C. T. MUNFORD.

THE PROBABLE DECREASE.

Of the Tobacco Acreage of Eastern North Carolina.

BY O. L. JOYNER.

Since the first of last October many speculations have been rife as to what the probable decrease in the tobacco acreage in Pitt, Greene and Lenoir counties would be this year. During the marketing of the crop in the fall and winter months the low price at which it sold, and the frequent expressions that planters were heard to use in reference to the coming crop were sufficient to almost warrant the conclusion that a disastrous reduction would be made in the '97 tobacco crop. Conservative farmers, men who are slow and guarded in their decisions, openly avowed their intention of curtailing their tobacco acreage very considerably, with the additional assertion that unless prices were better for the next crop, that it would be their last. I venture the assertion that out of every hundred farmers who grew tobacco last year 95 of them were dissatisfied at the result of their prices, and with such a condition of affairs it is no wonder that farmers were frequent in their expressions of discontent and uncertain as to their future course with tobacco as their main dependence. Then comes the marketing of the cotton crop which if possible on the whole sold more disastrously low than the tobacco crop, and but for this and the fact that nearly every farmer had gone to additional expense to prepare for tobacco I believe that Eastern North Carolina including all the territory east of the W. & W. Railroad would have been decreased at least 33 1/3 per cent. But when farmers realize that if they should cut off their tobacco and throw the acreage into cotton, it meant certain destruction in the fall, for cotton at four or even five cents a pound means simply two cents a pounds worse off than no cotton at all, and that I believe (though I am not up on cotton facts) is about the basis on which the '97 cotton crop is now being figured. Thus a more and more frightful condition confronted the farmers. True their tobacco crop had in many instances failed even to pay expenses, but when they turned to cotton that crop offered no consolation and while prices of tobacco last year were discouraging it was the first crop that had not proved remunerative, and the '96 crop was the poorest that had ever been grown in the east; and hence the question that presented itself for discussion was whether they should act upon their first impulse and cut their tobacco off and put it into cotton or take the more conservative course and cultivate better. After waiting until the crop is all in the ground, and getting the most reliable information from all sections, I am led to the conclusion that the tobacco acreage in the three counties above named which embrace the greater part of the tobacco belt, will not be decreased to exceed 16 2/3 per cent and probably not over 12 1/2 per cent.

If the farmer in the east make a good crop this year and prices are good (and I certainly see no reason why they should not be) the farmers will probably plant as much next year as formerly. With the increased fertilization of soil, and the determination of farmers to make their tobacco better the probability is there will be just as many or probably more pounds made this year than last.

Base Ball.

St. Louis, May 20--The Browns played poorly today. Hutchinson was on the rubber and was hit hard by Boston. In addition he was very wild, nearly all of his bases on balls proved fatal. Score. St. Louis, 4; Boston, 11.

Cincinnati, May 20--The Reds defeated the Orioles in a close and exciting contest today. McGraw was put out of the game by Umpire Sheridan in the eighth inning. Score. Cincinnati, 11; Baltimore, 10.

Pittsburg, May 20--Pittsburg's fielding errors were bad enough to lose an ordinary game, but their good, hard hitting won out. Killen gave no hits after the third inning and errors were responsible for the Phillies two runs in the fifth. Score. Pittsburg, 10; Philadelphia, 4.

Louisville, May 20--The Colonels were not in the game today until the sixth inning, when Daub was knocked out of the box. Louisville won the game in the thirteenth inning, scoring three runs, while the Bridegrooms were lucky to get two. Herman was replaced by Cunningham during the tenth. Score. Louisville, 13; Brooklyn, 12.

Chicago, May 20--Today's game was the greatest farce of the season, both teams playing like a lot of school boys. It was a slugging march from the start. After using up three of Washington's pitchers and having a comfortable lead Briggs went up in the air in the ninth, gave a base on balls and was pounded all over the field. McJames (pitcher No. 4) came in in the ninth and although he was chilled through from sitting on the bench, shut the Colts out without a run or hit. Score. Chicago, 14; Washington, 16.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, May, 21st, 1897.

Whether this is a government by, of, and for the people, or a government by, of, and for the sugar trust, is a question that will soon be determined. Not satisfied with holding the people of this country up to the extent of eight or ten million dollars a year through the sugar schedule of the tariff bill, the trust is seeking to prevent either the administration or Congress doing anything that will help Cuba. Although Mr. McKinley has been reported to be opposed to the sugar schedule of the tariff bill, he is acting with the trust to throttle an expression of the almost universal sentiment of the country in behalf of Cuba through Congress, and by the aid of Czar Reed he has so far succeeded. Representative Bailey and the other Democrats and Populists in the House made a stout fight to pass a resolution declaring in favor of the recognition of the belligerency of the Cubans at the same time the appropriation of $50,000 to feed starving citizens in Cuba was made, but the most they could do was to frighten the Republicans into recalling all their absent members and to compel many Republicans to vote against their honest convictions in order to please Mr. McKinley and the sugar trust. Republicans talk mysteriously about Mr. McKinley having a robust Cuban policy, but when pressed they acknowledge that they don't know what it is. In fact, there is considerable grumbling among the prominent Republicans because Mr. McKinley has not taken them into his confidence as to his intention towards Cuba. The Senate will probably act, anyway, but the House can do nothing as long as it wears the Reed muzzle.

Mr. T. E. Wardner, the well known Boston editor and publisher was in Washington this week conferring with prominent silver men in Congress. He reported the silver sentiment in New England to be greatly on the increase, owing to the eyes of merchants and manufacturers having been opened by the continued fall in prices, and said: "The silver feeling in the large towns, always strong, is increasing rapidly and will make itself felt in the next Congressional campaign. Skilled labor is more than ever in favor of silver. The shoemakers of Lynn, Haverhill and other places are almost to a man bimetalists. There will be at least six silver Congressmen in the next Massachusetts delegation, and the chances are pretty good that the next Legislature will contain a silver majority. I sincerely and honestly believe that if Massachusetts were to vote tomorrow she would cast her lot on the side of bimetalism as against the gold standard." Many business men, Mr. Wardner said, had given up hope of any relief through the tariff bill.

The presence of ex-Senator Ingalls and Bob Fitzsimmons in Washington at the same time caused some way to start a story that Ingalls had taken the job of press agent for the prizefighter. Although he denies it, there are reasons for believing that Ingalls is after McKinley pie.

Senator Tillman says he intends to see that there is an investigation of the new sugar trust scandal. He gives his reasons in the following language: "The Senate cannot afford to let this matter rest where it is. We cannot ignore the charges that have been made. The principal thing for us to find out is what influences were back of the adoption of that schedule by the finance committee. As far as speculation in sugar stock by Senators is concerned, I know of no reason why a Senator has not the same right to risk his money and gamble in stocks as other men; provided he does not do it in secret and advance information which is not accessible to the public, and provided it is not at a time when his vote in the Senate would influence the course of the market." Mr. Tillman says he will wait a reasonable time to allow some older Senator to offer a resolution providing for an investigation before doing so himself, but that the investigation will certainly be made, if persistency on his part will get a resolution ordering it adopted.

No greater farce was ever enacted in Washington than the imprisonment of Chapman, the sugar broker, which was begun this week. He is supposed to be in prison as a punishment, but there is mighty little punishment about it. He has a cosily fitted up bedroom and an office adjoining, his meals are prepared at a swell hotel, and he has a waiter from that hotel detailed to wait upon him. He receives callers and entertains them all the time, and can do about anything he could do in a hotel except to leave the jail. This is an injurious farce, too, because it increases the belief, already too prevalent that there is one justice for the wealthy and quite another for the poor.

Why he Was Anxious.

There was a sleight-of-hand performance in the opera house last night, and away down on the front seats there sat a man holding a shiny silk hat ostentatiously before him with an expression of anxiety and watchfulness upon his face.

Before the performance began a friend who sat immediately behind him and had noticed his manner leaned over and asked him what the trouble was.

"Well, you see, Tom," said the man with the hat confidentially, "it's this way; I've been in politics now for ten years, and I've been cussed and abused and called all sorts of hard names until I'm just longing to hear somebody address me in a decent manner once more time. When this magician comes on the stage, he's going to say; 'Will some gentleman kindly loan me his hat?' and I'm going to jump up and give him mine. It'll make me feel good for a month to be spoken to in that way. I've been looking forward to this occasion for two weeks. You'll excuse me now for I'll have to jump quick when he speaks; for I see one of our aldermen sitting in the front row with his old derby in his hand, and I'll be a dollar he's up to the same game."—Derroit Free Press.

A Good Crop Anticipated.

The New Orleans Picayune regards the worst of the flood in the Mississippi valley as over, and even takes a hopeful view of the outlook. It says: "All the crop indications are favorable. Even in the portions of the Mississippi valley which have been under water there is now a prospect that the water will recede rapidly enough to permit of a crop being planted. Elsewhere in the valley cotton, though slightly late, is doing well, with every indication of an increased acreage. In the territory immediately tributary to New Orleans the crops all promise very well and the sugar cane crop never was better, as there is not only a larger acreage under cultivation than last year, but the cane is making excellent progress. Rice is also doing well, with a larger acreage planted in the river section, which always furnishes the most reliable crop."

A Soap Vendor's Big Profit.

Folks like to be humbugged. At any rate the general public seem powerfully easily duped by slick-tongued sharpers. The other day a fellow landed in this city and began to offer for sale a medicated soap. Each cake was wrapped in tin foil and had a small red paper band around it, and smelled as sweet as a Winston dude at a Twin-City club reception. By the printed label the soap was guaranteed to relieve or cure any ailment from the falling out of the hair down to ingrowing toe-nails. The price was two cakes for a quarter. At court in an adjacent county his sales amounted to $18 in one day. The soap he bought of a Winston mercantile broker at $1.60 a gross. Cutting the same in two he made 288 cakes which he sold at 12 1/2 cents a cake, realizing just $36 for his deal, less $160, the original cost of the soap. This is a fact and no fooling. Those who bought the soap got fooled. —Winston Republican.

CATARRH.

His Worst Enemy Defeated by
P. P. P., Lippman's
Great Remedy.

FOR THREE YEARS HE SUFFERED—COULD

HARDLY BREATHE AT NIGHT—ONE

NOSTRIL CLOSED FOR 10 YEARS.

Mr. A. M. Ramsey, of DeLeon, Texas, was a sufferer from Catarrh in its worst form. Truly, his description of his sufferings seem little short of marvelous. Instead of seeking his couch, glad for the nights coming, he went to it with terror, realizing that another long, weary, wakeful night and a struggle to breathe was before him. He could not sleep on either side for two years. P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, cured him in quick time.

DE LEON, TEXAS.
Messrs. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga. Gentls: I have used nearly four bottles of P. P. P. I was afflicted from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet. Your P. P. P. has cured my difficulty of breathing, smothering palpitation of the heart, and has relieved me of all pain. One nostril was closed for ten years, but now I can breathe through it readily. I have not slept on either side for two years; in fact, I dreaded to see night come. Now I sleep soundly in any position all night. I am 50 years old, but expect soon to be able to take hold of the plow handles. I feel glad that I was lucky enough to get P. P. P., and I heartily recommend it to my friends and the public generally. Yours respectfully, A. M. RAMSEY.

THE STATE OF TEXAS—County of Comanche.—Before the undersigned authority on this day, personally appeared A. M. Ramsey, who, after being duly sworn, says on oath that the foregoing statement made by him relative to the virtue of P. P. P. medicine is true. A. M. RAMSEY. Sworn to and subscribed before me this August 4th, 1891. J. M. LAMBERT, N. P., Comanche County, Texas.

"FROM FROST TO FLOWERS." California or Mexico?

Both are such desirable ob- jective points for a Winter trip that it's perhaps hard for you to decide where to go.

Let us Help You to a Decision.

A trip via New Orleans and the Southern Pacific to either Mexico or the Pacific Coast is one you will never forget.

It's a Transition from Frost to Flowers.

And the service is so luxuri- ous that people who have tested "Sunset Limited" call it incomparable.

If you are Thinking of Going, Write Us.

The Devil may try to give you an excuse for staying away from church tomorrow. Better not listen to him.

A man was heard to say he was too sleepy to go to church. That may have been an excuse for staying from church, but being sleepy won't keep him from dying some day.

TOWN TALK.

About People Passing This Way.

W. A. Fleming, of Hasells, was in town this morning.

T. E. Randolph left this morning for the soldiers home at Raleigh.

Miss Rosalind Rountree returned this morning from a visit to Grifton.

Col. A. Olney, who has been spending the week, here left this morning for Bethel.

The Meeting.

Rev. Mr. Elsom talked Friday afternoon upon the subject "How may I know that I am a Christian?" He quoted many passages of Scripture, commenting upon each, showing the evidence one may have for knowing he or she is a child of God.

Rev. N. M. Watson again conducted the opening exercises at the night service. Mr. Elsom preached from the text "Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting." He said he wanted to take the Bible as a scale and weigh every hearer upon it. He divided the congregation into two classes, the Christians and the sinners. The church members were sub-divided into doubters, croakers, kickers, church bosses, gossipers, card players, dancers, &c., and he plainly told each of these and the sinners wherein they are wanting. He closed with an earnest appeal to all to get right before God and take Christ with them in the balances. There were three professions and many requests for prayer.

The cottage prayer meeting this morning was another enjoyable one with a large attendance. Monday morning the meeting will be held at the home of Mr. G. F. Evans.

The subject at tonight's service will be "The second coming of Christ."

Sunday will be observed as a day of prayer and fasting. Three services will be held—11 A. M., and 3 and 8 P. M. The subject at the morning service will be "The Baptism of the Holy Ghost." The 3 o'clock service will be for men only.

Lang Sells Cheap.

When sweet spring across the hills
Sets the prisoned flow'rets free;
When the babbling of the rills
Joins with song bird's symphony;
Then, it seems to us, we oughter
Turn our thoughts to soda-water.

For the balmy April breeze
Tells the sultry days are nigh
When we linger 'neath the trees,
And our throats are hot and dry,
Then Shelburn's soda fount
Fattens up his bank account.
