ROSIN GUM ON TOBACCO.

BY O. L. JOYNER.

The leading editorial in this week's issue of the Danville Tobacco Journal, deals mainly with a feature in which our Eastern N. C. tobacco farmers are vitally interested. Below it is reproduced in full that our farmers may take warning from the advice and be governed accordingly. I will say in this connection however that when those Englishmen across the seas become dissatisfied with tobacco prepared over here steps should at once be taken to remedy the dissatisfaction as they constitute the chief competition for our tobacco, with American manufacturer's and anything that cripples the export trade damages in a most serious proportion the demand for our product.

The Journal says:

"During the past week several piles of tobacco were found to contain leaves upon which there were quite a deposit of rosin gum. The tobacco was from the new bright tobacco sections of Eastern North Carolina and South Carolina, a pilate-pine section.

"It is presumed that the barns as well as the hanging poles used in the barns are made of pine timber, and in the process of curing the extreme heat forces the rosin from the timber and causes it to drip on the tobacco.

"The matter is becoming a serious one. We learn that the dealers of all the markets of Virginia and North Carolina are receiving complaints from their correspondents concerning it, and immediate steps should be taken by the boards of trade of the several markets to remedy this evil.

"Hundreds of new barns will, no doubt be built in the above sections during the coming season, and in justice to the farmers of those sections as well as to the trade at large, they should be made to know emphatically that a continuance of the evil will result disastrously to the tobacco interests of those sections."

Two Good Sells.

The best April fool we heard of on the 1st was played on Dr. R. L. Carr, the popular young dentist. It occurred in the afternoon. A young lady phoned to the dentist and told him another lady was suffering with a dreadful toothache and wanted him to call at once and get that tooth out. He put off in haste for the house of the supposed patient, was met by the lady at the door, and when he mentioned toothache they both stared vacantly at each other. Suddenly it dawned upon both that the young lady had sent him on a fool errand, and the last seen of the doctor he was on a hunt to even up with her.

In another instance a young lady dressed up and took a seat on her front porch to wait for a young man to come and take her out for a drive. It so happened that the young man was not posted as to the part expected of him and did not show up.

TAXES AND TAXES.

The Council Lays Tribute on Everything in Sight—Registers and Poll Holders Appointed.

The Board of Town Councilmen had a breezy meeting Thursday night with lots of cross firing between the members. After transacting the usual business and allowing orders, registrars and poll holders for the next town election were appointed, as follows:

1ST WARD.—Registrar, W. P. Norcutt, Jr. Poll holders, S. P. Humphrey and J. L. Daniel.

2ND WARD.—Registrar, W. B. James. Poll holders, J. E. Starkey and J. W. Perkins.

3RD WARD.—Registrar, Nathan Hanrahan. Poll holders, T. A. Wilks and John Flanagan.

4TH WARD.—Registrar, W. R. Parker. Poll holders, R. M. Starkey and John Peebles.

The Board then proceeded with the tax levy, general and special, for the next year.

Property tax, regular 33½ cents, special 8½.

Poll tax, regular, $1, special 25 cents.

Auctioneers and tobacco buyers, $5 per year.

Insurance agents, $5.

Merchandise brokers, $10.

Real estate agents, $10.

Butchers, $5.

Barbers, $1 for one chair, 50 cents each additional chair.

Barbecue and meat vendors, $5.

Banks, $25 (increased from $15.)

Job printing offices, $2.50.

Horse and mule dealers, $15 (increased from $10.)

All corporations, including railroad, telegraph and telephone companies, $25 each.

Boarding house, $5.

Restaurants, $5.

Peddlers, lemonade vendors, fruit stands, &c., $5.

Cotton buyers other than resident merchants, $1 per month.

Fertilizer dealers other than resident merchants, $5 per year.

Drays, $5 single, $10 double.

Livery, $10.

Itinerant horse dealers, $10 per month.

Dogs and goats, $2 per head.

Circuses, for parading streets, $30 per day.

Undertakers and funeral directors, $10.

Carriage manufacturers, $1.

Pool and billiard tables, $10.

Barrooms, $37.50 and 2 per cent on purchases.

Many of the items mentioned above have never been taxed before.

Councilmen White and Hooker, the two white men on the Board, tried to have the property tax reduced to 25 cents and poll tax to $1. They also opposed several of the special taxes but the colored members being in the majority had things their own way and levied taxes accordingly. Under the levy made the amount raised for taxes will be largely increased. There would be no special objection to this if there was a hope that the money would be expended judiciously, but unless there are some changes in the way the affairs of the town are conducted not much can be expected other than to see the money wasted.

FRIDAY, APRIL 2, 1897.

A Man's Head Bursts.

News of the death of Mr. Will Nolen, son of Dr. Nolen, near Crouse, after intense suffering of an unusual nature, reached this place Tuesday. He died Sunday morning. For several days he had been suffering with severe pain in the head, with more or less indication of a rising inside. Sunday, it is said that his skull burst, the bones parting asunder. The sufferer was driven mad by the intense agony he endured. The deceased was about 30 years of age and leaves a young wife and one or two children.—Gastonia Gazette.

Answer to a Correspondent.

An amusing story is told in The Churchman of a rebuke administered to a hard bargainer, who sent the following advertisement to a paper: "A lady in delicate health wishes to meet with a useful companion. She must be domestic, musical, an early riser, amiable, of good appearance, and have some experience in nursing. A total abstainer preferred. Comfortable home, no salary." A few days afterwards the advertiser received by express a basket, labeled: "This side up, with care; perishable." On opening it she found a tabby cat with a letter tied to her tail. It ran thus: "Madam, in response to your advertisement, I am happy to furnish you with a very useful companion, which you will find exactly suited to your requirements. She is domestic, a good vocalist, an early riser, possesses an amiable disposition, and is considered handsome. She has had great experience as a nurse, having brought up a large family. I need scarcely add that she is a total abstainer. As salary is no object to her, she will serve you faithfully in return for a comfortable home."

Friends of the Public Schools.

The public schools of North Carolina lack money, lack legislative recognition; but these are not their greatest wants. They lack friends most of all. Ten really alive intelligent, aggressive, disinterested friends of the public schools in each county in North Carolina would bring our system to the front as neither legislative enactments nor appropriations can. A disinterested friend is not easily found, especially in public affairs. The country has gone daft on offices. The office seekers are friends of everything and everybody; but they are ninety-nine times in a hundred not disinterested. These are not the kind of friends the public schools need; they will never rise as a stepping stone of personal ambition. They need friends who are interested in them with the most God-like of human motives—benevolence. Not the man who has children to educate; not the man who wants to get his son or daughter or second cousin in as teacher; not the man who talks about the public schools and prays secretly for public office; but the man who desires to improve the schools of the people because in them lies the hope of our development as a people—he is the friend the public schools need. This is the need; now is the time.—Biblical Recorder.

A Revival With Practical Results.

The late revival meeting has been the cause of putting some conscience money into circulation. One gentleman living in the country called at the post office a few days ago and asked for his mail. He was handed a letter which he found to contain $22, and a spray of paper with these words on it: "This is your money." He did not understand why any should be sending him money in that style, and after two or three days' thought, concluded that it was from a man who had got ahead of him about that much in a trade sometime back. The other morning Belk Bros. received a letter containing $1.06 and a note saying, "This is for a coat I beat you out of." Another man living in the country received $15 which a man had unjustly gotten from him in a horse trade.—Monroe Journal.

A Practical Idea.

The Southern Railway Company, it is stated, is considering the plan of establishing railroad hospitals at various points on its system, says the Manufacturers' Record. At present the company is obliged to depend upon hospitals at various cities located along its route for the treatment of accident cases, and at times these institutions are too far distant from the scene of the accident or the company's surgeons are unable to obtain admittance to them for patients, except under special conditions.

The hospital plan is one that has been adopted by a number of the railroad companies in this country, and is of much practical value. The Manufacturers' Record has already described the system pursued by the Plant Railway and Steamship Company which has opened several hospitals, equipped with everything necessary for the treatment of patients along its lines. The idea of the Southern Railway Company is in line with the progressive policy followed by its present management.

Billville Banner Flasher.

This is excellent springweather, and the walking from Washington was never better.

"Good morning!" says President McKinley to the South, "I hardly recognized you!"

It is stated on reliable authority that Ohio has moved to Washington and is camping in the streets.

The only objection the average Georgian has to spring fever is that when a fish is tugging at his line it always wakes him up.

A North Carolina editor, who is a Republican, says he has "quit waiting for prosperity, bought an axe and gone to splitting rails."

Some folks don't place much trust in providence. As soon as spring comes and they hear it thunder they hunt up a lightning rod agent.

When a bank cashier fails now he generally leaves this note behind him: "You know, I voted for McKinley, and am now going abroad."

Billville didn't lose anything on the prize fight. There was once a man around here who had a dollar, but he hasn't been seen in six months.

Having attempted to reform everything else under the sun, Kansas now proposes to reform the ten commandments. She is evidently taking on a new lease of life.

Fitzsimmons has advised Corbett to stick to the stage. We thought that Fitz had no animosity against the defeated champion, but he seems bent on wreaking a terrible revenge!

We hear that Brother Sam Jones has been awaking up the sinners in Atlanta. A church member can't get much sleep when Sam's around. Brother Jones should come to Billville. We are building a tabernacle here that, like charity, will cover a multitude of sinners.—Atlanta Constitution.

A FINGER FOR HER NOSE.

It is due to the skillful surgery of Dr. Joseph P. Tunis, of Philadelphia, that Mrs. John Edwards, of Chester, Pa., has a nose like anybody else. The third finger is missing from Mrs. Edwards' right hand, but it is now a part of her face, for it was grafted there to form a new nose for her. Mrs. Edwards was admitted to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital late in the fall to be treated for a cancerous growth. This ailment was carefully treated and checked, but it had left an unsightly blemish where the patient's nose had been. Mrs. Edwards grieved a great deal over the facial disfigurement, and, when Dr. Tunis suggested a remedy, she immediately agreed to undergo the operation, by means of which one of her fingers was to be made to take the place of her nose.

The patient was etherized, and the operation begun. Dr. Tunis cut off the end joint of the third finger of her right hand, and disarticulated the remaining two bones. The hand was held in position over Mrs. Edwards' face, and the boneless flesh was laid over the damaged nose and stitched to the face. Bandages of crinoline, spread with plaster of paris, were wrapped about the patient's body, holding the arm firmly in place. The hand and remaining fingers were padded to prevent maceration of the face, and for three weeks Mrs. Edwards remained in that position. Her hand almost entirely covered her face, and it was necessary to feed her by means of a tube inserted into the left corner of her mouth. Occasionally the bandages were removed, but the hand was never allowed to change its position.

The finger was firmly grafted to the face. It was then treated with a preparation of cocaine and was severed from the hand. Both wounds were dressed and the patient was none the worse for the operation. She was much better off, as a matter of fact, for the new nose was quite as good as the average person's. The nasal passages, which had not been affected by the cancerous ailment, had been packed with iodoform gauze and the rostrils were thereby reserved. Mrs. Edwards has left the hospital with a new nose, hardly less exact in form than her original one.

A Heifer With Five Legs.

A heifer with five legs attracted a crowd yesterday at the wharf of the York River Line, on Light street. The heifer is 1 year old. The extra leg grows from the right shoulder and reaches nearly to the ground. The extra limb is well proportioned and is perfect. The animal was born in North Carolina, where it was raised. It was shipped from Snow Hill, N. C., on the steamer Atlanta, and was consigned to a Lexington street department store.—Baltimore Sun.

Why They Would go Abroad.

Here are some of the reasons advanced by the patriotic office seekers for desiring to serve their country in a diplomatic way:

"I am in ill health and my physician says that a trip abroad would benefit me."

"I have a very large family to support and I believe the perquisites of the office would enable me to pay my debts."

"I would accept any position where the climate would be beneficial to rheumatism, contracted while canvassing my county for McKinley."

"I speak twenty-three languages and there is no market for them in America."

"My parents were born in Europe and it was their dying wish that I should go there."

Ex.

Saw for the First Time.

For the first time in his life of 22 years Thomas Blue, of Richmond county, North Carolina, to-day enjoyed the novelty of seeing the country, the river and the city.

Yesterday, after a long course of treatment, and a surgical operation requiring great skill, the young man who had been sightless from birth was enabled to see, and today he was taken in a carriage about the city and into the country. Tonight he started for his North Carolina home. With the aid of glasses he is now able to see. Dr. Geo. Reuling, professor of opthoalmology at the Maryland General Hospital, says the young man will be able to receive a thorough common school education, heretofore denied him, and become a useful member of society. Before leaving the hospital Mr. Blue went through the institution, thanking the physicians, especially Dr. Reuling, for what they had done for him.—Baltimore dispatch to Phil. Times.

It is sad that there are not enough offices to go around. It will be hard if some of the boys are compelled to go to work after leaving all winter.

The Houston (Texas) Post says:

"The great cotton brokers have estimated the next at 12,000,000 bales in case of an average yield, and have located the price at 3 cents per pound. Therefore, it will be necessary to plant about four acres in cotton to get enough money to purchase thirty bushels of corn."

Baptists, See Here!

The Southern Baptist Convention meets this year in Wilmington, N. C., May 8th. Now, you want to go to this convention, and you also want to go in style and comfort. There is only one good firstclass line from the South and Southwest to Wilmington, and that line is the Seaboard Air Line, which runs the finest and fastest trains in the South and makes the lowest rates of any railroad running from the South or Southwest. Don't be fooled into making your arrangements until you have consulted one of the Seaboard Air Line agents, who always esteem it a pleasure to serve you. B. A. Newland, General Agent Passenger Department, 6 Kimball house, Atlanta, Ga., will be glad to write you or call on you, or you can apply to any of the representatives of the Seaboard Air Line in any town or city. This is the official route. Do you want to go with your friends?

Your best judgment requires you to make an immediate provision for your family.

By insuring today, your estate is increased in value at once.

'T WAS EVER THUS.

A few days since an insurance agent accepted an invitation to inspect a new and beautiful house built by a friend. After taking a peep at the whole establishment from top to bottom, inquired—

"House insured?"
"Yes."
"What do you insure it for?"
"Because it MIGHT burn."
"Not SURE of it, are you?"
"No."
"Is your life insured?"
"No."
"Di, won't you?"
"Yes."
"Sure?"
"Yes."
"Then why not insure your life as well as your house?"
"Well, really, I never thought of the matter just in that light before, and will give it early attention."—Travelers Record.

A trip via New Orleans and the Southern Pacific to either Mexico or the Pacific Coast is one you will never forget.

KEEL ON TRIAL.

The Jury Selected and Empaneled.

The trial of John Keel for the murder of David Crandall, came up this morning. At the opening of court the lawyers caused so much delay over their preliminaries that Judge Robinson complained of the way time was being wasted and told them they must proceed. It was 10:15 o'clock when the venire was called and the selection of the jury begun.

The prosecution is assisted by Messrs. I. A. Sugg and W. F. Harding, and the prisoner is defended by Capt. Swift Galloway and Mr. F. G. James.

The first man called to the jury box was accepted, and in all three were taken from regular panel. Only eight others were taken from the venire that had been summoned, still leaving the jury one man short. Ten others were called before the last juror was chosen.

In all 104 men were examined by the counsel to make up the jury, the 1st, 13th, 14th, 17th, 25th, 29th, 40th, 44th, 49th, 53rd, 57th and 104th being accepted.

The following compose the jury to try the case: Benjamin Craft, Augusta Phillips, F. M. Hodges, W. H. Allen, T. R. Moore, Gray Sutton, A. A. Forbes, J. A. Hardy, N. T. Cox, B. E. Moye, Zeno Moore and W. F. Hart. They were empanelled at 1 o'clock, Robt. Harrington was sworn as officer of the jury and court took a recess until 3 o'clock.

There are a large number of witnesses on both sides.
