REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

They Demand More "Pie" and a Candidate for Congress.

There was a meeting of Republicans held here Saturday afternoon under the call of B. M. W. James, chairman, and Redmon Fleming, secretary. It not being known by outsiders what the purpose of the convention was, many curious to find out went up to see what transpired.

The participants in the meeting were slow getting together, but after considerable ringing of the bell a hundred or more colored people and two whites gathered within the bar of the court room.

Chairman James finally rapped the assembly to order who said the object of the meeting would be explained by T. W. C. Moore.

Moore, who is a colored lawyer, spoke about an hour. He said he was glad of an opportunity to make one more Republican speech. He contrasted the platforms of the three national conventions from a Republican standpoint and argued for McKinley and the gold standard.

Toucing upon State matters Moore said he had been for Dockery. That he went to the State convention in May to work for Dockery, and when the Russell crowd cheated Dockery out of the nomination he came home and cried for three weeks. He was still in favor of Dockery after the Populists gave him second place on their ticket, but since Dockery's recent Populistic declarations he was no longer for him and was going to swallow Russell with all he had said against the negroes.

Coming on down to county matters he talked at some length about the Populists not "toting fair" with the Republicans. He said that under the present fusion between them the Republicans will get only four out of the fifty odd offices in the county and the Populists all the rest. He said that many people thought this meeting was being held to get out another ticket, but it was not for that purpose. The meeting was simply to assert their rights and demand their share of the offices. The Populists had promised that the Senator should be selected by a joint committee and then gone on and nominated their own man. If the Populists expected the Republicans to support the fusion ticket the Republicans had to have the Senator and one more County Commissioner. They had been to the Republican executive committee that morning and stated what they must have and were told to defer their action until next Saturday week and in the meantime the committee would be ready to report what could be done. He said they were going to wait until that time when another meeting would be held to receive the report and if their demands were acceded to they would support the fusion ticket, if not they were going to vote for who they pleased.

Moore also took occasion to give Harry Skinner some sharp thrusts, accusing him of first trying to trade with the Democrats, then dickering with the Republicans for support, that Skinner was a silver man and no man who was for McKinley and gold could consistently vote for Skinner for Congress.

Moore was followed by C. M. A. Dawson, another colored man, who made some remarks following up the latter part of Moore's speech. He spoke of the folly of Republicans working and voting for McKinley and at the same time voting for a man to go to Congress whose influence and votes would be cast against every measure advocated by McKinley. Dawson introduced resolutions setting forth these facts and calling upon the Republican executive committee of the first district to give them a candidate standing upon the same platform with and advocating the same principles as McKinley, and that if the committee failed to do this then they requested T. W. C. Moore to take the field as an independent candidate for Congress.

The resolutions were adopted, and Moore announced that if the executive committee failed to act in the matter he would come out as a candidate as requested.

Just before adjournment Frank Johnston was called on and also made a speech. He made no reference to what had been done in the meeting, except to compliment Moore, his being almost entirely a race speech.

The Best Company.

J. L. SUGG, Esq.,

Agent Accident Department,
Aetna Life Ins. Co.,
Greenville N. C.

Dear Sir:—I hold accident policy No. 9787 in your Company.

On the 23rd day of June, 1896, while superintending work at my saw-mill my arm was crushed between two logs.

On the 27th day of August I filed my claim with your company for indemnity for two weeks, claiming $25. Your company, noting that my disability was for a period longer than I claimed, sent me their check dated Sept. 1st, 1896, for $26.78. This is a striking contrast with companies which prefer to scale a claim instead of paying the full amount.

I thank you and your company for this prompt and generous settlement, having paid me more than I claimed.

I commend your excellent company to those desiring the best insurance.
Yours very truly,
W. E. PROCTER.

The silver dollar was worth $1.04 in 1873 when the gold standard was established. We are now told that it is only worth 53 cents. If the gold standard has knocked 51 cents off the silver dollar in twenty three years what will become of our dollar in twenty three years more if we do not stop the ravages of the gold-bug? For at this rate of depreciation in a few years more the people's money will be gone and nothing left but a wealthy banking system built upon the ashes of a ruined country.—Durham Sun.

Message to the State.

"I have had a very pleasant time in your State, and while I have spoken at a number of places, the trip has been so nicely arranged that I could rest between times, and am not at all fatigued. I have not only enjoyed the trip, but also my association with the silver men whom I have met from time to time. I go out of the State, feeling confident that those who believe in free silver will find some way of consolidating the vote, so that we will present a solid front to the gold forces in the coming election."

WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

Can it be Possible

We have just learned from good authority, in fact from a prominent Republican, that the Hannanites are making attempts to bribe the negro preachers of this section, and in several cases have succeeded, to preach the gold bug doctrine from their pulpits and work among their flocks for preservation of their financial slavery. The gold bugs fear the revolt of the negro, whose whole interests are against the gold standard, from the republican party, and they have taken the most effective, but damnable way of checking it. Two weeks ago a colored preacher in this city held up his hand to heaven and took a most solemn oath that he would never vote for Russell or McKinley. Today he is working hard for both. We feel confident there are not many like the above disreputable fellow.—Fayetteville Observer.

New York in Line.

The New York State Democratic convention has fallen in line and put up the following ticket and adopted a platform:

For Governor—John B. Thacker, of Albany.

For Lieutenant Governor—Wilbur F. Porter, of Watertown.

For Associate Justice of the Court of Appeals—Robert C. Titus, of Buffalo.

Platform—Unqualified indorsement of Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform; denunciation of the Raines law; arraignment of Governor Morton's administration and the acts of the recent Republican legislatures; denunciation of Superintendent of Public Works Aldridge for his extravagance; a demand for home rule for municipalities; a protest against the violations by Republican officials of the law which guarantees preference in the public service to honorably discharged soldiers, a recommendation for the building and maintenance of good roads throughout the State; a recommendation for the modification and revision of the employers' liability and anti-conspiracy laws as will secure justice to employes and employers.

A new supply of Diamond Lids and Cream mucilage at Reflector Book Store.

Labor for Bryan.

The Knights of Labor of New York city passed resolutions declaring for Bryan and free silver. Among other things, they say:

"Resolved, That in our judgment the appreciation of gold money is injurious to the cause of labor and that the permanent demonetization of silver in this country will involve national disaster and enslavement of labor to capital.

"Resolved, That in our judgment falling prices, which are consequent upon the adoption of the single gold standard of value are incompatible with the development of industry and necessarily involve a reduction in the wages of labor, while at the same time curtailing the demand for labor itself."

Worth Knowing.

An open fire is an excellent thing in a library for the preservation of the books, according to an expert in such things.

Plants, human beings and animals need sunlight, fresh air and exercise to keep them in proper health; if denied, weakness follows.

Never permit your check-rein to be so tight that your horse cannot put his head where he wants to when pulling up hill. How would you like to have your head tied up with a tight check-rein?

A well-known medical authority says, in a recent work, that cheese should be eaten at least once a day. "It is the most valuable animal food obtainable," he says; "from two to three times as nutritious as the same money value of ordinary meat."

Many things in Mr. Harrison's speech invite criticism, but nothing so much as his failure to recognize the fact that sincerity animates his opponents equally with his allies; that if democracy means disaster at least half of the people of the United States are arrayed in opposition to the interests of the nation.—New York Journal, dem.

What does Mr. McKinly offer the people in the way of a financial system? Simply a bond-issuing, bank-money gold monometallis, dearer dollars and more debts, which mean cheaper labor and lower prices for farm products; a home market for products and less money with which to buy the products.—Helena Independent.

Colonel Watterson will never be able to understand how the Indianapolis convention came to draw such an aged pair.—Washington Post, gold.

The republican newspapers are so sure that Bryan's speeches are making republican votes that they have stopped printing them.—New York Journal, dem.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The gold bug folk at the north resort to all kind of methods to get their literature circulated throughout the country. They are again sending out their offers to the papers to give them a page of ready set matter every week or two. All they ask of the papers is to pay expressage on the stuff and add "if you are unwilling or unable to pay expressage, it is possible that the Republican committee of your district might be willing to help you in this respect." That is awfully generous, but down this way we don't happen to need any gold bug filio to help get out our papers.

"Bryan cannot possibly fail to carry the country," said Hon. Wharton Barker, of Philadelphia, in a recent interview. "He is sure of all the southern states, whose total vote in the electoral college is 142, and the states west of the Mississippi river, which gives him 61 more. This foots up 203 out of 447, just 21 short of a majority. In addition there is Minnesota, Iowa and Michigan. These states have 33 votes, and, if carried by Bryan, will give him 236 votes in the electoral college, or nine more than a majority.

"But while these states are sufficient to elect the democratic nominee," continued Mr. Barker, "I believe that he will also carry Ohio, Illinois and Indiana, giving him 64 electoral votes, or a grand total of 298. It is even possible that he may carry the state of New York."

Enjoyments.

I have told you of the Spaniard who always put on his spectacles when about to eat cherries, that they might look bigger and more tempting. In like manner I make the most of my enjoyments, and though I do not cast my cares away, I pack them in as little compass as I can, and carry them as conveniently as I can for myself, and never let them annoy others.—Southey.

The American Father.

In what I have seen of English home life it has seemed to me that the English father is on terms of a closer acquaintanceship with his daughter than is the American father. This may be due to the fact that the American father is much more occupied with his business, and also to the additional fact that the American daughter has more of self reliance in her disposition, which renders her to a certain extent more independent and capable of looking after her own interests. In a certain sense, especially as regards monetary and matrimonial matters, it might be said that the English father acts for his daughter, while the American father allows her to act for herself. Those who have made a study of the American girl can have little doubt that this independence is good for her in both a mental and moral sense, though it does not follow that the same course of treatment would be good for the English girl.—Philadelphia Times.

Kind.

Mudge—If there really is any thing in this reincarnation theory, I don't know but that I would like to be a good, fat, comfortable hog. Hogs seem to enjoy life so. Kibbelay. But, as I understand it, in reincarnation one becomes something different from what he was.—Indianapolis Journal.

Wilson Air-Tight Heater.

With Patent Automatic Smoke Doors.

The Wilson Heater, which is a stove for house heating, is the most remarkable that has ever been patented.

In the first place it radiates more heat than any stove known, and will save 25 per cent. in fuel over any stove made.

Second, with two or three ordinary sticks of pine stove wood it will keep the fire from 36 to 48 hours, and with ordinary care the fire will never go out.

Third, being entirely closed at the base there is no danger of fire, and it is the cleanest stove in use. It is not necessary to remove the ashes oftener than once a month. These stoves are made in different styles—the small one, which is made for bed-rooms, is specially recommended for health as well as comfort.

The Wilson Heater has a great advantage over any similar stove, because it has Patent Automatic Smoke Doors, which prevent the smoke from coming into the room when you take the top off to put in the wood. These doors are so constructed that they can be taken off and put back on in one minute. These stoves can be seen our store, come and look at them.
