LEGISLATIVE ECHOS.

As Condensed From The Wilmington Messenger.

The general public is keeping an eye on the populist boiters, to see how many federal offices they get. They have secured, with a few exception, all the state offices they will get. Senator Pritchard will now have to look out for them.

The Winston Republican, the organ of the piedmont republicans, calls Governor Russell "the worst hated of the republican leaders."

Under the new act, regarding the Western criminal circuit court, the governor can order the judge (Ewart) any where in the state to hold a special court for criminal cases, and an exchange of courts with the judge of the Eastern criminal circuit (Sutton) is also permitted.

The legislature has passed what is known as the Georgia law against "overhead" insurance—prohibiting the agents of regular licensed companies from writing risks in fire insurance companies which have no agents in this state and which pay no license. The penalty is severe. So is the penalty against adjusters who adjust losses against such outside companies. Half the fines go to informers. The secretary of state is given full authority to investigate companies which violate the law. A licensed agent here who does such "overhead" business will suffer revocation of license for twelve months.

In the pension "omnibus" bill by the late legislature were the names of 134 soldiers and 16 widows, added to the roll. This is the bill referred to yesterday which is invalid by reason of the failure of the lieutenant governor to sign it. It now goes to the supreme court. It carried an appropriation of $8,500 to the soldier's home for each of the years 1897-8. This was an increase of $1,000 over the 1895-6 appropriation. The latter holds good in case the 1897-8 one is decided to be illegal.

The legislature did not elect directors for the deaf mute school at Morganton and for the colored Agriculture and Mechanical college at Greensboro, so the old boards continue two years longer.

Governor Russell pardons Harriet Harrison, of Hertford county, sentenced to the penitentiary for two years as being accessory to murder.

The white caps who were tried in Wilkes for assaults and barn burning have escaped punishment.

Two Good Sermons.

Rev. M. A. Adams, of Asheville, arrived here Saturday evening and preached in the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. His sermons have been highly complimented. The one at night was especially fine and impressive. He pictured what Christ gave up in order to come and save souls and asked who was to blame if men neglect the salvation He offers, and are lost? A large congregation heard this sermon and many expressions of delight followed it.

TOBACCO DEPARTMENT.

BY O. L. JOYNER.

The Use of Paris Green.

Since the publication of the letter from Dr. Battle in reference to the use of Paris Green on tobacco to destroy the horn worm, bud worm and flea beetle there have been many inquiries concerning it. I have been asked many times what I thought about it and if I advocated the use of it. As a matter of caution I shall not advise anyone to use it, but will simply say here most emphatically I expect to use it myself just as soon as I have occasion to and while it is an experiment with us here in North Carolina in Kentucky and nearly all the northern states the practice has been in use for many years. In speaking of this a few days ago in the presence of Mr. W. B. Leonard, of Big Flats, N. Y., where they grow quantities of cigar tobacco, why, said he, don't you people use Paris Green on tobacco. I told him it was an experiment here and many of our people were reluctant to take it. He said the farmers up north used Paris Green on tobacco just as they did on Irish potatoes and with splendid results. For some time past this gentleman has had quarters at Lexington, Ky, and knowing him to be in the centre of a large tobacco growing section I asked him if the farmers there used Paris Green and he said they considered it indispensable in growing a crop of tobacco.

Such is the information I have in regard to its use, and while I have never seen it tried on our tobacco yet I am not inclined to believe our tobacco different from that of other states and shall not be a doubting Thomas at all when the worms and the despised flea beetle begin to come.

A few days ago I was talking with a gentleman on this subject and he said there was one thing certain, he would not use tobacco that had Paris Green on it if he knew it. I asked him the kind of tobacco he used and when he told me I showed him that the filler was made of burley which grew in Kentucky and evidently had Paris Green on it. Well he said he did not know it. This represents one side while on the other I had a tobacco farmer to say to me a few days ago, that I had done the tobacco growers an injustice by publishing the letter, for, said he, it will make tobacco culture too easy and there will be too much of it planted. He said he had used it and found it a perfect success.

This matter is of too much importance to every tobacco farmer to be treated lightly, and my object is to give the tobacco growers the benefit of all the information I have and then let them do their own thinking and acting.

Preliminary Trial.

John Keel, who killed David Crandall on Christmas day, and who was arrested in Bertie county last week, brought here and turned over to the Sheriff of Pitt, was today given a preliminary trial before Justice J. A. Lang. Two witnesses were examined and upon their testimony the justice required a justified bond for $5,000. Keel could not give bond so was sent back to jail to await court.

MONDAY, MARCH 15, 1897.

RANSOM RESIGNS.

Special to Charlotte Observer.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—General Matt W. Ransom, United States minister to Mexico, called at the Department of State today and personally tendered his resignation to Secretary Sherman. There has always been a strong bond of personal friendship between Secretary Sherman and General Ransom, and the circumstances attending their meeting recalled many incidents of their service together in the Senate. General Ransom said he realized that the new administration would have many demands upon it for recognition by faithful members of the party, and therefore he desired to create a vacancy without delay. Secretary Sherman replied that his old friend from North Carolina was exceedingly considerate, but he insisted that he should continue in office until his successor is appointed. Gen. Ransom remarked that he understood that his successor had already been selected. Secretary Sherman laughingly replied that there are a number of gentlemen willing to go to Mexico. The incident closed by Gen. Ransom saying that he will proceed home and there await the announcement that his successor has been appointed.

Referring to North Carolina politics from a Democratic standpoint, Gen. Ransom says the situation is very discouraging. The party is in a very bad shape, and the outlook is not bright for the Democracy at the present time. He says he hopes the party leaders will be able to reorganize the forces and get into line again for the purpose of redeeming the State from the Republican-Populist domination.

Senator Pritchard's troubles as the Republican boss of North Carolina are rapidly multiplying, and unless he can make his peace with Governor Russell and some of the members of his delegation all of the Federal appointments in that State will be hung up for an indefinite period. He was at the White House again today, but he could not get any satisfaction from the President.

Representative Richmond Pearson, who is very anxious to have ex-Representative Settle appointed to the vacant United States judgeship, contrary to the wishes of Senator Pritchard, does not like the Senator's attitude. Ex-Representative Cheatham, colored, who is an applicant for the office of Register of the Treasury, a place once held by Senator B. K. Bruce, of Mississippi, is in a dilemma, for he does not know which faction to take sides with. He claims to have the recommendation of all the Republican members of the delegation in Congress, besides many of the leading Republicans throughout the South. The North Carolinians of the Republican faith are eager to see the spoils belonging to that State distributed, and they cannot understand why there should be any delay. On the other hand, President McKinley says he does not propose to recognize any particular faction in North Carolina, or any other State. He says all factions must unite and then he will consider what disposition shall be made of the offices to be filled. Such a suggestion is easier made than fulfilled, and there is a row in the North Carolina camp that cannot be settled, unless it is handled in the most delicate manner by those in authority. It is believed that Senator Pritchard is committed to the appointment of Thos. R. Purnell to the vacant judgeship, notwithstanding the strong pressure made in behalf of Mr. Settle.

A City Panic Stricken.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 12.—A theatrical advance agent almost started a panic in St. Louis today by causing cardboards to be tacked, pasted or hung about the city, bearing in flaming letters the words:

"Bulletin.—Warning—A Tornado Is Coming."

A large, black-faced flag, like one of those used by the weather bureau, was represented on the card, conveying the idea that the notices were issued officially.

The condition of the weather was threatening, and when the people saw the advertising cards they became greatly alarmed. Soon police headquarters, the weather bureau and the newspaper offices were overwhelmed with telephone messages asking if a tornado was really predicted. People in the residence portion of the city gathered their families together and prepared for trouble.

Many of the schools in the southern and western sections of the city closed as soon as word was received of the supposed approach of the storm, and the frightened children were sent home.

All through the locality where the terrible tornado of last May spread so much death and destruction the terror of the women especially was pitiable. Many families took refuge in cellars, and it was not until the clouds began to disappear that they could be persuaded to leave.

In the meantime the police were busy tearing up the awe-inspiring placards and assuring the people there was no danger. The advance agent has suddenly disappeared.—Baltimore Sun.

Fire in a Cruiser's Coal Bunkers..

The shell room of the cruiser New York received a severe scorching the other day in New York harbor, but by the timely discovery of the danger disaster was averted. The cruiser was making way from Tompkinsville to the navy yard when smoke was discovered issuing from the shell room. Men sent down to investigate found that the steel partition separating the shell room from the coal bunkers had become heated from the coal that had taken fire, and the woodwork about the partition had begun to glow. Attempts to put out the fire with aid of the water buckets created so much steam that the men had to be ordered out of the shell room. Water was then pumped into the bunker and shell room and the fire extinguished.

The shell room was filled with shells, but the heat had not become so intense as to explode them. By the time the New York came off Governors Island the water pumped into her had lowered her three feet, and navigation had to be very careful to avoid striking obstructions. There is no explanation as to how the coal took fire. The damage to the cruiser is said to be very slight.

Body, Soul and All.

A bashful young man was invited to a dinner party, and was paired with the most handsomely dressed lady in the room.

His seat at the table happened to be in front of a roast fowl, which he was expected to carve and a fried sole. The poor man had never done such a thing before in his life, but wishing to make the best of the situation he commenced by asking the lady very politely if she preferred anything in particular.

She replied that she would take a little of the sole.

He had no idea where the soul lay, so he began to cut off a slice of the breast.

"The sole," she said. Then he tried the wing.

"The sole," she repeated.

This time he tried the leg.

"The sole," the lady said in a still higher key.

He, wet with perspiration, lost all patience, stuck the fork into the body of the fowl, saying:

"Take it body, soul and all," putting it in the lady's plate, from which it rolled into her lap, much to the consternation of the whole company.

That young man was never invited to a dinner party again.—Spare Moments.

About Presidents.

Of the Presidents thus far elected, eight—Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant and Cleveland—were chosen for second terms, thus making but twenty persons selected to fill the office of President. This number includes Major McKinley. If we add to these four Vice Presidents—Taylor, Fillmore, Johnson and Arthur—who succeeded to the office, it will be found that previous to the present 4th of March the presidency has had but twenty-three incumbents. Of the twenty Presidents elected, but three were voted for three times. These were President Jackson, who, though he obtained a plurality, failed in securing a majority of electoral votes on his first appeal, and had to give way to John Quincy Adams as the choice of the House of Representatives, and President Cleveland.

A Card to the Public.

Out of the fullness of her heart the widow of an esteemed Georgia citizen penned the following card and sent it to the editor of the Griffin (Ga.) Call from which paper we reproduce it. It runs thus:

"Mr. Editor, I desire to thank the friends and neighbors most heartily in this manner for their co-operation during the illness and death of my late husband, who escaped from me by the hand of death on last Friday, while eating breakfast. To my friends and all those who contributed so willingly towards making the last moments and the funeral of my husband a success, I desire to remember most kindly, hoping these lines will find them enjoying the same blessings. I have also a good milch cow and roan gelding horse, eight years old, which I will sell cheap."

"God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform. He plants His footsteps on the sea and rides upon the storm."

"Also a black and white short very low."

A Good System.

The young postmaster of a village was hard at work in his office when a gentle tap was heard upon the door and in stepped a blushing maiden of 16, with a money order which she wished cashed. She handed it, with a bashful smile, to the official, who after closely examining it, gave her the money it called for. At the same time he asked her if she had read what was written on the margin of the order.

"No, I have not," she replied, "for I cannot make it out. Will you please read it for me?"

The young postmaster read as follows, "I send you 10 shillings and a dozen kisses."

Glancing at the bashful girl he said, "Now, I have paid you the money and I suppose you want the kisses?"

"Yes," she said, "if he has sent me any kisses I want them, too."

It is hardly necessary to say that the balance of the order was promptly paid and in a scientific manner.

On reaching home the delighted maiden remarked to her mother:

"Mother, this post office system of ours is a great thing, enveloping more and more every year, and each new feature seems to be the best. Jimmy sent me a dozen kisses along with the money order, and the postmaster gave me 20. I guess the special delivery system all hollow."

An esteemed contemporary thinks that "No people can be insufferably oppressed by hard times who can spend a million dollars or more on a prize fight in this most distressful month of the twelve—and that's what the American people are just about to do." By the same token, the country that can have Bradley-Martin entertainments and spend millions for pensions must be fairly rolling in wealth. But the fact is that while there are many who have "money to burn" in this country there are millions more of us that find it hard to get the matches.—Durham Sun.

Diamond Cut Diamond.

A somewhat mean man inserted the following ad in a Western paper: "Notice—My wife, Delia Stacy, having left my bed and board, I will not be responsible for any debts she may contract after this date. In the next issue of the same paper the wife had her revenge in this way: "Notice—My husband, John Stacy, having neither bed nor board to provide for me, I am now taking in washing at No. —B— street. Delia Stacy."—Exchange.

The Newspaper in Advertising.

The newspaper is a necessity to success in advertising. Its peculiar field can never be entered by any other class of publications, and, therefore, it possesses qualities as a medium which can never be wrestled from it. There is scarcely a family in the land into whose home a newspaper of some description does not find its way. The members of that family may never look inside the covers of a magazine, but they experience a sensation of loss if their newspaper fails to reach them.—Profitable Advertising.

Field Fortifications.

During the civil war in this country the importance of temporary or field fortifications was so highly appreciated by the troops on both sides that the moment a halt was made the men began to throw up breastworks. The great difficulty was to induce them to wait until a proper line of defense had been selected by the engineers.

Lightning at Kinston.

During the storm Saturday night, about two o'clock, lightning struck the house of Mr. T. B. Ashford, in Kinston. The bolt struck the chimney and tore it into atoms, and also more or less demolished the walls and interior of every room in the house. The family were all asleep at the time and fortunately not one of them was hurt. It is almost miraculous that none of the family were injured.

Died.

Mrs. Lorena Wyche, the wife of Rev. L. O. Wyche, preacher in charge of Greenville circuit, died at their home 1½ miles south of town on Sunday, and was buried from the Methodist church of Greenville, today at 11 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. N. M. Watson.

The deceased was a daughter of Capt. J. W. Howard, Keeper of the Lighthouse on Cape Hatteras, and was married to Rev. L. O. Wyche, May 20, 1885. The husband and three children survive her. A devoted wife, a fond mother, a consecrated christian woman has gone to rest. The sympathy of the whole community goes out to those so suddenly bereaved.

Presbyterian Meeting.

Dr. William Black, Synodical Evangelist, reached Greenville Saturday evening and took charge of the services in the Presbyterian church Sunday. He is a delightful speaker, full of zeal and earnestness, his every expression and manner showing that his heart is thoroughly in the great work in which he is engaged. During the week services will be held twice each day. The morning service will begin promptly at 10 o'clock and continue exactly one hour. The hour for the evening service is 7:30, the sermon being preceded by a song service, in which it is desired that all assemble promptly and take part. As Mr. Black well says, "there is no better way to get the hearts of people open to receive the truth than to first open their mouths in song." There is no reason why Greenville should have a great meeting now, and with the hearty co-operation of all Christians it will be had.
