NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE

Sixtieth Annual Session at Kinston.

(CONDENSED FROM DAILY FREE PRESS)

SECOND DAY.

The conference convened at 9 o'clock, Bishop Wilson in the chair. The opening religious services were conducted by Rev. O. Ryder.

The roll was called and several answered to their names who were not present on yesterday.

Question 1, "Who are admitted on trial?" was taken up. Bryan C. Thompson, Robert H. Willis and J. R. Groves, of the Durham district, and Albert Barnes, of the Washington district, were admitted. James A. Dailey, of the Durham district, failed to pass examination.

Question 2, "Who remain on trial?" was called. Jesse L. Cunningham, David B. Parker, R. L. Davis, Y. E. Wright, H. A. Humble and E. W. Fox passed examination of character, and, having been approved by the examining committee, were continued on trial and advanced to the class of the second year.

Question 8, "What traveling preachers are elected deacons?" was called. R. W. Bailey, S. A. Cotton, Samuel Leffers, Rufus Bradley and R. A. Bruton passed the examination of character, and, having been approved by the examining committee, were elected to deacon's orders.

Question 7, "Who are deacons of one year?" was called. W. F. Craven, W. C. Merritt and William E. Hocutt passed the examination of character, and, having been approved by the examining committee, were advanced to the class of the fourth year. L. Letch was continued in the class of the third year. Edward Kelly was located at his own request.

Question 12 was called, viz: "What traveling preachers are elected elders?" Doctor N. Caviness, James H. Frizzle, Thomas H. Sutton, William A. Jerkins, Marion T. Plyler, James P. Pate, Julian L. Rumley, Samuel T. Moyle, John W. Wallace, Henry E. Tripp and Allison L. Ormond passed the examination of character, and, having been approved by the examining committee, were elected to elders.

Question 10, "What local preachers are elected to deacon's orders?" was called. Johnson Sorrell, Raleigh district, and William F. Jones, Elizabeth City district, were elected.

Question 14, "What local preachers are elected elders?" None.

Question 5th was called, "Who are readmitted?" J. T. Kendall, of the Wilmington district, having been recommended by that district for re-admission, Rev. W. S. Rone, his presiding elder, spoke for his re-admission, also Drs. Nicholson and Cy Thompson. Rev. G. A. Oglesby made a very zealous speech against his admission. Rev. A. B. Crumpler spoke in his behalf. J. N. Cole, R. B. Jonn, T. H. Gadlin and L. L. Nash spoke against him. The discussion was very animated. The vote was against his re-admission.

Rev. W. L. Cunningham, pastor Fifth Street church, Wilmington, made an appeal for help to redeem that church from debt. This church was heavily involved in debt through the instrumentality of John C. Davis. Mr. Cunningham appealed to the conference for help sufficient from the board of church extension to pay the interest on the $14,225 of bonds owed by the church, and gave assurances that if this was done the church would retire the bonds in a few years.

L. L. Nash, who was pastor of Fifth Street church right after the Davis smash, introduced a resolution that the

THE BAZAAR CLOSED.

It Was a Success in Every Way.

The bazaar conducted by the ladies of the Baptist church in the O'Hagan building closed Thursday night after having been in progress for three nights. It was a success in every way and afforded our people more enjoyment than anything of the kind that has been held here.

The bazaar was originated and managed by Mrs. P. E. Dancy, to whom much credit is due for its success. She had excellent co-workers and everything was managed well for beginning to end.

There was another bean guessing contest on the closing night, the prize winners being W. I. Pender, W. I. Corbett, Mrs. F. G. James and Rice Gwynn.

Another interesting feature was drawing for a beautiful cake that was made for the occasion by Mrs. Wells. The decoration on the cake was exquisite and admired by all present. J. S. Jenkins held the lucky number and "took the cake."

Just before the bazaar closed the ladies had a handsomely embroidered center piece presented to Mrs. J. H. Blount for the valuable assistance she had rendered them in the bazaar. The presentation was made by Prof. W. H. Ragsdale.

Mrs. Dancy requested the REFLECTOR to return thanks to all who assisted in the bazaar, and to all who attended and patronized it. The proceeds amounted to $1.15.

THE COUNTY HOME.

What a Faithful Superintendent Has Done For It.

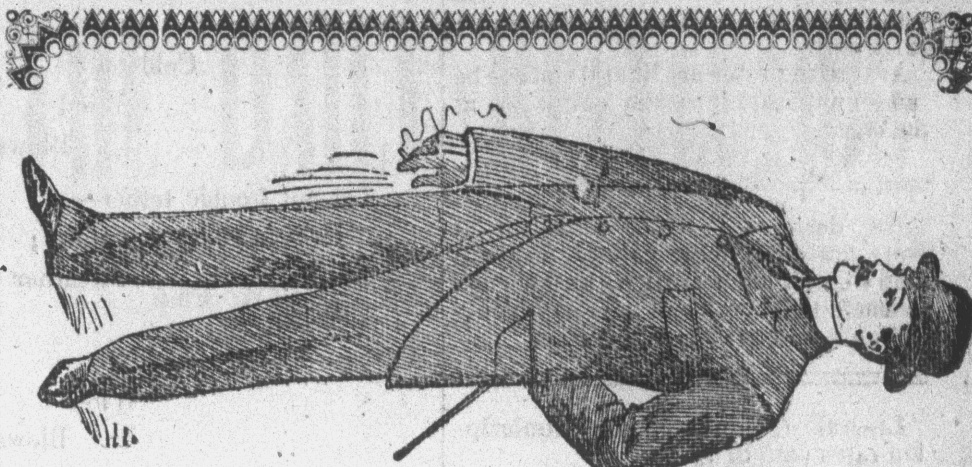

The Board of County Commissioners on Wednesday elected Mr. G. Bryan as Superintendent of the Home for the Aged and Infirm to succeed J. W. Smith. Mr. Bryan will take charge the first Monday in January, and if he makes as good a Superintendent as Mr. Smith has made he can feel justly proud of his work.

Mr. Smith has been Superintendent of the Home for two years. When he took charge he found 23 inmates there, and it had cost the county $2,408 to maintain them the previous year. He found the buildings and premises in a miserable condition, the inmates scantily clothed and poorly provided for, no farming implements and no table ware. There were 2 barrels of corn, 2 hogs and 25 chickens on the place, and he had to go out and buy provisions for the first dinner he served there.

The first year of Mr. Smith's administration the number of inmates was increased to 27, and notwithstanding he had so much to purchase cut the total expense down to $1,534. At the same time the farm was supplied and everything about the premises was considerably improved.

During his second year the number of inmates has increased to 29, the cost for this year will be only about $1,800 which includes the building of a good two-room house. The farm and premises have been still further improved until they are now in excellent condition. He has 30 barrels of corn housed, 23 hogs fattening, 250 chickens on the yard, and enough collards and turnips for the winter's use. The inmates are comfortably clothed and well cared for.

Mr. Smith will retire from the place carrying with him the gratitude of the inmates for his exceeding kindness and attention to them, and with the praise of his fellow citizens for the faithful and economical manner in which he has conducted the Home.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 11TH, 1896.

Brown Bros. tobacco factory at Winston was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. Loss $1,500,000, about half covered by insurance.

On Wednesday Judge E. T. Boykin in person tendered his resignation to Gov. Carr. He has been on the bench eleven years and his term would not have expired until 1899. Judge Boykin will return to the practice of law. Gov. Carr appointed O. H. Allen, of Kinston, to succeed him.

The new fusion Board of Commissioners of Wake county removed a wounded soldier as janitor of the Court House and appointed a negro in his place. A prominent Populist in commenting upon it is reported as saying "this was all right, that the Populists were indebted to the negroes for their work."

The Attorney General of the State has rendered a decision that the terms of new Justices of the Peace do not begin until the first of next August. He also says that any Justices who failed to render an account of election expenses, within the time provided by law, forfeited their offices and the Clerk of Superior Court has the power of filling vacancies wherever they occur. Clerk E. A. Moye tells us that in Pitt county very few of the Magistrates returned their statements.

According to a report from Havana the names of 50,000 dead or missing Spanish soldiers are kept on the list of the General Intendent of Finances of the Army in Cuba, and funds continue to be drawn from the treasury for their maintenance as of men alive and in active service. This species of fraud was quite common during the ten years war, only then the Colonel in command of each battalion was usually the recipient of the dead men's pay. Since then the military administration has been "reformed," and all accounts are now kept at the Intendent's Office in Havana. Probably the "reform" was part of General Weyler's "policy of concentration." It is certainly well calculated to concentrate the diminishing remnants of pickings derivable from the administration of Cuban affairs for the benefit of the big Spanish carpet-baggers at Havana. It is not surprising that the present administration of Cuban finances should have become a scandal even in the eyes of pronounced loyalists.

The first copy of the Kinston Daily Free Press came to hand yesterday. It is as bright as a new dollar and contains a splendid report of the conference proceedings.

WHEN THE COLD WIND BLOWS.

Go along together,
Singing of a rose;
But the devils in the weather
When the Cold Wind Blows!

If you'd wear the feather,
Face and fight the snows;
But the devil's in the weather
When the Cold Wind Blows!

Let not trouble tether—
Heaven above you glows;
But the devil's in the weather
When the Cold Wind Blows!

Notes of All Sorts.

The great hammer of the Woolwich Gun Works, of England, weighs forty tons and has a drop of 44 feet.

It takes 37 specially constructed and equipped steamers to keep the submarine telegraph cables of the world in repair.

The largest bridge in the world is the Lion bridge near Sangsang, China. It extends five and a half miles over a part of the Yellow Sea and is supported by 300 huge stone arches.

In his annual report for the last fiscal year Professor Moore, chief of the Weather Bureau at Washington, states that the average percentage of verification of the Bureau's forecasts during the year was 82.4.

During the past fiscal year the exported products of American farms aggregated $571,000,000, an increase of $17,000,000 over the preceding year.

Forest fires have destroyed 49,000 acres of timber in New York State in the past three years.

The Cost of Talk.

Press and Printer observes: "Talk is cheap—until you begin putting it in type. Then it costs money." That depends. If a business firm have anything to say that is worth listening to the matter of cost is not worthy of consideration. But the advertising that merely pays its way is useless. It is scarcely to be dignified by the term "advertising" unless it carried a good balance to the profit side of the book.

An Ohio magistrate has refused to unite in marriage a young woman with a convict just beginning a ten years' term of imprisonment, on the ground that the man would not be able to support and protect a wife. This ground of refusal is so reasonable, and so evident, that the wonder is that it is not a long-established precedent instead of a novelty of judicial view.—Youths' Companion.

Every now and then Brooklyn brings forward a novelty. This time it is in the shape of George Washington, who claims to be a descendant of the brother of "The Father of His Country." The second George is very proud of his name, and spends a large part of his time in imitating the signature of his illustrious ancestor. He has merged his own birthday with that of his namesake, and celebrates both in the fitting style.

board of church extension be requested to make an assessment sufficient to meet the interest on the bonds of fifth street church, and made a strong appeal in favor of same.

D. H. Tuttle, president of the board of church extension, objected to burdening the board.

J. K. Sawyer moved to amend resolution, so that the board be instructed to pay the interest on the bonds.

The resolution was adopted.

Dr. J. C. Kilgo read a letter from Washington Duke, of Durham, in which the latter offered to give $100,000 to the endowment of Trinity College, provided the college, before the close of 1897, shall open its doors to women, placing them in future on an equal footing with men, enabling them to enjoy all the rights, privileges and advantages of the college now enjoyed or to be hereafter enjoyed by men.

This letter had a thrilling effect upon the conference and the body sang the long metre doxology. A motion to return thanks to Mr. Duke was adopted.

OTHER LOCALS.

All the weather prophets say we will have another big snow on the 19th.

Sales at the warehouses have been immense this week. Tobacco has been coming in as freely as it did early in the season.

The Atlantic Coast Line has sent out advertisements for holiday excursion rates—4 cents per mile for the round trip.

We learn from the Kinston Free Press that Mr. Asa Pritchett is dead. He was for many years a citizen of Greenville.

At a meeting of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade today they decided not to close the market for the holidays until Tuesday 22nd.

An Impossibility.

It is related in the Washington Star that on one occasion Senator Edmunds was standing with a visiting English statesman on the high steps at the west side of the capitol looking down Pennsylvania avenue toward the treasury department. The stranger had seen much to interest and amuse him in Washington.

"You have a wonderful people here, Mr. Senator. Nothing can be impossible with such go ahead inhabitants."

"Oh, yes," said the senator, "some things are impossible here. It is impossible to march a brass band down that avenue and have a crowd of colored people go in the opposite direction at the same time."

Land Sale.

By virtue of an order of the Superior Court of Pitt County made in a certain special proceeding therein pending entitled James A. Lang and wife Nannie J. Lang versus W. A. Barrett, G. W. Barrett and others, I will on Monday, January 1st, 1897, before the Court House door in Greenville, sell at public sale to the highest bidder, for cash, "a certain piece or parcel of a d. lying in Farmville township, Pitt County, on the north side of Little Contentnea Creek in or near the Glass House, pocosin, at or near the head of Broad Branch, adjoining the lands of J. D. Jones W. A. Barrett, G. W. Barrett, Elijah B. num and others, containing 200 acres more or less."

This the 4th day of December 1896.

The Zero of Temperature.
No explorer has yet been able to hang his cap on the north pole, nor has the chemist in his laboratory yet succeeded in reaching what may be called the north pole of his researches—namely, the zero of temperature, or the temperature of celestial space. This zero has been defined as that point of temperature at which gas particles would give no pressure and have no volume, a condition which, it is said, would take place at a temperature of 274 degrees below the freezing point of water. Unlike the arctic explorers, however, who have a number of roads open by which to approach the pole, the chemist has only one route by which to reach the chilly destination he seeks, and that is by the liquefaction of all the gases. This, the textbooks state, has already been accomplished, but the chemist in search of the zero temperature knows better.

Though compressed hydrogen when expanded yields a mist, the victory over this baffling element has not been achieved, and as the experiments in this direction are difficult and costly it seems probable that the explorers will reach the north pole, by balloon or otherwise, long before the chemists reach their zeroic temperature, the temperature of celestial space. One practical result the chemist names as a reason of his researches after the zero temperature is that should it ever be reached we could then completely transform heat into mechanical power, whereas at present we succeed in getting only about 10 per cent so converted.—Chicago Interior.

An Ape's Superstition.
Chief Utan, the auburn haired orang outang at the zoo, is very superstitious, and his convictions with regard to straws are not limited to the mere fact that they tell how the wind blows. The chief believes that chewing a straw with certain supernatural qualities will bring his dinner hour around before 1 o'clock, the regular time, and he daily tries to put this theory into practice. From among the heaps of straw in his cage he selects with great care the longest and straightest, and after having placed it in his mouth he goes to the glass front of the cage and shading his eyes with his hand peers to the right and left in search of the keeper with his dinner. If the keeper is not in sight, the chief throws the straw away as not possessing sufficient "charm" and selects another. This performance is repeated over and over with the utmost gravity until the meal arrives.

Queen Louisa of Prussia and the Rose
Before parting Napoleon spent a few moments at her side, and at the end, turning, pulled from a bunch a beautiful rose, which he offered with gestures of gallantry and homage. Hesitating a moment the queen at last put out her hand and said as she accepted it, "At least with Magdeburg."

"Madame," came the frigid reply, "it is mine to give and yours to accept." But he gave his arm to conduct her to the carriage, and as they descended the stair together the disappointed guest said in a sentimental and emotional voice, "Is it possible that, having had the happiness to see so near the man of the century and of all history, he will not afford me the possibility and the satisfaction of being able to assure him that he has put me under obligations for life?"

With solemn tones Napoleon replied: "Madame, I am to be pitied. It is a fault of my unlucky star."

Queen Louisa's own lady in waiting related that her sovereign's bitterness overcame her at the last, and as she stepped into the carriage she said, "Sire, you have cruelly deceived me."—Professor Sloane in Century.

What It Cost Him.
Mrs. Watts—There! We have cleared off the last of that church debt, and it never cost you men a cent. See what women can do.
Mr. Watts—I don't know about the other fellows, but I know you have made me spend more than $100 for extra meals down town while you were out monkeying around.—Indianapolis Journal.

CAMEO CARVING.
It Sounds Formidable, but Is In Reality a Simple Operation.

Gravers and scoopers and other mysterious little instruments have crept into the modern maiden's den. It sounds formidable—cameo carving—but in reality it is simple. First you provide yourself with a working table; it need not be large. Then, at any art store, buy half a dozen gravers and scoopers of varying degrees of fineness. The next outlay is for a shell upon which you are to cut the cameo. Black, red and yellow "helmets," as the shells are called, are required, and they cost from $3 to $5 each, but from a good shell several ovals or rounds can be cut.

After it has been cut the required size and shape, it is then fixed with hot cement upon a holder—a little block that can be held in the hand. The upper surface of the shell is made sufficiently smooth to take the
