They don't cost too much. They are ready to put on without a wrinkle. You

Base Ball.

Louisville, May 13--The Phillies and Colonels played a great game today the former winning out in the twelfth inning on three singles and Billy Nash being hit by a pitched ball, which forced the winning run, across the plate. Jimmy Stafford made his first appearance in a Louisville uniform and played great ball. Score. Louisville, 2; Philadelphia, 3.

Cincinnati, May 13--The Reds defeated the Giants easily in an uninteresting game today. Both Damman and Doheny were wild. Damman sent nine men to base on balls. Score. Cincinnati, 7; New York, 3.

Pittsburg, May 13--The Washingtons hit Killen as they pleased, while Pittsburg failed to connect with McJames when they should and made five errors. There is no more to tell. Score. Pittsburg, 4; Washington, 7.

Cleveland, May 13--Nichols was very effective in today's game and only four hits were made off his delivery, two of them by Sockalexis. Both teams fielded well, and the game was exciting from the start. Score. Cleveland 1; Boston, 4.

About Our Meeting.

A ten days meeting will be begun in the Baptist church tomorrow. Rev. P. G. Elsom, of Danville, Va., will arrive Monday to conduct the meeting. I desire to ask for the co-operation of all Christians in Greenville. A special invitation is extended to the members of the several choirs of the town to aid us in the singing. Let us enter upon this work as brethren and accomplish a work for God, the full blessedness of which will only be known in eternity.

To all: Make the Baptist church your home during the progress of this meeting and be assured your presence is desired and will be appreciated.

Earnestly,
A. W. SETZER.

Horse Eady Hurt.

As the Pitt County Rifles were marching along down Washington street, Friday afternoon, a two year old colt belonging to Mr. E. H. Shelburn became excited and broke out of the lot. In jumping over the fence the animal struck a piling which entered the body just under one foreshoulder. The piling penetrated to a depth of 7 1/2 inches and made an ugly wound.

TOWN MATTERS.

SATURDAY MAY 15, 1897.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, May, 14, 1897.

The sugar trust controlled by the Republican sub-committee which drafted the amendments to the Dingley tariff bill, but all it will be able to get out of the sugar schedule will be the money that has already been made through speculation on the advance knowledge of what that schedule was to be, as a majority of the Senate have made it certain that the sugar schedule cannot be put through, by declaring themselves to be against it. The tariff bill is not likely to be taken up by the Senate on the 18th as agreed upon, but it will not be the fault of the Democrats, but of the Republicans in failing to get a trustworthy comparative statement showing the differences that will be the result of the proposed changes. There is another thing about the tariff bill that can be stated with certainty. There will be an anti-trust amendment adopted before the bill passes the Senate. The necessary votes are promised.

At last the administration has found out the bunco game that Spain played on the Cleveland administration and has been trying to play on the present one, thanks to the wide-awake reports of Consul General Fitzhugh Lee, and justice is seemingly going to be done to poor Cuba. Mr. McKinley has had a long conference with the members of the Senate committee of Foreign Relations, as to what should be done. The impression is that Senator Morgan's resolution for the recognition of Cuban belligerency hardly goes far enough and that a recognition of independence would be the proper thing, in view of the facts forwarded by Gen. Lee. A public mass meeting of Cuban sympathizers is going to be held in Washington Sunday.

The administration now wishes that it had not caused its intention to reinstate all ex-Union soldiers or widows of such who had for any reason been dropped from the government payroll to be so widely advertised. Like most advertising this has brought results. These results are much more numerous than were expected; also more embarrassing. The plain truth is that many of the applicants for reinstatement, and some of those who have been reinstated, are unfitted physically to perform the duties of the places they once held, some by reason of age and others by disease. If there were only a few of these people they could be scattered around in the departments and their inability to do good work would go unnoticed, but when their number goes away up into the hundreds it becomes a serious matter, because as a rule every one of them reinstated displaces an efficient employee. This matter was discussed at a cabinet meeting this week.

Senator Kyle isn't the first man who has made a bad thing worse by trying to explain. Rising to a question of privilege he attempted to explain away the charge that he had agreed to vote with the Republicans in exchange for good committee assignments, but he made a bad mess of it, especially in saying that his understanding of the policy of the Populists was to help the Republicans control the Senate.

Evidently the House has not been properly impressed with the importance of the policy of Secretary Wilson in trying to spread the sugar beet industry in this country, or it would not have refused to agree to the Senate amendment to the Sundry Civil bill, appropriating $5,000 for the continuation by the Secretary of Agriculture of an investigation of the sugar beet industry. Perhaps some of the members of the House have not forgotten the sugar fad of Mr. Le Duc, who was Commissioner of Agriculture under the Hayes administration, which cost Uncle Sam considerable money and did not revolutionize the sugar industry.

The House showed its belief in the laborer being worthy of his hire, by promptly agreeing to the Senate amendment to the Sundry Civil bill providing that duplicate electrotype plates, from which "Messages and Papers of the Presidents" were printed should be given to the compiler, Representative Richardson of Tenn., notwithstanding the objection of Representative Connolly, Ills., who said that a firm had offered $10,000 for the plates. Inasmuch as Mr. Richardson had devoted two years to the work of compiling this book, the House thought he should be entitled to any profits there might be supplying the book after the number ordered for Congress had been printed.

Albion W. Tourgee will not believe that pie hunting was "A Fool's Errand" in his case, as he captured a piece of pie that promises to be far more satisfying than "Making Bricks without Straw" was. He has been nominated U. S. Consul at Bordeaux, France. H. P. Cheatam, the negro ex-Congressman from North Carolina also gets a good thing in the Recorder-ship of Deeds of the District of Columbia.

It is hoped that the Senatorial pilgrimage to the tomb of Jefferson, which Senator Hoar is credited with being responsible for, will result in a careful study of Jefferson's life and writings by the Senators. Edification is to be found therein, and some of the pilgrims need edification badly upon more than one subject.

I. O. O. F.

The grand lodge of the I. O. O. F. of North Carolina met Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the new hall of Charlotte lodge, in its 54th annual session.

The report of Grand Master Dortch opens with a handsome compliment to Charlotte. The condition of the order, he says, while showing an increase in membership, is not in as healthful a state as the order merits. The number of lodges at the last session was 110, since when seven have been reorganized and three dropped, making now on the roll 115. Two have been organized since the report was written. The relief extended throughout the jurisdiction during the year, taking no account of the expenditures on the Orphan's home, was $8,084.22, or nearly $2 per capita.

The report of Grand Secretary Woodell says that no losses have been sustained since the 1st of January the present membership in the state is 4,521 a small net gain over the preceding year. The total income of subordinate lodges as reported was $31,902.02; total disbursements outside of relief $22,243.99.

The grand treasurer's receipts for the year, including balance on hand of $218.80, were $6,901.13. The grand secretary notes that progress has been made, notwithstanding unfavorable conditions; he sees light breaking and has a reasonable hope that 1897 will be a year of prosperity.

The board of trustees of the Orphans home, Messrs. W. C. Douglass, W. T. Dortch, W. J. Peacock, C. B. Edwards, W. D. Gaster and N. Jacobi, shows that the main building of the home has been completed at a cost of $10,450. There are in the home 29 children of Odd Fellows—17 boys and 12 girls. One was discharged during the year for insubordination. Funds are needed for the furnishing of the main building and for repairs on what is known as the "Goldsboro building." The expense of maintaining the home for the year ended March 31st was $2,150.12.

The state grand lodge of Odd Fellows elected the following officers. Grand master, James P. Sawyer, Asheville; deputy, Robert W. Murray, Greensboro; grand warden, B. S. Royster, Oxford; grand secretary, B. H. Woodell, Raleigh; grand treasurer, R. J. Jones, Wilmington; grand representative, John F. Bruton, Wilson; grand marshal, Claud Kitchen, Scotland Neck; grand conductor, W. N. Everett, Rockingham; grand guardian, B. J. Summerrow, Newton; grand herald, Isaac W. Northrop, Wilmin ton; grand chaplain, George A. Page, Charlotte; standing committee, constitution and by laws, L. W. Jeannerett, Asheville; G. T. Norwood, Raleigh; A. W. Move, Cary; orphan home trustee, W. D. Gaster, Fayetteville. Raleigh is selected as next meeting place.—Charlotte Observer, May 11th.

Drunk, but Gave Good Advice.
A middle aged man was around town last week, a stranger whom nobody seemed to know. He was pretty drunk most of the time and indulged in a lot of loud talk attracting the attention of those near every time.
One morning he met two or three young men who were also a little groggy and the party got into a conversation. Soon one or two of the young men commenced cursing and using very unseemly language, when the stranger, perhaps the drunkest man in the crowd, turned to them and said with great earnestness:
"Young men, don't curse; don't use vulgarity; it isn't decent and is wrong, but what is worse, it shows your raising—that you came from low-down stock. If your parentage happened to be respectable and tried to raise you correctly, it only makes matters worse, for it shows that you acquired the habit when you had a better chance to be decent."
With this he staggered off, while the aforesaid young men looked like they had been shot at.—Concord Standard.

In France the woman cyclist is called a "bycyclette." In far away New Zealand the awful word "cyclo-donna" has been coined as a substitute for wheelwoman. In many towns in the west of the United States the fair rider is called a "bloomer" without regard to her costume. The word "scorcher," as indicating a speedy cyclist, is fairly engrafted upon the language. In Chicago, however, the "scorcher" is called a "scoot." The technicalities of the machine have led to attempts upon the part of young men to coin expressions. "Your tire is punctured" indicates that the story you are telling lacks the element of truth. Family Prayer.
It would be almost impossible for us attach too much importance to family prayer. It affects every department of the home life, and serves as the great balance-wheel amid all its cares, labors, and vexations. It tones up all the feelings and aspirations of our better nature, and tones down all of our evil tempers, inclination, and desires. No home can be an ideal, or model home, without a family altar. You need not offer excuses. Of course the devil will furnish you with excuses, but will he ever furnish you with an excuse on which you can stand before God and the requirements of his word?
God has committed to your care precious and immortal souls, and to a very great extent you mould their character, and fix their eternal destiny. Therefore, you cannot afford to do less than your whole duty in trying to elevate them to the highest type of christian character. The society, and the moral and religious state of our country, cannot rise above the moral and religious atmosphere of our homes.
Brother, if you love God, if you love the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ, if you love your own offspring, call your family together to-night, read a lesson from the Bible, and then worship God in prayer and thanksgiving around the family altar.—Norwood Reporter.
