort.

The Wilson Heater has a great advantage over any similar stove, because it has Patent Automatic Smoke Doors, which prevent the smoke from coming into the room when you take the top off to put in the wood. These doors are so constructed that they can be taken off and put back on in one minute. These stoves can be seen our store, come and look at them.
