CHAMPION FITZSIMMONS.

He Knocks Out a Rude Englishman and Runs From Corbett.

San Francisco, March 22.—Robert Fitzsimmons knocked out an English traveller named Campbell in the Baldwin hotel barroom early this morning. After his exhibition at a local resort last night, the champion, Martin Julian and W. A. Brady, Corbett manager, returned to the hotel and spent the night discussing a return match. Along towards morning Campbell drifted up to the bar and, addressing the Cornishman, said the Carson affair was not a true fought battle, and that the best man did not win. Fitzsimmons jumped toward the stranger and swung his left with terrific force, knocking the intruder down.

Corbett was at the Baldwin early today, watching for his conquerer. He wanted an interview, but was not favored. When told that Corbett was in quest of him, the champion dodged out of the door and down the street.

Corbett says if he can't meet Fitzsimmons he won't meet anybody. Jim has an offer to manage a big athletic club in New York at a magnificent salary. Should his show prove a failure he is liable to take the job. But he has made his mind to go back on the stage for awhile. His friends are importuning him to go direct to New York and commence an engagement.

Reed Declines to Recognize the Populists.

Washington, March 22.—Speaker Reed is not disposed to regard the populists in the house as a separate organization. About ten days ago the populists presented a petition to Speaker Reed, reciting the fact that at the last election they had cast about 2,000,000 votes, elected governors in five states, elected twenty-seven members of the present house, and requesting therefore, that they have a representation on the committees on ways and means, judiciary, appropriations, banking, coinage, elections and others. Mr. Reed has just replied that he preferred to recognize the populists as a part of the democratic organization and that decision will stand for this congress at least.

Four Hints.

Advertising is the pulse of trade.

Quit advertising is a good way to quit business.

A spring tonic in the form of a liberal dose of advertising, is timely just now.

No business is ever so large but that it can be made larger by judicious advertising.

Mrs. Cotten Will Talk.

Mrs. Sallie Cotten, of Falkland, has accepted an invitation to make an address before the Alumnae Association of the Greensboro Female College, early in May. She goes to Washington in April to work for the National School, outlined in her paper before the Congress of Mothers.—Greensboro Record.

LATE NEWS.

The past week has been a disastrous one at sea. Several vessels and hundreds of lives lost.

One of the boats belonging to the lost steamer St. Nazaire has been picked up at sea. It contained six bodies.

On Monday morning at Arlington, Ga., a cyclone demolished a school building. Several of the school children were instantly killed and a large number were badly injured.

Two Views.

The Philadelphia Record tells of a successful advertisement writer of the west who says that when he starts his daily task he thinks first of the time of year, then of the weather, and then he appends "the list of goods which will appeal strongest to the general public under these conditions." This is a winning plan for most businesses. If not for all. Some men when they go into print think chiefly of what they want to sell; others, more shrewd, think chiefly of what the people want to buy.

The Way to Cure Hog Cholera.

I see that hog cholera has broken out in Mecklenburg county. I send you a prescription that is said to be very effective in its cure. Very truly,

EUGENE HOLCOMB, D. D. L.
Lumberton, N. C.

For Hog Cholera: Take $\frac{1}{2}$ pound arsenic, $\frac{1}{2}$ pound Cape aloes, $\frac{1}{4}$ pound blue vitriol, 1 ounce black antimony. Grind and mix well.

Directions: For a large hog, give one teaspoonful a day for three days; then sk p one day. Repeat this until hog is cured.—Charlotte Observer.

Last Warning.

This is the last week of tax collecting. All who owe taxes and fail to pay this week are hereby notified that I will proceed at once to levy on their land and advertise the same for sale as the law directs. If you want to save costs don't delay in making settlement.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 1897.

Gov. Russell appoints as directors on the part of the State for the North Carolina railway, Dr. R. M. Norment, who will be president; V. S. Lusk, Charles A. Cook, H. N. Butters, William Gilchrist, J. S. Armstrong, A. W. Graham and John Graham. Not one of these live on the line of the North Carolina railway.

We were shown a rare old relic of the past today. Mr. G. Rosenthal has a German Bible in his possession, dated Basl, Switzerland, printed in 1665. He informs us that it was received in a bale of rags sent from Salem to his cotton mill several years ago. His attention being called to it he rescued it and had it rebound. There is a map in it giving the complete 40 years wanderings of the Jews, as well as other interesting illustrations.—Raleigh Tribune.

H. S. Pingree, mayor of Detroit, Mich., was elected governor of that state last fall. He has taken his office as governor, but also holds on to the mayoralty job, which he refuses to surrender, and an effort is being made to oust him through the courts. Noting this fact a contemporary says we have a similar case nearer home. Governor Russell is not only governor of North Carolina, but he is mayor of two towns—Wilmington and New Bern. The legislature amended the charters of these two towns so that Russell appoints half of the aldermen in each and can therefore practically control the governments of these towns regardless of the voice of the people. And yet for years local self-government—the right to vote for all officials—was the battle cry of the republicans in this State. Was there ever a worse case of lying, deception and hypocrisy?—Statesville Landmark.

Organ and Governor at Odds.

Our readers, no doubt, have discovered in reading The Tribune that there has been a little difference—a little coolness existing between Governor Russell and The Tribune on account of the position we have taken on the lease question—a non-partisan matter. The Tribune cannot be injured by this course of the governor, for its columns always teem with live, sparkling news—news from all over the world—and our readers will miss but little by this contemptible effort on the part of the governor. It is well understood that the governor has carried his petty spite so far as to publicly declare that The Tribune would be short lived, and he has taken this course to help along its death. But, my dear governor, permit us to remark that you are not the state of North Carolina, nor do you represent the people of the State. You are not a loyal republican and have no claims upon the republican party. You have never done anything for it which amounted to a row of pins and we take great pleasure in giving you the benefit of this little free advertising. Crack your whip, do your worst and yet The Tribune will be living when you are either officially buried or put upon the retired list without pay.—Raleigh Tribune.

ADVERTISE YOUR BUSINESS.

Do you want good times. Then advertise them.

Many a good cause has been won through the enthusiasm of its adherents, and many a good thing has been brought to pass simply through believers in it resolutely and incessantly "booming" it.

The merchant who goes about with a long and sorrowful face, and who sighs like a lover when the subject of business is broached, scares away from his store many an intending purchaser.

The business man who, when asked to advertise, wrings his hands, and, almost with tears in his voice, replies, "My dear sir, times are so hard and business is so slow that I cannot afford to put one cent in advertising," hides himself from the seeker, after the very articles he has for sale; practically draws his curtains and closes his doors to the public.

The man who stands at a door without knocking, simply trusts to luck to have it opened to him. The man who stocks his shelves with the best in the market and then does not advertise, simply trusts to the chance of customers stumbling on to the bargains he can give them.

The merchant princes of this country know the value of printers ink, and the huge fortunes they have made are founded on the rock of persistent, liberal and judicious advertising. Ask any one of them and he will tell you that every dollar spent in advertising has borne him compound interest.

Do you want good times? Then advertise for them. And keep on advertising. Do not overdo it, but do it steadily and within your means, and put brains in the work. Change your advertisements frequently, and say something new to the public each time, and the result cannot fail to be satisfactory to you.—Durham Sun.

HARRY SKINNER'S SCHEME.

Special to Charlotte Observer.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Representative Harry Skinner, the Populist leader from North Carolina, has concocted a bill, and presented it to Congress, which he claims will solve the financial problem and bring about practical bimetalism. His bill provides for the issuance of bimetallic certificates of various denominations, which shall have a positive value of 100 cents on the dollar. These certificates are to be issued to any person who may deposit 11 6-10 grains of gold and 185 6-25 grains of silver (at a ratio of 16 to 1.) These certificates, according to their face value, are made receivable for public and private debts, and when received for public taxes shall be re-issued and on its face guarantee the bearer shall within twelve months, at any United States depository, receive 50 cents worth of gold and 50 cents worth of silver, according to the market value of the bullion, as declared by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The bill further provides that the Secretary of the Treasury may issue said certificates in the same proportion against any gold or silver in the Treasury and when so issued shall retire, in equal proportion, the present outstanding gold and silver certificates. It is also provided that the seigniorage shall be covered into the Treasury to be converted into a sinking fund for redemption purposes. In case of a depreciation in the price of silver the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to purchase silver in open market to meet the deficiency.

Mr. Skinner says he has submitted his bill to many of the leading Republican and Democratic bi-metalists in both houses of Congress and they admit that it is one of the simplest and at the same time practical proposals that has been made in connection with the money question. It carries out the very spirit of the Republican platform it regard to bi-metalism, for it provides for a one hundred cent dollar—one half gold and the other half silver. If the silver depreciates the gold will surely appreciate and thus the combined value of the two metals equalizes the face value of the bi-metallic certificates, and keeps its face value at 100 cents. Under any circumstances the holders of the certificates can demand of the government 50 cents in gold and 50 cents in silver.

When the question comes up for consideration, Mr. Skinner says it will be difficult for the single gold standard men to successfully oppose it.

Senator Chandler and other Republicans who are interested in carrying out the Republican promises in behalf of bi-metalism, have examined the bill and they declare that it will challenge the thoughtful consideration of every one who honestly believes in a bimetallic currency system.

Baptists, See Here!

The Southern Baptist Convention meets this year in Wilmington, N. C., May 8th. Now, you want to go to this convention, and you also want to go in style and comfort. There is only one good first-class line from the South and Southwest to Wilmington, and that line is the Seaboard Air Line, which runs the finest and fastest trains in the South and makes the lowest rates of any railroad running from the South or Southwest. Don't be fooled into making your arrangements until you have consulted one of the Seaboard Air Line agents, who always esteem it a pleasure to serve you. B. A. Newland, General Agent Passenger Department, 6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga., will be glad to write you or call on you, or you can apply to any of the representatives of the Seaboard Air Line in any town or city. This is the official route. Do you want to go with your friends?

When there is nothing to prevent their coming to a land like North Carolina it is strange that people will live in the bleak and inhospitable north and the blizzard-stricken west. The only explanation there can be is that the people in other portions of the country are not posted on what this State has to offer to industrious home seekers. Such people will find hospitable neighbors, sunshiny and healthful breezes and the certainty of making money easier and under more pleasant surroundings than almost any other part of the world. Energy and industry will surely bring a competence in this highly favored land.—Rocky Mount Argonaut.

It is estimated that twenty-one acres of land are necessary to sustain one man on fresh meat. The same space of land, if devoted to wheat culture, would feed forty-two people; if to oats eighty-eight, and if to potatoes and rice, 176 people.

Duelling and Pugilism

There was a time, within the memory of many now living, when the duelling code was generally recognized and duels were frequently fought to settle personal differences. Some of the most prominent men in the nation were at times mixed up with or participated in these affairs of honor, so called.

Alexander Hamilton, one of America's greatest statesmen, was slain by Aaron Burr in a duel. Andrew Jackson killed Dickinson in a duel, fought not far from Clarksville, just across the Kentucky border. Out of a duel fought between two of their friends a quarrel arose between Thomas H. Benton and Andrew Jackson and on the public square at Nashville, they had a fight in which Jackson was severely wounded. Benton, after his removal to Missouri, fought a duel with Mr. Lucas, and finally slew Lucas under revolting circumstances. Scores of instances might be cited of duels between men prominent in public life, about the middle of the present century, and before and afterwards.

One of the necessary qualifications of a newspaper editor in some parts of the South, prior to the late war was skill in handling duelling pistols. Such encounters between rival editors in those days were quite common, and it is only in the last twenty-five years that the practice has gone out of date. To the credit of the men who participated in those affairs they had some respect for the principles of fairness. The practice was decried and rendered discreditable because it was brutal. Men do not have to kill each other in order to settle their differences.

It cannot be said that pugilism fosters a love of fair play or anything of the kind. It requires only the qualities of a bull-dog to become a pugilist. Practice enable pugilists to ward off blows, and this is called science. If science, it is purely animal. When duels were fought in former days, the men who gathered there as witnesses, and seconds and surgeons did know how to be gentlemen in social life. Sometimes they were men of culture. Not so with pugilism. There was no refinement at Carson City last Wednesday. The woman who figured as the wife of one of the participants in that affair, distinguished herself on the occasion by exploding a volley of coarse profanity that seems to have been shocking even to the thugs gathered there on that occasion. The whole affair was brutish and most of those present were of the very lowest order of men. The contestants themselves expressed their contempt for each other. The exhibition was revolting to humanity. Public opinion grew so pronounced against the once common practice of duelling that it has been abandoned. Public sentiment has made pugilism impossible in most of the States, in all of them it may be said, Nevada is not a State—only a rotten borough.—Knoxville Journal.

A Lady's Absentmindedness.

There is a good lady in Concord who has false teeth. The other night just before retiring, she took the teeth out of her mouth and placed them beneath her pillow. Next morning when she looked for them they were gone. Every nook and corner of the bed beneath and above, was ransacked to find the teeth, without avail. The sorely distressed lady informed her landlady of the fact and asked her to have much prepared for her diet, as she would be unable to masticate any solid food on account of the loss of her teeth. She partook heartily of the soft food at breakfast, went shopping, and at the noon meal the same diet was prepared for her, but she was prevailed upon to take some very juicy and tempting meat, and was told that she could cut it up very fine and partake of it that way. She consented, and placed it in her mouth. It was nature for her to masticate solid food and, to her astonishment she found that her missing teeth were in her mouth, and had been all the time. She had placed them in her mouth at night and was not aware of the fact.—Concord Standard

MORRIS MEYER.

Do you Want the

COSMOPOLITAN

Here is an opportunity to get this excellent magazine for little money.

We will send the Cosmopolitan and the Eastern Reflector both one year for $1.75.

Or We will send the Cosmopolitan and The Daily Reflector, both, a whole year for $3.50.

If you want a good magazine and a good home paper, this is your chance. Compare the Cosmopolitan with the $4 magazines and it is the equal of any of them. Send your orders to the Reflector.

You may never,
 But should you ever?

"FROM FROST TO FLOWERS."

California or Mexico?

Both are such desirable objective points for a Winter trip that it's perhaps hard for you to decide where to go.

Let us Help You to a Decision.

A trip via New Orleans and the Southern Pacific to either Mexico or the Pacific Coast is one you will never forget.

It's a Transition from Frost to Flowers.

And the service is so luxurious that people who have tested "Sunset Limited" call it incomparable.

If you are Thinking of Going, Write Us.

We have a book entitled "Through Storyland to Sunset Seas," a handsome volume of 205 pages, fully illustrated, which we will send on receipt of 10 cents in stamps to cover postage. We also have a delightful little guide to Mexico, which we will send on receipt of 4 cents to cover cost of mailing.

You Really Ought to Read them Both.

Shall we put you down for a copy? If so, or if you want any special information, it will be cheerfully furnished by addressing,

S. F. B. MORSE,
 General Passenger and Ticket Agent,
 NEW ORLEANS.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Fair tonight and Thursday, colder, with light frost Thursday morning.

LENT.

Borrowed, Given Away and Other wise.

Lent is half gone.

A vacant lot—a crowd of idiots.

Music teachers usually pay their bills in notes.

March got here today—at least the windy part of it.

Services will be held in the Methodist church tonight.

EXTRA—Moire Velour and two tone Taffeta, at Lang's.

The fellow who knows all about how the fight was won is still talking.

All sailors are not pagilists but a good blow will send them to the ropes.

Dressed lumber and mouldings furnished on short notice. J. J. CHERRY

Fresh Carr Butter 1 pound package at S. M. Schultz.

Most everything in market quotations showed a downward tendency today.

A room is being added to the residence of M. H. Quinerly, in Forbes town.

It seems strange how a plate of ice cream will make a girl's heart warm up to a young man.

Corbett may now get on a fight with Weyler. He is now in that gentleman's class apparently.

The high winds will prove a blessing by drying off the land so farmers can get in some work.

A few days of wind and sunshine will show a marked improvement in the condition of streets and roads.

Mr. Leon H. Pender received a telegram from Tarboro, Tuesday afternoon, announcing the death of his mother, Mrs. M. M. Pender. She had been in poor health for some months.

Shirt Waist Silks just received and they are beautiful and cheap. A lovely line of Mouseline de Soir and Chiffon also just in. Call and see them at Mrs. J. S. Tunstall & Co's, opposite REFLECTOR office.

HAND-CRAYON Portraits!

MRS. T. E. HOOKER and MISS ROSA HOOKER

have opened an

ART STUDIO

and solicit orders for Crayon Portraits.

All work executed by hand. Portraits made life size and will not fade.

Specimens of work on exhibition at J. L. Wooten's Drug Store, where orders can also be left. Prices of work furnished on application.

WIND SHIFTS.

Blows Some This Way and Some That.

C. S. Forbes left this morning for Norfolk.

Rev. E. D. Brown left Tuesday evening for Kinston.

Rev. N. M. Watson returned Tuesday evening from Goldsboro.

R. W. King went to Raleigh today to settle taxes with the State Treasurer.

W. T. Lipscomb left this morning for a trip to the Virginia tobacco markets.

A. A. Tyson, of Black Mountain, formerly a citizen of Pitt, is on a visit to his old home.

E. V. Cox passed through this morning for Raleigh to attend a meeting of the Trustees of the A. & M. College.

The tobacco boys got tired looking at Pat Gorman and ran him off this morning. They sent him up to Goose Nest after feathers.

We have heard some people say that when they opened rows to plant potatoes they found the ground full of potato bugs.

The Wilmington Star has entered its sixtieth volume. The paper during its entire existence has been under the management of Mr. W. H. Bernard.

Dr. Geo. W. Blacknall will have charge of the Atlantic Hotel, at Morehead, next season. His presence means that the Atlantic will be well managed.

A. H. Critcher is canvassing the eastern counties selling the Bemis Tobacco Transplanter. This is one of the best things a tobacco farmer ever invested in.

Mrs. M. D. Higgs' new millinery goods will be in this week. Wait for her spring opening and you will see one of the handsomest displays ever shown here.

I. A. Nichols, of Beaver Dam township, brought the REFLECTOR a twin egg that is different from any we ever saw. They are thoroughly joined together on one side and end.

Spring seems to have knocked winter out, but like Corbett winter may be jumping up again, first thing you know, and trying to strike another blow or two after being declared licked.

A Bargain For You.

At the barn of New Jersey experiment station was found a pile of tobacco stems which were used as a bedding and absorbent. They cost $6 a ton, while their manurial value as compared with other manures, is reported by Rural New Yorker to be $10. Mixed with straw, they make a good bedding. There is a bargain for you! It pays to know what these waste products contain. The man who finds out first reaps the advantage of a low price.
