The Races at Newbern.

There seemed to be some hitch in the decision in the race we spoke of yesterday in which Bird Eye won three heats and only won second money. We clip the following from the Wilmington Messenger that may explain.

Raleigh, N. C., February 24.—A special to The Tribune from Newbern, N. C., says: Today was an ideal one for racing. The incident of the day was the last heat in the first race, when the judges gave Tyrolese first place over Kitty B., stating that Kitty B. and Bird Eye fouled Tyrolese. The decision was freely hissed. Hewitt, owner of Kitty B., entered protest against the decision and demanded the purse and new judges for tomorrow.

First heat in 2:25 class, one mile, trotting race, best two out of three, resulted as follows: Kitty B. first, Bird Eye second, Myrtle Reak third, Baron Wood fourth, Tyrolese fifth.

Second heat—Bird Eye won; Tyrolese second, Kitty B. third.

Third heat—Tyrolese first, Kitty B. second, Baron Wood third.

Tyrolese, in the fourth heat won, Baron Wood second, Bird Eye third.

Fifth heat—Bird Eye won; Tyrolese second, Kitty B. third.

Sixth heat—Kitty B. won; Bird Eye second, Tyrolese third. (This is the heat which was reversed and given to Tyrolese.) Best time, in fourth heat, 2:30½.

NORTH CAROLINA.

A man in Forsyth county is the owner of a six-legged cow.

Johnson's Pharmacy, at Southern Pines, is the only drug store in the State managed entirely by women.

Burghes blew open the safe of G. A. Warlick, at Newton, Saturday, and got $20 in money and a pistol.

The contract for the Lutheran College building at Charlotte has been let to an Atlanta firm. It will be completed by Sept. 1st.

Col. John C. Tipton will move the Oxford Democrat to Lincolnton and change its name to the Lincoln Journal.

The Monroe Enquirer says that Judge W. L. Norwood has been conducting court there entirely satisfactory to all. He had been sober all the week and presided with that soberness and dignity becoming a judge.

Mr. James Campbell has a store near Gingham Mill. Saturday night as he was going home he was run against by two negroes, who knocked him down and robbed him of $105, which he had in his pants pocket.—News was brought to the city yesterday that Mrs. Helme, of Helmsville, Union county, was killed yesterday at the saw mill of her husband, Mr. J. T. Helms. She got caught on the saws and was so badly cut that she died in a few hours.

—Clarence Helme and Will Owens, white boys of 12 years each, got into a fuss Sunday at the Victor Mill. Helms picked up a stick and hit Owens over the head. The Helms boy was arrested and was not allowed bond until Owens regained consciousness, and until Dr. Wilder thought him out of danger. He was then liberated on $100 bond.—Charlotte Observer.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1897.

Was Mourned as Dead.

James C. Brown, a sailor 60 years old, who had been given up for dead, has just returned to his family in Lynn, Mass., after an absence of nine years. Brown shipped from Boston in November, 1887, in the bark Clyde. The vessel was capsized by a storm in Madagascar harbor. The crew were rescued and returned to Madagascar, where Brown shipped for Mauritius. There he was stricken with fever and lay four months between life and death. On recovering he made two voyages between Mauritius and Melbourne. The bark in which he shipped, being short handed, stopped at the Solomon Islands for men, but got none, and left hastily, because the captain feared the natives. Brown was accidentally left behind, and for four years he lived with the savages. Of the experience he says:

"Imagine yourself in a menagerie, with 10,000 wild animals running madly about, each one seemingly thinking of swallowing you whole, and you may have a faint idea of my first experience. After awhile I made my many friends among the natives."
Brown was rescued by the bark Florence Elliott and taken to Sidney, whence he worked his way to Melbourne. Finally he wrote to his wife, and on receipt of an answer he shipped aboard the Germanic for home.—New York Sun.

Printers' Jargon.

Many people are not aware that printers have a language of their own, unintelligible to the uninitiated. The following "up-to-date" orders give an idea of the printing office lingo: "Billy, put Sir Charles Lupper on the galley, and finish up that murder you commenced yesterday. Set up the ruins of Herculeum and distribute the small-pox. Lock up Laurier and slide M'Carthy into the hell box and leave the pi alone until after dinner. Put the ladies' form to press, and go to the devil and put him to work on Deacon Fogg's article on Eternal Punishment." Now this is all simple enough when translated into English, and not nearly so rough as the reader may imagine.—Mirror.

Items from Billville.

A town that pays the preacher and supports the editor is so close to heaven that it's almost in competition with it.

While we are in Washington it is our purpose to try and get a pension for our mule on the grounds that he hollered three times at Lee's surrender, threw a confederate general and then broke his own leg getting home.

We've been having queer weather of late, but as we are not responsible for it we just thank God for an umbrella and march on!

Our signal service man predicted the recent cold wave to a minute, but when it arrived his surprise was so great that he has been prostrated ever since.

Billville was not invited to enter McKisley's cabinet, notwithstanding she gave him six votes in the last election. She will recover.—Atlanta Constitution.

THE LEGISLATURE.

the county commissioners to levy a tax to meet the interest.

To prohibit taking of clams from the waters of Brunswick county between April 15th and November 15th.

To work Northampton's roads by taxation.

To amend the charter of Laurierburg.

To allow Lumberton to issue $20,000 in bonds for water works, street improvements, etc.

To allow the treasurer of Bladen county to pay registrars and judges of election at the last election $1.50 per day and messengers $1 per day and 5 cents mileage one way.

A resolution that no bills be introduced on or after March 1st.

To add Beaufort, New Hanover, Bladen, Henderson, Sampson, Perquimans, Bertie and Washington to chapter 173, acts of 1895, this being the law which requires what is known as the "Doyle measurement" of log.

To provide for inspection of coal mines and the safety of miners therein.

To create a board of control of convicts and roads in Mecklenburg county.

To allow the Wilmington street railway to consolidate with any railway entering that city.

Cook, by leave, introduced a bill to require the constitutions of the United States and North Carolina to be read in all public schools.

The bill to turn stock loose in Moseley Hall township, Lenoir county, was tabled, Hauser alone voting against the motion tabling it.

NIGHT SESSION.

The house met at 7:30 o'clock.

Dockery introduced a resolution to allow laborers of the house 50 cents a day extra, saying there were this session only eleven, while two years ago there were eighteen. I was adopted.

Bills passed as follows:

To require all public school teachers to read aloud to pupils twice during each session the constitutions of the United States and of North Carolina.

To allow Sampson county to borrow money, issue bonds and levy a special tax.

To amend the Code as to indictments for cruelty to animals so as to give justices of the peace jurisdiction.

To allow the commissioners of Maxton to increase tax levy from 50 cents to $1.

By leave Person, of Wayne, introduced a bill to amend the chapter 81, acts of 1895, fixing the maximum schedule of charges for selling leaf tobacco by all warehousemen in the state as follows:

"In section 1, line 4, strike out 15 and insert 5; in line 5 strike out 25 and insert 10; in line 6 strike out 10 and insert 5 and in line 8 strike out 10 and insert 5."

Curiosities of Water Power.

Some interesting phenomena have been noted at the high fall water power plant at Fresno, Cal., where the Pelton wheels are operated under a fall of 1,411 feet and an enormous pressure and jet velocity are developed.

A sudden stoppage of the water flow will raise the hand of the pressure gauge to the astounding height of 1,000 pounds per square inch, the pressure returning eventually to nearly a corresponding distance below the normal, accompanied for over 30 seconds by a sharp reverberation. The great pipe writhes like a huge serpent, and the commotion in its interior sounds like the firing of distant cannon. The only safeguards in such sudden changes of flow are the great strength and elasticity of the steel.

The water is applied to the Pelton wheels by deflecting nozzles. The terrific force that this stream of water is capable of is almost incredible. It will bore a hole through a three inch plank in a few minutes; it will tear a hole through a three-eighths inch piece of steel in a few days; concrete melts before it like sugar. The only successful mode yet known of safely stopping the motion of the water from the nozzle is to put a heavy casting plate in the tail race in such a manner that it can be quickly replaced when worn out.—Chicago Record.

rate of one fare for the round trip (just half rate) from any point in the South to Washington and return. Tickets on

His Horse House.

James Jones is an eccentric character of Anderson, Ind., who is just a little light in his top flat. He wanted to build a stable for his horse, but didn't have much idea of how large to make it. He was certain, however, that he didn't want it a bit larger than was necessary.
A brilliant idea struck him—that is, brilliant for a man of his mental standing—and he proceeded to put it into effect. He drove a stake into the ground about on the spot where he wanted to build and tied the horse to it. Then he drove three other stakes, one at each corner of the horse. Then he nailed the side boards to the stakes, put a roof on and had a stable which was warranted to fit the horse without being too large. When he had it all finished, he started to take the horse out, but found that he had not built wisely, in that he had made no door. He knocked the boards off one end of the building and made them into a swinging door, and then his stable suited him. As for the horse's probable opinion of it—well, that's another story.—Detroit Free Press.
