WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

The Man of Destiny Whom the People
Love to Honor.

Friday at Rocky Mount will long be remembered in Eastern North Carolina. No Presidential candidate for the past of a century has visited the State during the campaign, until Mr. Bryan came. Therefore it is not astonishing that when he consented to come everybody made up their minds to see and hear him. This accounts for the fact that the whole town yesterday was alive with human beings. They came from every direction in immense numbers. When we left Parmele our train had ten loaded and packed coaches. Every incoming train was loaded to its utmost, and all the surrounding country were there, some going the day before and camping out in tents.

Rocky Mount had put on its most festive look to receive the next President and the crowd estimated all the way from 15,000 to 25,000. The stores and dwellings and nearly all the buildings were festooned and decorated in National colors. The various committees had done their work well.

Out at the Fair Grounds the arrangements were complete and the decorations superb. A large commodious stand just in front of the grand stand from which Mr. Bryan was to speak. Besides this the grand stand, the judges stand, an etc., were near enough to see and hear and furnished elegant seats for those who were fortunate enough to get them.

The Press reporters occupied the judges stand. These arrangements were under the direction of a special committee of which Mr. C. C. Cooper was chairman and their work had been well done. We are under special obligations to this gentleman and the Chief Marshal, Capt. S. L. Hart, for courtesies.

There were at least 1,500 ladies in the grand stand and they added much to the interest of the occasion by their presence.

Mr. Bryan arrived at the Fair Grounds at one o'clock and as he neared the stand there was shout after shout and a crowding around the place from which he was to speak such as no human being ever saw before. It looked as if people would be crushed by the throng around them. The heat was simply intense and as that mass of humanity stood there jammed together under a burning sun with perspiration streaming from every face it presented a picture which can be gotten in no other way of the intense interest and feeling there is in this campaign for the restoration of the money of our fathers to the place it held in their day. If any man doubts the sincerity of North Carolina Democrats for free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 this scene would forever give the lie to such an insulting insinuation.

Mr. Bryan was carried from the train to the stand in a phaeton drawn by four white horses and as he took his seat on the stand though he looked a tired man yet his eyes seemed to flash with delight as he surveyed the immense throng surrounding him. As he thus sat he impressed us as being a man whose face instantly convinces every one that he is in the presence of a great man.

Hon. B. H. Bunn in well chosen words introduced Mr. Bryan. He spoke for thirty minutes in which time he discussed the silver question as well as a man could do in that short space. It would be impossible for us to even give synopsis of the speech in our limited space today and we shall therefore content ourselves in giving some impressions which Mr. Bryan made upon us all.

To begin with he has a fine countenance with a bright noble eye. He is co-nest to a fault and yet you know that he is not an enthusiast or a fanatic. He impels you to the belief that he has thought long and well upon the subject which he discusses, that he has arrived at some definite conclusions, that these conclusions are correct, and that it is his mission to get other people to see them as he does. He talks like one who has a purpose. He reasons like one who feels that immense interest are at stake. He is positively free from deception, and there is a frankness and directness about what he says that carries the conclusion that his convictions and he has them, are honest, and that he would have no man deceived. He forces admiration and receives respect. He convinces all that he is able; that he is patriotic, strong, well-balanced, well furnished; that uppermost in his mind is his country's good; that to this end he is developing the best energies of his life; that in feeling he is with the toiling millions and if elected President would devote all the powers of his being to bring, as far as he was able, prosperity and happiness to every American citizen.

The thought occurs to us, that with such a candidate ought not every man to unite in his support of him and leave no doubt as to his election. We believe that as far as North Carolina is concerned, this will be accomplished in a few days. The injunction that he left upon all silver men in the State in the close of his speech Friday to unite and cast every vote favorable to free silver where it will count will surely bear fruit and give to him the electoral vote of this State.

Died.

Capt. Henry W. Brown died at his home five miles from town on Friday night at 9 o'clock. He had been in feeble health for a long time. He was an excellent citizen, held in high esteem by every one. Capt. Brown was a Mason and a member of the Knights of Honor. He was buried with Masonic honors this afternoon.

Murder at Rocky Mount.

A murder occurred at Rocky Mount, Friday afternoon, about the time the crowd was getting off. A man named Jordan, from Battleboro, shot and killed a man named Cadlett, from Nashville. The particulars as we heard them was that an old grudge existed between the two men. Jordan saw Cadlett in a barroom and tried to draw him into a fuss. Cadlett turned to walk away when Jordan drew a pistol and fired three rapid shots, every ball taking effect. Cadlett died in a few minutes. Jordan was arrested and placed in prison. Both were white men.

The Best Company.

J. L. Sugg, Esq.,
Agent Accident Department,
Aetna Life Ins. Co.,
Greenville N. C.

Dear Sir:—I hold accident policy No. 9787 in your Company.

On the 23rd day of June, 1896, while superintending work at my saw-mill my arm was crushed between two logs.

On the 27th day of August I filed my claim with your company for indemnity for two weeks, claiming $25. Your company, noting that my disability was for a period longer than I claimed, sent me their check dated Sept. 1st, 1896, for $26.78. This is a striking contrast with companies which prefer to scale a claim instead of paying the full amount.

I thank you and your company for this prompt and generous settlement, having paid me more than I claimed.

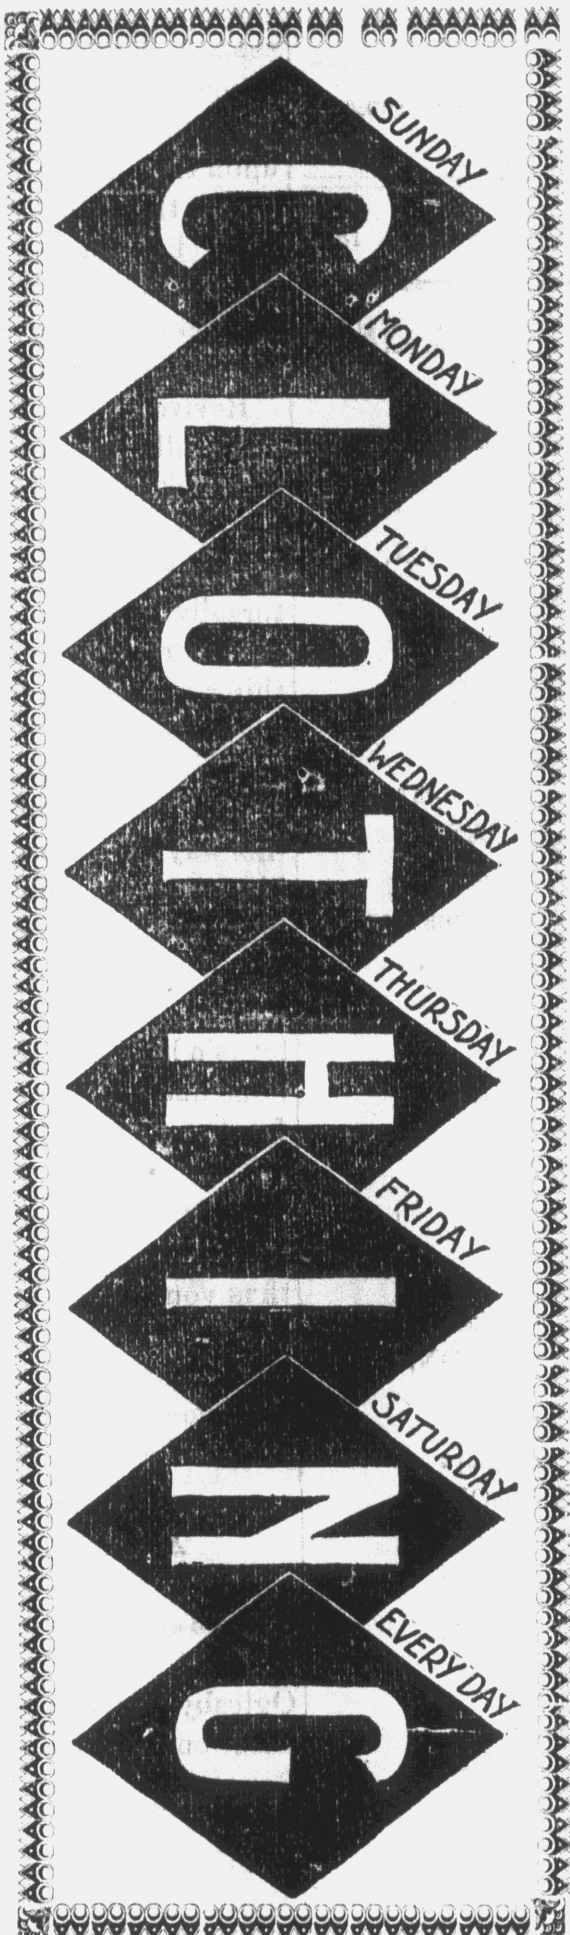

I recommend your excellent company to those desiring the best insurance.

Yours very truly,
W. E. PROCTER.

Look on the Bright Side.

The Sun always hopes for better things. It has an abiding faith in the people when they are put to the necessity of pushing enterprises, or inaugurating new moves. There is a hopeful sign in the tendency of the times. A gleam of improvement has shot across the business sky. Returning activity is coming slowly—it will be no sudden burst into prosperity—but it will be greatly revived in the next few months, we verily believe. It would help along things very materially, if people would quit looking so much on the dark side and be-moaning and predicting darkness that may never come. People have complained and “run down” everything so much that they seem to have no spark of thankfulness that it is as well with them as it is. They have looked upon the dark side so long that every thing looks black to them. They have depended too much upon self, and trusted too much in gold and silver instead of trusting in God for guidance.

Revive your hope and talk cheerfully. Increase your faith and look for the bright spots in the picture. People in this world generally find what they are continually looking out for. So make up your mind to look for something encouraging. Don't stay in the dumps. It sours human nature. If you cannot find a bright spot, make one—and in this way the circle will increase, like those that come from a pebble thrown in the water—they will widen and take in others.

So be of good cheer. If your lot is a hard one, take heart and hope and strive for better things. Look around and see how many are not as well off as you are. This will create faith and a desire to ameliorate their condition, and thus you beget a bond of sympathy which gives encouragement. Prosperity is largely determined by human effort and faith in God.—Durham Sun.

As to Arthur Sewall.

Mr. James L. Smith, president of the Bryan Silver Club, at Oglesby, Tex, writes to The Constitution to ask if Hon. Arthur Sewall, the democratic nominee for vice president, is president of a national bank, president of the Marine Protective Association, or has any connection with a railroad corporation. Mr. Smith says in his letter that “both democrats and populists have confidence in the honesty and integrity of The Constitution, and for this reason” he asks for information in regard to such business connections of any nature that might concern the business standing of Mr. Sewall.

The Constitution knows of Mr. Sewall, of Maine, as a prominent shipbuilder of Maine, and as president of a national bank. As to whether he is a member of a Marine Protective Association, we do not know. As he is a shipbuilder, however, it is probable that he may be a member of a marine association, just as it is probable that a prominent farmer may be a member of the grange, or the alliance, or some association looking to the mutual benefit of agriculturists. We do not know whether Mr. Sewall has any connection with a railroad, but for the sake of argument, admit that he has.

The main thing that we know of Arthur Sewall is this: that for many years he has been in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. He has held this view and asserted it in the face of the fact that he is a capitalist and the president of a national bank, and in the face of the fact that the public sentiment around him has been and is violently in favor of the gold standard. The opposition to Mr. Sewall that is based on his bank connection is both blind and ignorant. The Constitution is of the opinion that Mr. Sewall's position in favor of free coinage at a time when he had nothing to gain by it but a good deal to lose, is as high a tribute as could be paid to the people's cause. More than that, it is a tribute to his own earnestness and patriotism, and to his strength of character.—Atlanta Constitution.

Cure for Scanda'.

Here is a cure for a terrible disorder of the mouth commonly called “scandal.” “Take of ‘good nature’ one ounce; of a herb, called by the Indians ‘mind your business,’ one ounce; mix these with a little ‘charity for others,’ and two or three sprigs of ‘keep your tongue between your teeth.’ Application: The symptoms are a violent itching of the tongue and of the mouth, which invariably takes place when you are in company of a species of animals called gossips; when you feel a fit of it coming on take a spoonful of the mixture, hold it in your mouth, which you will keep closely shut till you get home, and you will find a complete cure. Should you apprehend a relapse, keep a small bottleful about you, and on the slightest symptoms repeat the dose.”

Never.

Never be ashamed of work—even if you have to turn a grindstone. There are a lot of cranks in this world to be turned.

Never allow yourself to get the big head—it will cost you more for a hat. Never turn a new leaf—unless you have something sensible to write on the page.

Never hang your head, even if you are guilty—the sheriff will attend to the hanging.

Never cease to advertise your business, if you have anything worth selling, or want the public's attention. People are forgetful and have to be continually reminded of things, even in the little affairs of households and business.

All the ink with which the United States government prints its paper money is made by one man. The father of the present manufacturer, a Mr. Eddy, invented the ink, but he never told any one how the ink was made until just before he died, when he let his son into the secret of its composition. Had a fatal accident happened to the inventor before he told his son about the ink the government printer would have been in a dilemma, for Mr. Eddy's invention is the only kind of ink that will print on the peculiar surface of the fiber of which government note paper is made.

The present Mr. Eddy employs only six men in the manufacture of his ink, and none of them is in the secret. Not one of them has yet seen Mr. Eddy in the interesting act of mixing the ingredients of which the ink is composed. He locks himself up in his own room two weeks in every year, and it is there and then that he mixes stuff enough to supply the government with ink for the ensuing 12 months and receives for thus $50,000 a year -- Exchange.

Dead Ants' Heads Put to Use.
One curious fact about an ant is that the grip of its jaws or mandibles is retained for hours or even days after death. Knowing this fact has enabled the Indians of Brazil to put the heads of dead ants to use in their simple surgery. The sides of a wound are drawn together, and the necessary number of large ants are held with their heads to the ridge directly over the gash. When their jaws come together on the place where the skin has been separated, the insect's head is pinched and left clinging to the severed skin, which they hold together until the wound is perfectly healed.

CATARRH.

His Worst Enemy Defeated by
P. P. P., Lippman's
Great Remedy.

FOR THREE YEARS HE SUFFERED--COULD

HARDLY BREATHE AT NIGHT--ONE
NOSTRIL CLOSED FOR 10 YEARS.

Mr. A. M. Ramsey, of DeLeon, Texas, was a sufferer from Catarrh in its worst form. Truly, his description of his sufferings seem little short of marvelous. Instead of seeking his couch, glad for the nights coming, he went to it with terror, realizing that another long, weary, wakeful night and a struggle to breathe was before him. He could not sleep on either side for two years. P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, cured him in quick time.

DE LEON, TEXAS.
Messrs. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga. Gentls: I have used nearly four bottles of P. P. P. I was afflicted from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet. Your P. P. P. has cured my difficulty of breathing, smothering, palpitation of the heart, and has relieved me of all pain. One nostril was closed for ten years, but now I can breathe through it readily.
I have not slept on either side for two years; in fact, I dreaded to see night come. Now I sleep soundly in any position all night.
I am 50 years old, but expect soon to be able to take hold of the plow handles. I feel glad that I was lucky enough to get P. P. P., and I heartily recommend it to my friends and the public generally.
Yours respectfully,
A. M. RAMSEY

THE STATE OF TEXAS--County of Comanche--Before the undersigned authority on this day, personally appeared A. M. Ramsey, who, after being duly sworn, says on oath that the foregoing statement made by him relative to the virtue of P. P. P. medicine is true.
A. M. RAMSEY.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this August 4th, 1901.

The Greenville delegation to the Bryan speaking at Rocky Mount got back safe last night.

On next Wednesday and Thursday Mrs. Georgia Pearce will display her new pattern hats. The ladies take notice.

Thieves Along.

The pickpockets that followed the Bryan speaking in this State reaped a big harvest out of the great crowds that gathered to hear him. They got in considerable of their work at Rocky Mount Friday. We learned while coming back on the train that three Pitt county men—Messrs. I. H. Little, J. B. Kilpatrick and S. I. Fleming were among the number who lost their pocket books. There may have been others of whom we did not learn at the time. From every appointment there were reports of people being robbed.

Wilson Air-Tight Heater.

With Patent Automatic Smoke Doors.

The Wilson Heater, which is a stove for house heating, is the most remarkable that has ever been patented.

In the first place it radiates more heat than any stove known, and will save 25 per cent. in fuel over any stove made.

Second, with two or three ordinary sticks of pine stove wood it will keep the fire from 36 to 48 hours, and with ordinary care the fire will never go out.

Third, being entirely closed at the base there is no danger of fire, and it is the cleanest stove in use. It is not necessary to remove the ashes oftener than once a month. These stoves are made in different styles—the small one, which is made for bed-rooms, is specially recommended for health as well as comfort.

The Wilson Heater has a great advantage over any similar stove, because it has Patent Automatic Smoke Doors, which prevent the smoke from coming into the room when you take the top off to put in the wood. These doors are so constructed that they can be taken off and put back on in one minute. These stoves can be seen at our store, come and look at them.
