SEPTEMBER.

The horn of the hurter is heard on the hill.

The mist of the moonshine is over the "still;"

It's September—
Remember!

In Georgia.

The voice of the candidate's heard on the stump;

The rabbits are scared, and they give him the jump;

It's September—
Remember!

In Georgia.

The call of collectors is loud at the door.

(It strikes me I've gazed on that statement before?)

It's September—
Remember!

In Georgia.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

O. L. JOYNER.

There has been some improvement during the last few days in all colory tobacco while the common and medium grades remain unchanged. There have been a few piles of wrappers sold on the market recently and the prices at which they sold reminded us of old times. The buyers of good cutters too have been much more active during the last few days than before and there is a decided improvement in these grades. A few days ago I was on the Danville and Lynchburg markets and 90 per cent of all the tobacco that came in from the adjacent country was of poor nondescript type and I was told that the Virginia crop was the poorest that they have had in years. It seems that the leaf dealers up there have been disinclined to believe the recent reports from Eastern North Carolina to the effect that the crop down here is a poor one but since they have seen a few samples of our tobacco the doubt has been removed. We have beyond all doubt the poorest crop down here this year that ever grew out of eastern soil, and when you take into consideration that the up country crop is still poorer not much encouragement is held out to farmers to hold their sorry tobacco.

Autumnal Gypsy Feast.

Don't forget that the Autumnal Feast will certainly take place to-night. Let everybody go and enjoy a pleasant evening. Plenty of pretty girls and plenty of something good to eat. It is at Germania Hall, over Lang's Cash House.

All Enjoyed Them.

Our clever friend, Mr. J. S. Jenkins, is agent here for the Riverside Cigar Co., of Danville, manufacturer of the famous "Ozone" cigar. He came in Tuesday night with a generous supply and put the entire REFLECTOR office puffing. "Ozone" is an excellent smoke and can be found at J. S. Tansill's.

Autumnal Gypsy Feast in Germania Hall tonight.

As the weather is getting cool enough for fire people should be careful that chimneys and stove flues in their houses are in good condition.

THREE CORNERED.

Democrats, Populists and Silverites.

After midnight on Monday at Raleigh the State committees of the Democrats and Populist parties fused on the electoral ticket. The Democrats appointed a conference committee composed of Manly, Jarvis, Simmons, Webster and Hale to meet the Populist central committee, composed of Ayer, Cy Thompson, A. S. Peace, Lloyd and Otho Wilson, at Chairman Manly's rooms at the Park Hotel. The committees after discussions decided on a division of the electors as follows: At large, Locke Craig, Democrat; R. B. Davis, Populist. By districts: First, Theo. White, Populist; Second, H. F. Freeman, Populist; Third, C. R. Thomas, Democrat; Fourth, W. S. Bailey, Populist; Fifth, William Merritt, Populist; Sixth, B. F. Keith, Free Silver Party; Seventh, T. F. Klutz, Democrat; Eighth, Tyre York, Democrat; Ninth, R. E. Gilmer, Democrat.

It will be seen that the electoral ticket will be composed of five Democrats, five Populists and one Silverite. Keith, Silverite, and the Democrats will vote for Bryan and Sewall and the Populists will vote for Bryan and Watson.

The Populist committee informed the Democratic committee that it did not regard its contract with Republicans as to Congressmen as binding and that it was open to arrangements with the Democrats, if one could be made. It was stated that both committees had appointed sub-committees to confer on this matter.

How to Kill Your Town.

Buy of peddlers as much and as often as possible.

Denounce your merchants because they make a profit on their goods.

Make out your town a very bad place and state it every chance you get.

Glory in the downfall of a man who has done much to build up the town.

Refuse to unite in any scheme for the betterment of the material interests of the people.

If you are a merchant don't advertise in the home papers, buy a rubber stamp and use it.

Patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your own, and denounce yours for not being as large and as cheap as the big city papers.

If you are a farmer curse the place where you trade as the meanest on earth.—Durham Sun.

The Burlington News has stopped its evening edition but continues the weekly.

I hereby warn any one not to buy a note against me in favor of G. A. McGowan & Co.

If you want to spend a pleasant evening and be well entertained go to Germania Hall tonight.

Rain or shine, our warehouses get the tobacco. They had full sales yesterday, every house having as much as it could handle.

Administrators Notice.

Having this day qualified before E. A. Mays, Clerk of Superior Court, of Pitt county, as administrator of the estate of William Francis Manning, dec'd, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said estate to present their claims duly authenticated, to me for payment on or before the 30th day of September, 1897, for this notice will be placed in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment and thus save cost and expense.
This the 21st day of September 1896.

FRANK WILSON, THE KING CLOTHIER.

YOU SHOULD KNOW IT.

There's a difference,
You should know it,
For it means a deal to you
Whether, when you spend your dollars
For the Clothes you have in view—
Whether they are really worthy,
That will stand the test of time,
Or the imitation "bargains"
From the mills that make that kind.

GENTLEMEN'S

FINE CLOTHING!

A SPECIALTY.

It's not merely the beauty of stuff, or the stylish cut—its the fit, the finish, the exquisite stitching and pressing, the shaping of a pocket, the rounding of a corner; nothing forgotten or half done—all-round clothing. Take time to look thoroughly, to compare. There's plenty of cheap clothing, of half-price clothing. See if you want to buy it when you've seen this.

The editor of The Jersey Journal, with that superior wisdom of which every rural editor is possessed, stood on the curbstone in front of his palatial office, letting the cool air permeate the aforesaid wisdom, when the local photographer passed by with his camera going toward the railroad station, says The New York Sun. "Ah, there!" saluting the editor. "Whence goest?"

"I go," returned the photographer, "to take a picture of the next president of the United States."

"Of course it will be a picture of the man you want elected," said the editor, who was opposed politically to the photographer.

"No, sir, it will be a picture of the next president."

The editor was getting rather wrought up.

"Will you guarantee it?" he asked.

"I'll put up my check for $500 that it will be the correct picture!" responded the photographer.

The editor scratched his dome of thought.

"I'm not very flush," he said, "but I'll give you on that guarantee $200 for a cut of the picture to print in my paper."

It looked like a cinch for the editor, and seven men told the photographer he was a plum idiot; but he drew up a contract for the editor to sign binding him to pay $200 for the cut, potographer guaranteeing it to be correct. Then he started on for the train.

"Get that cut back here in time for Sunday's paper," called the editor.

"Guess not," responded the photographer. "There's nothing in this contract about when I am to take the picture. I can't take it until after election, of course, under my guarantee, and you ought to know it."

Then the scrap began, and at last accounts all of that end of New Jersey was taking sides.

Meat for Japan's Navy.

The Kansas City (Mo.) Star says: A month or six weeks ago the Armour Packing Company, of Kansas City, began figuring with the Japanese government. The negotiations were carried on by cable with Japanese agents acting by direct governmental authority, and a few days ago the contract was awarded to the Armour company, of this city. The specifications arrived lately by mail to avoid the great expense incident to the transmission so much matter by cable. According to the specifications, the Armour Company is to furnish eighteen carloads of canned beef to the subjects of the Mikado. Eighteen cars will compose a good sized train, and the company considers the contract a vast one. It is intended to make the entire shipment within ten days and already 175 men and women are now at work on this contract alone.

About two years ago, during the war with China, the company furnished meat to the Japanese soldiers and sailors, and it is supposed that the appetite for the American product was acquired at that time. The Armour people think that the meat is intended for the Japanese navy. It has been stated in the press dispatches more than once of late that Japan was contemplating the construction and equipment of the largest floating armament in the world, and it is more than probable that the beef will be consumed by the Oriental sailors. It can hardly be meant for the

The Next President.
Five thousand cattle in all must be slain to fill the contract.

No Mail for the Wattses.

A lantern-jawed young man called at The Montezuma Record postoffice and asked:

"Anything for the Watts's?"
"Nothing," replied the postmaster.

"Anything for Jane Watts?"
"No."

"Anything for Ace Watts?"
"No."

"Anything for Bill Watts?"
"Nothing."

"Anything for Tom Watts?"
"I tell you, nothing!"

"Anything for tool Joe Watts?"
"No, nor Jim Watts, nor any other Watts, dead or living, unborn, native or foreign, civilized or uncivilized, savage or barbarous, male or female, white or black, franchised or disfranchised, naturalized or otherwise. No, there is positively nothing for any of the Watt's, either individually, severally, jointly, now and forever, one and inseparable."

The boy looked up at the postmaster in astonishment and said:

"Please look if there is anything for John Thomas Watts?"

The Best Company.

J. L. Sugg, Esq.,
Agent Accident Department,
Aetna Life Ins. Co.,
Greenville N. C.

Dear Sir:—I hold accident policy No. 9787 in your Company.

On the 23rd day of June, 1896, while superintending work at my saw-mill my arm was crushed between two logs.

On the 27th day of August I filed my claim with your company for indemnity for two weeks, claiming $25.

Your company, noting that my disability was for a period longer than I claimed, sent me their check dated Sept. 1st, 1896, for $26.78. This is a striking contrast with companies which prefer to seale a claim instead of paying the full amount.

I thank you and your company for this prompt and generous settlement, having paid me more than I claimed.

I commend your excellent company to those desiring the best insurance.

Yours very truly,
W. E. PROCTER.

Babies in Naples Taught to Beg and Steal. Organized Gangs.

An interesting account of the way in which young children are prepared to enter the Camorra is given by Dr. de Blasio, a Neapolitan physician who has been studying the habits of criminals. The Camorra at Naples, like the Mafia in Sicily, is an organization of criminals and associates of criminals that is centuries old. The Camorra begins its work with the infants who are abandoned by their parents, or who are lent out to the impostors who beg in the streets of Naples. These children, for the most part those of persons in prison, are taught to beg for the end of a cigar or a soldo and infest the cafes. In winter they sleep in holes and stables, in summer on the church steps, under archways or on the benches in the public gardens.

When they are 6 or 7 years old they are instructed in begging and thieving by older children. At 14 years of age the little Camorrista, or little thief, becomes a cantatore (singer). He must know how to improvise a song to the girls and reply with an extemporaneous verse to the verse of a companion or of an antagonist. In Naples there are two armies of cantatori—one belonging to the streets in the older part of the city and one to those of the west end. They constitute the neophytes of the Camorra and compete in public, passing their examinations by night in the streets. They choose for the subject of their chants anything that takes place in the city, and very often the object of derisive songs is an old man or a poor idiot.

The better class hear these scoffs, but do not interfere and often laugh at the wit which is scarcely ever missing. The two bands are naturally great rivals, and once a year at least they defy each other to a series of battles in which stones are the weapons, and at the close of the fray knives too often come into play. This practice of battles with stones among the boys can be traced back as far as 1625, for at that period the Duke of Alva caused 30 "stone throwers" to be arrested in Naples. The warcy of the boys is "Aniella, aniella!" the derivation of which is not certain. After the warcy comes the challenge in the form of a verse, to which the enemy responds likewise.

Then the young boys commence the attack. The passersby flee, but at no great distance stand old and young men, who incite the rival bands and if necessary rescue one or the other of them from an arrest by the police. Two years ago there was a famous battle of this kind in Piazza Mercato, which ended in a fight between the police and the stone throwers, during which the trams were stopped for some time. This duel ceases at the first drawing of blood. A slight scratch received by one of the members of the two parties puts an end to the battle. The wounded boy is surrounded by his friends and taken to his mother, real or adopted, to be bound up and nursed. The songs sung by the boys have always a chorus, and generally there are two soloists, who sing a verse in turn, which is ended by a refrain sung by the chorus, a mere "Ah, oh! Ah, oh!" In poetical form these youths express the knowledge they have of the worst evils and vices of human life, but the verses are realistic and without the least gleam of sentiment.—London News.

Steve Brodie's Ideals.

Answering a question asked by a Chicago paper, Steve Brodie replied: "If I had $250,000,000, the first thing I would do would be to build a home for the newsboys in every large city in the United States; also a home for working girls, a Keeley cure for drunkards, a workingman's library in every city; have the Chicago river water washed; have the end of South Clark street fenced in, so they could all be by themselves, pay some of your Chicago aldermen money enough to retire, so that they could never be candidates again, give what money is lacking to keep the streets clean; pay an honest man to see that the appropriations are put where they belong, and last, but not least, buy the street I so dearly love, for my own use, the Bowery."

Just Like It.

When a man stops taking a newspaper just because its opinions and his are unlike, it is like his refusing to enter into conversation with a friend because the two have different ideas on the same subject.—Troy Press

Wilson Air-Tight Heater.

With Patent Automatic Smoke Doors.

The Wilson Heater, which is a stove for house heating, is the most remarkable that has ever been patented.

In the first place it radiates more heat than any stove known, and will save 25 per cent. in fuel over any stove made.

Second, with two or three ordinary sticks of pine stove wood it will keep the fire from 36 to 48 hours, and with ordinary care the fire will never go out.

Third, being entirely closed at the base there is no danger of fire, and it is the cleanest stove in use. It is not necessary to remove the ashes oftener than once a month. These stoves are made in different styles—the small one, which is made for bed-rooms, is specially recommended for health as well as comfort.

The Wilson Heater has a great advantage over any similar stove, because it has Patent Automatic Smoke Doors, which prevent the smoke from coming into the room when you take the top off to put in the wood. These doors are so constructed that they can be taken off and put back on in one minute. These stoves can be seen at our store, come and look at them.
