BETHEL ITEMS.

BETHEL, N. C., June 8th, '97

Mrs. F. C. C. Manning, of Tampa, Fla., arrived Sunday evening.

Mrs. B. F. Hassell, Sr., of Columbia, N. C., is visiting her son, Prof. B. F. Hassell, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rollins, of Tarboro, spent Saturday night and Sunday here.

Mrs. Levi Harris, and two daughters, of Mildred, are spending the week in and around town with relatives.

Miss Bessie James, of Pactolus, who spent last week here, returned home Sunday evening.

Mrs. D. H. James, of Pactolus, spent Friday and Saturday here, she returned home Sunday evening.

H. T. King, of Greenville, was here Friday.

C. C. Joyner, of Greenville, and J. S. Mooring of Carolina, were here Friday, their many friends were glad to see them.

D. C. Moore and son Thos. went to Greenville Monday.

The Commencement exercises of Bethel Academy (Prof. B. F. Hassell, Jr., Principal) took place Friday, June 4th, 1897. The address was delivered by Prof. A. J. Manning, of Carolina Institute at 11 o'clock, A. M., which delighted the large crowd present. The concert exercises took place at the Academy at 3 o'clock, P. M.

The programme was quite along one, including fifty-six pieces, consisting of songs, recitations, declamations, &c., each and every student rendered his part well. The entire exercises were a grand success and reflected much credit upon the pupils and their accomplished teacher (Prof. Hassell.) There were six gold medals and three prizes awarded as follows: Medals—Declamation to J. C. Carson; Elocution to Jessie Badger; U. S. History to Miss Mary Badger; Spelling and Defining Thos. J. Moore; Spelling to Allen Turman Moore; Punctuality to Miss Lillie Barnhill.

PRIZES—Harrington graded speller to Linwood Bailey.

Advanced class in N. C. speller to Clarence Barnhill.

Intermediate class in N. C. speller to Seymour Bullock.

Thus ended a prosperous school year of Bethel Academy under the management of Prof. B. F. Hassell. There were seventy-five pupils enrolled during the school year.

The average attendance being more than forty. We hope next session which begins August 30th, will be more prosperous than the one just closed.

The University.

Is steadily growing in popularity, patronage and efficiency. The enrollment this year is the largest in its history. We would like to aid some needy boy to get its advantages of scholarships and loans. See ad in another column.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., June 8th.

The Atlantic Hotel is in the hands of the doctors. Not that it is sick at all, for just now it is a most lively and healthy looking place. Fully two hundred of the M. D's. came down last night—and there are others to follow. There are big doctors, and little doctors, handsome doctors and ugly doctors, tall doctors and short doctors, city doctors and country doctors, in fact most any kind you could look for, and as a passenger coming down on the train with them was overheard to remark "they are all in their Sunday clothes for you can't even detect the smell of medicine about them."

In such a gathering as this a chill, fever, headache, or any other ailment would hardly dare show itself for fear of getting knocked out in the first round. The work of the Medical convention begins this morning and the sessions will continue for three days. Many interesting papers are to be read. There are quite a number of applicants for licenses to go before the examining board today, and not a few of them wear an anxious look that seems to say "I'll be glad when it's over."

There were about a hundred guests at the Atlantic before last night's arrivals and the outlook is for a gay season here. Everything about the hotel looks new and fresh, and Manager G. W. Blacknall has a competent corps of assistants. All is in readiness to receive the editors of the State Press Association who will come down tonight. A few stray editors came in last night but they are almost lost among so many doctors. However, there will be enough of the "quill drivers" on next train to make their presence felt.

IDLENESS.

GREENVILLE, N. C., June 9th, '97.

EDITOR REFLECTOR—If the vagrant act is still in force—which we learn is a fact, there are more violations of this one law than any other on the statute books. How many colored and whites could Greenville send to the road gang where some good could be gotten by the county roads.

It is the duty of the police officers to inform themselves and when any man or woman is seen standing idle day after day making no effort to do anything and no visible means of support, they should be arrested and tried and put on the roads and rid the town of their presence. These worthless vagrants have to eat, and we know of many who are constant loungers around the market square and streets using boisterous language sometimes, very frequently blocking the side walks and rendering their very presence obnoxious and intolerant. We dare say there is more idleness in Greenville by men and boys than in any town in North Carolina.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1897.

Won Himself in a Raffle.

"I encountered the strangest man I ever knew while I was doing some government work in Missouri," said the retired contractor, according to The Detroit Free Press. "He was smart enough, so jolly that every one liked him, and apparently in the best of health. But he made a few bad deals, had to mortgage some of his property, and just seemed to throw up his hands. He vowed that he had ceased to be his own man, and would drift till he found out what the world wanted to do with him."

"When he had disposed of the family clock and there seemed to be nothing left, he coolly announced that the next day he would raffle himself. He didn't know whether the boys would care to buy chances, but he meant business and would work faithfully for the man who drew him. Tickets sold for good figures, but there were two left, and he laughingly said that he would take a couple of shots at himself. When the drawing came off he held the lucky number."

"Well, sir, the fellow turned loose and went to making money hand over hand. He became one of the greatest hustlers in the west, paid off the mortgages, bought everything there was money in, and is as rich now as a river bottom farm. When he drew himself at that raffle he made up his mind that he was his own man again, and besides he had agreed to do his best for the winner. It was a strange case."

He Got His Answer.

As the train pulled out of Chicago a quiet, gentlemanly looking man entered the buffet car, and, ensconcing himself in a comfortable chair, drew out a long cigar and entered deeply into his paper. He remained so quiet and retained his seat so long that another passenger, whose bearing distinctly stamped him as a commercial traveling man, one of the kind full of chatter and curiosity, could no longer restrain himself. Addressing the quiet gentleman, he inquired, "Traveling east?"

Slowly removing his cigar, the gentleman turned and looked at his questioner with slightly elevated eyebrows, replying, "Yes." "New York?" "Yes." "Pleasure?" "Yes and no." "Great place, New York. Eyer been there before?" "No." "I'm going home this trip—New York, you know." The gentleman made no reply, but resumed his paper. After a little silence the commercial man began again. "I'm with J. & Co., on Broadway. If you drop in I'll show you over the city."

"Thank you, it will not be necessary!"

"Excuse me, but might I ask what you're going to New York for?"

By this time most of the other passengers were interested. The gentleman, who was extremely annoyed at the drummer's curiosity, laid down his paper and exclaimed:

"I'm going to New York, first, because the train is taking me there, second because I've got lots of money and can afford it, and, last, because if I like the place I intend to buy it."

The commercial man subsided amid a roar of laughter.—Philadelphia Times.

THE BILLVILLE COUNCIL.

Billville council's out o' sight!
Had a meetin' t'other night:
Thinkin' that it wuz their station
Jest ter run the whole creation!
Left the people in the lurch—
Turned the preacher out o' church,
Jest because he talked o' sinnin';
Sent the judge an' sheriff spinnin'!
Then, from off the whole plantation
Chased the board o' education!
Funniest thing you ever seen—
Swept the town an' county clean!
Rung the bells in every steeple:
"Darn the country an' the people?"

Warn't no basis fer their action
'Cept give 'em satisfaction;
An' the idea seemed to seize 'em
World warn't goin' roun' ter please 'em!

So they sorter thought they'd like
To tell the lightnin' where ter strike;
Change the rumble o' the thunder
An' make all the people wonder!
That's jest what they thought they'd do—

Change the country through an' through,
While the clouds wept tears (of dew)
An' the very sky looked "blue!"

Now we hear the people sayin'
If they let that council stay in,
They will put their heads together
An' dish out the wind an' weather!
Tell us when ter reap an' sow,
Make the crops stand still, or grow;
Run this old terrestrial ball—
(Lord have mercy on us all!)
—Atlanta Constitution.

A Mean Trick.

At the State Medical convention in St. Louis last week. Dr. Donelan, of St. Joseph, told the reporter of the Globe-Democrat the following story. He said:

"After the adjournment of a convention a few years ago, Drs. Knight and Riley, of St. Joseph, started home in a sleeper. They had the lower berth and the weather was intensely hot. Dr. Knight was a very small man; in fact a boy in stature. Dr. Riley was big and fat. Knight was given the inside of the berth and went to sleep. Riley, with his load of avoirdupois, sat on the edge of the berth and fanned himself. At Herman a lady entered the car and asked for a berth. She was told that the car was full but she insisted saying that she had set up with a sick daughter for five nights, and had to have sleep. Suddenly an idea struck Riley. 'Take my berth,' he said. 'There is only my little boy inside.' Knight was sleeping peacefully and the lady gladly accepted Riley's offer. About an hour later Knight awoke and made a remark to whom he supposed was Riley. 'Never mind, little boy, said the old lady, soothing, 'pappy will be back pretty soon.' A little later Knight again began to talk and the old lady again attempted to lull him to sleep by promising pappay's early return. But the little doctor this time awoke. The scene that followed it would take some time to relate."

Some Witticisms.

The man who always pays cash for what he buys seldom runs the risk of being called extravagant.

This world will be considerably happier than it is now when it is possible to build the kitchen fire successfully the night before.

It is so much easier to write poetry than it is to sell it!

How do people know that there is plenty of room at the top? Very few of them have been there.

All men may be born free and equal, but they don't retain their equality ten minutes.

The man who boasts seldom has any cause for it.

A girl, though engaged, is never completely happy until she has some idea how much her engagement ring cost.

The wheelbarrow is a good thing, but a man is lucky if he gets two dollars a day for pushing it along.

Pretty soon the summer sun will say "Wilt thou?" and all of us will wilt.

Some people who try to model their lives on those of great men only imitate the great men's faults.

It doesn't pay to worry, and it doesn't pay, either, to make others worry.

Woman can do almost anything with a hairpin, except to keep her hat on straight.—Somerville Journal.

What She Wanted to Be.

All the children except Nonie were going to play "menagerie." Nonie wanted to sleep, but the others wished her to join in.

Jack was to be a lion, he said. Tom wanted to represent a camel and the others all made choice.

"Nonie, what do you want to be?"

Nonie drowsily answered, "Oh, I want to be a—a—"

"Well, what is it?" impatiently yelped Jack.

And faintly came the answer, "I want to be a—a—sleep."—Pittsburg News.

Fowl Was Dead.

The editor of the Danville Breeze is a devoted poultry fancier, and what he knows about poultry would compare well with what Horace Greeley knew about farming. A subscriber sent him the query recently: "What ails my hens? Every morning I find one or more of them has keeled over to rise no more. 'The reply was: 'The fowls are dead. It is an old complaint, and nothing can be done except to bury them.'"

A Perfect Bank President.
There is no single sympathy, no accomplishment, no physical advantage which may not contribute to the success of the head of a bank. The friends he made at college a generation back, his associations at the club, on his vacation, even in his church, are factors used with consummate skill and the native courtesy which characterizes the higher types of successful business men. There is no quality of alertness or adaptability which does not aid in the work of making friends for the bank—i. e., depositors. A perfect bank president should be one who can hold his own with zest and yet with dignity among the roistering class of Wall street men in their late suppers at the club, who can shoot with them, fish with them, drive with them, and who can also impress the staid and strait-laced citizens who are his fellow vestrymen as a pillar of respectability.—C. D. Lanier in Scribner's.

The Cheerful Idiot.
"I was in the front row at the theater the other evening," said the cheerful idiot, "and the bass violinist's instrument got fast in the door when he tried to come out."
"Did he swear?" asked the shoe clerk boister.
"No. He only said 'fiddlesticks,'" said the cheerful idiot.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Three-Months Old Pickaninny That Talks.
Nashville has a 3-months-old child that talks. The parents are Richard and Frankie Cleveland, colored, and the child has been talking since it was one week old. Hundreds have visited the little wonder and have left the house completely mystified at what they have seen and heard. The child is a girl and differs only from other babies in that it can talk as plainly and be understood as a grown person. The voice, of course, is naturally weak, but has none of the baby prattle about it. In addition to the child's talking propensities, it seems to be possessed of superior intelligence and gives voice to utterances most astounding, coming as they do from one so young.—Nashville Banner.

The Daily Reflector.

Gives the home news every afternoon at the small price of 25 cents a month. Are you a subscriber? If not you ought to be.

The Eastern Reflector.

is only $1 a year. It contains the news every week, and gives information to the farmers, especially those growing tobacco, that is worth many times more than the subscription price.

"FROM FROST TO FLOWERS."
California or Mexico?
Both are such desirable objective points for a Winter trip that it's perhaps hard for you to decide where to go.

Let us Help You to a Decision.

A trip via New Orleans and the Southern Pacific to either Mexico or the Pacific Coast is one you will never forget.

It's a Transition from Frost to Flowers.

And the service is so luxurious that people who have tested "Sunset Limited", call it incomparable.

If you are Thinking of Going, Write Us.

We have a book entitled "Through Storyland to Sunset Seas," a handsome volume of 205 pages, fully illustrated, which we will send on receipt of 10 cents in stamps to cover postage. We also have a delightful little guide to Mexico, which we will send on receipt of 4 cents to cover cost of mailing.

You Really Ought to Read them Both.

Shall we put you down for a copy? If so, or if you want any special information, it will be cheerfully furnished by addressing.

C. B. WHICHARD, Agent.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a moonlight excursion next Monday night and the public is cordially invited. The boat will leave at 8 o'clock.

Moonlight Excursion.

The weather prophet has been consulted and promises a fine night for the excursion on Friday of this week. In consequence the moonlight excursion which was to have been had last night will be run on the above night. The large and commodious Steamer Myers in charge of Capt. Parvin has been secured for the trip, and will leave the wharf promptly at 8 o'clock.

There will be plenty of room, and an abundance of ice cream, excellent music lots of fun and pleasure at a small cost. The ladies in charge cordially invite everybody to go.

Young gentlemen lookout for your girls or some one will be ahead of you. Further announcement will be made tomorrow.

Knights of Pythias.

There will be an annual meeting of the Knights of Pythias on the 16th of June, next Wednesday, at Portsmouth and the dedication of the Pythian Temple will take place on that day. The lodge at Greenville we suppose will go as a lodge and enjoy this grand fete. There will be a banquet and general good fellowship will be the feature of the affair. Railroads will make rates for the occasion.

First Graduate.

Beaver Dam township has the first college graduate that she has ever turned out, in the person of John A. Nichols, son of Thos. A. Nichols. He graduated at the University with honors last week. All his fellow students speak in highest terms of him as being a splendid young man and predict for him success. We hope to see him rise high in the world and that we may be justly proud of him as a Pitt county boy. His father and mother are entitled to a great deal of the credit. Good people they are.

Fun for Children and Food for Grown People.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give an entertainment at the Court House on next Monday night. Something is promised both to the young and the old, and when it is known that Mrs. Gov. Jarvis has charge of the programme every one is assured that there will be no disappointment in promises. Later on full announcement will be made of what may be expected. It has been some time since an opportunity has been presented to our people to attend an entertainment like this, and we bespeak for those in charge a full house.

CASH HOUSE

When sweet spring across the hills
Sets the prisoned flow'ers free;
When the babbling of the rills
Joins with song bird's symphony;
Then, it seems to us, we oughter
Turn our thoughts to soda-water.

For the balmy April breeze
Tells the sultry days are nigh
When we linger 'neath the trees,
And our throats are hot and dry,
Then Shelburn's soda fount
Fattens up his bank account.
