THE LEGISLATURE.

Condensed Report of Proceedings.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY

SENATE.

The senate met at 4 o'clock.

Bills and resolutions were introduced as follows:

McCaskey, concerning the agricultural department and the college of agriculture and mechanic arts. The important part of this is to take the department of agriculture and college out of the present hands and give it to the populists or republicans.

McCaskey, to repeal all laws allowing grace on notes and drafts.

Clark, to regulate the transportation of bicycles.

Alexander, to change the name of the Louise yarn mills, of Mecklenburg, to the Louise mills.

Grant, a resolution in favor of the arbitration treaty now pending in the United States senate. By suspension of the rules it was taken up and adopted.

Butler, (by request) a memorial from the president of the North Carolina railroad and directors emphatically denying the truth of the statement of President Hoffman in his letter to Governor Russell in regard to the lease of the North Carolina railroad. The memorial is signed by S. B. Alexander, Lee S. Overman, Jno. Allison, J. J. Young, W. C. Maxwell, C. W. Johnson, R. F. Hoke, H. W. Fries and V. E. Turner and the request is made that a joint committee be appointed with power to summons witnesses to investigate the whole matter. The joint resolution to appoint such committee was adopted.

Bills were passed as follows:

For the better protection of the traveling public from baggage smashers and other employees.

To incorporate the Carolina Cooperative Company.

To prevent public drunkenness, (applies only to Buncombe, Transylvania and Henderson counties.)

To instruct the commissioners of Craven county to refund illegal taxes collected in 1895.

HOUSE.

The house met at 10 o'clock. Only seventy-two members were present.

Bills and resolutions were introduced as follows:

Cox, to define lawful fences in Pitt county; to require owners of personal property to list it at its full value.

Sutton, of Cumberland, to declare bicycles to be baggage (accompanied by a petition signed by bicyclists.)

Purgason, to make it a misdemeanor to give or sell intoxicating liquors to any habitual drunkard.

Duffy, to allow Onslow county to use its surplus special fund for general county purposes.

James, to allow Pender county to use its bridge fund for general purposes.

Pool, to allow a county to adopt as its own an agricultural society formed in another county.

By leave a bill was introduced by Ferrell to enlarge the jurisdiction of magistrates. It provides that the punishment for all assaults, assaults and batteries or affrays, where no deadly weapon is used or serious damage is done and where a deadly weapon is attempted to be used or is used but no permanent injury is inflicted, shall be a fine of not exceeding $50 or imprisonment for thirty days. It further provides that whenever any person shall be convicted of carrying concealed weapons before any justice of the

The Luby Glass Makers

Opened last night to a large and well pleased audience. Those who received large presents are as follows: Foster Quinn, W. C. Hines, E. E. Griffin, Ola Forbes, Miss Jennie Brown, Mr. Moore, A. J. Anderson, C. R. Culbertson. Every visitor receives a present. 10 cents admits. Afternoons from 2 until 5, evenings from 7 until 10.

New Bills.

George Fleming says the latest news from Raleigh, via tobacco town, is that a bill was introduced in the Legislature to make little 'possums climb little trees, and vice versa, it requiring an expenditure of too much labor to cut down a big tree and find nothing but a little 'possum when a big one was expected. Also that flounders be compelled to swim with their white side up so that it will be easier to see and gig them at night.

The Small Boy.

An exchange says that a teacher in a school in one of the Western cities was trying to impress upon the minds of the smallest class in arithmetic the table of United States money. She first asked the children how many dimes made a dollar, and they readily answered "ten." To her question of how many cents made a dime she received the same reply. She then said:

"Now, Children, I am going to ask you a more difficult question: Can any one tell me how many mills make a cent?"

At first there was silence, and then a small boy near the foot held up his hand and on being told to give the answer, said:

"My papa says now that McKinley is elected not a damn mill will make a cent."

A Toothless Family.

A queer family was unearthed near Lapaz, Ind., the other day. It consists of a family without a tooth. James Leonard is the father. He is past 50 years of age and has passed this much of his life sound and healthy without the assistance of a molar or even a baby tooth. None ever grew. Twenty years ago he married a woman who had as fine a set of teeth as could be found. She still possesses them. They had four children, all of whom are full grown and perfect in regard to health, but who, like their father, never had a tooth in their head. Their gums, however, come down much further than is ordinarily the case and are as hard and firm as a bone.

An Old and Well-Tried Friend.

The Youth's Companion will celebrate its seventy-first birthday in 1897. Among the attractive announcements of the paper for the coming year is an article by Mr. Andrew Carnegie on "The Habit of Thrift." Successful men in other walks of life will second Mr. Carnegie's with readable, practical articles. The nonpartisan editorials the "Current Events" and "Nature and Science" departments are of special benefit to those who wish to keep informed of the world's progress. Of course there will be the usual high class fiction. New subscribers who send $1.75 to the Companion will not only receive the paper for a year, but will receive free a very beautiful Calendar printed in twelve colors. The Illustrated Prospectus of the next Volume may be had by addressing peace it shall be the latter's duty to fine the defendant not less than $10 or imprisonment not more than thirty days if he cannot pay it and the justice of the peace shall not have authority to suspend the judgment of imprisonment and on appeal to superior court if there be conviction judgment shall not be any less than that of the justice of the peace. The common law misdemeanor of forcible trespass shall hereafter be punished by fine not exceeding $50 or thirty days' imprisonment; that larceny and receiving where the value of the goods does not exceed $10 shall be misdemeanor. Costs are to be included in all cases.

NIGHT SESSION.

The house met at 7:30 o'clock.

The resolution introduced by Hancock to abolish the office of enrolling clerk and oust A. L. Swinson came up and caused a hot debate. Hancock spoke in support of the measure.

Ward, of Duplin, asked what was the charge against Swinson.

Blackburn said Swinson had refused to carry out the terms of the contract and that it was none of Swinson's business how many assistant enrolling clerks were there; that Swinson was not treasurer or responsible for the finances.

Ferrell said that if broken contracts and agreements were spoken of it was high time for the republicans to get on their knees and apologize to the populists. He declared it was a snap judgment; that it was evident the republicans were trying to overrun the populists. The populists are in the minority but in electing republicans they expected to be treated fairly.

Hancock asked Ferrell if he was not elected by republican votes and Ferrell said yes.

Lusk then called on Ferrell to name the contract which the republicans had broken.

Ferrell said he would do so but would rather not.

Several republicans cried out: "Tell it," but he did not.

Dockery said S. Otho Wilson and Chairman Atwater had daily for the past two weeks urged him to depose Swinson; that Swinson had broken his pledge by saying he would not put any negro on the roll. He said Swinson was elected by negro votes; that he had come here and after feathering his own nest had broken faith. Dockery said Quick, a negro named as an assistant, was in all respects as competent as Swinson; that the latter thought he was bigger than the house itself. He said Swinson had appointed two servants to wait on him and one of these was Swinson's own son. Dockery said Ward, Ferrell and all other populists who were now so anxious to indorse Swinson and hit at negroes were last fall blamed anxious to get negroes to vote for them, and but for negro votes they would never be here.

During all the discussion there was a great deal of applause, nearly all among republicans. The democrats took no part in the debate but let the fight go on.

Hancock called the previous question. The call was sustained.

Ward demanded the ayes and noes. There was a great deal of explaining of votes. Cox, republican, voted no, saying he believed in fairness and thought all men should have trial by his peers.

Morton, populist, asked if two years ago republicans were not tied out in the woods and if the populists did not have to go out and untie them.

Peace, colored, said republicans and populists were indebted to 120,000 negro voters for their election; that neither could win unless by negro votes and the negroes could have had a negro as enrolling clerk.

Person, of Wayne, said he had pushed Swinson, had told of how he had suffered at the hands of the democratic machine; that he was not casting his vote against Swinson but against his stubbornness.

Ward said it was not charged that Swinson had refused to do anything, but that he was going to refuse; that in other words he was tried before he had committed an offence.

White, of Randolph, in voting aye said the republicans were hitched out in the bushes two years; that the populists unhitched them but got on their backs and rode in too. [Great laughter.]

The resolution was adopted—ayes, 57; noes, 31.

HARD TO PLEASE.

In winter, when the cold winds blow,
 Man kicks.

He doesn't like the ice and snow;
 He hates to see the mercury go

To zero; if it falls below,

He kicks—

Oh, how he kicks.

In summer, when the sizzards sizz,
 Man kicks.

He groans, "Great Scott! how hot it is!"
 As if no misery equaled his.

Then, as he wipes his streaming phiz,
 He kicks—

Oh, how he kicks.

And so it is, if cold or hot,
 Man kicks.

He's never pleased with what he's got.
 But growls, and fumes, and swears a lot,

And, whether it is right or not,
 He kicks—

Oh, how he kicks.

PROFITABLE PUBLICITY.

Brevity in Advertising.

By NATH'L C. FOWLER, JR., of New York, Doctor of Publicity.

A few words inside of a man are worth a hundred outside of him.

Too much advertising brevity is bad, but not as bad as too little brevity.

Many words may please you, but if they don't please the reader they might as well not be printed.

Your advertisements are long, perhaps, and when you write them you say as much as you can in the space you use.

They are interesting to you and to your family.

Do people read these long advertisements?

Do you?

If you don't read them, why should you expect that others should read yours?

Say enough, but don't say too much.

Even if people would read long-winded advertisements, it might not be well to tell so much about your goods that people would have no curiosity to see them?

Remember, advertising does not sell goods.

Advertising creates an interest in you and yours, and by bringing people to you, makes it easier for you to do business with them.

Advertising is simply the most economical way of placing buyers in a position for you to handle them.

REVIEW OF REVIEWS
Illustrated
Edited by ALBERT SHAW

Only one magazine can be taken, we would suggest the REVIEW OF REVIEWS, as covering more ground than any other magazine. —Board of Library Commissioners of New Hampshire, 1896.

THIS magazine is, in its contributed and departmental features, what its readers, who include the most of the English-speaking world, are pleased to find "thoroughly up to date," "thoroughly abreast of the times," "valuable," and "indispensable." It is profusely illustrated with many portraits, views, and cartoons. Its original articles are of immediate interest, by the best authorities on their respective subjects. The Editor's "Progress of the World" gives a clear, rightly proportioned view of the history of the human race during the current month. The "Leading Articles of the Month" present the important parts of the best magazine articles that have been written in every part of the world. The newest and most important books are carefully reviewed. Indexes, chronological records, and other departments complete the certainty that the reader of the Review of Reviews will miss nothing of great significance that is said or written or done throughout the world.

R. L. Davis, of Farnville, was here today.

N. S. Fulford, Jr., of Washington, is in town.

J. J. Satterthwaite, of Pactolus, was here today.

J. L. Fleming returned last night from Goldsboro.

J. A. Crews, agent for the Wilmington Messenger, is in town.

Henry Simpson, of Salisbury, who has been spending a few days here, left this morning.

Mrs. J. E. Langley, of Richmond, arrived Tuesday evening to be present at the wedding tonight.

Mrs. A. McCullen, of Richmond, who has been visiting her son, A. McCullen, returned home today.

Mrs. Lovit Hines and children left this morning for Kinston to join her husband there in making that place their home. We regret to see this family leave Greenville.

Mrs. A. B. White and little son, Hazel, of Greensboro, mother and brother of H. A. White, arrived Tuesday evening to attend the latter's marriage tonight. They are the guests of Capt. C. A. White.

Dr. Frank W. Brown returned home Tuesday evening, after an absence of about four weeks for his health. His host of friends are glad to know that his health is entirely restored and to see him looking so well. He says he feels like a new man and is ready to resume the practice of his profession. There are few better physicians and surgeons than he.

Billie says it's a good sign of spring when shad come.

The first white shad of the season was caught here yesterday afternoon.

The attendance at the Glass-Blowers exhibition in Germania Hall was quite large last night and some handsome prizes were drawn. The work is truly marvelous.

The legal rate of interest of Kansas has been reduced from 10 to 8 per cent. With oats 20 cents, potatoes 15 cents a bushel, and corn being used for fuel, the statesmen concluded that 8 per cent. was about as much as the average farmer could pay.

Stolen.

From in front of my store on Saturday night one PROGRESS BICYCLE (makers, Ames & Frost Co., Chicago) Model 53, 1896, wood rims, Morgan & Wright tires. Wheel been very little used. A liberal reward will be paid its recovery.
