GOV. JARVIS DENOUNCED AS AN INFAMOUS LIAR.

SKINNER SKINNED BY LUCAS.

The Hyde County "Old Hopper" Gives the Tricky Colonel a Scraping He Won't Forget.

Wednesday, Oct. 14th, was a day not soon to be forgotten in Pitt county. It was the occasion of the joint discussion between Col. W. H. Lucas, the Democratic nominee for Congress from this district, and Col. Harry Skinner, the Populist nominee and Republican endorsee for the same office. This speaking taking place at Skinner's home it was expected that he would be at his best and endeavor to make the strongest impression possible, but the miserable failure that he made and the decent roasting he received at the hands of Col. Lucas can be judged by what follows.

SKINNER'S SPEECH.

Skinner opened the discussion in a speech of one hour. He started off by saying everybody knew whom and what he represented—that he was the regular nominee of the Populist party and had been duly endorsed by the Republicans of the district. Lucas don't know what he is the nominee of. He said he had represented the county in the Legislature and the district in Congress, and challenged his opponent to show that every act of his had not been in the interest of the people. He pointed to the dam at the river bridge and the gates around the town of Greenville as monuments to himself.

He said he was a free silver man, but did not believe silver was a complete remedy for all ills, it was only the beginning of reformations. He wished that all silver and gold in the world could be sank to the bottom of the ocean and a law passed by which the first man who dug any of either metal from the bowels of the earth should be hanged. He wanted to do away with these metals as money and create some other medium of exchange.

He accused the Democrats of the demonetization of silver, that the Republicans were the real guilty party but the Democrats were participants in the act.

If the Alliance had never come into existence there would have been no bedrock from which the Populist party could have come. He referred to Locke Craig saying at Currituck that it was consistent for Democrats and Populists to fuse on the electoral ticket but inconsistent for Populists and Republicans to fuse on State and county tickets. Here he praised Pritchard, saying he had voted for silver up to this hour and was a man whom they could trust until he proved false. He accused the Democrats of hypocrisy and insincerity, and wanted the Populists to understand that the Democrats had no love for them, but had rather destroy them than to have free silver. They love party above country and principle.

The Democrats in North Carolina are with the gold party, they are trying to defeat me in this district when everybody knows I am true to the cause of silver. He referred to the tickets in other districts in the State, and said if the Democrats were sincere in their advocacy of silver why didn't they take down Kitchen in the fifth district and defeat Sattle by voting for Dalby, and why didn't they take down Woodard in the second district and defeat White by voting for Moss. (Of course the inference in this was why didn't they also take down Lucas in this district and elect Skinner.)

Some one in the audience asked "Where is Gov. Jarvis? you don't say anything about him." Yes, said Skinner, I am glad you called my attention to him. Jarvis is a timid man and wants to be on land before he speaks. He then referred to the silver convention in Raleigh, in 1895, that Gov. Jarvis was there in the preceding caucus and made a speech but was too timid to come out and take a stand in the convention next day.

Skinner then said he left the Democratic party because to vote for Cleveland was made the test of Democracy in 1892. Lucas ought to have walked out like I did. He made some reference to what the Democratic party could have done but didn't do, and abused them for passing a lower tariff bill, saying that the reduction on lumber lost a million dollars a year to this district.

Skinner then tried to forestall Lucas by telling some things he was going to say and in this way filled up his hour. He received some applause from a few Populists at intervals as he went along.

LUCAS' SPEECH.

Instantly there were cries for Lucas and the chorus was taken up until it sounded like every voice in the vast audience was shouting for him. Amid this ex-Senator W. R. Williams undertook to introduce the speaker, but the applause was so great he could scarce be heard. Col. Lucas arose and it was near a full minute before the demonstration subsided sufficiently for him to speak. He caught Skinner slipping out of the room and called him back.

Lucas began by expressing his utter disappointment at Skinner's speech, he had really expected to hear something here but it was the greatest harangue of an hour that he had ever been forced to sit and listen to.

He then made brief reference to the convention at Washington that nominated him by acclamation, that being a farmer and only an ordinary clod-hopper at that he felt the lack of means to caucass the district and tried to persuade them to nominate some one else. But the nomination coming as it did I could not decline it. I am in this fight to the finish and to whip. Skinner may crow and cavort, but he will find on election day I have buried him so deep in his trickery a bubble can never rise to show where he is. (Tremendous applause.)

Skinner's knowledge of silver seems wonderful, he makes himself out about the only silver patriot in the world. He had the audacity to tell me a few days ago that he learned Bryan what he knows about silver.

He expounded the fallacy of Skinner's reference to the tariff on lumber and said now I want to ask Skinner when the emergency bill was up before the last Congress if he did not vote to increase the tax on bagging and ties? Answer that. (No answer.)

Skinner says he is a silver man. I know I am and the question is which one of us is the best. I will examine him on that. He asked me to second his nomination for Lieutenant Governor before the Democratic convention in Raleigh in 1892, as he wanted a chance to make a speech. Skinner made a speech declaring himself a Democrat, and said that his voice would be heard throughout the campaign advocating the principles of Democracy. Inside of a month from that time Skinner was nominated by the Populist convention for Governor and when he told them if he saw at any time that his being in the field would endanger the State by turning it over to the Republicans he would withdraw, they took him down and nominated Exum. Now we see him enjoying with gold bug Republicans in this district. At Elizabeth City he was as thick with Palcman John and Cobb as three in a bed.

GOV. JARVIS DENOUNCED

Lucas then told the colored people what Skinner said in his speech at Raleigh a few months ago about no negro need to ask for office, and read an editorial comment upon that speech by a colored paper in Wilmington. And now Skinner has got the brass to be asking the colored people to send him back to congress; he can't get there without their votes. Maybe it is because of this abundance of brass he possesses that he wants all the gold and silver in the world buried in the ocean, his new medium of exchange would develop in a scheme to get himself coined up. (cheers.)

Col. Lucas then went into an argument of the financial question and made a comparison of the condition of the country prior to the demonetization of silver and since, and showed how the Democratic party stands squarely for silver. The Democrats have not nominated a man for Congress in North Carolina who is not an honest silver man.

Skinner has asked me why don't I attack his record, he has none, he has done nothing in Congress but draw $10,000 from the government and is asking you to send him back.

I have asked Skinner to say it he will work to put a man in the Legislature who will vote for a gold standard man for the Senate, but can't get him to answer. Skinner says Bryan is a Populist. When he makes such a statement as that he leads you to doubt all he says, if he has not sense enough to know better he ought to get out of this contest.

My opponent asks why I did not march out of the party when he did? I thank God that I never march out! The Democratic party stands for the best interests of the people and I stand with it. Then he referred strongly to the record of the party and how it had kept faith with the people.

Skinner says we love party above country, but he turns about so fast that it is impossible to tell what he loves except that he loves office and Harry Skinner above everything else.

His time being up Col. Lucas had to stop here but told the crowd he had something else good in his rejoinder. All though his speech he was loudly cheered and made it so hot for Skinner that the latter slipped away two or three times.

SKINNER'S REJOINDER.

Col. Skinner took the stand again and in the fifteen minutes allowed for a rejoinder he never discussed a single issue nor answered any of the questions put to him. He consumed the time by trying to make small of Lucas' speech, quoted some poetry and told a few stale anecdotes by way of comparison.

LUCAS' REJOINDER.

When Col. Lucas arose to close the discussion he paid another fine tribute to the Democratic party and said all that is best for the country depends on our success in this campaign.

He then went for Skinner some more and wiped up what little was left of him. Skinner went to Chairman Manly, of the Democratic State Executive Committee, and said, "I want you to untie my hands, I want to be able to speak out in this campaign. I have been treated badly by that rascal, Butler, and the Populists at the convention and I want a chance to get back in the Democratic party." That is where he ought to be and if he goes around with me through the balance of this campaign I will have him back there.

I learned something else on Skinner since coming to Greenville. I have been informed here today that Gov. Jarvis said he heard Skinner lobbying in Washington in favor of a bill to pay clerks $100 a month the year through, and fifteen minutes later went on the floor of the House and made a speech against and voted against the bill.

SKINNER DENOUNCES JARVIS.

At this Skinner sprang to his feet and came near causing disturbance. Said he "If Gov. Jarvis, Dr. O'Hagan, or any one else says that they are infamous and damnable liars"

"Halt there, sir!" demanded Dr. O'Hagan, as that old veteran pressed towards the speaker's stand. "How dare you use my name in connection with liar?"

The wildest excitement followed for a few minutes as people crowded around, and in some way Skinner used the name of A. L. Blow in connection with the others when that gentleman also started for him. Skinner hastened to apologize to both Dr. O'Hagan and Mr. Blow for using their names.

When quiet was restored Col. Lucas continued: "I did not desire to create trouble by mentioning this matter, but I repeat that I was told today that Gov. Jarvis said that he heard Skinner lobbying in favor of the bill to pay clerks $100 a month the year through and fifteen minutes later he made a speech against it and voted against it. And you all remember that Skinner went through the campaign two years ago denouncing Branch because he had voted for a bill to pay clerks $100 a month only while Congress was in session. I give you as my authority that Gov. Jarvis said this the names of W. L. Brown, J. H. Blount and F. G. James."

Skinner stepped forward again and said "Then I denounce Gov. Jarvis as a consummate liar."

Excitement reigned again for a few minutes, but the crowd dispersed without having any trouble.

Col. Skinner has been severely criticized for using the language he did in reference to Gov. Jarvis, for besides those gentlemen named by Col. Lucas, Maj. Henry Harding, County Treasurer J. L. Little and perhaps numbers of others heard Gov. Jarvis make the statement, and everybody believes that what Gov. Jarvis said about it is true. Upon the whole the joint discussion here was a signal victory for Col. Lucas. He proved himself more than a match for his many-sided opponent and won hundreds of friends among the good people of Pitt county.

A CARD.

To the Democratic Voters of the First Congressional District of North Carolina.

The Free and Unlimited Coinage of Silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 has been forced upon the American people as the one paramount issue in the National Campaign. All sorts of alliances and fusions have been and are being made to force this measure upon the people, that it may become the law of the land.

This is not a party question but an Economic Measure upon which individual members of all parties differ.

Total Democrats, who from principle, oppose this measure of free silver coinage, and who oppose the unholy alliances and methods, and the surrender of principles of Democracy to Populism, I beseech you as men who have the courage of your honest convictions, to enter your solemn protest, to that measure of Cheap Money—that threatens, overthrow American Institutions, and bring disaster to the great industrial interest of the country. It is a lack of courage to passively acquiesce in an hour of such peril, but to vote the Honest Convictions of your best judgment is the exercise of the highest and most sacred privilege guaranteed by the Constitution to every American citizen.

I call on you to let no sickly sentiment of majority influence you in the discharge of this one great privilege, but as brave men exercise the courage of your convictions. ISAAC A. UGG, Elect. National Democratic Party
First Congressional District.

Wilson Air-Tight Heater

With Patent Automatic Smoke Doors.

The Wilson Heater, which is a stove for house heating, is the most remarkable that has ever been patented.

In the first place it radiates more heat than any stove known, and will save 25 per cent. in fuel over any stove made.

Second, with two or three ordinary sticks of pine stove wood it will keep the fire from 36 to 48 hours, and with ordinary care the fire will never go out.

Third, being entirely closed at the base there is no danger of fire, and it is the cleanest stove in use. It is not necessary to remove the ashes oftener than once a month. These stoves are made of different styles—the small one, which is made for bed rooms, is specially recommended for health as well as comfort.

The Wilson Heater has a great advantage over any similar stove, because it has Patent Automatic Smoke Doors, which prevent the smoke from coming into the room when you take the top off to put in the wood. These doors are so constructed that they can be taken off and put back on in one minute. These stoves can be seen at our store, come and look at them.
