LEGISLATIVE ECHOS.

As Condensed From The Wilmington
Messenger.

It was 1:05 o'clock Wednesday morning when the legislature adjourned sine die, after a most eventful session of sixty-two days.

Most of the talk Wednesday among the public men was about the injunction of Judge Simonton against interference with the lease of the North Carolina railway to the Southern. A very prominent jurist says that so far as he knows, it is the first time a governor has been enjoined from bringing suits in his own courts; that the people of North Carolina are jealous of the federal courts, this being particularly the case west of here; that he thinks this proceeding, for this reason ill-advised;
that it will add immensely to the strength of the populist party in the state; that the governor will, if Simonton decides against him at Greensboro April 6th, certainly take the case to the United States supreme court, which will hardly confirm such a decision;
that if Simonton sets aside the injunction that it will be equivalent to saying the state courts can settle the matter.

There is, it seems, quite a little flurry
as to who shall be the new commissioner of agriculture. The populist minority want J. M. Mewborne to get the place, but it may be that Senator Parker, of Randolph, will be the winner.

There were no less than fifteen factions in the legislature. The lease question tore the parties all to pieces.
It now threatens to continue this next year. This is why the western republicans were so anxious to get it out of politics.

Governor Russell's friends laugh at the attempts made by many of the republican legislators to balk him in his purpose to have control of the various institutions. They fought him desperately, black and white, but in the end he has had his way.

The new board of trustees of the agricultural and mechanical college meets on the 25th. A member of it says there is no purpose to make any changes in the faculty, but to make changes as to the officers and employes.
J. C. L. Harris is chairman of the new board of agriculture.

No less 400 bills died on the legislative calendar. Among the chief were these: To prevent habitual drunkenness. To prohibit the existence of trusts and combines. To establish a state reform school. To aid in the enforcement of the inter-state commerce law. To require compulsory attendance at public schools. To establish a true meridian in each county of the state. To tax pistols at each sale. A joint resolution of sympathy with Cuba. To print and distribute the sketches of North Carolina regiments in the war. To protect public water supplies. To reduce the tonnage tax on commercial fertilizers from 25 to 20 cents per ton. To provide for holding farmers' institutes. To protect song and insect eating birds. To protect wives against cruelty of husbands. To establish the rule of master and servant between municipal corporations and their employes. To forbid minors from entering and loitering in barrooms. To make the wives of confederate soldiers eligible to pension on the death of the latter. To amend the constitution by incorporating the election law as the fifteenth amendment and define what constitutes a political party. To allow court stenographers.

To fix the time of payment of mill employes. To increase duties and power of the railway commission. To create a state board of equalization. To create a code commission. To incorporate the state veterinary association. To furnish arms and legs to all confederate soldiers. To allow mayors to perform the marriage ceremony. To allow deputy clerk of court to probate deeds.

The governor commissions D. H.
Abbott, railway commissioner. His commission to Thomas H. Sutton as judge of the Eastern criminal circuit is effective April 1st.

The total number of acts and resolutions of the legislature enrolled was 76 of the former and 56 of the latter.

The bill to prevent the dismemberment of the Cape Fear and Yadkin
Valley railway in a sale was ratified
Monday night.

The populists are declaring that their party will sweep the state in 1898 and that they will absorb thousands of republicans and democrats.

Governor Russell and Attorney General Walser had a conference today regarding the injunction of the federal court as to the lease. State Treasurer Worth finds that the legislative appropriations aggregate $950,000, which far exceeds any previous appropriations. It is said the special appropriations amount to $130,000.

Another Fine Sermon.

Rev. J. B. Morton arrived from Ta-boro Thursday evening, and preached to a large congregation in the Presbyterian church at the night service. His discourse was upon the parable of the talents. He clearly and forcibly pointed out the duties resting upon every one in rightly using the talents God has given him. The illustrations he used were very impressive. The sermon in its entirety was an able one and received closest attention from the congregation.

Mr. Morton will preach again tonight.

Dr. William Black will arrive Saturday evening and take charge of the meeting Sunday. During next week
two services will be held each day, morning and evening. The morning service will begin promptly at 10 o'clock and continue exactly one hour. It is hoped this will be a convenient hour
for the business people of the town and that merchants and clerks can attend the meeting.

Maj. Alfred Williams, of Raleigh, and Miss Charlotte Grimes, of this county, were married at the bride's home near Grimesland, on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. N. C. Hughes performing the ceremony. The couple went to Florida on a bridal tour.

FRIDAY, MARCH 12, 1897.

Party Finances Contrasted.

At the conclusion of Mr. Cleveland's first administration, he turned over to Mr. Harrison one hundred million gold reserve, and a net available balance of $48,096,148. When Mr. Cleveland assumed the presidency for the second time the Harrison administration turned over to him a nominal balance of $24,128,088, but if the books had been kept in the same way as four years before they would have shown an actual deficit of $9,641,803, the gold reserve being impaired to that extent. Retiring for the second time Mr. Cleveland turns over a net available balance, over and above the hundred million gold reserve, of $72,330,916, deducting the redemption fund, subsidiary coin, etc. These figures are given by the Philadelphia Times, an independent paper.

If the present administration cleans out the Treasury as did that of Harrison, the next President, if he be a Democrat, will have to apply himself to the same task that confronted Mr. Cleveland—that of filling up a depleted Treasury. The difference between Republican and Democratic rule is here very strikingly set forth. One pulls down and the other builds up. But there are people who will abuse Mr. Cleveland for leaving all that money for the Republicans to squander.

No Wine for McKinleys.

Indications point to the absence of wine at the White House dinners during this administration.

A dinner was tendered last night by the McKinleys to their kinsfolk. It was elaborate in all respects, except that no wine was served. The dinner was served in the family dining room, and there was no formality. In not having wine Mrs. McKinley will only follow the practice of many years. The President is a consistent abstainer.

A nephew of President and Mrs. McKinley, who was at the dinner, said: "We didn't have a drop of wine. You know, the Major and Mrs. McKinley never drink wine themselves, and do not believe in setting a bad example for their younger relatives, or, in fact, for any one. I've never seen wine on their table, and I've eaten at their home hundreds of times."

During the recent campaign, although many noted statesmen were guests at the McKinley home and tested the merits of the major's cuisine, no wines were served.

An Albany girl is said to have refused an offer of marriage simply because the young man had asked another girl to marry him. She said she was no second-hand girl, and he could try someone else.

Six Kentucky Marriages.

At the village of Roley one day not long ago there were six couples married. In the morning there was a tripple wedding in the church. In the afternoon three other couples were wedded within an hour of each other at the homes of the respective brides. All six of the couples were entertained at the home of Uncle Bob Tucker, who after the different marriages, was closely related to all the principals thereto. Now come some of the singular features of the case. Uncle Bob, before the wedding, had in the lot of twelve individuals a daughter, a son, three granddaughters, one niece and one nephew. In the twelve there were a brother and sister, two sisters, two brothers, three cousins, two uncles, an aunt, four nieces and two nephews, and yet no one of the twelve persons married any one related to him or herself. Another funny feature is that before the weddings there were two named Hopkins, two Dunbars, two Chelfs, two Tuckers, two McWhorters, one Pendleton and one Hood. After the omelet was done, the Dunbars and Hopkinses had gained two, the Pendletons, Chelfs and McWhorters had been exterminated, the Hoods had been increased by one, and the Tuckers had held their ground. Ever since the wedding day the gossips have been figuring on the probable kinship between the several brides and grooms and their mutual relative to uncle Bob Tucker.

Two Blind Housekeepers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnson are two young blind people who live at Burgaw, Pender county. The wonderful and remarkable fact about this couple is that they are regular housekeepers, doing all the work that is done, both in and out of doors, for their own living. Mr. Johnson has a small cart on which he delivers freight from the depot to the stores for the merchants, who kindly help him along in that way. He does other kinds of work outside as well as the work about home. Mrs. Johnson, with Mr. Johnson's help does the cooking, etc. It is said that she is a very neat housekeeper and a good cook. She keeps her floors very clean and can make as good a cake as any lady in Burgaw. Mr. Johnson is about 30 and his wife about 28 years of age. They were married about two years ago. He lost his eyesight when about two years old, from sore eyes, and Mrs. Johnson lost hers when about one year old. He was born in Bladen county and she in Kingston. They were both educated at the asylum for the blind in Raleigh and have lived at Burgaw about four years.

Sam Jones at Raleigh.

If all the church members in this town were to get to Heaven you'd have to sleep in Heaven with your breeches under your head, or they'd be gone next morning.

I believe if all the politicians in North Carolina were to die to-night and go to hell and the devil were to peep through the key hole and see them coming, he'd close up shop and leave by the back door.

If I wanted to ruin a man I'd run him for an office and get him left. You ask if a good man can't go into politics. Yes, but a clean man can't come out of politics. A clean hog can go into a mudhole, but who ever saw a clean hog come out?

This is a poor man's country and there's not a boy or girl in the United States that can't do anything that a man ought to do. If a man's unfortunate give him a quarter. If he's a vagabond give him a foot. Don't wait for something to turn up but turn something up.

Any member of this Legislature who would vote for a saloon is not fit to hang on the back door of hell. The devil would get ashamed of him and take down the sign. There are drunkards because there are saloons, there are saloons because the law licenses them, the law licenses them because the legislators allow it, and the legislators allow it because church members elect them for that purpose.

The Seaboard to Have New Orleans Connections.

The Augusta News believes that the Seaboard will soon have New Orleans connections. It says:

The way the Seaboard will get into Columbus and New Orleans is, according to a well-posted man as follows:

A line will be built from Atlanta to Carrollton, a distance of forty or fifty miles, connecting there with the Chattanooga, Rome & Columbus, which will be extended from Carrollton to Columbus, a distance of about seventy-five miles, where it will tap the Alabama Midland for Montgomery and New Orleans.

In addition to this move by the Seaboard, it is stated that if they are given the proper encouragement and patronage by the merchants of Augusta they will within the next twelve months have their own trains running into this city.

This route will of course be over the Tennessee, Georgia & Atlantic Railroad, the direct line of which will be from Chattanooga to Lula, thence to Athens, via the Northeastern, and on to Augusta by the construction of the new road.

Baptists, See Here!

The Southern Baptist Convention meets this year in Wilmington, N. C., May 8th. Now, you want to go to this convention, and you also want to go in style and comfort. There is only one good first-class line from the South and Southwest to Wilmington, and that line is the Seaboard Air Line, which runs the finest and fastest trains in the South and makes the lowest rates of any railroad running from the South or Southwest. Don't be fooled into making your arrangements until you have consulted one of the Seaboard Air Line agents, who always esteem it a pleasure to serve you. B. A. Newland, General Agent Passenger Department, 6 Kimball house, Atlanta, Ga., will be glad to write you or call on you, or you can apply to any of the representatives of the Seaboard Air Line in any town or city. This is the official route. Do you want to go with your friends?

A Lawyer's Right to Cry.

The interesting question has just been brought before the Supreme Court of Tennessee whether a lawyer has a right to cry. In a case growing out of a suit of breach of promise of marriage, the counsel for the plaintiff, one of the most prominent lawyers in the State, shed tears in his closing appeal to the jury. The counsel for the defendant, as soon as the case was decided against his side, set up the claim that these tears unduly excited the sympathies of the jurymen in favor of the plaintiff and greatly prejudiced them against the defendant. For this reason the appellate court was asked to set aside the verdict and order a new trial.

Great interest was naturally felt by the legal profession in the decision of the Supreme Court. That tribunal made short work of the claim that a lawyer should not cry in court. It held that the conduct of counsel in presenting cases to juries was a subject that must be left largely to the ethics of the profession and the discretion of a trial judge. Some lawyers dealt wholly in logic; others used rhetoric; others employed only noise and gesticulations; others appealed to the sympathies. The court held that tears had "always been considered legitimate argument before juries" and that the use of them appeared to be "one of the natural rights of counsel" which no court or constitution could take away. In the particular case under consideration the occasion was pronounced "eminently proper for their use" and the court refused to reverse the judgment for this reason.

The Times says a Baptist minister of Illinois went to the country to preach a missionary sermon. After he got through he explained the mission cause and of course proposed to take up a collection. He told the congregation if there was one person in that house too poor to pay five cents for this grand cause, to stand up and he would pay it for them. Whereupon the whole congregation immediately arose to their feet. The preacher was dumfounded.

HE RAN THE NIGHT EXPRESS.

I met a little girl one day.
Beyond the railroad bridge,
With pail of berries she had picked
Along the bank's high ridge.

"Where do you live, my child?" I said,
"And what may be your name?"
She looked at me with eyes askance,
And then her answer came:

"The house upon the bluff is ours;
They call me Bonnie Bess;
My father is an engineer,
And runs the night express."

A sparkle came into her face,
A dimple to her chin—
The father loved his little girl,
And she was proud of him.

"Ten forty-nine, on schedule time (Scarce e'er a moment late),
Around the curve his engine comes,
At quite a fearful rate.

"We watch the headlight through the gloom
Break like the dawn of day—
A roar, a flash, and then the train
Is miles upon its way.

"A lamp in mamma's window burns,
Paced there alone for him,
His face lights up, for then he knows
That all is well within.

"Sometimes a fog o'erhangs the scene,
The light he cannot see,
Then twice he whistles for mama,
And clangs the bell for me."

"And you are not afraid," I asked,
"That he may wreck the train?
That there may be a sad mishap,
And he no wiser to blame?"

A pallor crept into her cheeks,
Her red lips curled in pain;
They parted, then serenely smiled—
Her heart was brave again.

"God watches over us," she said,
"And He knows what is best;
So we have but to pray and trust,
And leave to Him the rest.

How great that childish faith of her
It made my own seem weak;
I bent my head with throbbing heart,
And kissed her on the cheek.

I said to her, in cheery tone,
"God bless you, Bonnie Bess!
God bless your mother and the man

PERSONAL POINTS.

People You Know, or May Know.

Rice Gwynn went to Rocky Mount today.

M. O. Blount, of Bethel, was here today.

Mrs. Lula Cleve returned Thursday evening from Philadelphia and Baltimore.

R. H. Hart, a representative of the Raleigh Tribune, spent today here, and made us a call.

This was a rough day on people who had to come to town to attend court.

Our streets, like the country roads, have been put in a terrible condition by the bad weather.

The inauguration of McKinley is over, the legislature has adjourned and all eyes are turned on Carson City.

T. H. Bateman, practical tin and sheet iron worker, offers his services to the public. He does good work and guarantees it to be satisfactory.

L. H. Corpening, who was delegate to the last national populist convention, eues Congressman Skinner and Buck Kitchin for libel, they having charged that he, their room mate, stole their watches and money. Other delegates are summoned to appear as witnesses. The case comes up at Morganton.

GROVER IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Takes a Hunt in Our Sounds and Runs up to Washington.

(Special to Reflector.)

WASHINGTON, N. C., Mar. 11—Ex-President Grover Cleveland, Capt. R. D. Evans, Secretary Light-House Board Inspector Lamberton, and Dr. Wood, of the U. S. Army, arrived here this afternoon on the U. S. buoy tender Violet.

A New York World reporter went on board immediately upon arrival of the steamer and interviewed the ex-President. His rheumatism has all disappeared and he is feeling in excellent spirits. He is looking well and says the trip has been a pleasant one.

In reply to the question, "How was game?" he said he had had fine sport hunting two days, and killed quite a number of geese and brant.

The party have been hunting in North Carolina waters the past several days. He does not know what route they will take on their way home. Mr. Cleveland says he is very glad to be relieved from the incumbency of office.

A large number of our people went down to the Violet to catch a glimpse of the distinguished guest. The ex-President greeted all with a smile and handshake. After taking on coal the steamer and party left for Pamlico sound from where they go on back home.

DONGOLA ITEMS.

DONGOLA, N. C., Mar. 10, 1897.

The farmers are hauling lots of fertilizer this week.

Tobacco plants are coming up rapidly and some say they have plants with four leaves. Don't be too fast boys.

Work on the farms has almost been suspended for the last few days on account of rain

T. L. Turnage carried up 3,000 pounds of tobacco yesterday, and only liked about $200 getting good price for it. He averaged about four cents, but says he will try it again this year.

Henry Gorden is superintendent of Jonas Williams tobacco farm this year, we wish him much success.

W. R. Shirley spent a few days at J. R. Mewborne's last week and says he had a magnificent time.

Miss Allie Parker is visiting Miss Hortense Shirley.

John Shackletord has returned from his trip to the Newbern Fair. Says he had a nice time of it.

Measles is all the go in this section at present and it is who shall and who will have them.
